My dear Sir

It was the intention of Mr. V B and myself to have passed a few days with our friends at Thos Dale this fall, but as often as the day was appointed something occurr'd to prevent, until at last she became fearful of the roads.

It is impossible now to say when we shall have that pleasure. A friend of mine who intends to commence farming in the spring asked me a few days since if I knew any person who had a good breed of cattle of which he wd be likely to dispose of a few head. I referr'd him to yrself & Mr Caton. He requested me to write you on the subject, Mr C he could see at any time as he was living in the city. He did not say how many he wd want, but I prepared him to expect to pay a high price let him purchase from whom he might. I suppose a young bull or a couple of cows in calf wd suit him. If you will inform me whether you have such & the price I can let him know. We had a snow some time since which caused the sleigh bells to jingle pretty merrily about us, and was in hopes you wd take advantage of it for the benefit of yr Baltimore County friends, & old neighbors. Our gals were at it several times, & seemed to enjoy it pretty much.
