GEN. SHERMAN ON THE ARMY AND NAVY.—General Sherman was present at a dinner given by the Knights of St. Patrick, in St. Louis, on Monday evening, and responded to a toast in honor of the Army and Navy of the United States.—During his remarks he paid an eloquent tribute to the navy, especially for its achievement during the recent rebellion, and, in alluding to the army at the same period, referred as follows to national affairs:

"And what is this—the Army of the United States—of which you speak? It is the body of men chosen and paid by the National Government to enforce its laws and carry out its wishes. We take no part in your legislation We sit not as judges, but as the High Sheriff of the nation that goes forth to obey the mandates of that nation, that it may be respected wherever its flag represents the authority of its people. We stop not to cavil or doubt. Whatever is the national decree that is our law, and we bow before it and obey it. You remember what a storm was raised when the first idea of compulsion was promulgated—to compel a State, a sovereign State, to obey the laws of the whole country. The entire nation was turned upside down, because the United States claimed the sovereign right to compel a State to obey a national law. Many were induced, blinded by that idea, to leave their faith. But what is Government but compulsion? You sue in your local courts and get a judgment. You go to the Sheriff and say to him:—"Give me my house or my goods according to the judgment rendered in my favor." The Sheriff, in reply, says: "It is true you have a judgment, but I have no power to compel the execution of that judgment." What Government would that be? You would scoff at it. It would be no Government at all. So with our National Government. When it makes a decree that decree must be enforced, or otherwise it will sink into scorn and ignominy. We can enforce the decrees against the strong only by the force of the National arms."

A VOICE FROM GEORGIA.—The Griffin American Union thus comments upon the Sherman Reconstruction bill and the inevitable result, that will follow should the advice of Howell Cobb, and other Rebels, be heeded. It may be pertinent to a few in this State:

"We understand that ex-Hon. Howell Cobb passed through Griffin a few days ago, and while the cars stopped for an exchange of mail bags and to take on water, he delivered to our people the news that a general confiscation of Southern property is certain. We suppose from this that Mr. Cobb and his Rebel friends intend to array themselves against the Sherman bill so as to make further legislation by Congress necessary. If confiscation does come, the people may justly blame Mr. Cobb and his Rebel friends for it.

"They set out to "rule or ruin" the country, and as they cannot rule, they may be determined to ruin, and now oppose the Sherman bill that confiscation may come.

It adds:

"The Constitutional Amendment excluding the leaders from office, it was believed at first, would be sufficient to conquer them: but as that failed to make them give up, the Sherman bill disfranchising some and enfranchising negroes has been passed. If this conquers them, no more radical legislation need be expected. But if the people will still listen to the syren song 'overpowered but not conquered,' as sung by some editors even now, a sweeping disfranchisement of all Rebels, and a tolerably extensive confiscation of Rebel property will be very apt to teach them that the difference between 'overpowered' and 'conquered' is about the same as between tweedledum and tweedledee. If Rebels are not conquered now they will be before Congress is done with them. They may be sure of that."

THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO BALTIMORE.—It will doubtless be gratifying to many of the friends of President Johnson that the expenses incurred upon his visit to Baltimore last fall, when returning from his Western tour, have at last been paid, and our representation for hospitality fully sustained. The Legislature on Wednesday night had before it for consideration a bill to pay the heirs of the late Judge Chambers a sum of money for professional services rendered the State. Mr. Clarke, Chairman of the Committee on Claims, offered an amendment providing for the payment to Gov. Swann of some fourteen hundred dollars for expenses incurred in the reception of the President on the 15th of September last. We suppose the visit, speeches, &c., of the President, Secretary Welles and the "White Bird of Maryland" were considered as "professional services rendered the State" also, and the insertion in the bill to compensate the heirs of Judge Chambers for professional services was therefore quite apropos.—Balto. American.

COLORED TESTIMONY REFUSED.—Among the bills defeated during the last night's session of the Maryland Senate was that allowing colored persons to testify in the courts of this State. After four attempts it was passed in the House of Delegates, with the assistance of the Republican votes, but the Democratic and Conservative majority in the Senate killed it.—South Carolina and most of the rebellious States are in advance of Maryland in this act of justice, having some time since passed laws allowing the colored people there to testify.—Balto. American.

An unsuccessful lover was asked how he lost his sweet-heart. "Alas!" said he, "I flattered her until she got too proud to speak to me."

MARYLAND HOSTILITY TO THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT.—The New York Times says:

"A bill now before the Maryland Legislature affords a fair indication of the spirit in which that body is disposed to treat the Civil Rights law. The bill says that Judges cannot exercise free judgment upon points in the Civil Rights act which they may think in violation of the United States Constitution, because they are liable to penalties; and that in order that the judiciary may be free, Judges and Magistrates are to have a claim upon the State for whatever costs or penalties they may incur by decisions adverse to the law. Practically this amounts to an intention to resist the law as far as possible. This resistance may be all very pleasant and dignified, but the process will be a costly one if persevered in.—However, the bill has passed the Senate and is likely to pass the House. We believe there is more actual hostility to the National Government in Maryland than in South Carolina or Mississippi.

GEN. LEE FOR A CONVENTION.—We have it from the best authority that Gen. Lee is heartily in favor of a convention. He thinks we should make every effort to avert our ruin; that it is idle to talk of resistance or "inactivity." He acknowledges that the pill is a bitter one, but says he can suffer nothing more than Appomattox! So says the Valley Virginian, a paper published in Staunton, and doubtless well informed in the premises.

Who will now say that Virginia will degrade and dishonor herself by acting under the Sherman law.—Rich. Dispatch

Analysis of the Schuylkill Lime.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE, ANNAPOLIS,
January 11, 1860.

P. T. TYSON, Maryland State Geologist:

DEAR SIR:—During our interview at Annapolis some months since, you expressed the opinion that the analysis of lime for publication in your reports should be taken of samples as the cargo is delivered on the farm. You will remember that I told you that I had such a sample taken last April while on a visit to my farm.—I annex the analysis, and think that it represents one of the best varieties of the "Schuylkill Lime of Pennsylvania." The sample was taken before it was slaked, and represents a great many lumps from different parts of a cargo of 2,000 or 3,000 bushels. These were powdered and fairly sampled—the balance of the sample being preserved in glass in our cabinet.

I paid 12 1-2 cents per bushel unslaked, and have since obtained 1,000 bushels from the same source. The sample taken from the second load was taken beneath the surface of the heap, and from several parts of the heap after it had been slaked for several weeks on my farm.

I am thus particular in giving you the circumstances under which this sample was taken—as you told me that it was your intention to procure samples representing the lime that the manufacturer sells to the farmer, "and not such as is sent for analysis."

The cargo was "accidentally" pretented at landing during my visit to my farm, and the captain assured me that it was from the quarries of W. B. RAMBO, near Norristown, Montgomery county, Pennsylvania.

Moisture, &c., expelled by a full red heat continued for about 15 minutes,	05.64
Sand or Insoluble Matter,	00.85
Phosphoric Acid, Iron and Alumina,	03.65
Lime—Oxide of Calcium or Quick-lime,	56.24
Magnesia,	32.79
Soluble Silica,	00.83
	100.00

The slaked lime referred to above was soluble in dilute acetic acid, except about six per cent. (6.22) and yielded 107. of pure carbonate of lime obtained by precipitating the acid solution with oxalic acid, and then heating the oxalate by the usual process.

Yours, respectfully,
DAVID STEWART, M. D.
