Codicil to the last Will and Testament of Brice Thomas Beale Worthington made this sixth day of June seventeen hundred and Ninety four — — — —

Whereas I have by my Will devised and bequeathed to my two Daughters Elizabeth and Henrietta my dwelling plantation and sundry Negroes, Stock and household furniture with other Articles therein expressed and it may so happen that the Negroes and stock may die or be lost by Accident or otherwise and the personal property may grow worse by use. Now my Will and Intention is and I hereby devise and direct that they my said daughters nor either of them shall in any Manner be answerable for any loss or diminution of the Negroes stock or any other personal property during the time they may have the use and possession thereof —

Item In case any of my children or Devisees should loose the Negroes devised to them specifically by my said last Will before the time of my death or shall have heretofore lost them since making said Will that then and in that event the value of such Negroes at the time of their Deaths shall severally and respectively be made up to every — such Legatee so loosing their Negroes devised as aforesaid

Item Having by my Will given my Son Brice Thomas Beale Worthington a power under some restrictions and Limitations to dispose of the personal property given him in Trust amongst his Brothers and Sisters and to them only — I now mean to revoke said power and do devise and bequeath the same to be equally divided amongst all my Children now living or their legal Representatives after the death of my said Son Brice Thomas Beale Worthington — — — —

Item Whereas I have, by my said Will requested my Brother Nicholas Worthington and my friend John Hall to act as my Trustees in valuing property and in some other respects therein mentioned, and my said Brother being since dead and the said John Hall unable from his infirm health to act further than by giving his advice or Opinion, I therefore now devise and request that the division of my property agreeably to my Will may be made by and amongst my children and Legatees themselves and in case of any difference in Sentiment then one person to be named by my Executors and one other by the Party or Parties interested and in case of Difference in their Opinion then they to choose a third Person In Witness whereof the said Brice Thomas Beale Worthington hath hereunto set his hand and affixed his Seal this sixth Day of June in the Year of our Lord seventeen hundred and ninety four — — — — —

Signed, Sealed published pronounced and declared by the said Brice Thomas Beale Worthington as and for a Codicil to his said last Will and Testament — in the presence of us who subscribed the same as Witnesses thereto at his request and in his presence and in the Presence of each other .....
