MACVEAGH REBUKED.

OPEN LETTER FROM THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS' EDITOR.

A Powerful Arraignment of Garfield's Attorney General for His Palpable Effort to Array Labor Against Capital—A Dispassionate View.

DEAR SIR—The Press, as you know, is your friend and admirer. No one has greater respect for your brilliant abilities. No one differs from you with more reluctance. In what is here to be said we shall speak in the tone and spirit of sincere friendship. But because you have character and a sense of responsibility it is all the more a duty to speak in plain and earnest terms.

Nor is it a mere matter of politics which demands these words. You have a right to doff and don your political mantle as often as you please. Your reasons may be good or bad; that is your own affair. We challenge no man's privilege to vote as he chooses for whatever considerations suit him best. The real gravity of your action is not your change of politics, for that is a comparatively small matter; but it is your attempt to set class against class—to excite the prejudice and bitterness of the wage earner against the wage payer—to foment trouble and conflict between those who ought to be in harmonious agreement. We shall not willingly or knowingly say one unjust word. Let us not, therefore, impute it as your attempt, but rather say that, whether intended or not, this is the direct tendency and effect of your teaching. And it is this torch of incendiarism which calls for plain speaking.

The question thus presented is far above and beyond all partisan differences. Your wrong is not political—it is social; it is moral; it is fundamental; it touches the security and safety of society. We strip away all the rhetorical frills and fringes of your brilliant speech. Behind them and beneath them your central dominating thought is this: The rich pay nothing; they grind the poor; the laws are for the rich; the wage payers are robbing the wage earners; capital makes labor simply a beast of burden; the employers reap all the benefits and the toilers suffer all the wrongs. This is your logic—almost your language. And what is it but Hugh O'Donnell, of Homestead, in broadcloth and good English? What is it but the spark that lights conflagrations?

Your assumption, Mr. MacVeagh, is not true. It is essentially, radically, broadly untrue. It is against reason and against evidence. The industrial classes in America were never as well off as they are today. As a whole they never had as good wages, never as full employment, never as cheap living, never as much prosperity as now. We assert and defy contradiction that the rewards of labor never before brought so much of the comforts and happiness of life. Your picture is drawn not from reality, but from your own morbid imagination. The mock doctor of Moliere put the organ of the bile in the place of the heart. Do not, dear Mr. MacVeagh, imitate this deplorable mistake. Above all beware how you take upon yourself the tremendous responsibility of preaching a crusade which, if it has any meaning and any influence, leads toward passion and conflict and violence.

For this is the plain tendency of your logic. You tell the workingman that he is ground in the dust. You try to make him believe that he is wronged and oppressed. You assure him that his employer is plundering him. You insist that legislation is made to enrich the rich and to impoverish the poor. This is not the red flag, but is it not calculated to incite the red flag? Was it not precisely this sort of reasoning that fired the frenzied mob at Homestead? It is all the more dangerous in view of the source from which it comes. You are a man of high intelligence and intellectual leadership. You are presumed to speak with a full sense of the responsibility which attaches to your position, and you ought in all soberness to tremble at what you lightly take upon yourself when you enter upon an agitation which, if it has any seriousness and any effect, would lead to a struggle beside which the bloody tumult of Homestead and Buffalo would be but the murmur of the summer wind in comparison with the fierce storms of winter.

This question, as you will see, Mr. MacVeagh, has a gravity which rises far above all politics. Your dexterous political legerdemain would be a matter of entertainment and curiosity. But when you go beyond the domain of political contention and preach the array of class against class, of poor against rich, and of labor against capital you are playing with fire. You are fond of the classics. Remember the cub of the lioness described by the Greek poet, that was rashly taken by the hunter into his home. It was reared with the dogs and fondled by the children. For a time it was mild in temper and seemed to be harmless. But when it grew and felt its strength it deluged the house with blood. You are toying today with a danger which, it must be believed for your credit, you do not realize. A year hence, if you and such as you keep on preaching this war of classes, you may be anxiously lifting your hand to stay the bloody consequence which you are stimulating.—Philadelphia Press.

EXPLANATION.—The following picture contains four faces, a man and his three daughters. Any one can find the man's face, but it is not so easy to distinguish the faces of the three young ladies. The picture was published in a few newspapers some time ago, and attracted considerable attention to our standard remedies. We now offer a new prize competition in connection with it. As the sole object is to introduce our medicines into new homes, those who entered the former competition are requested not to compete in this one. As to the reliability of "The Ford Pill Co.," and the estimation in which their medicines are held in Toronto, Canada, where they are best known, patrons are referred to the daily newspapers, wholesale druggists and leading business houses generally of Toronto.

The proprietors of "The Ford Pill Co.," will give an elegant pair of Shetland Ponies, Carriage and Harness, valued at $600, (delivered free in any part of the United States, to the first person who can make out the three daughters' faces. To the second will be given an elegant Lady's Gold Watch, set in sapphires and diamonds. To the third will be given a pair of genuine Diamond Ear-rings. To the fourth will be given a handsome China Dinner Service. To the fifth will be given a Kodak Camera. To the sixth, a Swiss Music Box. To the seventh, a French Mantel Clock. To the eighth, an elegant Banquet Lamp. To the ninth, a pair of Crown Derby Vases. To the tenth, a complete Lawn Tennis Set, and many other prizes in order of merit. Every competitor must cut out the above "Puzzle Picture," distinguish the three girls' faces by marking a cross with a lead pencil on each, and enclose same with 15 U. S. two-cent stamps for one of the following "Prize Remedies:"—"Ford's Prize Pills," "Ford's Prize Catarrh Remedy," or "Ford's Prize Cough Cure." Select any one of the above remedies you desire. Address "The Ford Pill Co.," Cor. Wellington & Bay Sts., Toronto, Canada. The person whose envelope is postmarked first will be awarded the first prize, and the others in order of merit. As this advertisement appears simultaneously throughout the United States, every one has an equal opportunity. To the person sending the last correct answer will be given an elegant Upright Concert Grand Piano, valued at $500.00. To the first person from the last sending a correct answer will be given a gentleman's fine Gold "Sandoz" Watch, which strikes the hours and quarter hours on small cathedral gong at pleasure, and valued at $300.00. To the second from the last, a first-class Safety Bicycle, pneumatic tire. To the third from the last, a first-class English Shotgun. To the fourth from the last, a suite of Parlor Furniture. To the fifth from the last, a handsome Silver Tea Service. To the sixth from the last, an elegant Piano Lamp. To the seventh from the last, a handsome pair of Portieres. To the eighth from the last, a genuine English leather travelling Trunk. To the ninth from the last, two pieces of genuine French Statuary, and many other prizes in order of merit.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR EACH STATE.

A special prize of a Silk Dress Pattern (sixteen yards, any color), or a first-class Sewing Machine (any make desired) will be given to the first person in each State in the U. S. who can make out the three daughters' faces. We shall give away 200 valuable prizes, besides special prizes, (if there should be so many sending correct answers.) No charge is made for boxing and packing of prizes. The names of the leading prize winners will be published in connection with our advertisement in leading newspapers next month. Extra premiums will be given to only those who are willing to assist in introducing our medicines. Nothing is charged for the prizes in any way. They are absolutely given away to introduce and advertise "Ford's Prize Remedies," which are standard medicines, and will be used in every family for years where they have been once introduced. All prizes will be awarded strictly in order of merit, and with perfect satisfaction to the public. The remedies will be sent by mail, postpaid, and prizes free of duty.

A WATCH FOR EVERY CORRECT ANSWER.

An extra premium of a genuine "Fearless" Watch, (stem winder,) will be awarded to every person who sends a correct answer within 30 days after this advertisement appears, in case they should not be fortunate enough to secure one of the larger prizes. That is, if any one can find the three faces and enclose them within 30 days from the time this advertisement appears in the newspaper, they are guaranteed either one of the leading prizes, or an extra premium of a watch on conditions stated. No answer will be noticed that does not contain 30 cents for one of Ford's Prize Remedies.

THE LATEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IS THE CYCLONE
DIGGER

Patented Dec. 27, 1887. Patented July 21, 1891. Other Patents applied for.
Universally conceded to be the best and only Digger that works to perfection in the softest of sand and the toughest of clay, and unequalled by all others to work in any kind of soil, as the blades are so arranged and made of spring steel, thus allowing them to expand and contract when filling and emptying same.
The handle is so arranged that it can be lengthened to any desired length by adding pipe to it in sections, so that any desired depth can be reached with these Diggers.
It is light, strong, durable and simple (nothing complicated about it), and does twice the work in less time than any other Digger made.
