Farmer's Column.

VALUE OF MANURES.

The subject of manures, underlying as it does all successful agriculture, has not received from the American farmer that attention it deserves. Many of our farmers can scarcely be made to appreciate the moneyed value of fertilizers in the same way as do the farmers of Europe To one travelling abroad this feature presents itself with marked force—the saving and husbanding manures; and the investment of what we would consider large sums in the purchase of fertilizers adapted to special crops. We have seen farms in England upon which the rents and poor rates alone were nearly equal to the value of the whole product turned off from some of our New York farms of the same number of acres—farms, too, accounted good with us and well managed—and if we should inquire how these expenses can be met, and a fair living profit realized, it will be found that among the secrets of management the question of manures is better understood and their value more duly appreciated than with us.

From an examination of farms through the dairy region, we find the proportion comparatively small that is able to carry more stock now than ten years or more ago. It is generally claimed that our dairy lands are improving year by year. But can they or do they carry more stock? Every farmer should ask himself the question, since if his acres are made to yield a larger product annually, some progress is being made in his management.

We suppose there is no better or cheaper way of bringing up a farm to a high state of fertility than through the agency of cattle. Let the products of the farm be consumed on the farm, and all the manure carefully husbanded and judiciously applied, and there is good reason to hope that the land is being bettered in condition. But if three parts out of four of the manures be suffered to go to waste and are never returned to the land, progress will not be found to be of that rapid character which could be desired.—Working Farmer.

High Cultivation.—The Maine Farmer, alluding to the subject of "high cultivation," so much talked of and written about, says that there is much more talk than improvement. A man looks over his farm of many acres, and finds the whole needs aid, but not being able to at once render it to all portions, makes no particular effort to improve any part.—The right way—right because alone practicable—is to commence with a few acres at a time. Get these in good heart the first year, and the increase product from them will aid in experimenting on another section the succeeding year. In this way the farm will soon become renovated and properly cared for, will not run down again as "long as grass grows and water runs."

Grease the Wheels.—Oil and black lead is supposed to be the best substance. but we have always found lard and flour apparently as good. If the wheels are kept well lubricated, very little difference will be found between the ease of running wooden and iron axles in ordinary farm-work. The smaller the axle, the less will always be the friction, other things being equal; but because the spokes have greater purchase, the friction being the resisting force, and being nearer the end of the lever when the axle is small Food for Hogs.—A writer for the Western Rural argues in favor of concentrated food for hogs. He says he never knew a slop-fed hog to grow and keep healthy and make as rapid growth, as one allowed the range of good pasture, and given dry feed, such as corn, or oats and corn, or barley meal.

Profitable Bees.—A writer in the Rural New Yorker who had seven swarms of bees last spring, foots up his profits thus: 9 new swarms at $5, $45; 150 pounds white clover honey at 30 cents, $45; 50 pounds buckwheat honey at 25 cents, $12 50; total, $102.50; or nearly $15 per swarm.

Farmers should not neglect to give their horses proper exercise. Do not suffer the horse to stand the whole week in the stable, but give, at least, one hour's exercise daily. Give sloppy food at least twice a week, and throw a lump of rock salt in the manger.

T. C. Peters, of Md., says that the average yield of wool, from an ordinary flock of sheep, will be about 1 lb. to 20 lbs of carcass, live weight, and that if more is obtained, it must be paid for in better care and keeping.

Mr. Mercer, of New Lisbon, Howard county, Md., states that by planting onions around peach trees he has discovered that no insects of any kind will trouble the trees. The onion will remain there for many years.

Mears' Infallible
(SUGAR-COATED)
ACUE PILLS
NEVER FAIL!

Mears' Wonderful Ague Pills

are unrivalled for the cure of Chills and Fever. Hundreds of persons who have been afflicted with this distressing complaint for months, after trying Quinine in vain, have been speedily cured by them.

They are warranted not to contain a particle of Quinine, Arsenic, or any other deleterious drug; on the contrary, they are a most excellent tonic and alterative, promoting the appetite, and renovating and strengthening the system. For a torpid liver, or any bilious derangement, they will be found an excellent remedy—gently stimulating the liver to an increased action—thus removing the most troublesome source of this distressing disease.

Those living in districts where Chills and Fever prevail should never be without these Pills; and on the first appearance of the symptoms, should take a few, and thus ward off an attack.

They may be taken by old or young, and at any time, without the slightest regard to diet or exposure.

BRISTOL, August 1st, 1866.

This is to certify, that I am acquainted with the formula of Mear's celebrated Fever and Ague Pills, and I have used the same very extensively in my practice, and have never known them to fail when used according to directions; on the contrary, I have succeeded with them, in many instances, after trying Quinine in vain.

WAVERLEY MAGAZINE, FOR FAMILY INSTRUCTION AND AMUSEMENT.
Edited by Moses A. Dow.
Office No. 5 Lindall Street, Boston.

This paper is the largest Weekly ever published in this country. Its contents are such as will be approved in the most fastidious circles—nothing immoral being admitted into its pages. It will furnish as much reading matter as almost any one can find time to peruse, consisting of Tales, History, Biography, together with Music and Poetry. The paper contains no ultra sentiments, and meddles with neither politics nor religion, but it is characterized by a high moral tone. It circulates all over the country, from Maine to California.

Terms.—The Waverley Magazine is published weekly by Moses a Dow, No. 5 Lindall Street, Boston, Mass. Two editions are printed, one on fine paper, for Periodical Dealers, at 15 cts. a copy, and an edition for mail subscribers (on a cheap paper so as to come within the postage law.)

Terms on Fine Paper.

One copy for 12 months,	$5,00
" 9 "	3,75
" 6 "	2,50
" 3 "	1,25
Four copies 12 months,	16,00
Four copies 6 months,	8,00
Two copies 12 months,	8,00
Two copies 6 months,	6,00

Terms on Cheap Paper.

One copy 12 months,	$4,00
" " 9 "	3,00
" " 6 "	2,00
" " 2 "	1,00

All additions to clubs at the same rates. All monies received will be accredited according to the above terms. Paper stopped when the last number paid is sent. No clubs taken for less than three months.

A new volume commences every July and January. But if a person commences at any number in the volume, and pays for six months he will have a complete book, with a title-page.

When a subscriber orders a renewal of his subscription he should tell us what was the last number he received, then we shall know what number to renew at without hunting over our books. Otherwise we shall begin when the money is received. Persons writing for the paper must write their name, post-office, county and State very distinctly. Those who wish their papers changed should tell where it has previously been sent. Postage on this paper is twenty cents a year, payable in advance at the office where taken out.

Clubs must always be sent at one time to get the benefit of the low price. We cannot send them at the club price unless received together, as it is too much trouble to look over our books or keep an account with each one getting them up.

Monthly Parts.—$6 a year in all cases.

Any one sending us Six dollars can have the weekly "Waverley Magazine," and either of the following works for one year by mail: 'Peterson's Ladies Magazine," or "Godey's Ladies' Book."

For Seven Dollars we will send the "Waverley Magazine," and either "Ladies' Gazette of Fashion," "Atlantic Monthly," or "Harper's Magazine," one year.

All letters concerning the paper must be addressed to the publisher.

The Way to Subscribe.—The proper mode to subscribe for a paper is to enclose the money in a letter and address the publisher direct, giving individual name, with the post office, county and state very plainly written, as postmarks are often illegible. [jan24.
