The Crops of the Country.

The Department of Agriculture has just issued a perliminary report of the condition of the crops:

It says the great agricultural lesson of the season inculcates the necessity of draining and thorough culture. It is not an exaggeration to estimate the reduction of farm crops from the alternate drowning and scorching at $200,000,000. The great apprehension of serious failure in the corn crop of the more Northern States has been materially modified by the sunny weather in September, and exemption from killing frosts to October 1st.

Early frosts in some portions of the Eastern and Middle States checked ripening and left the frosted fields in an immature and damaged condition. But the injury is comparatively slight in extent and limited in

As a whole, the crop has had an unfavorable maturing season, resulting a very gratifying amelioration of the prospect for a supply of this important staple, yet a full crop, which should not be less than 1,150,000,000 bushels, can by no means be expected. When the harvest is over, and local estimates completed, the aggregate will attest a moderate yield, yet an ample sufficiency for all the wants of the country.

Had the spring wheat been equal to the winter a whole crop would have been enormous. Throughout the South the yield is unusually large and of excellent quality.—Taxas and Mississippi are somewhat less conspicuous sharers in the improvement than otherStates in that section. In Illinois the counties reporting an increase equivalent to ten per cent. or more are almost without exception in the southern part of the State, below the fortieth parallel—the winter wheat region. Those claiming eight-tenths of crop or less are, with one or two exceptions, spring wheat counties. Indiana grows a large proportion of winter wheat, and consequently has this year produced a much better average yield than Illinois. Many of the counties return high figures.

The area of cotton culture was increased last spring fully sixteen per cent. More than 1,000,000 acres were added to the cultivated area.

Fertilizers were liberally used in the Atlantic States and improved implements to some extent employed.

Barley has there been a better season for oats than the present. Very few of the States return a less increase than 10 per cent., some going as high as 30 and 35 per cent.

The season has been too dry for either kind of potatoes in the South and on the Atlantic coast to New York. New England generally has a good crop, and it is unusual[ly] in the West, with the exception of [Da]kota.

The product of sweet potatoes is manifestly decreased.

A slight increase is expected in the aggregate number of fattening cattle, as well as in their average condition. Some of the States fail to mention a full average among which are New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Kentucky.

Secretary Boutwell's statement of the condition of the public debt on the first instant shows a material reduction during the month just closed.

Town and County Intelligence.

THE Orphans' Court for Caroline county will meet on Tuesday, November 9th.

DANIEL FIELDS has been elected a vice-President of the Maryland Agricultural and Mechanical Association on the part of this county.

RICHARD CHAMBERS, an aged and well-known citizen of the 1st district, died at his residence in Greensborough on Tuesday week. In his younger days Mr. Chambers was connected with one or more newspapers, but they always proved shortlived.

PUBLIC SALE.—Jno. D. Kemp, Esq., being about to leave this town, offers for sale two horses, two carriages, a set of harness, some articles of household furniture, and other things not necessary to enumerate.—The sale is to take place in Denton next Tuesday afternoon. Terms reasonable.

SNOW.—Saturday last was quite cool, and a fresh wind blowing from the Northwest. Several times during the day flakes of snow were seen flitting about in the air, but towards night we had quite a sprinkling—not enough however to whiten the ground. For several weeks the weather has been quite cool, and heavy frosts are of nightly occurrence

DROWNED.—From the Baltimore Sun, of Monday, we learn that Jas. W. Benny, formerly of Talbot county, but at the time of his death a clerk in one of the departments in Washington, was drowned at Light St. Wharf, Baltimore, on Saturday night at 12 o'clock. He was on his way home to the election, and was in quest of the night boat to the Eastern Shore when the accident occured. Mr. Benny was well known in this county, where he had quite a circle of friends and acquaintances.

BADLY BURNED.—A sad case of burning occurred in the edge of Delaware, near Burrsville, last week. The sufferer was the wife of Luff Lewis, and her escape, if she should recover, was a narrow one. She had been to the corn pile assisting her husband in husking his corn, but becoming very cold, requested him to go with her to the house and build her a fire. This he did, and then went out doors again, leaving her to warm herself. She sat down with her back to the fire, and whilst in this position her clothes took fire and were burning in large flame ere she perceived it. She ran out into the yard, screaming for help, but before assistance could reach her she was burned in a most shocking manner. Every shred of clothing was burned from her body, except some pieces which tightly enveloped her waist.

IS THERE NO RELIEF to the intolerable nuisance of people's stock running at large in this town? It seems to us that the evil becomes more aggravating daily. Sometimes a half-dozen cattle may be seen together parading the streets in search of an open gate where access may be gained to one's garden. At another time, others may be seen at work upon fences, endeavoring to demolish these. The whole town, in fact, has become a public pasture; and the owners of stock think no more of turning it out into the public streets than they would do of turning it into a pasture field, if they had one. There is one remedy for the evil, though somewhat summary we must confess—to shoot one-half the cattle thus allowed to roam at large and then the people will learn to keep their stock up. Every man is lord-proprietor of his own domicile, and we hereby give warning to the owners of cattle that this is a right which we intend to maintain. Some one will have an abundance of beef some of these frosty mornings.
