J. M. EMERSON, Editor and Proprietor.

DENTON, MARYLAND:

Thursday Morning, Juue 22nd, 1871.

For Sale Cheap.

We offer for sale very low the Press upon which The Union has been printed for the last three years. It is a Smith Hand Press, 22 by 32, in good order. The universally neat appearance of The Union will attest this fact.—Our only reason for selling is because we have no use for the Press, having been compelled to purchase a new one in order that we might enlarge our paper. Address all inquiries to The Union, Denton, Md.

The Paris Communists still exhibit their hostility to the Government on every occasion, and another insurrection is regarded as being possible. Tenty-five hundred women have been convicted of incendiarism, and have been sentenced to transportation to New Caledonia, in the South Pacific.

A political party to be a party requires, we always thought, uniformity of sentiment and feeling throughout the country. But yet the Democratic party claims to be national, although divided upon several questions of the most vital character. For instance, Pennsylvania and Ohio are inlisted in the "new departure" movement, while Delaware and Maryland want to hang on to the old issues. This is plain, so far as the last named States are concerned. Maryland Democrats and Delaware Democrats want success, and they mean to have it, hence they care but little how the outside world wags, and arrange their compaigns to suit the exigencies of the case. They are terribly tenacious to the nationality of their party, however, and resent with indignation all insinuations that it is otherwise. But after all, what a miserable farce Democratic nationality is.

Union Republicans.

On the 15th inst., a number of prominent gentlemen from Baltimore city and from most of the counties of the State assembled in the city of Baltimore and, at first, nominated a State ticket, but at the request of the more sober and thoughtful of their number withdrew the nomination and merely recommended certain gentlemen for the position as candidates of the Republican party of Maryland. The Convention assumed the name of Union Republicans, but we do not see where they differ in but one thing from the Republican party of the whole country, or in other words, the great National Republican party. The difference is simply this: They are opposed to a mere handful of men, in Baltimore city, supported by a few office seekers in the counties, thrusting themselves forward in all the political movements of the day as the great embodiment and exponents of the party, and without consulting the interests of the masses, rule and control the whole machinery of the party in the individual interests of themselves and their immediate friends. Had those who assume to control the party, acted as sensible men should have done and shown less selfishness and exhibited more candor and a larger share of charity for the seeming faults of others who were not so loud in their professions of political faith, the Republicans would today have been a unit in this State and a power in the land. But good and true men in the ranks have been looked upon with suspicion—envy and jealousy and even hate have pursued them into the private walks of life, and in many instances, so fierce has been the conflict, that they have been driven into the ranks of the opposition. Others again, whose political opinions are held as conscientious convictions of right, and who would not abandon them for opinions with which they held no sympathy and which they believed to be palpably wrong, have settled down into a state of indifference—have not deposited a ballot for successive elections and even boldly assert that they will not vote again so long as these schisms and party bickerings continue to exist. This is the state of things that have existed in the Republican ranks for several years past, and when we first saw the call for this convention, we supposed it was to put an end to this strife and unite all the elements into one and in the approaching fall election present an unbroken column in opposition to the Democratic tide of extravagance which is inundating the State. We are not now without hope, and whatever may have been the action of the recent convention, and by whatever name they wish to be designated, we hope wise counsels may wield a salutary influence over all their acts. But, in order that this desired object may be accomplished, it is of the highest importance that those who have heretofore assumed to bethe leaders of the party should cease their officiousness and not suffer their party zeal to render them obnoxious to the best and truest men of the party. They should be willing to concede something for the general good and allow other men, of equal intelligence and refinement, to express their views on public matters, without receiving the taunts and jeers of a set of political office seekers. It has been too much the custom of this political junta to cajol, flatter and court the influence and aid of good and true men before the election, but when the election is passed, to turn away from them with coldness and indifference. During the last Congressional canvass in this State, the course of these men toward a portion of the Republicans who were unwilling to be gagged and whipped into the ranks against their own convictions of right, was haughtily dictatorial, and done us great harm in this district. The same causes will produce like results in the approaching contest. But we do hope that a better spirit will animate all classes and factions —that these feuds will cease, and that all Republicans everywhere will be recognized — no matter whether they be —," "National

It is said that Mr. Vallandigham's death will not affect the "new departure" in the least. The movement is in the interest of Tammany, and Gov. Hoffman, its figure-head, survives to keep the ball in motion. We shall not be in the least surprised, however, if the old departurists don't prove too tam-many for Hoffman.

A correspondent of the Smyrna Times writes that paper from Dover concerning the manner in which the new jail job was let out to contract. He charges the most outrageous unfairness and extravagance in the awarding of the contract, and says that the lowest bid was rejected because the bidder was what was known in the last election as a "Polly," or anti-Saulsburyite. This, he says, is not mere suspicion, but was actually made the ground of objection in the Levy Court room. It is well that the "mills of the Gods grind slowly," for if it were otherwise some men in Delaware might reap the harvest of their corruption before it was mature.

Hon. C. L. Vallandigham died at Lebanon, Ohio, on Friday morning last, from the effects of a pistol wound which he received in the abdomen the day previous. He was engaged as counsel for defence in a murder trial then progessing at Lebanon, and having set up the theory of suicide was endeavoring to demonstrate to Gov. McBurney, in a private room, the manner in which the suicide might have been committed. Two pistols were on the table, one unloaded, and he, by mistake, took up the loaded one, put it in his pocket, and withdrew it, keeping the muzzle next his body. Just as it was leaving his pocket it was discharged, it is reported, at nearly the same part of the body where Myers was shot. Mr. Vallandigham lingered until morning, when death ensued.

Being the father of the "new departure" movement among Democrats, his death at this time is deeply to be deplored, for all eyes were turned towards him in the hope that he would lift the party of his choice from the narrow, partizan principles which it has inculcated during the last decade and place it before the world as the champion of a liberty and a free Republic.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Mr. Editor:—

I had no idea when I proposed through the columns of your paper to restrict the sale of whiskey to the five gallons, that Temperence was to be the rage, and that the mere stating of such a proposition was to be considered a serious assault upon Legislative wisdom and the rights of the people. I don't know who dislikes the proposition the most, the whiskey men, or temperance men. The first say, you are creating a whiskey aristocracy, and we can't afford to spend more than fifty cents for a drink and a treat all around, but it would take a small fortune to buy five gallons. The temperence men say, a pretty proposition this, to swim a man in five gallons of whiskey in order that he may be made "a useful member of society." So it goes, and it appears "that there is no pleasing some people." What do we mean by the five gallon system? is asked. We mean to make an effort to save from intemperance the youth of our State who have not formed habits of intemperance, and do this by abolishing the sale of intoxicating liquors by the glass. It is well known that no one has a natural appetite for stimulants, but that regular drinkers acquire the habit from social indulgence. Let any man take a drink of good whiskey, with ice in it, at 11 o'clock, A. M., daily, for sixty days, and if he don't feel badly at 11 o'clock, A. M., the next day, it will be because he will take a drink. No one can wet the roots of his tongue daily with whiskey without producing "suckers" that create an awful thirst for whiskey, and thus it is, the habit is formed, and soon becomes permanent, and no amount of argument or cold water can remove it. I ask if it is not dangerous now-a-days for a young man to fall heir to an estate worth say ten thousand dollars. Will he not, before he is twenty-five, be a bankrupt in health, reputation and property, and all because he was generous-hearted and loved the social glass. Remove the temptation afforded by drinking saloons, and their fascinating accompaniments, and the toiling fathers and the saving mothers need not fear to entrust their wealth to their young sons, just beginning the battle of life. Give our young men a chance for their brains to get hard, and acquire by practice habits of self command, before you fix upon them in boyhood a love for stimulants that time may check but rarely master. Ah! but say some, you can't legislate men into good morals. No, but you can if you dare so legislate as to save many a man from the wreck of intemperance. Abolish, if you dare, those beautiful batteries that are pouring their hot shot into the ranks of the temperance cause, with brandy smashes, tom and jerry, whiskey punches, mint juleps, egg nog and apple toddy—the appetizers for intoxicating drinks. Bring your legislation to bear throughout the State so as to prevent the selling of intoxicating drinks by the glass, and the whiskey cannons are spiked—the war is virtually over—a straggling fight from an old five gallon demijohn, secreted in a back tenement or at some cross roads, may fire an occasional shot, but in the main "the Dutch have taken Holland." Already the laws restrict the sale in certain cases to quantities not less than a pint. Why not repeal all the other laws on the question and amend this one from a pint to five gallons, as the wisdom of our Legislature may decide. But, Mr. Editor, I must confess to you that I have little faith in the reform suggested. There are so few of our public men that dare offend any of their constituents; that dare go before the people with a proposition that would close up these portals of intemperance. In a country like is a "sovereign" tly through the

[For The American Union.]

Why?

"The ladies," said an able advocate for prohibition, "are all on our side." The response was, "of what use are they in your case, they cannot vote." The reason why was vehemently asked by one who has for years believed the present license system as gross a contradiction to right as the vending of "indulgences" by the order of Leo. The argument in favor of License is that money may be procured to carry on the expenses of Government. The reason why the indulgences were sold was to obtain money to carry on the building of St. Peter's. One was as necessary as the other. Both are inconsistent with the principles of Christianity.

If men do not want the interference of women, or christians in their politics, why do they not cleanse the system. The fact is it has been so used to alcoholic stimulants that no other remedy will be taken, however innocent.

Men have been elected to the highest posts of honor, whose names have been sounded from lip to lip as connected with whiskey and immorality. No wonder then that the few who chance to get into our Legislative Halls, who are not before corrupt, soon become so, or are so weak-kneed that they dare not openly oppose, even if they see the Governor of the State carried to his bed in a state of beastly drunkenness, and have to sanction the paying of the seven hundred dollars expense for the wine used by "Our Representatives" for one evening's entertainment, out of the sum charged upon the people of Maryland for incidental expenses.

This is only one fact, drawn out inadvertantly by the writer who queried of a member some years back, why they took no notice of the petition sent, (signed by nearly every female in the community) urging the necessity of an arrest of drunkenness. That petition was disregarded, "because the signers were not voters."

The slaves of custom and established mode,
With pack-horse constancy we keep the road,
Crooked or straight, o'er crag or thorny dells,
True to the jingle of our leader's bells.
To follow foolish precedents and wink
With both our eyes, is easier than to think.

Woman's Rights.

Flies Extraordinary.—The Havre de Grace Republican tells the following rather steep story of a visitation of flies to that town:

During the last few days the lower part of our town has been besieged by myriads of "May flies" that have almost driven the residents from their houses. They come in clouds, alight everywhere and die an hour or two afterwards. The atmosphere swarms with them, and the ground is covered with them in many places several inches deep, and the stench from their decomposition is sickening. The people are raking them up, and carrying, wheeling, and carting them away by bushels.

Mr. John Boyd raked up and wheeled from his yard and premises one day last week, five wheelbarrow loads. This may appear incredible to our readers as it did to us, until seeing with our own eyes removed our skepticism.

The Shakers at Hancock, near Pittsfield, in Massachusetts, have had an unusual sensation in the elopement of their leading business man, Ira Lawson, with one of the fairest of the demure Shakeresses. The eloping couple are about 35 years of age, and have been brought up in the community from childhood. Having shaken off their allegiance to the rules of the community, these devoted Shakers hastened to Albany, where they were duly married. Of course Brother Ira has rendered himself liable to be disciplined by the society, but he has rather the best of his brethren, as he has been allowed to keep the bank account of the family in his own name, and neither the law of the State nor the bank knows the Shakers as a body.

A. H. Stephens, the vice-President of the late Confederacy has become part owner and political editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Sun. His latest political position is that the thirteenth amendment to the constitution has been properly adopted and incorporated with that instrument; that the results aimed at by the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments have become a part of the Southern States, and cannot practically now be abrogated, but that the formal adoption of those amendments was improper, and that they are not in law parts of the constitution of United States.

The Women Brokers After Beecher.—The New York Sun says Claflin & Woodhull have instituted a libel suit against Henry Ward Beecher and the publishers of the Charlestown Union, laying the damages at $25,000. The ground of the action is the publication in the Charlestown Union, of which Mr. Beecher is editor, of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's new novel, "My Wife and I," in which appear two female characters, which, it is alleged, are intended to represent Mrs. Woodhull and Miss Claflin.

The Polar Expedition.—Capt. Hall's instructions for his polar voyage contemplate an absence of two years and a half, and, if results warrant, even longer. Among other means for securing intelligence of his movements, he is instructed to throw overboard at suitable intervals and occasions, bottles containing despatches for the government, with instructions in different languages to those finding them to forward their contents without delay. When the vessel is left, skeleton stone monuments are to be erected on the course traveled to mark the progress of the party.

Mr. Wendell Phillips opposes Mr. Greeley as a candidate for President. He asserts that Mr. Greeley is in a great measure responsible for "confusing the public mind" in relation to the condition of the country. As between General Grant and Mr. Greeley, he thinks Mr. Greeley the most objectionable.

As an evidence of the wonderful expansion of Methodism in America, the church organ states the fact that during the past year there was a new church completed, on the average, every three working hours, or four for every day in the year.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and of all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, urking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.
