We All Might Do Good.

We all might do good
Where we often do ill:
There is always a way,
If there be but a will.
Though it be but a word,
Kindly breathed or suppressed,
It may guard off some pain,
Or give peace to some breast.

We all may do good
In a thousand small ways—
In forbearing to flatter,
Yet yielding due praise;
In spurning all rumor,
Reproving wrong done,
And treating but kindly
The heart we have won.

We all might do good,
Whether lowly or great,
For the deed is not guaged
By the purse or estate;
If it be but a cup
Of cold water that's given,
Like the widow's two mites,
It is something for heaven.

The Farmer's Column.

A Check to Insects.

Thomas Affleck, of Texas, formerly of Mississippi, read an interesting paper on this subject before the New York Farmer's Club: He stated that the scab in Texas sheep was introduced a few years ago with bucks brought from the North for sale, and it has spread to an alarming extent. "In a visit to Europe I looked into the remedies for this disease. Smearing with tar and like prescriptions were only partial. In the attempt which has been made to extract from coal tar a substitute for quinine, the beautiful aniline colors were discovered and in perfecting them, first carbolic acid, and through its active principle cresylic acid were extracted. Very soon the powerful disinfectant, antiseptic and insect destroying powers of carbolic acid were made known. In Manchester a firm of chemical manufacturers brought into almost universal use in England McDougall's Sheep Dip. This is a compound of this acid made into a soft soap. It destroys the scab and foot-rot, and is a complete preventive of renewed attacks for some months. I carried a moderate supply to Texas, and there fully tested its value in destroying insect life, and in preventing their attacks upon man, animals and plants. I find, however, that all insects possess a vitality and vigor in every part of this continent which they do not in the cooler and moister climate of England, and that a solution of the same strength that proved effective there, paralyzed for a time many insects. In washing dogs to destroy fleas with the Sheep Dip, the insects dropped out, apparently dead, but lying in the sun a few minutes they revived and began to hop about.—Since then I have used a similar soap made with cresylic acid with the desired results.

"To cure the various insect diseases of sheep in England, a dip is made as above stated, costing about 2½ cents a head. The lambs are dipped early in the summer, the rest of the flock later, when the blow-fly is expected. The fly deposits her maggots in the wool during a moist-warm season, and they penetrate the skin; but sheep on which the dip has been used are not attacked. In Texas we found this article an exterminator of insects in houses, in carpets, bedsteads and cupboards, and it expels them from colts, calves, chickens, and when applied to the cotton plant it kills the cotton-worm. No fly will alight on any animal, living or dead, if it has been treated with this wash. For foot-rot in sheep, cresylic acid used in the shape of an ointment is an infallible cure. I find its healing effects upon all sores, from the most offensive to fresh cuts, wonderful. Beside all these things, it is a general purifier and disinfectant, and has a great power over fungous growth of life. I have little doubt, from what I have seen, that trees and plants syringed with a solution of the compound will be completely protected from the attacks of all kinds of insects, and it is not at all an improbability that if seed were soaked in this solution it would be free from the depredations of the fly or midge."

Salt for Swine.

While all other domestic animals are regularly supplied with salt, the hog is generally neglected. He requires, however, to be as constantly supplied as the ox, the horse, or the sheep, and suffers as much from privation as either of the above named animals do. His food is almost invariably given to him in a fresh, unseasoned state, and to this fact we may doubtless attribute many of the violent and fatal diseases to which he is subject, and which are proof against all remedies, however promptly and skillfully administered. If the food be not regularly seasoned, there should be a trough or box in every sty, in which salt may be deposited regularly for the use of the animals. Seasoning the food of the hog as mentioned above, let it be understood that salt only is here alluded to, for if any person should try seasoning with pepper, they will make a great mistake; for as much pepper as will suffice for a man's dinner will kill a hog.

SORE MOUTH IN SHEEP.—Sheep frequently become sore in the lips from feed on St. Johnswort and other foul plants, or from unhealthy blood. One of the best flock masters whom we ever knew, gave us this as his method of cure: Take fine saltpetre and mix it with pig's foot and other soft animal oil. With a lather of castile soap wash off the scabs from the sheep's lips, and annoint the parts affected with the mixture above specified. Another cure for sore lips in sheep, is to wash with a steep of gold thread in water.

LIME-WATER as an occasional drink for fowls is said to be a preventive to many diseases and assists the formation of bone and eggs. It should be prepared as follows: Pour over quick-lime some water, and when the lime is slacked and settled, draw the clear water off, which can be kept [illegible] time. The lime will be

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

CLEAR AND HARMLESS AS WATER!

NATTAN'S

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY for the HAIR.

A perfectly clear preparation, in one bottle; as easily applied as water, for restoring gray hair to its natural color and youthful appearance; to eradicate and prevent dandruff; to promote the growth of the hair and stop its falling off.

It is entirely harmless and perfectly free from any poisonous substance, and will, therefore, take the place of all the dirty and unpleasant preparations now in use. Numerous testimonials have been sent up from many of our most prominent citizens, some of which are subjoined; in everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable, "Crystal Discovery" is perfect; it is warranted to contain neither Sugar of Lead, Sulphur or Nitrate of Silver. Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the clothes or scalp; it is agreeably perfumed, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use; it restores the color of the hair more perfectly and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from three to ten days. Virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition, it restores the decay and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp, and gives the hair a pleasant and elegant appearance.

Washington, D. C., July 25, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans: Dear Sir—It affords me pleasure to say that I have used your Crystal Discovery with perfect success. Having tried many others, I find yours superior to any I have heretofore used, and I cannot too highly recommend it as a rapid promoter of the growth of the hair, and by a few applications restoring it to its original color. It is perfectly clean and free from any objectionable matter.

Very respectfully yours, R. W. SHAW.
K st., bet. 4th and 5th. N. W.

We call especial attention to the fact that a limited number of trial bottles will be given away gratuitously to those wishing to try.—You will notice that in pursuing this course, our aim will be to convince by the actual merits of the article.
