The Husband's Complaint.

A few short months ago, my dear,
Before we two were one,
You vowed to do so many things
That now are never done.

You said when home from daily toil
I came with aching brow,
Your hand alone should soothe its pain—
It never soothes it now.

You said you would no burden be,
And dress as means allow;
But what with silks and rings and things—
You never do so now.

You used to sacrifice yourself,
And to my wishes bow,
Allowing me to have my way—
You never do so now.

You used to sing and play and smile,
And gush I can't tell how;
You won my heart, I grieve to say—
You never gush so now.

I mind the moonlight nights when I
Was moved to hear you vow
A joy 'twould be to die for me—
Why don't you do so now?

The Farmer's Column.

Ditching.

It is greatly to be desired that ditching was more generally practiced by all farmers. The benefits directly and indirectly are immense, not merely in a pecuniary but a hygienic sense, and the cheapness with which ditches can be constructed places them within the reach of all. Any farmer who has a good ox team and breaking plow can run several hundred feet of ditches in, through, or around his wet lands, or along the road-way through his farm, in the course of a good day's work. By running a furrow twelve or eighteen inches deep and coming back on the same furrow, throwing the dirt the other way, and then finishing off with the one horse plow and scraper, aided here and there with the shovel, a good draining ditch about three feet wide is made, which can be of any required depth. Such a ditch through a wet field or a bog would do incalculable good, as it would rapidly draw off the superfluous surface water and keep the ground in good workable order. The ditches reduce the water level so that a road which has ditches on both sides will be nearly dry in a few hours after the heaviest rains. The most inveterate mud holes in roads can be permanently dried by running ditches along both sides, and throwing the dirt up into the road bed. By this simple means farmers can easily reduce their road taxes by diminishing the amount of work to be done on their roads. We have known of swamps, in which cattle sank to the knees, being thoroughly drained by running ditches around them and opening a good flow for the water; afterwards, when the surface of the swamp had become somewhat dry and firm, extending the ditches into and through it. The cheapness of such improvements, their manifest benefit, and the small expense required to keep them in good order, recommend them to the farmer.

Orchard Grass.

The more I become acquainted with this grass the better I like it. Not the least among its merits is its hardiness. It stood the hot, dry weather last summer better than any other valuable grass with which I am familiar. It should be sowed thick, I think two bushels is not too much seed for an acre; and it must be cut early, before it is in full bloom, to have the hay the best quality. On rich, moist land it is as sure to yield three crops in a year, as is red top to give one. Unlike clover, it never inclines to blossom but once in a season. The second and third crops are most leaves, and the best feed for cows in winter I ever grew. It is a good grass to sow in early spring with clover, but without grain.—Two good crops of leafy hay may be counted on the first year, and three crops a year afterwards, as long as the land will carry it out. I believe it the best of grasses to sow where I intend to keep the crop up by top dressing. The dressing should be spread immediately after removing the hay and should be well bushed down, then the new crop will come up and in a very few days, cover the ground and keep it from drying. I would recommend it to any one who is not afraid to begin hay the last of May or the first of June. By the 10th of June it is in full bloom in this latitude, and past its best condition for hay. I have grown it five years, and like it so well that I intend to sow it this spring on the whole of my reclaimed meadow.—New England Farmer.

RAISING TURKEYS.—The turkey is the most tender when young and most difficult to raise of all the domestic fowls; yet with proper care in setting the eggs under game hens and cooping the brood at night regularly, while the turkeys are young, they may be easily reared in great abundance. Never feed the young turkeys boiled eggs or corn meal dough or wheat bread crumbs. They need very little food of any kind under seven days of age, and should have nothing but sour milk set in pans. At about a week or ten days give them also wheat screenings or crumbs soaked in sour milk. Let this be their only feed till they begin to feather, and then give them grain of any kind. Tie the hen (which has the young turkeys) to a pen off to herself, with a coop near by her so that she can eater at night to roost. At two weeks old let the hen loose to roam, and if she is a game hen she will do the work of rearing the brood.

WHAT FARMERS CANNOT CONCEAL.—A poor farmer cannot conceal the fact that he is a poor farmer. All his surroundings proclaim the verdict against him; his horses, cattle, wagons, harnesses, plows, fences, fields—even his wife and children bear silent but unmistakable evidence against him. On the other hand all things will testify favorably on behalf of the good farmer. Every passer-by can read the pro and con. This fact alone ought to stimulate every farmer to do his best for the sake of his own character, as well as interest; for he may rest assured that every passer-by will pronounce judgment according to the evidence.

MEDICINAL.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unaccliminated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

☞ Sold by Chas. Stevens, Denton; Hugh Duffey, Hillsborough; J. E. Lobstein, Greensborough, and all druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere. [no3-1y

CLEAR AND HARMLESS AS WATER!

NATTAN'S

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY for the HAIR.

A perfectly clear preparation, in one bottle; as easily applied as water, for restoring gray hair to its natural color and youthful appearance; to eradicate and prevent dandruff; to promote the growth of the hair and stop its falling off.

It is entirely harmless and perfectly free from any poisonous substance, and will, therefore, take the place of all the dirty and unpleasant preparations now in use. Numerous testimonials have been sent up from many of our most prominent citizens, some of which are subjoined; in everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable, "Crystal Discovery" is perfect; it is warranted to contain neither Sugar of Lead, Sulphur or Nitrate of Silver. Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the clothes or scalp; it is agreeably perfumed, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use; it restores the color of the hair more perfectly and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from three to ten days. Virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition, it restores the decay and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp, and gives the hair a pleasant and elegant appearance.

Washington, D. C., July 25, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans: Dear Sir—It affords me pleasure to say that I have used your Crystal Discovery with perfect success. Having tried many others, I find yours superior to any I have heretofore used, and I cannot too highly recommend it as a rapid promoter of the growth of the hair, and by a few applications restoring it to its original color. It is perfectly clean and free from any objectionable matter.

Very respectfully yours, R. W. SILVOY, K st., bet. 4th and 5th. N. W.

We call especial attention to the fact that a limited number of trial bottles will be given away gratuitously to those wishing to try.—You will notice that in pursuing this course, our aim will be to convince by the actual merits of the article.
