YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint.

DYSPEPSIA,

Nervous Debility,

JAUNDICE,

Diseases of the Kidneys,

ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.

Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

I consider Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it.

Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D.D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Price of the Bitters, $1 00 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $5 00.
Price of the Tonic, $1 50 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $7 50.

The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggists to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larg r profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the

DENTON, MARYLAND:

THURSDAY MORNING:.....April 1, 1869.

Hand Them Around.

We see that quite a number of our exchanges are publishing the advertisement of J. T. Lloyd's Patent Revolving Double Maps. This office was once swindled by this same man, and we advise our brethren of the quill to be very careful how they deal with him. The advertisement was sent to us, but we passed it into our waste basket.

President Grant has been suffering for several days from neuralgia in the head and face, and has been unable to attend to duties.

THE March statement of the public debt will show a reduction of about $700,000. from that of the same month last year. The expenditures amount to $15,000,000, and the customs receipts will exceed $19,000,000 for the month.

THERE is but a gap now of one hundred and twenty-six miles between the advancing ends of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific Railroads. The Government Commissioners, however, certify that both roads are alike incompletely constructed.

WE once more appeal to those indebted to us, either for subscription, advertising or job work, to come forward next week and settle for the same. We need money, and we must have it—by easy means, if possible; if not, by harsh ones. Old scores must be settled, and the quicker the better.

So far eleven States have taken definite action on the Fifteenth Amendment, nine of which have ratified and two rejected it. The States that have ratified the amendment are: Kansas, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Maine, South Carolina, Arkansas, Pennsylvania. The two that have rejected it are: Georgia and Delaware.

THE death of ex-President Johnson was currently reported last week, but later advices tell us he has recovered from his serious illness. His malady was in the nature of paralysis of the right side, and was the result of a complication of disorders from which Mr. Johnson has long been a sufferer—neuralgia of the nerves in the region of the right eye, a frequent violent vertigo, and the formation of stone in the bladder.

QUEENSTOWN CREEK.—A meeting was held in Queenstown on Saturday week for the purpose of considering the practicability of widening and deepening the channel of this creek. The meeting resulted in the appointment of a committee to solicit subscriptions. Now that the matter has assumed some definite and authoritative shape, we sincerely hope the committee will prosecute its work with unremitting energy. The widening and deepening of the channel of this creek is an improvement which should have been consummated long, for it has been a frequent source of annoyance to the travelling public for years. "Push things!"

OCCASIONALLY the cloven foot of Democracy protudes from beneath its gossamer mantle and reveals its true proportions and ugly deformity. We had a most remarkable evidence of this the other day when the Tenure-of-Civil-Office law was under consideration in the Senate. The Democrats, of course, voted against the repeal of the act, their opposition being, as stated by one of their number, that the repeal of the law would displace many Democratic officials. When the question of the passage of the act was being discussed, all the Democrats stubbornly opposed it. Now they as stubbornly resist its repeal.—Then it hampered a fathless and corrupt executive: now it embarrasses a President who is endeavoring to discharge the duties incumbent upon him faithfully and with equal and exact justice to all. Beautiful consistency, this!

THE Tenure-of-Civil-Office law is yet a matter of disagreement between the two Houses of Congress, and there is no prospect of an adjustment for several days. Several days ago the House passed resolutions rescinding the act, and referred the matter to the Senate for the concurrence of that body. After considerable delay, the Senate resolved to nonconcur, and offered as a substitute the suspension of the act during the administration of President Grant. The House then refused to recede from its proposition, and referred the bill back to the Senate. That body again withheld its approval of the bill, and asked for a committee of conference. To this committee is committed the fate of the measure, but it is generally believed the act will be either repealed or modified so as to relieve the present administration of all embarrassment. President Grant promises to rigidly enforce the law so long as it remains upon the statute books; hence his delay in nominating officers to the Senate for the various positions within this State.

The arrangements for taking the next census of the United States will probably be completed before the adjournment of the present session of Congress. The bill for this purpose has been reported to the House by Mr. Garfield. It is similar to previous bills for the same purpose, provides for the appointment by the President of a Superintendent of the Census Bureau, which is to be established in the Interior Department, an Assistant Superintendent in each Congressional District, and as many enumerators as may be required to complete the work of taking the census in two months. The Secretary of the Interior, Attorney General and Superintendent are appointed a Board to revise the reports of district superintendents, and arrange them in tables, &c., for public action.—The Board is expected to make its report to Congress before it is finally printed. The increase of representation in Congress which will follow from this new census is variously estimated.

Manurial Resources.

The public will naturally expect from so strenuous an advocate of home-made manure as we profess to be some information touching its manufacture, and from what sources it can be collected. We wish it understood at the outset that we are neither a theoretical nor practical farmer, yet we think we entertain some common sense ideas of the science which it may not be amiss to offer at this time. We live amidst a people who seem to entertain a feeling of repugnance to any and all fertilizing substances save the trashy phosphates and super-phosphates manufactured in our cities by men who know no more about the farming business than we do. These manufacturers labor only for the greed of gold, regardless of the mischief they may do to the honest plow-holder; we to impress upon the minds of our farming community the fact that there lies at their very doors rich and inexhaustible beds of manure which possess all the fertilizing properties of the city made, with this additional qualification: they will afford to the land some degree of permanent improvement.

The sources from which manure may be collected are numerous. They lie right along our every-day path, almost imploring us to apply them to our uses. They are scattered here, there and everywhere about the farm, wasting their powers in unprofitable places. Among the manurial resources afforded the farmer is,—

The pig pen. This is a most prolific source for making manure, and if rightly managed, will pay more than the expense of keeping them confined. All any farmer need do is to keep them supplied with plenty of material to work up, and our word for it they will do it so effectually that he who once fairly tests the experiment will never abandon the practice of keeping his hogs in a yard or pen.

Then there are the cows, which nearly the whole year go and come at will. They should be kept within proper enclosures and be properly attended to, for there is no greater manurial resource than the horned cattle of the farmer. To a certain extent the manure made in the barn yard is saved and applied; but the greatest fault is sufficient care is not taken to increase the amount. During the winter months—the principal season for the collection of this kind of manure—the cattle are half-starved, and the consequence is there is a falling off in the quantity of the milk, and in the quality of the butter, as well as in the amount of the manure. Wheat straw is the principal article of food during the feeding season—neither palatable nor affording much nutriment—whereas it should be applied for bedding purposes. Food of richer quality should be given, and without stint. A diversity of food would also prove highly beneficial, and to this end we recommend the planting of carrots, or like vegetables, for feeding purposes. In this manner the strength of the land absorbed in the production of the crops would be returned to it again; and a continuation of this process will ultimate in a rich and productive farm.

Beside the pig pen and the barnyard, there are other sources from which the thrifty farmer can draw a moderate supply of manure. Let him have his earth closet and his compost heap, his sink for his soap suds and the refuse from the house. Let him take the time and the little trouble which all this will entail upon him, and see if his guano or fertilizer bill will not be considerably reduced in April, 1870.

But, then, there are the forest leaves of all kinds, than which a better and cheaper manure is not to be had. They are free to everybody who will take the time to collect them. If nothing more is done with them than putting them into a pile to rot they are still valuable, but care must be taken to not let them "fire-fang," which can be done by occasionally forking them over.

Our county is abundantly supplied with muck, or swamp mud, which contains all the organic and inorganic elements necessary to produce all kinds of crops, and is adapted to all kinds of soil. This muck can be found on almost every man's land, and is excellent for compost purposes.

We may seem verbose upon the subject of manure, but we earnestly desire to see our county improve, and are fully convinced that it can be done only by a free application of substantial manures. We want the money we annually spend for fertilizers kept at home to enrich our own citizens and to give employment to our laboring population.

The Press.

The Mirror of Typography.—We have received the first number of this handsome journal, just started in New York by Thos. H. Senior & Co. It is devoted to the interests of the craft, but contains information concerning the "art preservative of arts" which will prove valuable to all. Its heading is highly decorative, and "reflects the beautiful in the art." We welcome it to our exchange list.

The American Agriculturist.—The last number of this popular agricultural monthly maintains its reputation as the best agricultural journal in the country handsomely. It is "full to the brim" of the most instructive reading, containing many well-timed hints and suggestions. Every farmer should have it. $2 per annum, in advance. Address Orange Judd & Co, New York.

OUR Maryland agricultural monthlies—The Rural Gentleman and The Maryland Farmer—have also been received and perused with interest. They each continue to grow in popular favor, and deserve to. Their contents embrace every department of farming, and impart much information.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

Wear your learning, like your watch, in a private pocket, and don't pull it out to show that you have one; but if you are asked what the greatest tonic in the world is, you can with confidence say, the Zingari Bitters. It is recommended by some of the most eminent men in this country, as well as in Europe.

The Franklin County (Pa.) Outrage.

We last week stated that a negro man outraged a white girl and two white women, near Chambersburg, Pa., a few days previous. The following particulars are from the Valley Spirit:

Our town has been in the most intense excitement ever since last Thursday. The cause of the excitement is as follows:

On Thursday, about noon, a negro went to the house of Mr. Wm. M. Oliver, in Guilford township, about two and a-half miles from Chambersburg. Mr. Oliver and his wife were both away from home. A step-daughter of Mr. Oliver, named Ida Reinhardt, who is about 13 years of age, had also been at a neighboring house, but at noon went home to feed the pigs. She was in the house getting the necessary feed when the negro went there, and had the door locked. He came to the door, but she refused to admit him. He pretended to be hungry and demanded bread, threatening to burn down the house if she did not let him in. Terrified at these threats she opened the door, when the black scoundrel seized her, threw her upon the floor and outraged her person. The little girl is pretty badly injured. The negro then took with him from the house a razor belonging to Mr. Oliver and a small sum of money, which was lying on a mantle. Mr. Oliver's house lies in a southeasterly direction from the town.

The negro then left, and crossing roads and fields, got around to the road leading from this borough in a northeasterly direction from town. About a mile from here a gentleman resides by the name of John Landin. The negro accosted a little boy whom he saw there and asked him if there were any men about. The boy said no. Just then a young lady named Lydia Detwiler was seen passing through a field some distance off, and the negro went over towards her, and caught up to her about two hundred yards from her father's house, which is in Green township. He attacked her at once and accomplished his purpose, the young lady resisting him to the best of her ability.

From there he went in the direction of Mr. Jacob Fry's house, and when within a couple of hundred yards of it he met a young lady named Miss Leah Lehman. He attacked her also, and a most terrible struggle took place. He struck her on the back of the head with a club, on the face so that it is covered with black marks, and choked her so as to leave black and blue marks upon her neck. In the struggle he took a razor from his pocket and drew it close to her throat, threatening to kill her. She grasped the razor and broke the handle off, which she still has in her possession. Notwithstanding this heroic resistance, the black scoundrel succeeded in accomplishing his purpose with this lady also. We understand that she is still confined to her bed from the injuries received.

The same paper states that the negro has been arrested, and is now in jail awaiting trial. He has been fully identified by the little girl. So intense is the excitement that efforts have been made to lynch him, and the lynchers were only foiled in their design by the arrival of the military organization of the town. The prisoner has been guarded ever since.

LAND SALES IN VIRGINIA.—Wm. H. Newton & Co., Land Agents, Baltimore, (whose card may be found on our 1st page) send us the following list of sales recently effected by them:

ITEMS OF NEWS.

The late James Guthrie, of Kentucky, left an estate of $1,000,000.

Both branches of the Pensylvania Legislature have ratified the Fifteenth Amendment.

In the United States Senate, Thursday, Hon. Wm. T. Hamilton, of Maryland, was sworn in, and took his seat.

Hon. Edward Bates, who was for a time Attorney General during Mr. Lincoln's first Administration, died in St. Louis on Thursday afternoon.

Gen. Stoneman has issued an order removing Gov. Wells, and assuming the duties of the office himself. Mayor Burgess, of Petersburg, was also removed.

It is said in republican circles that the committee on reconstruction, seven against five, will early this week report back the bill reassembling the original Georgia Legislature, imposing the test-oath qualification, and declaring the expulsion of the colored members void.

In a conversation with a Mississippi delegation of Republicans on Wednesday, President Grant expressed himself as anxious to have Congress proceed to reconstruct Mississippi, but as differing with that body on the feasibility of the plan proposed by the Reconstruction Committee.

Complete returns of the election for Governor of New Hampshire by towns, compared with those of the election one year ago, show a falling off in the aggregate vote of 9,346, a Republican majority of 3,739, against 2,521 in 1868, and a relative gain to the Republican party of 1,218.

Commissioner Delano has completed a large number of removals of collectors, assessors, storekeepers and gaugers, which he has sent to the Secretary of the Treasury and the President for their approval. They are only cases where gross violation of internal revenue law and alleged corruption exist.

Governor Bullock, of Massachusetts, tendered the position of Associate Justice of that State, made vacant by the resignation of Judge Hoar to accept the Attorney Generalship, to Hon. Henry L. Dawes, now a Representative in Congress and Chairman of the Committee on Appriations. The Republican members of the House strongly opposed his accepting the position, and Mr. Dawes declined the honor.

REV. ANDREW MANSHIP.—At the Philadelphia Annual Conference, which closed its session last Monday night, Rev. Andrew Manship, by request of leading members of Delaware and Washington Conferences, was apointed by the Rev. Bishop Thompson, as Agent and Corresponding Secretary of the Church Extension Society of the above Conferences. The Conferences compose New Jersey, portions of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, portions of Virginia and the District of Columbia. This appointment is designed to aid the young and rising Conferences in church extension and missionary work, (composed of colored ministers, but presided over by the Bishops of the M. E. Church, and belonging to this influential body.)—This does not affect the Conference relations of Mr. Manship. He still belongs to the Philadelphia Annual Conference, and is a member of the Twentieth Street Quarterly Conference, and resides in the city of Philadelphia. The subject and necessity of appointing to these Conferences such an officer was duly laid before the Philadelphia Conference, and heartily sanctioned by that body. Mr. Manship is energetic and efficient and will discharge the duties in his new field of labor very satisfactorily.—Wilm. Republican.

The following is an extract from a private letter written by the Proprietors of the Plantation Bitters:

"We had no conception of the wide-spread suffering which exists, or of the almost infallible cures produced by the PLANTATION BITTERS, when we first commenced offering them for sale. We now find that every house has a weak child, an ailing parent, or debilitatedaged member, who needs this Tonic. Our Laboratory has grown from a single room to an immense building, and our sales from a few bottles to many hundred dozens per day, and we are glad to know that they have done you so much good.

A NEW RAILROAD PROJECT is on foot, to construct a line from Washington city to Erie, Pa., or Cleveland, Ohio. The plan proposed is to use the Alexandria, Loudon and Hampshire Railroad, from a point opposite Georgetown to its present terminus ten miles beyond Leesburg.

CHILLS AND FEVERS.

LIEUTAUD'S

CELEBRATED ANTIDOTE,

FOR MALARIA AND ANTI-PERIODIC.

A Certain Cure for Chills and Fever.

This compound is just what it is called, neither more nor less. It is the result of patient chemical investigation, based upon scientific principles. It contains nothing which can injure the most delicate organization; but rather improves the tone of the system, enriching the blood, and imparting strength and elasticity to the nervous and muscular tissues. Exclusively vegetable in its character, it possesses the property (enjoyed by no other article) of neutralizing the baneful, subtle essence of Marsh Miasma, which all chemists and scientific men know causes Chills and Fevers. The author does not deem it necessary to enlarge upon its character, as he is confident that the use of one bottle will arrest and permanently CURE the most protracted case of Intermittent Fever, if taken according to the directions.

N. B.—$10,000 will be given to any one who will show by chemical analysis the presence of QUININE or any deleterious drug.

Office and Depot, No. 2 South St., Baltimore.
