☞The Orphan's Court for Caroline county, will meet Tuesday, May 26th.

County and Peninsula.

……Whitsuntide next Monday.

……Messrs. Russum & Lewis offers some valuable real estate in to-day's issue situated near Ridgely.

……If an abundance of bloom promises anything, the apple orchards will be well loaded with fruit this year.

……Children grow up fat when fed on bread and biscuits made with Drew's Yeast Powder. may21-4w

……Pel's Hand-made Shoes are the most comfortable for Corns, Bunions and tender feet. Dunnock sells them.

……There is still great complaint aboutthe scarcity of money. The pressure will not be relieved until this year's crops get into market.

……Mr. Henry C. Conrad has received the Republican nomination for Mayor of Wilmington. Mr. Conrad is well-known over the Peninsula.

……Walter H. Thompson & Co., announce an elegant selection of spring novelties and request a call from their friends in this county. See advertisement.

……The Dover Delawarean humorously says: "Skeeters" of the largest size now perambulate our town, and they are luckier than tramps, for they manage to get a bite now and then."

……In a few years, all the corn in this county will be planted by cornplanting machinery. Many of these machines have been sold and are in use this season. A corn thinner will be tried this year.

……Bay trout, or, more properly, weak fish, made their appearance in market last week, especially on Saturday morning. The waters of Delaware Bay furnish us a very important food supply for Spring months.

……The rear wall of the M. E. Church has been removed, and the workmen are now engaged in replacing a new one. The recess pulpit when completed will be a very great improvement. A. T. Warren is superintending the work.

……Mr. R. D. Bradley of this county, is one of the recent victims of political decapitation. He has been invited to surrender his position to a ward-working democrat. It is thus that the Cleveland administration purifies the public service.

……A heavy fruit crop is probable this year and a word of advice to shippers will not be out of place; have your fruit picked clean and nice only the best should be sent to market;it is a great mistake to send the indifferent fruit, as it spoils the sale of all.

……Mr. Wm. Stevens caught a carp fish measuring 15 inches in length at his fishery near town one day week before last, and another one on Thursday last of the same length. They were deposited in a pond just finished by Mr. J. Boon Dukes, near town.

……It is said that this has been the poorest paying year for the shad fisheries on the lower Choptank river which the fishermen have experienced for many years. The fisheries have not yielded enough profit to pay the hands employed by the owners of the seines.

……By land or at sea, out on the prairie, or in the crowded city, Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the best for purgative purposes, everywhere alike convenient, efficacious, and safe. For sluggish bowels, torpid liver, indigestion, bad breath, flatulency, and sick headache, they are a sure remedy.

……The Chester River Steamboat Co. had the Emma A. Ford withdrawn on Monday last for a few days in order to have her thoroughly repainted for the summer trade. The steamer Corsica will be put on in her place. She will leave Queenstown for Baltimore at 10 o'clock, A. M.

……The Peninsular Farmer is the title of a monthly journal published in Easton by F. C. Heffron, and devoted to the interests of the farmers and fruit growers of the Eastern Shore and Delaware. The May number is issued, and is very creditable for a first number. The selections are well made and the original articles shows thought.

……Notwithstanding much has been said about the importance of a blood-purifying medicine, it may be possible that the matter has never seriously claimed your attention. Think of it now! If, by the use of a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla you avoid the evils of scrofula, and transmit a healthy constitution to your offspring, thank us for the suggestion.

……The growers of small fruits are estimating but a little above half a crop of strawberries as compared with last year,the vines being considerably injured in being thrown out by the frequent changes in freezing and thawing the past Winter. The heavy rains of last week were just what this crop needed, and a continued good season may yet make a heavy crop.

……The wool market is the lowest this Spring it has been for several years, unwashed wool commanding only from 15 to 18 cents per pound, a discouraging figure to the sheep growers were it not for the high price the meat sells for in the market. The wool dealers in the city feel confident of speedy reaction and the restoration of wool by another season to something like the old prices.

……Another candidate for the gallows has turned up in Dorchester county. This time it is a negro man named Chas. Williams, who on Saturday committed a rape on Mrs. George Keene of Meekins' Neck. He attacked her as she was passing a swamp. Loud demands for his life were made by the excited populace, but the officers succeeded in landing him in jail. Of course he will hang, as he is fully identified by his victim.

……It is reported that there is to be a steamboat war this summer on the Choptank river route. Such a war would be good for the people while it lasted and bad for the steamboat companies, but when it should be ended we are afraid the "dear people" would have to pay the piper. Let the two companies agree upon some reasonable rates for freight and passenger charge and stick to them. It would be better all around. There is ... both companies and no need of ... rate ...—Courier.

……The impetus given to the strawberry plant by the late rains should remind the growers that it will not be long before checks will be needed for pickers, and that it will be wise to leave early orders at this office to have them printed.

A Big Shad.

A melt shad, twenty-five inches long, eighteen inches around the belly, three inches across the back, and weighing 8½ pounds, was on exhibition in Baltimore on Thursday last. The fish was caught in the York river. The melt or male shad usually weighs from 2½ to 4 pounds, and the roe or female shad 7 to 7½ pounds.

Slowly Recovering.

Capt. R. R. Emerson, one of the oldest and most respected citizens, having passed his 73d year, has been confined to his home, and for several weeks to his bed, suffering with rheumatic pains in the breast, back and hips. He was in an improved condition yesterday. His family physician, (Dr. George), has hopes of his recovery.

A Sad Accident.

Mr. Curtis Towers, one of the oldest, if not the oldest man in the county, met with a serious accident at his residence in the 4th district on Tuesday of last week. He went to the outbuildings for the purpose of feeding his stock, his hired man being sick, and by some means fell, his head coming in contact with a fence, receiving a severe cut on the head, severing an artery, and from the effusion of blood, came near losing his life. Three physicians were called in and after a time the blood was staunched, but the old gentleman at last accounts was in a critical condition. He is in the 95th year of his age, and until this accident occurred was enjoying unusually good health.

Sale of Real Estate.

The real estate of the late Thos. Beachamp, late of Caroline county, deceased, was sold in this place on Tuesday last, the following parties becoming the purchasers.

Lot No. 1.—Seventy-five acres, to Wm. T. Hignutt for $14 per acre.

Lot No. 3.—Nineteen acres, to Reynor Clark for $9.25 per acre.

Lot No. 4.—Five acres, to Lizzie Beachamp for $10 per acre.

Lot No. 5.—One-half acre, to Lizzie Beachamp for $1.

Lot No. 2 was withdrawn.

The A. M. E. Conference.

Just before the adjournment of the A. M. E. Conference, held at Havre de Grace last week, Bishop Wayman read the following appointments for Baltimore District:

J. H. A. Johnson,presiding elder.—St. John's, R. F. Wayman; Water's Chapel, D. F. Seaton; Long Green, W. M. Travers; Cambridge Station, L. M. Johnson; Cecilton Station, Joseph Nichols; Easton Station, Henry Hutton; Fruitland, Isaac Watkins; Havre de Grace, J. P. Cox; Port Deposit, J. T. Morris; Darlington, J. W. Lavatt; Elkton, L. H. Jackson; Chesapeake City, P. H. Green; Chestertown, J. H. Ballard; Uniontown, T. M. Cole; Denton, Charles Bourne; Centreville, Arthur Jones; Pocomoke City, J. D. Banks.

The Dover Academy.

At the last session of the Wilmington Conference of the M. E. Church, it was directed that an Educational Conference should be held for the purpose of raising a sufficient amount of money to entitle the Dover Academy to claim what is known as the Wharton legacy. This conference was held in Dover, Del., on Thursday last and was largely attended by representatives from all the districts, the presiding elders and Bishop Andrews. The subscriptions reached $2,300. The legacy in question amounts to $2,000 with interest for a year, and will be paid the coming August, if the Academy debt can be reduced by that time to $10,000. The subscriptions secured at a conference in Asbury Church, Wilmington, last year, together with the amount subscribed at Dover, leaves about $1,500 to be raised before August 1st, to secure the legacy.

Late Frosts—Injury to Peaches.

The Kent News of Saturday last gives the following account of the peach crop:

"Frost on two nights of last week and at least one of this week raise the question of injury to peaches. The blossoms has just fallen from the bud and to some extent the 'cap' has left the young peach now in a dangerously exposed condition. What has been the effect of these recent frosts? A number of growers with whom we talked last Tuesday thought there had been injury, but hesitated as to the extent. We examined several orchards on Saturday and found each of them giving abundant evidence of a full crop. What may be the appearance of these same orchards after the lapse of a week or ten days—when the effect of the recent cold is developed—we are not prepared to say. A large grower near Chestertown, who is an intelligent observer, declares the injury to his crop to be of the most serious character. He states that the crop was all right last week, but now not one live bud in ten can be found! Another grower on Chester river, near town, gave it as his opinion, after an inspection of his orchards, that very little injury had as yet resulted from the frosts, and the prospect was still good for an abundant crop."

The Centreville Record says the frosts did very little damage to the crop in that county.

Godey's Lady's Book for June.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for June has one of the most captivating frontispieces we have seen yet. It is a handsome steel-plate engraving which represents "The Puppy Class" at a bench show. Nine very cute little dogs in characteristic poses are arranged on a line for public inspection, and furnish a fine study of what is most attractive in the puppies of some of the best breeds patronized by our kennel clubs. The June number of Godey's Lady's Book is replete with illustrations of a fine character. An unusually elaborate view of an ornate interior is furnished this month, together with a capital work design, a handsome colored fashion plate, the usual abundant illustrations in black and white and a beautiful cut taken from a much admired picture by Luke Fildes, entitled "The Village Wedding."

Letter from Preston.

[FROM OUR VALUED CORRESPONDENT.]

Last week your correspondent gave to the readers of the Journal, one of the democratic organs of the county, a brief sketch of the improvements that have been recently made in farms, and the methods of farming in this part of the county; this week he proposes to inform the readers of the Union—most of whom are, or ought to be, republicans, and of course favor education—how rapidly that pet offspring of the Republican party of Maryland—the public schools—have grown, and how robust they now are in this locality—the stronghold of Republicanism of the county.

Twenty years ago in September next, the public schools of the county were first organized under the supervision of a Board of School Commissioners, then appointed by the Governor. Rev. Charles Boynton, D. D., was President, Dr. M. A. Booth, and I think, Dr. G. W. Betson and your correspondent were the respective district commissioners. William Stevens was elected Secretary and Treasurer. The school-houses were rude, dilapidated structures that looked more like abandoned corn-cribs, twisted and drawn out of shape with rheumatism, than anything else that presents itself for comparison. The school law was far from being popular with the masses; the county was not required by law to appropriate money for educational purposes, and it didn't appropriate any with alacrity; and all things considered, the outlook for a brilliant administration of educational affairs was not cheerful.

But Preston, then as now, was the largest village in this part of the county, and could boast of a school-house. It was a frame building, eighteen by twenty-two, and seven feet between floor and ceiling, located on the south-east side of a frog pond—the latter about one-half acre in area. There were about forty pupils, ranging in ages from four to twenty-four, on the rolls, presided over by Miss Elvira Webster, an estimable young lady who fell at her post, shortly after leaving here, an early victim of consumption. Her life-work was very brief, but it was well done, and her influence, like her own pure and gentle spirit, will doubtless live on long after Time itself shall die, and be coeval with eternity.

Two decades have passed since then, and the changes, in an educational point of view, that those years have wrought in this locality have been marvellous as well as glorious. We now have two buildings devoted exclusively to the use of public schools, which are under the charge of three teachers. The older building was erected in 1866, by the citizens of Preston school district; it has two rooms besides a vestibule, and a seating capacity of about 80. The Academy was completed in 1880, and is a very neat structure, somewhat ornamental in finish, especially about the cornice and belfrey, and will accommodate about 40 pupils. It is well finished with globes and other modern adjuncts to teaching.

The attendance at the public schools here is better, and much more regular than it was a few years ago, and the interest in the cause of popular education has increased as the years have silently taken their places in the past. The present school year has, perhaps, been more fruitful in good results accomplished, when the aggregate is summed up than any year preceding it. The primary and intermediate departments, under the charge, respectively, of Miss Gertie G. Stafford and Miss Belle V. Harrison, both experienced teachers, have been well attended, and the children have advanced rapidly. Quite a number of pupils from the primary department have entered the intermediate, and as many from the intermediate have been transferred to the Academy during the year. The attendance at the Academy, J. Kent Dukes, Esq., principal, has been unusually full—averaging nearly or quite forty, and much more regular than in former years. There has been less complaint and fault-finding the present year than ever before, and the progress of the pupils in their various studies have been rapid beyond precedent. One of our ministers remarked the other day, after having spent an hour or so in Mr. Dukes' school, "You have the best disciplined public school I have ever seen." It was quite a compliment and duly appreciated.

The pulpit of the M. E. Church at this place was occupied, on Sunday evening last, by Rev. W. J. Duhadaway. Now your correspondent is not much of a churchman, and, of course, nothing more than a jack-leg critic, but if the Reverend gentleman's discourse on this occasion wasn't a sermon in which every joint fitted, and the whole thing sand papered and varnished, then he doesn't know what preaching is. This may not be just the æsthetic style of reviewing pulpit efforts, but it expresses, in vigorous terms, the writer's idea of effective preaching, and I guess his virtues do not differ materially from the great middle majority. The writer remembers Mr. Duhadaway as a quiet and rather studious lad, a few years ago, attending the public school at Harmony, and later, as a young man, engaged in teaching; then for a time he lost sight of him. He was much and agreeably surprised on Sunday night, when a favorable opportunity was presented to take note of his rapid intellectual growth and present stature. I am not much given to uttering stale compliments, but if this young divine does not fill a much larger space in the world than the average preacher, he will have to die at an early age.

Curtis Towers, now in his 96th year, residing near Union Grove, fell against the sharp edge of a fence rail on Wednesday, of last week, and wounded the temporal artery. He bled profusely, and Drs. Phillips and Stafford had some difficulty in arresting the hemorrhage. The wound of itself was slight, but the blood so weakened the old man that it may yet prove fatal. NORWOOD.

……A young man who believes in self-improvement, having recently married, suggested to his wife that they should argue some question frankly and fully every morning, in order to learn more of each other. The first question happened to be: "Whgets on to this could be expected to father that Rob... to becom... a hat," and he took the affirmative. ... when he was last seen he had climbed up a hayloft and was pulling the ladder after h...

Greetings to the Union.

KIND WORDS FROM OUR VALUED AND ESTEEMED COTEMPORARIES.

The Denton Union came to us this week in an enlarged form and much improved in appearance. The Union is a good paper, and deserves success.—Cambridge Era.

The Denton Union has been enlarged to an eight column paper. Increased advertising patronage necessitated the enlargement. Other improvements have been made. We wish the brother continued success.—Federalsburg Courier.

The American Union, published at Denton, Md., by E. W. Emerson, has been enlarged to an eight column page and substituted a new and attractive heading. We are pleased to note this evidence of prosperity on the part of our cotemporary.—Kent News.

The American Union, published at Denton, by E. W. Emerson, made its appearance on Thursday in an enlarged form, with a new heading and otherwise much improved. The enlargement was made necessary, says the editor, on account of the encroachment of advertisements on the reading matter space. We are glad to see our neighbor's improvement, and wish it continued success.—Centreville Observer.

The Denton Union has enlarged from a seven to an eight-column sheet and begins its new existence looking as bright as a dollar. We are always glad to note journalistic improvement, and especially when it comes within our own county. Though Caroline is the smallest county in the State, with two exceptions, she makes among the best of journalistic showings. Our five papers are doing a grand work for Caroline and her people are beginning to realize it; to appreciate their worth, and to increase their support. Let the good work go on.—Greensborough Free Press.

Gapes in Chickens.

"What produces the gapes is not generally understood. But if people would stop to think and examine the cause, they would see that it can readily be cured. The gapes are produced by small worms, about one inch long, in the windpipe, with a sort of feeler about one-fourth the length of its body, which circles around the pipe and produces the hard gasping for breath which is called the gapes. Unless this worm (or worms, as I have often taken out five or six,) is removed, it will surely cause death. To get rid of them, get a half-pint bottle, or any other that is convenient, fill it with kerosene, and place it where you can get it easily. Then get a small feather from the wing of an old fowl, strip the feather from the quill, all but a little on the small end, put it into the oil and leave it there until you have your chicken ready. Hold him in your left hand, with his head between the forefinger and thumb, press them gently together, and you have him with his bill wide open. Then take the feather, which has become well saturated with the kerosene, and being careful to insert it into the windpipe, and not the throat, push it gently down the pipe until you are sure of reaching the bottom. Twist it around once or twice and pull out quick. I have brought out three worms at a time in this way, and if any remains the chicken will soon throw them out, as the kerosene kills what remains. Do not think this is too much trouble, as it takes but a minute; it is a sure cure, and will pay richly in the end.—Country Gentleman.

Violators Sentenced.

Three parties indicted by the last grand jury for Somerset county for violation of the local option law, pleaded guilty Friday evening last, and were sentenced by Judge Irving to sixty days' confinement in jail, to pay a fine of $100 in each case, and to stand committed until fine and costs are paid.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes;

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers.

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro."
Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numberless instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home, and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable.

J. T. HAYES."
Mexia, Texas, June 17, 1882.

The REV. FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking AYER'S PILLS. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.
