THURSDAY, May 28, 1885.

☞The Orphan's Court for Caroline county, will meet Tuesday, June 9th.

County and Peninsula.

……Next Saturday will be observed as Decoration Day.

……The public schools of this county will close to-morrow.

……Women who love their husbands are happy and at rest.

……Those who do not are disturbed, restless and miserable.

……The early strawberry festival gets the high-priced strawberries.

……The salary of Rev. John D. Kemp has been raised from $900 to $1,000 by his Chestertown congregation.

……With peas, asparagus, lettuce, radishes, and other vegetables in abundance, the average man should be happy.

……Mr. Wm. P. Richardson, residing in Tuckahoe Neck, is said to have the finest field of wheat anywhere in this county.

……The first quarterly conference of the M. E. Church will be held in the town hall in this place on Saturday next at 3 o'clock, P. M.

……Ayer's Sarsaparilla has such concentrated, curative power, that it is by far the best, cheapest, and surest blood-purifier known.

……The Ladies' Aid Society, of this place, contemplate holding a strawberry festival in the near future, of which due notice will be given.

……The County School Board has asked the County Commissioners for a levy of $10,000 for school purposes next year. They had $9,000 this year.

……The peach orchards continue to give promise of a heavy crop of fruit and the farmers who have peach orchards are therefore feeling fairly happy.

……It has been determined to hold a camp-meeting this year at Wye under the auspices of the M. E. charge. The date will be fixed by the trustees in a short time.

……The body of Peter A. Blanche which was lost off the schooner Mary Ellen in February last, was found a few weeks ago near the mouth of Trappe creek.

……There has been two more newspapers started in Easton within the last month, making seven in Talbot county. Surely there must be money in the newspaper business.

……The Harrington Enterprise is now entirely in the hands of J. E. Horney, Esq., he having bought the interest of his partner. The last number came to us very much improved.

……The Journal wants to know what has become of the new Republican paper enterprise? We answer: "It is added to the Union in its enlargement and harmony is again restored."

……Mr. J. E. Cahall's little daughter, near Burrsville, who swallowed an eight-penny nail several days ago, greatly alarming her parents, has been relieved and is now doing well.

……Try the new barber if you want an easy shave or a good hair cut. He comes well recommended and should receive the support of our citizens. See his advertisement in another column.

……Wheat continues to do well and is about to head out. The wheat crop on high and light lands is much better this year than on stiff soils, for the reason that it was frozen out badly on the latter.

……In 1879 the wheat crop averaged ten bushels a person and 700 bushels per mile of railroad, this year, estimating it one-fifth short, the crop will average six bushels a person and 333 bushels per mile of railroad.

……The new postal cards under the contract of 1885 will be a delicate pink, in the place of the cream-color now issued. The texture of the card is also said to be improved. The size will be the same as now in use.

……Eastford Hall, Oxford, was sold at public sale, in Easton on Tuesday of last week by Mr. Geo. M. Russum, attorney for Mr. Jas. H. Holmes, mortgagee. It was bought by Mr. Wm. D. Nicols, of Easton, for $5,550.

……In the case of the Dorchester county commissioners vs. the bondsmen of Thos. F. Cox, bridge contractor from this county, in the circuit court for Talbot county, a judgment for over $600 was rendered in favor of Dorchester.

……Work on the rear wall of the M. E. Church is being pushed forward very rapidly, and should the weather continue favorable it is expected that the brick work will be completed to the square by Saturday night. The gable end is to be of frame work.

……Baldness may be avoided by the use of Hall's Renewer, which prevents the falling out of the hair, and stimulates it to renewed growth and luxuriance. It also restores faded or gray hair to its original dark color, and radically cures nearly every disease of the scalp.

……After May 31st the bell rope will be superceded by a system of air signals on the passenger cars of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The conductor will communicate with the engineer by pulling a cord attached to air pipes running under the cars and terminating in the engine cab with a small whistle.

……The Independent is the title of a new paper just started in Easton, Md., S. Ellwood Patchett, editor. We received the first number on Thursday last. It is a seven column paper, very neatly gotten up in its composition and printing, and exhibits good taste on the part of the editor. We wish the brother success.

……That beautiful bird with pointed lip, that "bird of close relationships," the mosquito, put in an appearance last week and presented his bill just as though it had been due for thirty days. But after a little while we pay but little attention to them, just as some of our subscribers serve us, we present our bill, but it only becomes due every "ninety-nine" years.

……The Preston base ball club is ready to receive challenges in this and other counties. In a short time our boys will be ready to make it warm for them, but we hope they will not commence until they have had sufficient practice, and not get nine little "goose eggs" in a row, as they have been in the habit of doing in former years.

……Children grow up fat when fed on bread and biscuits made with Drew's Yeast Powder. may21-4w

……The first quarterly conference for Burrsville circuit will be held at Concord on Saturday, May 30th, at 9 o'clock A. M. Preaching at same pace on Sunday, May 31st, at 10 A. M. by Rev. A. W. Milby, presiding elder, at which time the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. A full attendance of the official brethren is requested.

GEO. W. BOWMAN, PASTOR.

……The new steamer Joppa, of the Maryland Steamboat Company, will make her first appearance at Light street wharf this week, from the ship-yards of Harlan & Hollingsworth Company, Wilmington, Del. The Joppa will go on the Choptank route about the first of June. The Enoch Pratt will be repaired and refurnished, and put on the Salisbury route in place of the Kent, which will be used as a reserve boat.

A Rejoinder.

The statement of the Cambridge Chronicle as to my orthography is not correct, and is all a fancy picture, as no such statement attributed to the purser of the Enoch Pratt ever took place. True, I am a one-armed man, and my misfortune is nothing to make a jest of. The Chronicle ought to be truthful, and if it cannot find enough of this article in his immediate neighborhood to fill its columns, it should not deal in ribald jest at my misfortune.

MICHAEL FINN,
Agent Md. Steamboat Co.

The Promising Peach.

Farmers are rejoicing, and with them almost every one else of the Peninsula, in the present excellent prospects for a good peach crop. There is now little risk for the young peaches to run, since frost rarely falls after this date, and the trees in general are heavily set with fruit. In many orchards the trees will necessarily shed three-fourths of their fruit next month, and even then the remaining one-fourth would prove sufficient for a tremendous yield. It is thought by some that the "June fall" this year will be unusually great because the trees are lacking in vitality on account of three previous crops in succession.

Growing Crops.

The frequent showers of rain are giving the growing crops of all kinds a good send-off. Wheat has improved rapidly and corn in many fields is making a fine showing. But the grass appears to be backward in growth, especially timothy and orchard grass. The scarcity of these two articles in this county the last two years and the high price they command, should warn farmers to make preparations for the future. Ten or twelve acres might be appropriated to these crops the coming fall by farmers, and instead of buying hay would have enough to use and probably a little sell—thereby putting money in their pockets instead of taking it out.

The Trans-Peninsula Railroad.

A conference of New York and Maryland capitalists will be held in New York city early next month to discuss the practicability of building the Maryland, Chesapeake and Delaware Bay Railroad, and to take preliminary steps looking toward the re-organization of the old company under existing charters granted by the Legislatures of Maryland and Delaware. The route of the proposed road is from Kent Island to Lewis, Del. A line of steamers will ply between Baltimore and Kent Island. The cost of the projected line is estimated at $800,000 and the New York parties interested have stated that they will subscribe half the amount required if the city of Baltimore will endorse bonds in amount equal to the other half.

Beautiful Weather.

The country is now lovely. May is the most delightful month of the year. The trees are in full leaf, the woods abound with wild flowers, the dogwood is in full bloom, the roads are splendid, and the blossoms fill the air with a delicious fragrance. It is just the time to enjoy an evening or morning ride. The birds chirp their delight that summer has come, the "cattle on a thousand hills" are enjoying the clover, the bees are laying in their stores of honey, the wheat and grass have carpeted the fields with a velvety green, and the farmers are busy with horses and oxen planting or working their corn. Everything appears to be full of life and enjoying life. The air is perfect health. To the lovers of the beautiful there is nothing equal to the country in the month of May.

A Terrific Hail Storm.

The storm on Wednesday in portions of Maryland was the severest that has ever visited that section. Near Cecilton and Sassafras the thunder and lightning was appalling and the water fell in torrents; more like a water-spout, in fact. Hail fell, too, in large quantities, pelting both man and beast in a fearful manner. The stones were as large as walnuts and fruit trees suffered considerably. Two men were driving from the fishery at Cecilton with a load of fish in a wagon, to which were attached a fine pair of horses. They were just entering the gate of a farm to seek shelter from the storm of rain and hail, when the horses were struck by lightning and instantly killed. One of the men, named Cosden, was also killed. Mr. Faulkner, the other man, was insensible for a long time, and the front of the wagon was torn into splinters

Selection of Farm Hands.

A prominent agriculturist, who has given all his time and attention to the study of farms and farming, gives the following points in regard to finding the right kind of a farm hand. Habits are of the first consideration. He says: "A man who indulges in smoking a pipe at all hours is liable to burn your building; a careless man will waste and destroy twice his wages; a passionate man will spoil your horses and cows and break more than he earns; a drone will annoy you to death; an immoral man will corrupt the minds of your children; a careful, high-minded, thinking man will look after your interests and will earn his money, whatever you pay him. Those first named shun at any price; the last one seek early, and when you have found him keep him as long as you can! He is a jewel of the first water, and hard to replace."

An Anti-Bribery Ticket.

A correspondent in the Denton Journal of Saturday who styles himself "Reflex," suggests an anti-bribery ticket composed of the following gentlemen: For clerk, William Noble; for register of wills, Charles H. Whitby; for State senator, John F. Dawson; for county treasurer, A. T. Warren; for the House of Delegates, Elias W. Williamson, Edward E. Goslin; for sheriff, Benjamin A. House; for county commissioners, William H. Casho, William H. Deweese, Charles E. Jarrell.

The Federalsburg Courier says: The new party is composed of members of both political parties who are opposed to bribery at election. There is room for such a party in this county but whether the new party can get candidates with sufficient courage to stand up and be knocked down for the fun of seeing how quick they will drop remains to be seen. Seriously, however, bribery at elections in this county is carried on so openly and on such a large scale that it is high time some action was being taken to check the evil at least, if it cannot be wholly stopped. The new movement, if such there be, should have the hearty support of every man in the county who is opposed to the despicable practice of buying and selling votes at our elections. In view of the approaching election of county officers, no better time than now can be had to put the anti-bribery ball in motion."

The School Question.

Owing to the uncertainty as to whether they would receive three or four payments from the County Commissioners, the School Board decided to close schools at the last of this month. Teachers will charge for two-fifths of a term. The Board will ask the County Commissioners to answer this question: "What amount of the levy for 1884 for school purposes remaining unpaid can the school board depend upon being paid between now and September 30, and about what time will future payments on account of said levy be paid?"—Caroline Democrat.

The above paragraph is calculated to mislead the public. The school Board cannot attach blame to the County Commissioners for the early closing of the schools, as the books in their office show conclusively that the levy made in 1883, due and payable in 1884 has been paid over every dollar of it to the school board, the full amount of the levy for that year being $9,000. Their books also show that of the levy made in 1884 for 1885, payment for the two first quarters of the current year has been promptly paid, the amount being $4,500. The future payments will be promptly paid at the expiration of each quarter, thus showing that the County Commissioners have no disposition to embarrass the School Board or in any manner destroy its usefulness in conferring benefits upon the children of our county. The county commissioners have done their duty, and those who wish to be informed on this subject by calling at their office may be convinced as to the amounts, day and date of each payment made to the School Board.

Prize Essay on House Cleaning.

The Philadelphia Press offered a prize for the best essay on house cleaning, and it was awarded for the following:

One of the difficulties of house cleaning is in finding the right place to begin. Start with the men of the house. Let them understand that women do not clean house for their own amusement, but that it is an important work which must be performed, and which will be finished with as little delay and annoyance to others as possible. By preserving an even temper we can spare the tempers of those about us. Have a perfect understanding that the work is not to be subject to whims or indigestion, or made the occasion of selfish complainings, and then push ahead quietly, quickly and thoroughly to the end.

Every spring and fall overhaul all old clothing, empty the rag-bags and dispose of the contents and all other rubbish. In the spring pack away all heavy clothing. Wrap each article seperately with camphor in old newspapers, to protect the clothing from moths. In the fall have the summer clothing washed and put away without starching, as starch eats the cloths and turns white goods yellow.

Beginning with the upper story take each room separately, that the whole house may not be in confusion at the same time. Then in case of sudden illness or any unforeseen interruption, some of the rooms will be habitable. Remove all pictures and fancy articles, carefully brush and wipe them free from dust, and with a soft, damp cloth, polish each article that will not be injured by the application of water. Then cover and put them away until the room is cleaned. This plan of cleaning as thoroughly as possible all articles before removing them from the room avoids carrying dust from one place to another.

The next thing is to take the clothing from the closets, bureaus and wardrobes, cleaning each receptacle thoroughly. Remove all the furniture possible from the room, wiping off the dust before doing so, and carefully cover what remains. Brush the bedding with a small whisk before taking it out of the room.

* * * * * * *

If your house is heated by a furnace have all the registers through the house closed while the cellar is being swept and cleaned of rubbish, as the dust will ascend through the flues. The cellar should be well whitewashed, and lime be scattered near the walls.

When the dining room and kitchen are being cleaned, the pantries, dressers and sideboards should be done first. All the kitchen utensils must be cleaned and polished, and the range blackened before anything else is done. If the work is being done in the country, where stoves are used instead of a furnace, clean out the stoves, blacken, cover and set them away in some dry place until the fall cleaning is finished, or until fires are needed, when they will be ready to put in their places. The latter part of May is the best time for the spring cleaning. The fall cleaning should be done in October.—Charlotte Hall.

The Baseball Crank.

Of all the wretched trio of cranks
Who cause life's sweets to pall,
There's one that all the rest outranks;
The fiend who talks base ball.

His hands in very glee he rubs
While talking of the game;
Unconscious of my chilling snubs,
His theme is all the same.

He tells how Downes "flew out at first,'
And Anderson "pounded air"—
For in the lingo he is versed,
And talks it everywhere.

He goes to every game of course,
And, should his club "get left,"
He'll hoot the umpire till he's hoarse,
Like one of sense bereft.

No wonder that I'm growing thin,
And look so lean and lank,
Since I must listen to the "chin"
Of this wild baseball crank.

—OBSERVER.

Seventeen-Year Locusts.

The Wilmington Morning News of Tuesday has this to say about the seventeen-year locusts, of which there is so much talk: "No anxiety whatever need be felt by farmers or others on account of the appearance of the locusts, inasmuch as the actual damage done by the lively insects is not very great. The fresh twigs of the trees are killed in considerable numbers about eight inches from the end by the female cicada depositing her eggs in them. The liberal pruning by the locusts is thought to have a beneficial effect upon fruit trees. The locusts do not and cannot "sting" any one, all statements to the contrary notwithstanding. Nearly every strange bug captured at the present time is thought to be a seventeen-year locust by those not familiar with the "personal appearance" of the expected visitors. Careful examination, however, in the vicinity of Wilmington has failed to discover any of the locusts where they will appear without fail next month. Forty miles northwest of this city the locusts were ploughed up last week in considerable numbers four inches below the surface of the earth, showing that a week or ten days will bring millions of them to the surface. In a few hours after coming up the outer cover or shell splits in the back and the locust works his way out and leaves behind him the covering that has sheltered him for years."

Meeting of German Brethren at Mexico, Pa.

The annual meeting of the German Baptist Brethren will be held at Mexico, Pa., commencing May 22d, 1885. Mexico is a pretty little town in the picturesque valley of the Juniata, directly on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, forty-four miles west of Harrisburg, and apart from the interest attaching to the meeting will prove a pleasant place for a spring excursion.

For the benefit of those desiring to attend, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell from May 15th to 20th inclusive excursion tickets to Mexico from all principal stations of its system, good for thirty days from date of sale, at two cents per mile.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.
A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles.
E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

FURNITURE R[OOMS]

We want to call your attention to our large stock of Furniture, Carpets and Oil Cloths, as we are selling very cheap.

We have taken the old Masonic Hall store our Furniture, where we are now prepared to make a good display, which now occupies four rooms well filled with new and desirable goods, and if we cannot sell you it will not be our fault. If you do not see what you want in the first room call for it, as it may be in some other.

Country Produce taken for goods. Give us a call and we guarantee satisfaction.
