American Union.

DENTON, MARYLAND:

THURSDAY MORNING::::::::::May 26, 1870.

THE following is the reply of the Cecil Whig to our article in last week's issue, in which we took occasion to comment on the Whig's ungenerous and undignified attacks upon the several gentlemen, outside of Cecil, whose names have been mentioned in connection with the Congressional nomination. The truthfulness of the allegations then made is admitted in the fact that The Whig does not attempt a denial, but seeks to palliate its course by directing public attention to "a joke" which it, in its ignorance, seeks to fasten on Caroline. We give the reply in full:

The Denton Union is "disgrundled" at The Whig's jesting on facts. Well, that was cruel. Will the Union explain that huge Caroline joke of, we think the jokers called a Central Committee of the First Congressional District, or something of this kind, which was formed by a "large and enthusiastic meeting, composed of delegates from all the counties on the shore," (in a horn!) The joke was published in the American some days since. The Whig is favorable to any good Republican who may receive a fair nomination, but the "Tom foolery" practiced by some of the politicians of Caroline is understood and laughed at by all men. The Union understands very well.

The "Central Committee," which seems to rankle deep in the Whig's selfish heart, and which it intimates was the outgrowth of the "'Tom foolery' practiced by some of the politicians of Caroline" is simply no "Tom foolery" of any "Caroline politicians," but had its origin and was appointed by the colored people themselves. The white Republicans of Caroline had nothing whatever to do with it, and were even ignorant of its object until the day of its appointment. Upon inquiry it was ascertained that the object in view, by the appointment of the Committee, was to look after the registering of the colored voters, and the placing of white men upon it was done in order to better secure that end. It was simply a request, or, if it suits The Whig better, an appointment, by the colored people, of white men to see that they (the colored men) were permitted to register, and were not debarred from that privilege when the books were opened. If Cecil county was not represented at the meeting which appointed the committee, it was certainly its own fault, for due notice of such a meeting was given.

We hope the above explanation will satisfy The Whig, and that it will see the extent of "the joke" which the "Caroline politicians" have perpetrated upon the district. By what authority the meeting was called we know not—all we do know is that the bills were sent to this office to be printed, and were paid for. We attended the meeting by invitation, as did "some of the politicians of Caroline," in total ignorance of the leaders of the movement, and there endeavored to find out by whom the meeting was called. In this we were unsuccessful, and do not yet feel satisfied in our minds that it was not devised by parties outside the county.

But The Whig says it "is favorable to any Republican who may receive a fair nomination." We accept its statement, and would not like to think otherwise of The Whig.—We lay no complaint for that reason, but we do complain of its disparaging remarks and jealous flings at other good and true Republicans than those in Cecil, the more especially since the Republican newspapers in the district are few, and such remarks and flings are damaging in the extreme. We desire that every aspirant for the place shall go into the nominating convention unembarrassed by any misrepresentations or unprejudiced by any supposed "jokes" which they or their friends may have perpetrated upon the district. We desire that each and every one shall have a full and free canvass of his claims, without censuring the course of his competitor. If any, whose names have been mentioned in connection with the nomination, desire their names to be used in such connection no longer, let them withdraw them without the ribald jests of their own party papers following them in such course. In the case alluded to, we know it was done for prudential reasons, and to the benefit of Cecil county, but how far that benefit will now accrue to Cecil we will not pretend to say. The no distant future will determine its extent. Such action on the part of The Whig is uncalled-for, undignified and ungenerous, and reflects no credit upon the ability of the writer or his professed indifference to the preferrment of any good Republican.

We trust we have fully answered The Whig's inquiry. Will it now do us the favor to explain the "fact," as it calls it, of the "Caroline traders?" We call for an explanation.

THE WILMINGTON COMMERCIAL, appeared in a new and handsome dress on Thursday last, looking unusually neat and attractive. Its proprietors, Messrs. Jenkins & Atkinson, are goaheadative and pushing men, and the manner in which they have succeeded in pushing the Commercial into popular favor against such opposition, is really astonishing. The paper is one of the handsomest and most vivacious dailies we know of, and should receive the encouragement of all men who reward merit. We especially recommend the weekly edition of the Commercial—THE DELAWARE TRIBUNE—to popular favor, recognizing it as one of the best weeklies published in this section of the country. It has already obtained a large circulation in this county, but we should be glad for its circulation to be still further increased. The terms are only $2 per annum, which no one will object to paying for a good paper. Address Jenkins & Atkinson, Wilmington, Del.

Prohibition at the Capital.

There is a fair prospect, if a bill introduced by Mr. Pomeroy in the Senate, becomes a law, that the disgrace of drunkenness in public may become less frequent in Washington. The bill prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors within the District of Columbia, excepting only the sale of poisons, medicines and alcohol by druggists, and the sales of the latter are surrounded with restrictions, among which is the requirement that a registry of them and of the buyers shall be kept, open to police and official inspection. The keeping of dram-shops and the retail business are especially aimed at by the provisions of the bill. It is stringent in regard to sales to minors; and notification by the relatives of any person that he is a drunkard or intemperate will prevent the sale of liquor to him. Aside from the fines and penalties imposed for violations of the different provisions of the bill, the seller of liquors is to be held responsible for all the injuries which may be committed by the person whom his liquors intoxicate; and this applies specially in favor of a wife, child, parent, guardian, employer or person dependent for support, the liquorseller being responsible even for exemplary damages.

But the most interesting feature is the mode it proposes for dealing with drunkards and intemperate men. Enumerating a list of such failings, and winding up with "and "refuses or is unable to restrain his appetite "and his passions," the man of whom all these peculiarities are descriptive is to be adjudged insane and confined in a lunatic asylum. If, however, the other provisions are enforced and the custom of tippling in barrooms as an interchange of social courtesies can be broken up, the lunatic asylums will not be overcrowded.

Should such a bill become a law, what will become of Willard, of Saulsbury fame? Will he plead that section of the constitution which declares "The citizens of each "State shall be entitled to all the privileges "and immunities of citizens in the several "States?"

THE EDUCATIONAL GAZETTE for the current month is as handsome as a May-flower. Its pages are laden with choice intellectual fruit, and the exuberance of its fragrance we welcome with pleasure to our table. It is certainly a complete Cornucopia of good things for every thoughtful mind.

Letter from Seaford, Del.

Improvement of Streets--Buildings--M. E. Church--Bible Meeting--Addresses--Bible Society at Laurel--Weather, &c.

SEAFORD, May 21, 1870.

Mr. Editor:—

We have been trying to look around for news sufficient to furnish your readers a letter, but it is difficult to find enough, for, like many other things, it is scarce. We have, however, a little enterprise among us. The Street Commissioner is at work upon the streets, and is making considerable improvement. Two new houses are pretty well shut in, and the mechanics are at work upon the inside. Two others will be commenced soon.

The M. E. Church is undergoing a thorough painting, and is attracting much attention. When finished it will be a very respectable-looking Church. It is two stories high, with a commodious audience room, gallery, lecture room, two class rooms and vestibule.

We had a very interesting Bible meeting here on Wednesday evening last, which was addressed by Rev. Dr. Sheldon, agent of the American Bible Society for New Jersey and Delaware, Rev. W. B. Gregg and Rev. T. P. McColley. At said meeting delegates were elected to attend the Sussex County Bible Society, which met in Laurel on Thursday morning at 10½ o'clock, and twenty dollars were raised for the County Society. Revs. Stranger and Gregg were made life members of said society.

The delegates of the Sussex County Bible Society met in Laurel at the time named, and had one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this county.—There were about one hundred delegates present, and they were composed of the leading men in the county. Rev. T. P. McColley is the active and efficient president. Judge Layton, Messrs. Redden, McAfee and others were very active in the business of the meeting. The reports were in excess of any former year. Over five hundred dollars were raised for the society. Four hundred and fifty-seven Bibles were distributed.—Nearly all the families in the county were visited, and the most remarkable of all is at a cost of only four dollars and seventy cents. The machinery seems to be in perfect order. A vice-President is appointed for every school district, whose business it is to have the work done in the districts by voluntary canvassers. A very interesting meeting was held in the evening. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Sheldon and Rev. W. B. Gregg. The next meeting of the society will be held in Seaford sometime in May, 1871.

The weather is fine, and crops present a favorable aspect. Strawberries will soon be ready for market. It is supposed by some that the peach crop will not be large here. Some say one-half a crop, and others one-fourth. Let us wait and see—perhaps we will be disappointed. BETA.

WITHIN the past three weeks three citizens of Baltimore have been stricken down by the hands of assassins. The first life taken was that of a respected German, Mr. Frederick Reufnacht, a quiet, inoffensive gentleman, who was murdered in cold blood by a gang of ruffians; next came the stabbing of Mr. Joshua S. Creamer, who was found on North Gay street, a few evenings since, with three cuts in his stomach and breast, inflicted by some unknown parties, and died yesterday; and now we have the third case to record, that of Wm. Young, who was shot down in cold blood on Wednesday night for the offence of being a black man. Something must be done to rid us of these assassins, who are prowling about with such freedom that no man's life can be considered safe.—American of Saturday.

THE vote in Baltimore, on the endorsement of the bonds of the Lynchburg and Danville Railroad by the city of Baltimore to the extent of $750,000, resulted in the defeat of the ordinance by a majority of 1,633 in a total vote of 9,799. Only six wards voted in favor of the proposition.

Letter from Wilmington.

WILMINGTON, DEL., May 23rd, 1870.

Mr. Editor:—

The weather here has improved since my last. It is much warmer, and not so changeable.

Court at New Castle is still in session.—Seven men were whipped at New Castle on Saturday, the 14th. Your correspondent went over to see it, in order to give you a better description, but had the misfortune to arrive too late. The Sheriff, Mr. Richardson, not liking the comments the various newspapers are making upon the whippings, concluded to get through it before many people arrived. The men who were whipped had committed petty larcenies, such as stealing a pair of shoes, &c., while two men, who beat a man nearly to death, in the lower part of the county, were sentenced to imprisonment, instead of whippings. Well might it be said, "O, justice! thou art fled to brutish beasts, and men have lost their reason." The most important case on the civil list was that of R. H. Patterson vs. P. W. B. R. R. for $10,000 damages. He was severely hurt by being crushed between two cars, while at work upon them. A verdict was given in favor of Patterson for $5,000 damages. Hon. T. F. Bayard was one of his counsel.

Our nomination election, for sheriff and coroner, came off on Saturday. It was quite a novel sight to see the 15th Amendment in operation. Thirteen candidates were in the field, and consequently the votes were very scattering. Thomas Harvey proved to be the lucky man, he having something over one hundred majority over Armstrong, the next best man. Mr. Harvey is from our city, and is spoken of as one of the best men in the county for that position. All will go to work earnestly now, and in November next we hope to have the pleasure of seeing him elected by an overwhelming majority. Chas. D. Winslow, also from our city, got the nomination for coroner.

We had quite a heavy shower of rain about 9½ o'clock on Saturday. It rained very hard for about an hour.

Till another time I will say good bye.

Yours truly,

YRRAH.
