Dear Sir

you will excuse me at this time of reminding you of the amount I ~~did~~ paid for your unfortunate Bull but I hope the Heifer will nearly compensate you in a great degree for the loss of the former it is now more than fourteen months since I paid the amount & think odds of £53 — which you will see by my account sent ~~to~~ you be assured my Dear Sir that I would not at this time name it to you were I not apprehensive that you might have ordered Mr Napier to pay me and that he might have forgot so doing If so please let me have a Demand of Exchange. I really have not one sentence of News to inform you

Dear Sir

Yours of 29 Dec. last, came to hand in due course of mail, and we delayed replying to it, awaiting the opening of our River, which has been closed by Ice, and anticipating arrival of Bacon from below —

Since the Boats have recommenced running no Bacon has come up, except what was prepared by our packers, nearly all of whom purposed going to Cincinnati & packing their meat there, in consequence of the scarcity & high price of Hogs here —

The market for Bacon has now, we think, become settled, & the lowest price at which we could procure the kind
