Dr Sir

If, on examination, the within account, corresponding with the entries on my books, should appear to be correct, you will do me a particular service by sending the amount forthwith by mail at my risk.

Suffer me to add that your subscription for the 4th volume in advance will soon be due according to the express terms of Subscription.

The expence of reprinting the surplus numbers of the 4th vol (consumed by fire) has been great and to meet it I have no [illegible] but on the punctuality of my subscribers.

I hope the work equals your expectations and it will give me great pleasure if I may continue to reckon you amongst its Patrons and friends.

Very Respectfully Yours

Dr Sir

I am just favored with yours of the 25th; you will have learned by my last letter, that your wishes would be attended to by me with pleasure —

I have been so overwhelmed with business, that I have of necessity delayed to write my friends, as I have done, if it had been possible but my official duties here, and then called me also to Washington City and Pittsburg within 2 mos past; and the severe & protracted illness of my chief clerk in the farmer=office; added to the necessity of attending to my strictly editorial duties, — will these not plead sufficiently with even you

Dear Sir

York March 19th 1822

If they should be I will receive the Saline Note from you on account of the other two —

With respect to the small account against [illegible] I assure you it was not [illegible] my having any [illegible] ying to Mr Leander [illegible] are been a heavy [illegible] We are all well [illegible] lonely
