American Union

Thursday Morning, Dec. 23, 1880.

☞ The Orphans' Court for Caroline county will meet on Tuesday, Dec. 28th.

THE EDITOR'S MULTUM IN PARVO.

Now is the Time to Subscribe.

SEND US YOUR NAMES AND $1.00.

The beginning of a new year is a good time to subscribe for a newspaper. We want every family in the county to subscribe for the UNION. You can get it for next year for $1.00, if paid in advance. Any one getting up a club of five, the money paid in advance, will be furnished with an extra copy for one year gratis. Send in your names before the end of the year and we will send the paper from now until January 1st, 1882, for $1. If you want Godey's Lady's Book for next year, send us $2.50 for both for one year.

—Our confectioners are well supplied with Christmas presents.

—Our Preston letter was received too late to appear in to-days paper.

—There has been but one death from smell pox in Baltimore this year.

—The UNION will appear next week as usual on the regular day of publication.

—Send us one dollar and it will pay subscription to the UNION until January first, 1882.

—Vennor, the Canadian whether prophet predicts seventeen hours of snow on the 23d—to-day.

—Milford has a society called the "Full Moons." Wonder if any of their number are ever eclipsed?

—Dr. Oakley, of Detroit, says: "Selz-lura' Liver Pills' are admirably calculated for biliousness and headaches.'

—There are four cases of small pox at Frederica. Middletown also has one well developed case of the same disease.

—The public school of this county will close for the holidays to-morrow. They will resume operations on Monday 3d of January.

—A religious revival has just closed at the M. E. Church at Seaford. Forty persons have professed conversion and joined the church.

—Shedrach Short, on his farm in Gumborough hundred, Sussex county, this year raised 16,000 bushels of corn and 250 stacks of fodder.

—Cambridge has after a hard struggle succeeded in starting a bank, and now she wants a canal to connect the Choptank river with the Blackwater.

—Next Saturday is Christmas day. All the stores and places of business will be closed, and we trust the day will be observed by all as a christian Sabbath.

—The Elk Mills Company of Cecil county has effected the sale of the well-known mills called Lovel's factory to Mr. Preston, a New York capitalist, for $100,-000.

—Delaware wants a fish commissioner. Let her bate her hook with a cool five [illegible] toss it over the line into Maryland, and she can secure one without further trouble.

—The saying "time is money" is best illustrated by the prompt action of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in all cases of Coughs, Colds, &c. Price 25 cents a bottle. All druggists keep it.

—The Milford News thinks that town will probably will consume about six tons of confectionery. They must have a big lot of sweet old maids over there to require so much "sweetening."

—The Easton Ledger is offered at public sale to satisfy the claims of its creditors. We sympathise with Mr. Johnson in his financial troubles. We hope there is better fortune in store for him.

—The Sunday School of the M. E. Church at Hillsborough will give a christmas entertainment on Saturday evening next, at the Church. Singing in chorus, dialogues, solos, recitations and readings. Admission 10 cents.

—The steam saw mill owned by Mr. Wm. R. Emerson of this town, located at Double Bridge, was sold last week to Messrs. Webb & Bros., for 13,00. It is to be removed to Redden, Del., on the line of the Junction & Brake-water railroad.

—Another Democratic paper is soon to be established at Cambridge. There are two there already, but we presume the third is to proclaim the gospel of the new Democratic dispensation.—There is always room for improvement in that party.

—A friend has sent us a copy of the Baltimore County Record, published at [illegible], Pa. It contains a very creditable [illegible] to the old friend, Mr. Louis S. [illegible], A. M., formerly of this county, entitled "Our Country and her Homes."

—Just as Rev. Mr. Redman was announcing his text at Bridgeville a Sunday or two ago, a little urching put his head in at the church door and squeaked out, Mr. Layton's house is on fire, "and the entire congregation rushed pell mell for the fire and left the minister alone in his glory.

—A citizen of that christian town of Seaford, on Sunday week, occupied the [illegible] Sabbath, with above fifty men and [illegible] with horses and carts in filling his [illegible]. He needs the benefit of the [illegible]. They ought to throw the hot shot [illegible] of the gospel at him until he [illegible].

—Holiday presents in abundance are to [illegible] at the original New York one [illegible] Clothing House, 184 W. Baltimore street, opposite Light. There is [illegible] so acceptable to the receiver as an [illegible], an ulster or a suit of clothing. [illegible] invested for such purposes [illegible] full returns.

—A regular communication of Temple No. 128, A. F. & A. M., will be held on Tuesday 28th of Dec., 1880, at [illegible] o'clock, P. M., at which every member is expected to be present. At a regular communication of this Lodge, Chas. [illegible] Manning, J. W. Kerr, G. W. Russum, [illegible] Watson and Wm. A. Stewart were [illegible] to serve as officers for the ensuing —Tschudy & Cott's large planing mill and storehouse, and the residence of Mr. Van Dozen, at smyrna, Del., were burned on Saturday night. The loss on the mill is $15,000; insurance $8,000, and on the dwelling $1,800; insurance $1,200. For a time the whole town was endangered, and aid was asked from Wilmington.

—The following gentlemaen are applicants to fill the vacancy in the School Board in this county, caused by the death of Col. Jas. E. Douglass, a few weeks ago: S. Fountain Liden, Dr. Enoch George, W. H. Dickson, Edward Goslin, and there may be others, but they are so far behind in the race that they will scarcely be heard of.

—A little girl was teaching her brother the Lord's Prayer the other night, and when she had said, "Give us this day our daily bread' he suddenly called out Pray for taffy, sister pray for taffy too; and she said you forget that I am going to give you some of Sines' Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound for your cold which is a great deal better than taffy.

—The fourth quarterly conference of the M. E. Church, for Denton circuit, will be held at the M. E. Church in this place on Saturday and Sunday next. Preaching on Saturday (Christmas morning) by Rev. R. W. Todd, Presiding Elder, at half past ten o'clock. The Quarterly conference will be held immediately after the close of public services. Preaching on Sunday morning, also by the Elder, at the usual hour.

—The three colored men sold into slavery in Virginia have been released. The fact of the sale caused consternation to the colored population, who feared that the days of the auction block and overseers' whip were to be revived. A writ of habeas corpus was sued out, and Judge Davis, of the county court, ordered their discharge. The three negroes are now welcome guests in every colored house, being looked upon as matyrs.

—We regret to learn the death of Mr. Jas. T. Conner. He died at Cambridge last Friday night. Mr. Conner was for many years clerk on the Highland light, of the Maryland S. B. Company, but resigned about two years ago, to engage as a traveling salesman for Hurst, Miller & Co., of Baltimore. He was on a business trip, when he was taken with a congestive chill and died very suddenly, lamented by a host of friends on the Eastern Shore and in Baltimore.

—Mr. Warren Kinder, aged 81, a citizen of Sussex county, as is his custom on the anniversary of his birth, recently called his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren together at his homestead who spent the day beneath the parental roof. About forty of them assembled on this occasion, but some of them were so far away that they could not be present on this occasion. Mr. Kinder is highly respected in his old age and his life has been one of integrity and uprightness.

—Two negro men, Jake Davis and James Monroe Thomas, have got into serious trouble at Easton for stealing from Mr. John Warner, of Hambleton, eleven live geese. This Jake Davis, alias Jake Babes, is an old offender. He has been convicted in our county courts on several occasions and served two or more terms in the penitentiary. He was released from our jail in October last, after confinement for several months, for larceny. Jake seems to have a penchant for poultry.

—Although the offices to be bestowed by the Delaware Legislature are not as numerous as desired by hungry applicants, and those desiring to be fed upon the loaves and fishes are not quite as plenty as the mosquitoes on the Delaware marshes, yet they are numerous enough to make a lively contest and to cause the generating of much bad blood between aspirants, who are anxiou to be taken in out of the cold and warmed and fed at the public crib.—The Legissature meets on the 4th of January next, and then what a pow wow.

—Rev. R. W. Todd will deliver his lecture on the "Quaint and Humorous in the History of Peninsula Methodism," at the Court House in this place on Saturday evening next. Last week Mr. Todd entertained a large and interesting audience at Galestown and the Seaford Index speaks highly of the lecture, declaring that for one hour and a half he held his audience with uninterrupted attention, save the peals of laughter which for more than three score times, burst forth from the delighted audience. The lecture truly "abounds in Quaint Things, Witty Things, Humorous Things" and (although the posters do not announce it) sublime things. No one should fail to embrace the opportunity to hear this master piece of wit and wisdom.

—The following named parties holding the Coupons of the Cecil Fire Insurance Company are requested to present them to Wm. W. Lowe, the agent of the company, and receive a check for the dividends due them from the company.

Joel Atwell, Robert Edgell, Wm A. Ford's administrators, Jas. K. Saulsbury, Thos. Sparklin, Mrs. Kate Willis, Dr. Edwin Adkinson, Wm. Boyer, Jas. F. Carlisle, Adm'r., Jas. H. Covey, Wm. T. Elliott & wife, Jas. W. Holt, Chas. Harvey, Francis B. Hubbard & wife, Jas. B. Isler & wife, L L. Joslin, O. C. & Ellen D. Jones, Trustees of M. P. Church & Parsonage, Isaac J. Moore, Margarett Nicholson, R. J. Potter, Jos. M. Smith & wife, Wm. E. Todd, Wm. H. Rolph & wife, John H. Holt, Talbot county.

Godey's Lady's Book.

The January number of this favorite monthly is upon our table. It is brim full of choice reading by American authors and maintains its former reputation as the lady's favorite. Earnest in tone, pure in morality, it aims at elevating and benefiting woman, and for more than fifty years has been accepted as a guide-book for the wives and mothers of America. The January number contains all the usual features in addition to Mrs. Benjamin's excellent story, and promises well for 1881. We should suggest to our readers that they cannot make a more acceptable Christmas gift than the LADY'S BOOK and the UNION for the year, and we will furnish both for 1881 at the low price of $2.50 per annum, the money to be paid in advance.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Large Hogs.

Col. R. J. W. Garey slaughtered four hogs, last week, weighing respectively, 382, 378, 384 and 380 pounds. They were all of one brood of pigs, and were three days less than a year old.

Mr. Esma Lowe recently slaughtered six hogs, 15 months old, whose weights aggregated 2668 pounds, or an average of 444⅓ pounds to each. Their respective weights were 556, 510, 509, 372, 371 and 350lbs.

Liquid or Dry.

Some prefer to purchase medicines in the dry state so that they can see for themselves that they are purely vegetable. Others have not the time or desire to prepare the medicine, and wish it already to use.

To accomodate each class the proprietors of Kidney-Wort now offers that well known remedy in both Liquid and Dry forms.

Sold by Druggists everywhere.—Truth.

Vick's Floral Guide.

This work is before us, and those who send 10 cents to James Vick, Rochester, N. Y., for it will be disappointed. Instead of getting a cheap thing, as the price would seem to indicate, they will receive a very handsome work of 112 pages, and perhaps 500 illustrations—not cheap, but elegant illustrations, on the very best of calandered paper, and as a set off to the whole, a beautiful Colored Plate that is worth twice the price of the book. See adv. elsewhere.

Fire at Denton Bridge.

Fire was discovered in the upstairs portion of the kitchen attached to the dwelling house occupied by Capt. Z. Hutchinsons at Denton Bridge, about 8 o'clock on Saturday night last. Just how the fire originated is not known, but it is supposed that some one had been in that part of the house with a lighted lamp, and from this fire was communicated to some clothing hanging on the wall. The fire was thus communicated to the building, and was making rapid progress through the roof when discovered. A number of persons were prompt to render assistance, and the fire was extinguished with but trifling damage.

The County Vote and the Census.

The election in this county last fall presents a mystery which we would like to see explained. The recent census gives the total population of the county at 13,-767. The total vote at the Presidential election was 2,737. Allowing one voter to every five inhabitants and the total vote ought to have been 2,745. This leaves but eight votes short of a full poll, yet there was from one to two hundred voters who did not cast a ballot. Either the census returns are not correct or there are names on the registry lists, upon which ballots are deposited, who are not citizens of the county. One voter for every five inhabitants is a very liberal estimate when the census returns very near one half of our population as females. And what is more strange still, is that during the canvas there was but one political meeting held in the county, no interest taken in politics, and no effort made to bring voters to the polls, and yet it was the largest vote ever cast in the county. A satisfactory explanation of this complex subject would be acceptable to a great many voters.

Dover Bridge and our Steamboats.

We noticed a few weeks ago the damage done to Dover Bridge by one of our steamers, and though the damange is said to be $50 instead $300, as first reported, it goes to prove that there was some cause which produced the accident. The bridge has recently been repaired and our steamboat men complain that the draw has been narrowed, and that it is now difficult to pass through without damage to steamers or the bridge. It has only been a few years since the Maryland Steamboat Company, we believe, widened the draw of this structure at their own expense, that their steamers might have ample room to pass and repass, but what could be the object of those having charge of these repairs to again contract the space, is past all intelligent comprehension. We cannot believe they were so selfish as to want to cut off all communication by steamers with the waters of the upper Choptank, and if there is barely room for the class of boats now plying on our river, they ought to have known that the Maryland Steamboat Company are now having built a large and commodious steamer—larger than those now running upon this route—expressly for the Choptank route, to accommodate its increasing trade. And it may depend altogether upon the width of the draw of Dover Bridge whether we are to have this new steamer placed upon this route, giving us increased facilities for trade and travel, or whether the old steamers will be forced to continue their trips. The Maryland Steamboat Company have displayed cousiderable enterprise in building up the Choptank route—have been courteous and kind, prompt and reliable, and their efforts to give satisfaction to our people ought to be met by a helping hand, rather than opposed by obstacles calculated to dwarf their efforts at success. We hope these obstacles may be removed and the new steamer placed upon the route in early Spring.

For the Union.

Christmas.

1880 has rolled into the abyss of time. Another anniversary of the coming of the Prince of Peace has come to gladden the hearts of the young. To the older ones of society, it should be a time for reflection as to how they have spent the past and still passing year, whether we have by word or deed contributed one iota toward the advancement of the human race to that standard of existence which the Son of the living God, and God Himself, wishes we should reach.

It is a time in which man should lay aside the evanscent things of life, for the time earnestly take up the cross of self examination, see if the life we are living will be a failure or a success; whether the mantle we have wrapped around ourselves will be likely to clothe us in the great hearnfter, or whether it will leave us nude and trembling on the confines of eternity. To those who can mould the public mind—those who call themselves christians—thoughts of the kind should come with double force. The embassadors of the Messiah should at this time strip themselves of their egotism, lay the dissecting knife of righteousness to their surcharged certainties, see whether the past has not erred, so the present may steer clear of the rocks on which others have split. It will strengthen the future to breast the sterms of ignorance and crime which may gather around the altar of truth and true Christianity. It is a time too when self should look beyond self. It is a time for the practicing of the mandote that when you make a feast you are to go into the lanes and by-ways of life, see whether you cannot find at least one whose heart you can make glad, lighten the burden of life and cheer him so that he may leave the dark pathway into which perhaps he is or has unwitingly strayed.—Nor are you to inquire the why's thereof, least the Master of Life apply the same rule to you. Nor are you to do a kindly deed with the hope of reward. By doing so you dim the lustre of the deed and mock the precepts of the Most High.

It is a time to thank the Grand Master for His bounteous goodness, invoke a continuance of His care, so that we may still rejoice with exceeding joy, that we live in a land so highly blest with all the good things of life, and with open handed generosity, according to our means, help the struggling ones along the pathway of life, ending with a Merry Christmas, a Happy New Year to all. PARGETTER.

For the Union.

STRIFE.

BY ANIEL.

What is the use of so much strife?
Man alone is out of harmony in life;
The birds, in flocks, gather in every tree,
Flowers are filled with swarming bee,
Fish by the thousands, gather in the sea,
Yet man, alone, is ever discontented.

What is the use of so much strife,
When a few more years will bring the close of life?
Like a ship passing through the sea,
So the end of all must be;
Or, like a flying bird through the air,
Does time, relentlessly, bear all men there.

What is the use of so much strife,
In this little visionary, transitory life?
Struggling, surging, grasping for fame,
A dying honor, a perishing name;
For lands and houses, riches and glare,
For gossiping tongues and envious stare.

What is the use of so much strife?
A triffling accident ends our life;
Away go our houses, riches and lands,
To pass, at last to vainer hands;
And they, too, soon surrender to others,
What was once enjoyed by their elder Brothers.

The only use for so much strife,
Is the perfection of human life;
As the gold is made pure, only by fire,
So man, by slow steps, is to rise higher and higher;
For eternity could not be closed in a single day,
God saw proper to make things in His own way;
And, therefore, man must ever be discontented.

TRIBUTE

TO THE MEMORY OF LETTIE TODD.

Death's cruel dart has pierced her heart,
And bowed us down with grief,
For! beneath the silent sod
Our dear Lettie sleeps.

Oh! Lettie dear, cold is thy bed,
Where thou dost lay beneath the sod,
May angels guard thy blessed head,
While your bright spirit dwells with God.

She is not dead—the child of our affection,
But gone unto the school
Where she no longer needs our protection,
And Christ himself doth rule.

In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion,
By guardian angels led,
Safe from temptation and sins pollution,
She lives whom we call dead.
