[COMMUNICATED.]

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Mr. Editor: In the Denton Journal, of February 16th, we noticed an article under the editorial head in which the author adverts to some previous misapprehension of his views respecting the public school law and officials, which he thinks were too closely scrutinized for the comfort of some of its beneficiaries, and of the distribution of the loaves and fishes of the institution among the adherents of the then dominant party. In reply, we would inform the writer that he has this time misconceived the law and the testimony. There are, and have been from the beginning, those engaged in the various departments of the public school system, from the highest to the lowest office, who have been acknowledged advocates of the opposite party that framed and organized this school system. We think it can be proven to the satisfaction of every unprejudiced mind that it never was intended to be made a party concern. As to the distribution of the loaves and fishes, the loaves are small and the fishes are few, and, with the exception of teachers and secretaries of school boards, neither loaves nor fishes, so far as Caroline county is concerned, have been received. Not one of the school board have been paid a dollar for more than a year and a-half's services.

We are pleased to learn that the writer is willing to admit that the public school law has in it something praiseworthy, but we think the little attention he has bestowed upon it is too limited to qualify him to judge of the services performed by any of the officials of the schools. There may be citizens who could perform any and all of the duties of school supervising as well as those now engaged in it; but, if we may judge of the future by the past, we find but little to give us faith in this gratuitous service springing from this disinterested public spirit of which the writer speaks. It is difficult to find one such, in each school district, to visit one school, once in each term as visitor, which the law provides for. In regard to depleting the school fund, not one dollar of it goes to pay county school officers. They are paid (if paid at all) by a county levy, which has nothing to do with the general school fund. We invite the writer, with his public spirited friends, to come out to our school examinations and teacher's associations, and then ride with one of those do-nothing officials over the entire county, visiting each school some four or five times during the year; make a report of each school; adjust difficulties; examine teachers; assist them in the performance of other duties, and then answer us if he thinks he would like to perform all this for nothing. But, if the writer is correct in his statement of some of the do-nothing officials—that their duties could and would be as well performed by some of those philanthropic spirits of which he speaks—we have abundant evidence, both of their ability and willingness, to do the same, i. e. nothing, or even worse than nothing, for they oppose those who would do something. Where, we ask, were all those sound-policy, public-spirited citizens during the past, when the county was struggling with a meagre system to gain light and knowledge? Were they foremost in the work? We think that the public will testify to the contrary. Reports of former school trustees show, in many instances, that they were men who, from deficient education, felt the necessity of trying to elevate their children to greater advantages than they possessed, some of whom, unfortunately, could not write their names. Yet, they endeavored to do all they could in this noble enterprise, and those public-spirited philanthropists stood back and croaked at the efforts of others as they do now, and would not so much as offer assistance to ascertain the qualifications of teachers who were employed upon their own statements. Some of them, doubtless, received an equivalent for services rendered; while others, who were valuable teachers, had to go out and collect a dollar wherever they could, and often would labor for a half year without receiving anything, and, finally have to sell their claim for whatever these benevolent men would give them. These are facts which can be proven. Where were all those noble friends of the teachers then? Did they exist, or have they just sprung into being? We presume they were as friendly to teachers then as now, but they were so much engaged as not to allow themselves time to go out and see after the teacher's interest. The fact is, it wouldn't pay, and if too much was said about it, the teacher, supposing him to be his friend, might call on him to share his liberality. But, since the State has undertaken to educate the children and pay teachers, and there is no particular danger of being called on to assist in this enterprise, it is safe to prescribe what others should do.

But why all this ado about salaried officers? Is the education of the intellect a matter of so little importance as to require no supervision, and to be conducted without expense? This revenue, from which is to be drawn our statesmen, our councillors, our editors, &c., upon whom depends the public enterprise of county and State, while our county courts, for the suppression of crime, the adjustment of wrongs, "usually the result of neglected education, costs the county for jurors alone twice as much as all the salaried school officers get, and no one objects to it. This is a total loss, while education, in all its departments, is an infinite gain to its contributors. We highly esteem the noble, gentlemanly bearing of the writer, but we would like to see him exercising his enterprising spirit in the right direction.

ROBERT E. LEE AND GAME CHICKENS.—Some of General Lee's admiring friends have thought the best evidence of their regard and attachment for their late Rebel leader would be to present him with a pair of game cocks. Arrived at this conclusion, they wrote him a letter, complimenting him on his fighting qualities, and intimating that the birds and he were something of a feather. The distinguished "General" and college President received it in the proper spirit, and, probably stirred with the memories when he too wore spurs, replied in the following language:

"LEXINGTON, VA., Jan. 25, '67.

"My Dear Sir—I am much obliged to you for the sentiment of esteem expressed in your letter of the 18th instant, and am very grateful to the former members of the Army of Northern Virginia for their kind remembrance. I need not assure you that the memory of all who belonged to that army is cherished by me, and that their welfare and prosperity will always be to me a source of much happiness.

"I should be glad to receive a pair of your fowls which you offer to send me, and would value them as a mark of your friendship; but do not think they could be transported with safety during this inclement weather.

"With sincere wishes for your happiness, "I am, very respectfully,

"R. E. LEE."

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTOLOGIST,
Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophies, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favoral le an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different Preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, post-paid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given.
