—A beautiful custom prevails with the heathen Chineese which is worthy of imitation by our christian people. It is not law but universal custom, made obligatory by close observance. It is that all debts must be cancelled before the new year begins. As the end of the year approaches, and to a late hour on Christmas eve, the Chineese merchant is kept busy with his counting board and brush pencil in wiping out the indebtedness of his customers. How surprising this custom would be to newspaper editors should it be adapted in this enlightened and civilized country. Were such a thing to occur with us we should naturally conclude that the millenium was at hand.

—Destructive fires have occurred the past week at Baltimore, entailing a loss of $60,000 and the loss of two lives; a fire at Cincinnati with a loss of much valuable property, causing the death of five firemen; a destructive fire at Pensacola, Fla., involving a loss of one million of dollars; at Reading, Pa., a loss of planing mill, stable a large private residence and two small dwelling houses; at Newark, N. J., $70,000 worth of property was destroyed and 80 operatives thrown out of employment; Jay Gould's conservatory on the Hudson river was destroyed, loss $100,000; an express and mail car with contents estimated were burned at La Grange. A shocking holocaust of two colored children occurred at Memphis, Tenn.

MAN FROZEN.—On Wednesday, Mr. Jas. Cook, of Kent Island, a plaster by trade, came off to Miss Sally Harris' mill. On his return he stopped in Queenstown and tarried somewhat. His horse became restive started off home and he started shortly afterwards on foot. When a short distance from Queenstown he became chilled and stupid and lay down on the road side where he remained until the next morning. He was found on Thursday morning apparently dead, but restoratives being applied he was resuscitated and is still living. The latest information from him, however, is to the effect that he would lose one if not both of his limbs. It was very narrow escape from death, as the night was very cold.—Centreville Observer.

REMANDLED FOR A FURTHER HEARING.—Judge Alvey, last week, delivered the opinion of the Court of Appeals in the case of State of Maryland vs. George W. Wade, register of voters for the Thirteenth district of Baltimore county, indicted for not making out certified copies of lists of voters in the time required by law, and making out these certified lists when made, with 223 names not upon the books, and with leaving out 13 names that were upon the books. The indictment in the case was quashed for certain supposed defects, and the defendant contended that he was discharged from all further proceedings thereon. This was overruled, and he appealed to the Court of Appeals, which says the court below was in error to quash the indictment which should have been attacked by demurrer. Judgment in favor of Wade reversed and cause remanded for further proceedings.

A WORTHY CITIZEN GONE TO REST.—It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. Robert Jarrel, one of our best and most esteemed citizens. He has lingered for a long time between the two eternities, but on Sunday evening last, past from labor to reward. His death was as peaceful as his life had been pure and blameless. In all his relation in life he had been true to his friends, to his country, to himself and his God. He was a Christian in the strictest sense, conscientious in all his dealings, a man moved by the strongest emotions of right, and leaves behind him a character without a blemish, shedding a ray of light even amid the gloom of the grave. He was for many years one of the associate Judges of the Orphans' Court of this county, and for some time past its Chief Judge, until his affliction became such as to incapacitate him for its duties. In the discharge of his public duties he was cautious and conscientious, and the interest of the widow and the orphan were scrupulously regarded. So in every sphere of life in which he was engaged, he brought to bear the inflexible law of right, making his chief motive, the fulfilment of the golden rule, "do unto others as you would have them to do unto you."

Having thus spent a life of usefulness, ornamented by christian graces, his sitting sun was not obscured by clouds and darkness, which too often cast a gloom upon the spirit of those about to enter death's dark territory, but he has passed to the great hereafter, leaving the brightest and most cheerful hopes to loved ones left behind, of a sure and certain abiding place in Heaven, with the sainted of earth, gathered from all climes, during the centuries of the past.

Mr. Jarrel was about sixty years of age, and had been afflicted for several years with a tumor in the stomach, which as years increased, became more painful and alarming, giving great uneasiness of mind to his family, his numerous relatives and friends. He was for many years a consistent member of the M. E. Church. He was held in the highest esteem by his fellow citizens, who regarded him with great respect and veneration. We regret the demise of so valuable a citizen, but the shafts of death are always aimed at a shining mark, and its fatal arrow brings gloom and sorrow to loving friends.

Mr. Editor:—The new M. E. Church at Wye Mills will be dedicated on the 26th inst. (D. V.) Preaching at 10.30, A. M. and 7, P. M., by the eloquent pastor of Union Church, Wilmington, Del., Rev. A. Stengle. The church is a beauty. We want to make it a Christmas present to the Lord.

Yours,
F. G. M'SORLEY.

Hillsboro', Md., Dec. 14th, 1880.

The Popular Demand.

So great has been the popular demand for the celebrated remedy Kidney-wort, that it is having an immense sale from Maine to California. Some have found it inconvenient to prepare it from the dry compound. For such the proprietors now prepare it in liquid form. This can be procured at the druggists. It has precisely the same effect as the dry, but is very concentrated so that the dose is much smaller. —Lowel Mail.

A Grand Reputation.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has reached a reputation that is not limited by the confines of section or country. There are no injurious substances, nor false and temporary stimulants in the preparation. It is purely vegetable, and compounded under a formula that has passed severe tests, and won endorsements from some of the highest medical talent in the country.—New York World.

Gen. Mahone's Platform.

General William Mahone, United States Senator-elect from Virginia, writes as follows to Major Campbell Wallace, of Atlanta, Ga.: "I shall adopt two lamps to light me along the road, and I trust they may keep me tolerable close to the right way. One is to endeavor to do that which will redound to the best interests of our commom country, without stopping to inquire of the paternity of measures or how the status of a political party may be advanced or prejudiced. The other is to grapple with facts as they exist, not as we would wish them to be: to cease a vain race after abstractions, theories, impracticable or exploded, to catch at bubbles while the air is filled with substantial blessings. In remembering that I am an American—a citizen of the United States—I shall not forget that I am a Virginian.

For the Union.

Scraps.

Creeds, ceremonies and technical issues, are the churchman's tisssue ticket, by which the religionist stuffs the ballot box of christian truth. Creeds to evade the judgment of the I Am, ceremonies to cover the short comings of the set, technical issues to blind the eyes and avoid the necessity of answering troublesome questions.

The Bible is the nominal ship in which all take passage, the Gospels are pounded into shape so as to let the Camel enter the eye of the needle. The Epistles give full scope for big-sermons and are twisted to let in the hope that the commands of both the old and new dispensation, are not as rigid as one might suppose.

The history of the world is black, yet the darkness cannot eclipse the bright deeds of those who dared to think and act for the good of all. Men whose courage and undaunted resolution, bigotry could not crush, nor could the malice of kingcraft or priest-craft, stay the force of their teachings. The sufferings and firmness of these grand men, was mankinds hope, and our inheritance.

PARGETTER.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our own Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10th, 1880.

The debate on the electoral count bill was continued through the day yesterday, and unless the Democrats move to lay it aside, and proceed with important business subjects there is no telling how long the discussion may last. One thing is certain, the Republicans will not permit the passage of the bill, if parliamentry tactics can defeat it. At Republican joint caucus held last night there was a large attendance of Senators and members. Judge Lapham of New York offered a resolution declaring that the Morgan joint resolution in regard to the counting of the electoral votes is unconstitutional and revolutionary in its tendency, and that its passage should be firmly resisted by every means known to parlimentary law. Senatos Blaine, Ferry, Teller, and Saunders, with Messrs. Hawley, Robeson, Conger and others of the House supported the resolution in powerful stalwart speeches, and the general idea seemed to prevail that the Democrats were not pressing this matter through pure stubborness, but had some sinister motive behind it, that could be more easily defeated by resistance than inquiry. The discussion was spirited and spicy, and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

But little business was transacted in the Senate yesterday. The bill to extend the time for filing claims for horses and equipments lost by officers and men in the late war, was taken up and discussed, but Senator Garland desiring to present some information regarding claims from Arkansas, the bill went over, and at 2.50 P. M. the Senate adjourned.

The Ways and Means Committee yesterday referred the recommendations of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue regarding the abolition of taxes on proprietary medicines, soaps, perfumery, cosmetics and other drug store things, and matches, and check-stamps, to the sub committee of which Mr. Carlisle is Chairman. They take up the funding bill again next Tuesday.

The finance committee has adjourned till next Tuesday without action on the malt tariff bill. They will probably devote that days session to it.

The appropriation committee brought out the regular fortification bill. It is about the same as last year, the only difference being authority for the Secretary of War to sell old shot and shell, powder, etc.

The friends of the Geneva Award distribution bill are very much encouraged by the aspect of affairs. A disposition is manifested in both Houses to take up the matter and dispose of it before adjournment, and not leave it as a legacy to the coming Congress. There are many good reasons why this should be accomplished. The subject has been thoroughly discussed in and out of committee. There is hardly a member in either House but has already considered it, and is prepared to give an intelligent vote when the bill shall be reached. The small following that the bill of Senator Eaton had, has fallen away; and I doubt if the Senator himself is not ashamed that he ever conceived the idea of taking money that was paid to our government as a reimbursement for actual losses sustained by our patriotic ship owners, and sinking it in the great maelstroom of our public debt. The award will be made this session, and the parties to whom it equitably and rightfully belongs will at last be recognized.

Deaths.

DEAN—At her residence near Preston, on Tuesday, Nov. 30th, 1880, of Gastro-enteritis, NANCY, wife of Henry Dean, aged 74 years.

The life work of this estimable woman is done, and the rest that ever remains for the faithful who are weary is hers to enjoy while eternity lasts. Left a widow in early life, with five children to rear and provide for. She found the burden grievious to bear, and 'twas there she sought strength from on high, and found peace in a Saviour's love. For forty years she lived a christian. She was a faithful wife, a fond mother and constant friend, whose deeds of kindness will be long remembered by those who knew her best.

"They speak of the realms of the blest,
Of a country so bright and so fair;
A home were the weary may rest—
She knows what it is to be there."
