American Union

J. M. EMERSON, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

DENTON, MARYLAND:

Thursday Morning, May 18th, 1871.

For Sale Cheap.

We offer for sale very low the Press upon which THE UNION has been printed for the last three years. It is a Smith Hand Press, 22 by 32, in good order. The universally neat appearance of THE UNION will attest this fact.—Our only reason for selling is because we have no use for the Press, having been compelled to purchase a new one in order that we might enlarge our paper. Address all inquiries to THE UNION, Denton, Md.

MARSHALL JEWELL was sworn in as Governor of Connecticut on Tuesday.

OPERATIONS in the Schuylkill coal region were resumed on Monday last, the disputes having been settled by arbitration. The strike yet continues at the Lehigh and Scranton mines.

THE DUTIES of the officers of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. having become very onerous, a second Vice-Presidency has been created, and Mr. Wm. Keyser unanimously elected to fill the position.

A DECISION in the contested Adjutant-Generalship case of McBlair vs. Bier was reached in the Superior Court of Baltimore city last week. The decision is in favor of McBlair, and directs the writ of mandamus to be issued to compel Bier to deliver up the papers and other property of the Adjutant General's office.

THE MASSACHUSETTS towns which recently voted that their thirsty citizens should be content with water or go unsatisfied, have discovered that the law which they adopted it useless, because it fixed an offence without prescribing any penalty.—Now the Legislature has been appealed to and another election must be held.

FIGURES that make their own comments:

Receipts under Johnson,	$664,405,442
Receipts under Grant,	749,399,492
Gain,	84,994,050
Expenses of Johnson's	$450,043,759
Expenses of Grant,	323,332,810
Decrease,	$126,700,949
Profit of Republican administration over Democratic,	$211,694,999

THE UNION is printed with its new head to-day. We regard it as a neat and beautiful heading, and proportionate to the size of our paper. What think our exchanges? We think the typography of the paper is also somewhat improved, and taken altogether believe the paper itself is as neat as any newspaper in the State printed upon a hand press. It surpasses in neatness many that are printed upon power presses.

IF THOSE PENINSULAR PAPERS which pretend to give a summary of Peninsular news would write out their own items and not rely so much upon the Wilmington Commercial and THE UNION they might, perhaps, have an air of freshness which would be agreeable to their patrons and a spirit of enterprise which their contemporaries would commend. Some of them make most ludicrous mistakes, and as regards the date of occurrences they are not right once in a hundred times. Learn self-reliance, gentlemen.

THE ADVOCATES of the temperance cause may take courage from the action lately taken by the borough of Kennett Square, in Pennsylvania. Although the sale of intoxicating liquors has been discountenanced in that rural Athens of Pennsylvania by a successful opposition to the licensing of hotels, it has not been prohibited by law until recently. This was done by an amendment to the charter, which was asked for by over two-thirds of the tax-payers, was approved by the Grand Jury and finally decreed by the Court. The sale of spirituous liquors is thus forever forbidden in Kennett Square.

THE DEMOCRATIC organs are constantly reminding the people of the centralizing tendency of the Republican party. They cannot point to a city or State where this idea has been carried out. In Massachusetts where the Republicans have had full sway so long that the memory of man runeth not parallel thereto, there are no indications of it, but in New York city, which is suffering under the tyranny of Tammany, there is not even the form of Democracy left, and the same is almost true of the State; even Governor Hoffman has not the power to withstand the edicts of Sweeney and Tweed. No people in Europe are more helpless and down trodden than the working people of New York, and the only cause is the centralized power the Tammany leaders have usurped and which they hold by keeping their miserable Irish tools in subjection, squalor and misery.

THE ARRANGEMENTS for holding the Strawberry and Floral exhibition at the Court House, in this town, on Saturday next, are, we believe, about completed.—The list of premiums has been agreed upon, and is published among our advertisements. Although small, we feel assured they will be appreciated, and that a lively competition will be had for them. Competition for the premiums is open to any citizen of the county, and it is earnestly hoped that every citizen will be present with his best productions of strawberries, &c. A special invitation is extended to the ladies, upon whose taste in the selection and arrangement of the flowers much of the success of the exhibition depends. We trust they will feel no delicacy in this matter, but will act with a promptitude that shall insure success.

We understand that arrangements are making for an abundant supply of strawberries and ice cream, so that the appetite shall not be tempted by beholding the luscious fruit without affording an opportunity to gratify it. A good time is anticipated. Everybody come!

THE WILMINGTON COMMERCIAL intimates a desire to know why we abandoned the "patent outside system." Our reasons were briefly these:

I. Because their use tends to encourage a foreign enterprise rather than one at home.

II. Because of the utter lack of uniform ity in print and consequent marring of the beauty of the paper.

III. Because of the inferior quality of the selections employed. They have the appearance more of an intention to consume space than an adaptability to family reading.

IV. Because it is impossible by their use to publish a paper acceptable to the public on account of the exclusion of editorial and local matters to make room for advertisements. The surrender of the outside pages to the Union's contracts the space usually allotted to reading on the inside pages to such an extent that, unless a form larger than the income of most country offices will justify is employed, the life of the county paper is pressed out.

V. Because the system offers a premium upon laziness which is dangerous to country newspapers.

VI. Because the system is a virtual surrender of the paper to the advertising agents, in whose interest it is gotten up, and the deprivation of the owner of all control over one-half of his paper. The system is far worse and more dangerous to the country publisher than all the Advertising Agencies, inasmuch as he has not the right to say what shall go into the paper or at what rates.

VII. Because of the total unfitness of the system to the requirements of the country press and the consequent depreciation of interest in the paper.

—These are mainly the reasons which have induced us to discontinue the use of the "outside system." In doing so we urge no complaints against the New York Union (from which we purchased) for we suppose they are as careful in their selections and as honest in their business relations with the country press as any; we only condemn the system in general and not one particular Union. At some future time we may enlarge upon these reasons and produce figures to show that they are no cheaper (to us, at least,) than the printing of our paper wholly at home.

Political Reform.

Our experience in the past should certainly have taught us, as a people, by this time, the necessity of selecting only the best and representative men for the administration of our public offices. In matters purely local too much politics has been introduced, and the public good has been too often sunken out of sight in the advancement of political parties. During the past ten years politics has run too high, and politicians, taking advantage of the opportunity, have embittered the public mind and thrust themselves into positions of honor and trust where they heed not the languishing interests of the county nor the earnest appeals of their fellow-men in its behalf.

These things are crying evils and need a thorough and effectual reform. Our county affairs have been long enough directed and controlled by a close corporation of unscrupulous politicians, and if reform is not had the entire fabric will become rotten to the core. The claims of good men have been too often ignored in the scramble for office, and it has become an almost utter impossibility for a representative man to procure a nomination except through and with the advice and consent of the little junta which happens to have control of local politics. Our nominating conventions have dwindled into farcial transactions in which the will of a few men is declared, their instruments for this purpose having been secured at a primary election previously held. Merit and competency have long since ceased to be the prerequisites for nomination, and a rival contest is kept up between the several factions of the party happening to be in power, in which success usually inures to the benefit of him who handles the wires the most defly.

The recurrence of each political campaign brings with it an increased activity on the part of the politicians and its consequent flood of hypocrisy, deceit and corruption. Already the political managers are at work arranging their "slates," and with their accustomed persistency are endeavoring to persuade the people that Mr. A. or Mr. B. is entirely worthy of their support, having been a life-long Democrat and a steady worker in the advancement of the cause, while Mr. C. has upon several occasions failed to "go it blind" in the interest of "our ring." Judging from the early day in which the rival factions have begun their war upon each other, the present contest is likely to be exciting and to be accompanied by more than the usual degree of chicanery and deception. But we are glad to know that good and honest men are begining to grow disgusted with the politicians at this early stage of their operations, and we trust the opposition will increase and spread until every independently thinking man in the county, regardless of political creed, shall be enlisted under the opposition banner and is willing to join in a crusade against the politicians. The war is over and the questions growing out of it are settled; so there is no necessity for an exciting political contest. Only local offices are to fill, and these should be filled by good and honest men. Politics has become too much of a business, and politicians have too long manipulated county matters for the county's good. Let the people of all parties, therefore, unite in opposition to wire-pulling politicians, and for one election, at least, sink all political differences in the disenthrallment of the county from beneath the politicians' yoke.

THE DENTON UNION announces that it will have a new head next week. The present one is a good one and plainly re(a)d. —Cecil Whig.

—We owe the Whig one.

WOODEN PAVEMENTS are declared to be a miserable failure. In Chicago, where nearly 150 miles of it are in use, the cost last year of new, and the repairs of old pavements amounted to nearly two and a half million dollars. Chicago has experimented to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers, and has become convinced that, however much wooden pavemets may add to the comfort and pleasure of city travel, the necessity of renewing it every few years entails an expense that will soon cause its disuse, unless some means can be devised to render it practically indestructible. In several streets in New York, where it has been in use for two or three years, it is worn out, and requires new blocks. Baltimore has only a few blocks of the wooden pavement down, but this is said to be wearing.

THE CABLE DISPATCHES indicate that matters are becoming brighter for the besiegers of Paris and more gloomy for the insurgents; and that the crisis of the conflict cannot be distant, unless the dissensions in the ranks of the Communists and the disaffection of their troops may, as is probable, shortly afford the loyalists a comparatively unopposed march into the City. On Monday they were so close under the walls as to exchange musket shots with the Communists on the ramparts, having already driven them from the trenches between Forts D'Issy and Vanvres. The rebellious authorities are attempting to form defences inside the city against the entry of the Versaillists, but there is a general disposition among the populace to repudiate them and admit the Government troops without further conflict. The National Guards are becoming tired of the insurrection, and talk openly of ceasing to contest the civil war.

Ku-Klux.

PROCLAMATION OF GOV. CALDWELL.

The operations of the Ku-Klux in North Carolina have become so dangerous to the peace and security of the citizens of the State as to call for the intervention of the authority of the Executive. The Governor's recount of the reasons which have induced him to issue his proclamation warning all violators against any further infaction of the law is one of the most severe arraignments of this marauding band yet made, and coming as it does from the seal of official authority its truthfulness will hardly be questioned. We append the recount for the benefit of those who are disposed to pass the matter lightly over as a "huge joke:"

Whereas, Repeated complaints have been made to me and are now being made almost daily, by private citizens, by judges, by solicitors, and by other officers whose province it is to see the civil law faithfully executed, that armed bands of disguised men have been and still are prowling about in some of the counties of our State and in the night time committing outrages of the most atrocious character upon weak and defenceless citizens, white and colored, old and young, male and female; and whereas, the civil authorities have thus far been unable to detect and bring to justice the cowardly perpetrators of these fiendish and inhuman outrages, the judges acknowledging themselves powerless to suppress the evil on account of the secrecy, disguises and perjury with which the guilty parties cover up their iniquities, the victims, knowing their oppressors, afraid to complain, lest they be again visited and more cruelly scourged, or even put to death; and whereas, this horrid state of affairs must have an end, peace and harmony be restored, crime repressed, life, liberty and property be protected, the humble, the poor and the helpless, as well as the rich and powerful, made to feel secure in every section of the State, the good name of North Carolina be vindicated, and law and order prevail in all her borders:

Now, therefore, in view of the premises, I, Todd R. Caldwell, Governor of the State, do make this my solemn appeal, &c.

The Magazines.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The June number of this magazine completes its 41st year. It is one of the leading ladies' magazines in the country and its appearance is always welcomed with delight. Its illustrations have a world-wide repute.—They are gotten up in the highest style of art, and the designs, indispensable to every lady, are all new, not to speak of the attractive stories always to be found here.—L. A. Godey, publisher, Philadelphia.

THE LADY'S FRIEND.—This is a splendid number. The steel-plate, representing the meeting of Mary Queen of Scots and Queen Elizabeth, in the garden of Fotheringay Castle, is a picture of extraordinary interest and value. The beautiful Mary and her stately and powerful rival are admirably contrasted. It is the conception of no common artist. In the colored Fashion Plate we see a group of graceful ladies, attired in airy summer robes; and there is a wood-cut of the Rhine, that most romantic of European rivers. Music—the "Reiter Galop." The literary matter is delightfully varied and entertaining.—Madge Carroll has a sprightly sketch.—Miss Muzzey concludes her powerful serial, "One Woman's Experience." Daisy Ventnor contributes a good story, "A Little Mutual Aversion;" and there are poems by H. S. Carey, Miriam Earle, Ella Wheeler, etc., etc. A quantity of illustrations of handsome summer costumes, bathing dresses included, must be very acceptable to the ladies, and the fancy-work looks particularly captivating. Price $2.50 a year. Published by Deacon & Peterson Philadelphia.

THE INCOME TAX.—It is stated that the movement to test the constitutionality of the United States Income Tax law will be pressed with great vigor by a number of gentlemen in Brooklyn, and that a case stated will soon be presented in the United States District Court of Brooklyn, where the matter can be decided with greater dispatch than in New York. It is expected that a decision will be obtained in a very short time, and that the cause will then be taken up to the Supreme Court in banc. The clause of the Constitution under which the legality of the tax is questioned, is as follows: "No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration herein before directed to be taken."

—The Baltimore Evening Bulletin, sold at public sale on Monday, was purchased by Dr. W. H. Cole, who proposes to start a daily evening journal in that city to be called the Baltimore Democrat.

—Half of the fifteen million loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company has been subscribed.

Scissorinktums.

An important discovery of coal has been made near Quincy, Illinois.

Six persons were killed by a collision on the Erie R. R. Friday, near Attica.

Hon. W. N. Edwards, of North Carolina, is said to be the oldest living congressman.

It is now stated that the Grand Duke of Russia will not visit the United States this summer, as was previously announced.

On the first Wednesday of October next the Triennial Convention of the Episcopal church in the United States will assemble in Baltimore.

Thomas Winans, Esq., and Johns Hopkins, Esq., have been elected members of the Board of Governors of St. John's college, Annapolis.

Governor Claflin, of Massachusetts, has appointed Julia Ward Howe and Mrs. Stevens, of Cambridge, justices of the peace for Suffolk county.

During the past week subscriptions to the new national loan have been brisker than previously, and the amount taken approaches sixty-five millions.

The Common Council of Chicago has ordered the tax levied on the grave of Senator Douglas to be paid out of the general fund, and the sale advertised by the Collector will not take place.

The Mace-Coburn prize fight which was to have come off on the Canada side of Lake Erie on Thursday last was broken up by the authorities. It has been postponed to Friday, June 2nd, and Kansas City the place appointed.

The City Passenger Railway Companies of Louisville have resolved that it is useless to longer attempt the exclusion of colored persons from the same privileges as whites, and therefore have thrown the street cars open to them on equal terms.

A resolution providing for an amendment to the State constitution to confer suffrage upon women has been defeated in the Massachusetts House by a vote of 68 to 68. The Senate rejected the bill to regulate the hours of labor in factories by a large majority.

Present prophesies from Delaware and Maryland are that the peach crop will reach 3,500,000 baskets—about half a million more than were gathered in 1869, which was the champion peach year. From 300,000 to 400,000 new trees have been planted this season.

Official returns of the Richmond registration by the revised lists show a total of 12,179 voters, of whom there are white 6,565, colored 5,614, or a white majority of 951. Since 1867 the number of whites registered has increased 1,505, while the colored has decreased 407. The colored majority in 1867 was 961.

Attorney General Akerman has reversed the decision of Commisioner Pleasanton that sections 15 and 19 of the act of July, 1870, did not authorize the collection of a tax upon dividends declared for the last five months of 1870. The Attorney General decides that the dividend tax can be collected for the last five months of 1870, which decision will bring many thousands of dollars from banks, railroad companies, &c., into the Treasury for the period named.

UNCLE SAM'S FARM.—In spite of the immense grants to railroads, the United States is still the greatest land owner in the world, and is literally rich enough to give us all a farm. East of the Mississippi there are still about 60,000,000 acres of public lands not yet disposed of, chiefly in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, and west of that river—not including our Alaskan purchase—there are 998,742,562 acres, distributed as follows:

Iowa, Missouri and Arkansas	16,000,000
Dakota and Wyoming	145,295,284
Montana	86,904,605
Kansas	48,148,876
Nebraska	52,523,627
Colorado and Idaho	117,800,000
New Mexico and Utah	124,140,000
Nevada and Arizona	136,000,000
Minnesota	36,776,170
California, Oregon and Wash'n	201,000,000
Indian Territory	44,154,000

This would give a nice little farm of over twenty-five acres to every man, women and child in the country.

ANOTHER POMPEII SKELETON.—Another skelton has been added to the interesting collection of the Museum of Pompeii. The bed of ashes in which this sixth skeleton was found, or rather which preserved the impress of it, gives the form of the deceased with an exactitude which far surpasses that observed in any other instance. The head is preserved to perfection, and the legs and feet are well finished. Apparently the form is that of a man of the lower class, in the flower of youth. In his flight he fell backwards, and his agony is strongly expressed in the contortions of his face and in the convulsive clasp of the left hand. The discovery excites especial interest at a time when Vesuvius is again in full operation.
