Glenavy November 1st 1838

My Dr. old friend

I take the opportunity of a vessel sailing from Belfast to write you — Trusting you have enjoyed good health, and to remind you of the promise made, which was, that you would at some future period make me further remittance, which I am in great want of, having quite like many others, the calamitous depression of trading to bear from you, I am

Yrs. respectfully &c

Dear Sir

Your letter should have been sooner answered, but sickness in my family and my absence from home, it has unavoidably been delayed. I have concluded not to exchange my heifers for a male as I have Mr Stoykes so convenient and by having two females I can sooner have a stock than from a pair

Respectfully yours
