DENTON, MARYLAND:

THURSDAY MORNING:::::::October 20, 1870.

REPUBLICAN
Congressional Nominations.

First District,
HENRY R. TORBERT,
OF CECIL.

Second District.
WILLIAM M. MARINE,
OF BALTIMORE.

Third District,
WASHINGTON BOOTH,
OF BALTIMORE.

Fourth District,
JOHN E. SMITH,
OF CARROLL.

Fifth District,
JAMES A. GARY,
OF HOWARD.

THE ENTIRE COLORED vote for the First congressional district is 10,686. The Democratic majority in 1868 was 8,112. We leave our readers to judge of the result.

THE REPUBLICANS of the Third Congressional district held a rousing mass-meeting in Baltimore on Monday evening last, which was addressed by Washington Booth, candidate for congress, J. A. J. Creswell, Stockett Matthews, Adam E. King, and others.—The meeting is said to have been the largest political gathering ever held in Baltimore, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The prospect in the Third district is encouraging. Hundreds of Democrats have given in their adhesion to the Republican candidate, and are vigorously assisting in the canvass.

ELECTIONS WERE HELD last week in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska. In Pennsylvania the Democrats have gained one Congressman, but the Republicans have a majority in both branches of the Legislature. The entire Republican ticket in Philadelphia was elected. In Indiana and Ohio the result is still doubtful. Both sides claim the victory, but the indications are favorable to a Republican triumph. Schenck is undoubtedly elected to Congress, and the Republicans gain two Congressmen and lose one in Ohio. So the Republican majority in Congress is not at all affected by these elections, although the Democrats had strong hopes of decreasing our majority in that body. Nebraska is intensely Republican, and elects a straighout Republican ticket.

JUDGE GOLDSBOROUGH is so far above his maligners and traducers in every respect that he needs but little defence at our hands. Having first cheated him out of a nomination, they now are giving publicity to bare faced lies and slanders which have long since been refuted by the Judge, and they actually are endeavoring to drive him to the Democrats. They accuse him of lukewarmness because he fills no official position, and resort to every expedient to injure his standing in the party. Their object in this is plain, and will recoil on their own heads with redoubled force.

The composition of Judge Goldsborough's character is different from most men who have attained to the political honors he has enjoyed. Every position to which he has been elevated has been reached without duplicity or fraud on his part, and the public esteem in which he is held is all the stronger for this reason. He has never obtruded himself upon the party or packed nominating conventions to secure his own aggrandizement. All his elevations have been made by the people themselves for meritorious conduct, and when the present sycophantic parasites, who are continually hounding at his heels, have been dislodged from power, as they untimately will be, his star will rise again and shine with undiminished lustre, darkening the tallow dips which now are illumined with official patronage and favor. Sound in judgment and in conviction strong, Judge Goldsborough's faith in the Republican cause is unshaken, and his associations and affiliations will continue to be with that party. His record is too bright, his faith too strong, his personal honor too elevated to allow his recreancy to the cause which he has espoused even before those who now traduce him were decided and while some of them were even meditating the casting of their fortunes with the rebel foe. Judge Goldsborough is not going to the Democrats. He has witnessed the prostitution of official position and influence to base and ignoble purposes, and he only uplifts his voice and raises his hand against this innovation upon the success of the party. He is doing no more than Horace Greely and other honorable and eminent men in the party have done and are now doing, for it is but a few days since that the Tribune counseled the discarding of unworthy candidates and of nominations unfairly obtained. His course of action has a worthy precedent; but precedents of no kind would influence him if he conscientiously believed the thing to be wrong.

We have an abiding faith in the inflexibility of the Judge's Republicanism, in the purity and honesty of his motives, and in the ultimate redemption by him of his character from the foul aspersions which are now sought to be cast upon it. Principles are undoubtedly the governing cause of his action, not men, for had it been the latter he would to-day have been working "cheek by jowl" with those who are so zealously denouncing him. We rejoice in his independence and glory in the spirit which has prompted him to the line of duty he has undertaken.

THE prisoners confined in the Drummondtown jail for dredging in Virginia waters, in violation of the Virginia Oyster law, made their escape last week, and came home to Maryland.

GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE, commander-in-chief of the Rebel armies during the late rebellion, died at Lexington, Va., on Wednesday morning last. The Father of us all seems to be hurrying into his presence the crown heads of the late rebellion, thus sparing them the oblovuy and reproach which future generations would bestow upon them.

WE CAN ACCOUNT for the repeated attempts of the Cecil Whig to show us up as a Democrat only upon one ground, viz: that the Whig is fearful we are applying, or intend to apply, for the government printing which is usually allotted to each congressional district. If this be the motive which is impelling Mr. Ewing in his dirty course, we will inform him that we are not now applying, nor do we intend to apply, for this work, but will leave it to him since his abject servitude to his master so well merits it.

WE WOULD ASSURE the editor of The Journal that the "tempest in the teapot," so far as we are concerned, has not "subsided in this county," and that Mr. Torbert's name appears at the head of our paper, among the other congressional nominees, not from any "promises" made to us—nor that our opinions have undergone any change since the nomination was made, not that we intend to vary, one iota, from the course we had marked out, but for the mere gratification of others. We thought the Journal knew us too well to suspect us of bartering away our opinions and personal honor for any "promises" which might be made us. It is an unkind thrust which we trust the editor of that paper feels sorry for ever having made, and hope he will make amends in as public a manner as he unwarrantably made the insinuation.

Locomotives Without Railways.

At the present moment, when so much anxiety has been expressed on account of the exportation of horses, a Parliamantary paper just issued will be read with interest as showing that the time approaches when we shall no longer require the service of the noble animal. It appears by the reports on Thompson's "road steamer," made to the War Department, that this engine, unless, perhaps, for hunting purposes, is far more useful than the horse. Mr. Anderson, the superintendent of machinery, says he has "come to the conclusion that the question of steam traction on common roads is now completely solved;" that the application of the india-rubber tire is a perfect success; that it opens up an entirely new field and he looks upon this application as a discovery rather than invention. The wheel and its tire may be described as consisting of a broad iron tire with narrow flanges, upon which is placed a ring of soft vulcanized india-rubber; the ring is about 12 inches in width and five in thickness, which thus surrounds the entire tire, and is kept in its place by the flanges; then over the india-rubber there is placed an endless chain of steel plates, which is the portion of the wheel that comes into actual contact with the road, the reticulated chain being connected by a sort of vertebra at each side of the wheel. The india-rubber tire and this ring of steel plates has no rigid connection, but are at perfect liberty to move round as they please without consulting each other, or even without the concurrence of the inner ring of the wheel which they both enclose. Mr. Anderson states that the reason why this wheel is so efficient is because the soft india-rubber allows it to flatten upon the road, whether rough or smooth. The wheel, being a circle, if it is a rigid structure, presents but a small surface; but this wheel conforms to every irregularity for a space of nearly two feet by the weight of the engine causing the india-rubber to collapse, and so producing a change of form. In the construction of the road steamer the greater portion of the weight, including the boiler, rests upon the driving wheels; the third wheel in front is for guiding the direction of movement, and is perfectly under control. In the course of experiments witnessed by Mr. Anderson the engine went up a zigzag labyrinth of courts, and it can describe any figure almost in a space its length. The boiler employed is an independent invention adapted to the carriage. Its chief peculiarity is the copper pot for holding water within the furnace, and it is so contrived that if the boiler contains any water the pot will have a full supply.—This arrangement keeps the centre of gravity low, and allows the engine to run up hills of one in ten or go along an angle of thirty-five degrees. On the first day Mr. Anderson saw it in Leith the streets were very wet and adhesive. A train of wagons containing ten tons of flour, besides their own weight, were standing at the bottom of a slippery street with a gradient of about one in seventeen; to this train the little engine was attached, and away it marched as if it had no load, went up to the top of the hill, and then down on the other side, no brake being required. After depositing its load somewhere in Leith, it ran down to the Portobel-seashore at the rate of ten miles an hour.—On surveying the sands, Mr. Anderson says, it seemed an impossibility that it could walk on such soft sinking ground, but on it rushed through all, over some quicksands, ran into the sea and along its edge in every direction, in the most wonderful manner. It then, after returning from the seaside, removed an old boiler from the docks to a yard at some distance. The boiler and wagon, with the fastening chains, weighed upwards of 22 tons, and the boiler on the wagon stood some 25 feet high. Up to this this engine backed, then marched off with its load along the quay, over a rising swing bridge and along the other quays, until it reached its destination. The charm of the performance, Mr. Anderson remarks, was in the way in which it was done. No shouting, no refractory or desultory pulling of horses, but by the expenditure of a few pounds of coals and water the whole was accomplished with ease and celerity; and so accustomed are the people in Leith to its performance that no notice was taken of it, except by the country horses, for the town horses seem to know that it is their friend rather their enemy.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE population of Vermont has had an increase of 15,487 during the past decade. In 1860 it was 315,098, and now it is 330,235.

Two Political Transactions.

WHICH WAS A FRAUD AND WHICH WAS HONEST?—THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A DEMOCRATIC SENATOR AND A "NIGGER."

Some time ago an item went the rounds of the press, telling how of colored man had overcome, for a number of his race, the disabilities under which they labored, which prevented any person, not a holder of real estate, from voting at the corporation election in Chestertown, Maryland. It was alleged that he had given to thirty or forty of them a square foot of ground each, and this meeting the requirements of the law, they had voted, and by their aid the Republicans had carried the town. Most people and many papers applauded the action, as it fulfilled the law, and yet defeated the object of its passage, the practical disfranchisement of poor men.

The Democratic papers of this Peninsula, however, most of them subservient tools of landed aristocrats, without the first instinct in favor of popular independence, raised a great clamor over the thing as a "fraud" and a contemptible evasion of law and denounced all who aided or abetted it, in the strongest language in their vocabulary. A few papers off the Peninsula, one, if we mistake not, in immaculate New York, joined in denouncing the fraud, but the paper which, above all others, was overcome with the enormity of this villainy, was the Kent News, published at Chestertown. Well, if this were villainy, let all good men denounce it, and then pronounce their opinion on this.

The last number of the Freeman's Journal, a new paper published at Chestertown, contains an attested copy of a deed, now on file in the Land Record Books of Kent county, as is certified to by Jesse K. Hines, clerk of the court, by which George Vickers, a citizen of Chestertown, conveys to ninety-four citizens of that town, to be held in common by them, one square foot of land, on Mill street, in Chestertown. Each of these citizens becomes possessed of a little over 1 5-6 inches of land and the right to vote at the town election in Chestertown, by this transaction.

The gentleman granting this deed is Hon. George Vickers, United States Senator for Maryland, and one of the recipients of his bounty is James H. Plummer, editor of the Kent News, which so bitterly denounced the transaction alluded to in the first part of this article. The deed was made in Washington, and sealed in the presence of a Notary Public of that city, and was recorded in the Clerk's office in Kent county, on the 19th day of May, in time to allow those named in it to vote at the election, which it is alleged was carried by the Republicans, by means of similar tactics, on the part of a colored man. Two of those named in the deed are clergymen.

Now, to dull people, or those of merely ordinary capacity, these two actions will seem remarkably alike in method, object and result, but then in Kent county the difference between them is very evident. One is mean, low-lived, and fraudulent, because it was done by a "nigger," the other a munificent and liberal action, because it was done by a white man, who has "blood," land, and a seat in the Senate of the United States, as a representative of the sentiment of the disloyal portion of the population of Maryland.

Decrease of Taxes.

[From Speech of Senator Conkling at Utica.]

The Democratic managers everywhere betray a fidgety anxiety to hurry out of sight the party record of recent years, but the footprints are indelible. The Republican party, on one hand, craves scrutiny of its career. Its record of fifteen years has been brief yet bright. It has established political and religious liberty for all men everywhere within its reach. It has added the Pacific Railroad, and opened up new fields of enterprise. During all its good work it has constantly been hindered and assailed by its opponents; during the great war for the Union it was never for an hour free from a galling fire from behind. Since the war the party has gone quietly to work to reduce the debt and the taxes. In this connection Mr. Conklin said: "The present Administration has reduced the expenses of the Government until they are less, per capita, than they have been since General Jackson's time.—For the year ending June 30, 1870, the last fiscal year, the cost of the Government was $1.64¼ for every person in the nation, and this is less by thirteen cents than the average cost for twenty-four years preceeding the rebellion. This assertion may surprise you, and so I give you the data:

Expenditures Per Capita Exclusive of Interest and Debt of the Government of the United States.

Jackson,	8 years,	$1.16 annually.
Van Buren,	4 years,	1.78 annually.
Polk,	4 years,	1.75 annually.
Pierce,	4 years,	1.96 annually.
Buchanan,	4 years,	2.19 annually.
	24 years.
Average annual cost during this period for each person		$1.97
Cost under President Grant for each person		1.64¼

Difference in favor of President Grant, 12¾ cts.
Grant less than Van Buren, 14 cts per capita.
Grant less than Polk, 11 cts per capita.
Grant less than Pierce, 32 cts per capita.
Grant less than Buchanan, 55 cts per capita.

"These statements are alike on gold basis, and when you remember the vast increase of territory, and the multiplied drains upon the Treasury with the advance of time, is not the result more than satisfactory? All these, and other works, have been wrought by many hands, and no one of the workers, living or dead, has earned more of the gratitude of his country than the illustrious soldier, the modest citizen, the head of the Republican party, the President of the United States."

DISTURBANCE AT A POLITICAL MEETING—SEVERAL HERSONS INJURED.—On the 11th inst., the white and colored Republicans of Somerset county, Md., held a mass meeting at Princess Anne. A number of Democrats were present as spectators. Speeches were made by J. B. Askew, Esq., and General King, of Baltimore, and Mr. Torbert, the Republican nominee for Congress. A correspondent informs us that during the delivery of the speeches some intoxicated white men created a disturbance, which was promptly suppressed. Subsequently, a colored man, named Perkins, was introduced as one of the speakers, when the disturbance was renewed, and finally became quite serious.—The colored men retreated from the meeting, and crossing over the street, seized brick-bats and hurled them indiscriminately among the whites, both Republicans and Democrats—the latter being the object of their attack. Sheriff Dixon and his four assistants, and Mr. Cullony, the town bailiff, who appeared on the ground to restore peace, were attacked by the colored men and all knocked down, and more or less injured.—Mr. Cullony was stabbed and had one of his teeth knocked out. Mr. Parsons and his son were also cut and otherwise injured.

The whites then rallied and made an attack on the colored men, several of whom were injured. They were finally compelled to retreat to another portion of town, and then peace was restored. These proceedings are disgraceful and those in fault should be severely punished.

PENINSULAR JOTTINGS.

WICOMICO COUNTY.

—A colored man named Dennis was instantly killed by the cars at Salisbury on Thursday last. He was carelessly walking on the track observing the shifting of the train.

—Salisbury was visited by gypsies last week.

—Court begun last Monday.

—Wm. Lusby narrowly escaped death by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Jas. A. Russell while they were out gunning a few days ago.

KENT COUNTY, DEL.

—The game law expires on the 1st prox.

—Richardson & Robins, of Dover, put up the last season over 200,000 cans of fruit.

—The Knights of Pythias of Dover will dedicate their new hall this evening.

—Thos. B. Coursey, the Republican candidate for Governor, who has been lying ill for some time, is recovering.

QUEEN ANNE'S COUNTY.

—Joel Slaughter has sold his farm, containing 158 acres, saw mill, canning house and steamboat wharf at Crumpton to Wm. Booker for $22,000.

—The ladies connected with the M. P. Church at Centreville will hold a fair and festival for the benefit of the church during the first week of next month.

—There are 3181 dogs in Queen Anne's

CECIL COUNTY.

—Elkton is troubled with youthful rowdies.

—J. C. Bouldin, at Locust Point Farm, shot a man recently, who was watching while an accomplice robbed his chicken roost. The fellow gave his name as Jeff Davis, and was so badly wounded that his captor dressed his wounds and let him go thinking him sufficiently punished.

—A fine new organ has just been put in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, at North East.

SUSSEX COUNTY.

—Over $5,000 has already been staked in Milford on the result of the coming election, says the Mutual Friend.

—The colored people are preparing to open a hotel in Milford.

—Court was in session at Georgetown last week.

—Ben. Johnson was last week convicted in the Sussex county court of rape. The penalty is hanging.

NEW CASTLE COUNTY.

—E. Q. Sewall, the efficient superintendent of the Delaware R. R. has resigned that office to accept a similar but more lucrative position in Louisiana.

—The population of Middletown is 1,018.

—Senator Revels lectured in Wilmington last week.

—Harry T. Simpson, late train dispatcher on the Del. R. R. was, on Saturday evening, presented by his friends with a gold watch and chain valued at $200.

—Eleven men were arrested in Wilmington on Monday last for working on Sunday.

DORCHESTER COUNTY.

—The Intelligencer says a part of the public schools opened on Monday week under unfavorable circumstances, and that not a third of them will be opened at all.

—The News has entered upon its sixth year, and its editor says was never before in so promising a condition.

—Wm. Reid was thrown from his carriage and severely hurt recently.

—We can beat the News' six-pound potato. Try again.

—Oysters are selling very low owing to the warm weather.

—The corn crop is larger in some parts of Dorchester than has been known for years, but the larger part is as poor as was ever known.

TALBOT COUNTY.

—The neighborhood about St. Michaels must be a natural curiosity shop, judging from the curiosities so often noticed by the Comet.

—The entire population of Talbot is 16,158.

—A festival for the benefit of the parsonage came off in St. Michaels yesterday and to-day.

—A young man in St. Michaels who had been in the habit of peering into sleeping apartments by climbing trees at night was discovered and well beaten whilst plying his vocation a few evenings since.

—Two members of the colored Democratic club of Baltimore visited Easton last week and were cordially received by the "White Man's Party." Of course there was no "equality" about this—it was Democratic.

—Easton was last week visited by two sharpers other than the delegates from the colored Democratic club of Baltimore. They put up at one of the hotels and left the next morning leaving all bills unpaid. Shortly after their departure an officer from Cambridge arrived in quest of them and the horse and buggy they had hired in Cambridge, but they had taken the boat for Baltimore.

—The Gazette says the two colored Democrats from Baltimore took up a subscription for a barbecue in Easton. And so the "White Man's Party" does want colored votes.
