E. Thornton, Mfr., Baltimore, Md.

—On Thursday of last week, while Asa Walls near Milford, Del., was burning the dead grass and weeds off a field of Joshua Webb's which he had previously ploughed around, the fire jumped the ploughed ground, set fire to the fence, crossed the public road into a pine field of Wm. Watsons and went crackling and roaring over more than three hundred acres of fields and woods. It destroyed about three hundred pannels of fence and was finally subdued by the united efforts of the aroused and excited people of that vicinity.

—Mr. Walter Burton, who has been spending the winter in Washington, was in town on Tuesday. He will continue to be proprietor of the Bright House at Rehoboth, and expects a man from the city next week to examine the house and surroundings for the purpose of making improvements. Mr. Burton proposes to build, in addition to other improvements to the hotel, skating rink, arbors, and, should the association make no objection, bowling alleys. It is rumored that a new hotel, to cost $20,000, will be built by some Baltimore parties before the summer.—Sussex Journal.

—It appears to be settled that a slice from the northern border of Dorchester will be added to Caroline county. The Dorchester delegates, at Annapolis, speak favorably of its passage when called before the Legislature for final action by that body. The proposed addition commences at a point on the road from Federalsburg to Hunting Creek, at Mrs. Noble's farm, about one mile from Federalsburg, and runs in a southernly direction to the Nanticoke river. The track embraces about 1,400 acres of land. There are 350 inhabitants, among them 70 voters. There is about $90,000 worth of assessable property in the tract.

Death of J. Hopkins Tarr.

J. Hopkins Tarr, a prominent lawyer of Salisbury, died at his residence in that place on Thursday morning last. He was not a native of that county, having been born in Easton, Talbot county. He practiced law in Salisbury for a short time about 1847, having married Miss Sallie Rock, a step daughter of Shiles C. Seabrease, Esq., who survives him. He then came to Denton, and practiced his profession until 1863, when he returned to Salisbury, and has since remained. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1867, and was very active in securing the formation of the new county, a measure due largely to his untiring efforts. He was a lawyer of excellent capacity, ready of resource, shrewd and a forcible speaker. He was generous to a fault, as every friend can testify, and his faults were perhaps a part of his virtues.

Godey's Lady's Book for April

Opens with a most charming scene from "The Ranger," a group of three graceful maidens, the laughing faces of two throwing into strong contrast the sad countenance of the third. It is one of Darley's happiest efforts. The fashions are tempting enough to coax all the dollars from the purses of the fair sex to array them for April's capricious sunshine; and mothers will find the boy's suit in the diagram a blessing in its simplicity and comfort. The new serial, "Glenarchan," begun in this number, opens with interest, and promises to rival its predecessors in merit. The heroine is a perfect specimen of the American girl of culture and refinement, while also possessing courage and determination, and all readers will watch with interest for the result of her "home mission." The other literary contributions are fully up to the high standard of excellence the publishers seem determined to maintain. We will furnish the Union and Godey's Lady's Book for one year at the low price of $3.00 on application at this office.

For the Union.

"When fools cease to spend, then I'll stop buying." A sentence which if rightly constructed would read: "When avarice ceases to oppress, then men will be able to live as ordained they should live."

If old Jethro Wood's earth-plauged ear could have heard the expression uttered as it was with all the contempt that would be shown by the human voice, his dust would have shook for very shame; could he like Samuel's ghost, have given utterance to his thoughts, he would have said "Yea verily all is vanity if thee does not make money."

'Tis true; all those who have left a name that is well nigh immortal, are those who worked for the benefit of their race, the sordid money-getter works for himself, and 'ere the grass begins to grow above his remains, his name is forgotten. Yet while he lived, the misfortunes or the necessities of his fellow men were the sources of his profit, but Jethro Wood and a long list of names that stand on the roll of fame, spent all they owned of worldly goods. Their bodies have long since mouldered to dust; but they live, and will continue to live as long as time shall last; but they who own miles of land, and thousands of dollars worth of bonds, will go down to the grave with the superficial reputation which they have gained by their wealth, and from the sycophants who praise to the face, and scorn them when out of sight, to such a few brief years pass by, then neither name nor grave is known. A fitting tribute to the unhallowed selfishness of those who live only for self.

PARGETTER.

How to Get Sick.

Expose yourself day and night, eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised; and then you will want to know

HOW TO GET WELL.

Which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters! See other column.

Montreal Heard From.

R. L. Mosely, of Montreal, Canada, certified Sept. 27, 1879, that he had suffered terribly from dyspepsia, and was completely cured by taking Warner's Safe Bitters. He says: "My appetite is good, and I now suffer no inconvenience from eating hearty meals." These Bitters are also a specific for all skin diseases.

A Rochester's Physicain's Experience.

R. Caulkins, M. D., of Rochester, N. Y., certifies Oct. 6th, 1879, that he has used the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure in his practice for diseases of the kidneys and liver, and the result has been satisfactory in the extreme. He says: "I would now prescribe the same remedy to all similarly afflicted, and you are at liberty to so state in your testimonials."

by its policies insuring Buildings, Furniture, Merchandise, Grain and other contents, Live Stock, and other insurable property, also covering Buildings during erection are made in advance to pay the losses and expenses of each year, but such payments do not indicate the actual cost of insurance, as the large dividends paid attest, amounting to over $105,000 00, and yet leaving to the credit of its members over $96,000 00.

The Strictest Mutuality

is observed throughout, every member while having the advantages arising from a large Mutual Association is still dealt with in an individual capacity, and at the close of each year the balance due each is shown on our books.

THE LOSSES AND EXPENSES

are borne alike by each member, as in proportion to their payment of interest or premium they are charged with their respective share of the Losses and expenses, and the premium unused is strictly regarded as that of the member and is held to his credit, out of which has arisen the enormous dividends paid by the Company.

At Close of Membership or at any time within one year therefrom, the member has only to make application for a settlement and whatever remains is paid back to him, without in any way affecting the interest of the remaining members, as he simply takes out that which is his.
