E. W. EMERSON, Editor.

DENTON, MARYLAND.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 23, 1885

THE great drawback of the summer resort now is the lack of young men. And the great drawback of the young men is the lack of cash.

PRESIDENT Cleveland is endeavoring to fix things out in Ohio so that the Democrats can carry the State, but how to fix it is the question that bothers him.

THE changing by the Bible changers of the word h—l to sheol, struck a man out in Ohio of that name, and he is petitioning the Legislature to change his name to Shrady.

Now that Mr. Cleveland has shown that he likes to catch something when he fishes, anglers for offices ought to feel encouraged. A fellow feeling counts for more than a peck of recommendations.

THE Baltimore Herald speaking of the oppressive heat in that city on Saturday says: "Old Sol glared down on mankind yesterday in such a painfully fixed and fervid way that the majority of those who did not get out of town on the excursions spent the day at home, put on as few clothes as possible and pinned their faith to the old reliable palm-leaf fan."

PUCK'S exclamation, "What fools these mortals be!" finds verification every day. Miss Cleveland's book cannot be issued fast enough for the curious public, and all because she is the President's sister. What a different reception the book would have had, had not Burchard uttered the alliteration, "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." Truly, great results depend on trifling causes.

THE alleged halt called upon the work of decapitating Federal office-holders seems not to have been ordered in the Postoffice Department. Mr. Vilas is making vacancies at a rate that promises to leave but few "rascals" or "offensive partisans" in office by September. Nearly all the Presidential offices have been filled, and vacancies in the minor offices are made with a rapidity that should satisfy the most hungry aspirants.

AN insect known as the devil's needle is making such a vigorous war upon the New Jersey mosquitoes that the near extermination of that brand of insects is not improbable. The degree of gratitude to which the devil's needle is entitled depends entirely upon whether he leaves when his good work is done. It is just possible that he is getting the mosquitoes out of the way in order to have an uninterrupted picnic with the human race himself.

ALLEGED cases of poisoning from canned goods nearly always prove to be either untrue or greatly exaggerated, but those who place confidence in their correctness would do well to heed the following words of Dr. Cyrus Edson, an excellent authority on such matters: "In nearly every case of poisoning from canned meats and fish, I have found that the food has been permitted to stand open for some time in hot weather." An evil of this kind belongs entirely to the purchaser. It is not the fault of the firm that canned the goods.

THE apparently guileless but really wicked banana peel got an Ohio man into trouble the other day; but it was not the fellow who trod upon it. As the gentleman last referred to was gazing skyward, after he became intimate with the slippery peeling, he saw the proprietor of a contiguous grocery shaking with laughter. The victim arose, and in two minutes had driven the humor out of the groceryman with an able-bodied cane. When the laughter-loving storekeeper got out a week later, a magistrate thought $1 fine and costs was ample punishment for the assailant.

THE Hessian fly is doing its best to prevent an overproduction in wheat raising, and is succeeding so well in western New York state that the farmers will not save enough of this year's crop for seed. This ravaging fly made its appearance in that section about a month ago, and numerous fields have been ruined. It is estimated that damage to the extent of $85,000 has been done in the town of Lyons. What with bugs, flies, worms, the drouth and occasionally a destructive storm of wind, rain and hail, the farmer's life is getting to be anything but a happy and independent one.

WHILE due credit must be accorded the wise financial management upon the part of the government in bringing about the recovery from the crash of 1873, the harvests that gave plenty to the land had much to do with the revival of prosperity. So in the present depression, the outlook for fine crops is encouraging and leads many to hope for greatly improved conditions of trade when the harvests are gathered. The outlook for corn, cotton and tobacco is very encouraging, while vegetables promise well. The wheat crop will be smaller, but the supply at hand will likely prove sufficient for all demands. Altogether, there is a healthy feeling of expectancy pervading the country.

G. W. Hawse, Buress Run, W. Va., says in the year 1883 he used 300 lbs. of compost, made with Powell's Prepared Chemicals, per acre with wheat on very poor land and harvested 16 bushels of wheat per acre weighing 62 lbs. to the bushel, and had as good stand of grass as he ever saw. He says he now gets as good results from Powell's Prepared Chemicals as his neighbors get from fertilizer costing $34 per ton. Powell's Prepared Chemicals cost $6 per bbl., a sufficient quantity to make one-half ton complete fertilizer. Address Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

The Wheat Crop in Maryland.

The Baltimore Sun has collected thro' its local correspondents, the following reports of the yield of the wheat crop in Maryland. The quality of the berry is almost universally good.

Alleghany.—Acreage 6,000; average yield 6 bushels.

Anne Arundel.—Average yield, 12 bushels. No fly or rust, but some winter killing. Heads well filled.

Baltimore.—Average, 12 bushels. Heads well filled. No diseases. Decrease from last year's crop, 25 per cent. Later reports make crop less.

Calvert.—Yield, 8 bushels. Some rust. Heads well filled; berry good.

Caroline.—About 20,000 acres seeded. Average yield per acre, 12 to 15 bushels. Less seeded than usual, but grain heavy and plump; mostly of Fultz variety.

Carroll.—Acreage 10 per cent below '84. Average yield, 15 bushels. No complaint of fly or rust. Heads well filled, berry large and plump. Throughout the county the crop is so much better than was expected, the farmers are well satisfied.

Cecil.—Acreage an average. Yield, 12 bushels per acre, much having been winter killed. About 75 per cent. of the crop is Fultz.

Charles.—Acreage 25 per cent. below 1884. Yield, 8 to 10 bushels. Heads full, and berry large and plump.

Dorchestes.—24,000 acres seeded; average yield, 8 bushels. Some fly; no rust. The yield is surprising under the unfavorable seasons.

Frederick.—Average from 10 to 12 bushels, only about half the usual yield. The crop will aggregate about 750,000 bushels, as against 2,000,000 bushels of last year, which were an extraordinary crop.

Garrett.—Acreage, 4,000 acres. Yield, 8 bushels. No disease. Quality good.

Harford.—Acres seeded, from 15,000 to 20,000. Average yield, 10 to 12 bushels. Some fly and rust, but damages not great. Heads well filled, and quality generally good.

Howard.—Acreage, 16,000 acres; average yield, 12 bushels. Fultz almost exclusively grown. No fly or rust, but "scab" in some localities.

Kent.—One-fourth less land than usual sown. Estimated average, 12 bushels. Quality good.

Montgomery.—Owing to the unseasonable weather, not more than two-thirds of a crop was seeded. The average yield for this year has been variously estimated by farmers and dealers, but a fair average is thought to be from 10 to 12 bushels per acre, or very little over one-half of that of 1884, although many fields have produced from 30 to 40 bushels. The wheat heads were never better filled, the heads weighing at least ½ more than usual, and the quality of the berry is exceptionally fine.

Prince George's.—Acreage one-fifth less than usual. Yield, 5 to 7 bushels per acre. Quality excellent.

Queen Anne's.—Estimated acreage, 50,000 acres, with an estimated average yield of 14 bushels to the acre. Eighty per cent. of the crop this year is Fultz. The wheat is not materially affected by fly or rust, the heads are well filled, and the quality of the berry is prime.

St. Mary's.—15,000 acres in wheat last year, or 3,000 less than usual, owing to the dry weather, and the estimated average yield is 8 bushels, a falling off from the usual average of from 2 to 3 bushels. The heads are well filled, and the quality of the berry is fair.

Talbot.—Acreage 10 per cent. less than 1884. Average yield, 12 bushels, ⅓ less than a good crop. Quality not as good as usual. Further inquiry makes the crop better.

Washington.—Acreage estimated to have been about 58,000 acres, with an average yield of only about 8 bushels to the acre. Red wheat is the best adapted to the soil of this county, and this variety was sown almost exclusively for the crop of 1885. The wheat was not injured by either the fly or rust. The heads, although small, were well filled, and the berry of strictly prime quality.

Wicomico.—1,200 acres seeded, averaging 15 bushels yield to acre.

Worcester.—3,000 acres seeded. Estimated yield, 14 to 15 bushels.

A Wronged and Desperate Girl.

Near Piney Grove, eight miles from Snow Hill, on the Salisbury road, lives Miss Alice Jones, a very pretty girl, 17 years of age. She is the daughter of Thos. Jones, deceased, who was one of the most prominent farmers of that neighborhood, and lives with her mother and elder brother on one of the best farms in that section. Since she entered society two or three years ago Miss Alice has been a belle. Among the coterie of her admirers was a certain well-to-do young farmer who paid her especial attentions, and succeeded in winning her affections. The date of the marriage had not been settled upon, but when the young man called to see Miss Alice, she told him that if he loved her and wished to save her from disgrace, he must marry her at once. This he would not consent to do, and left the house at 11 o'clock. The girl, in a frenzy of grief over her prospective disgrace and the action of her faithless lover, went immediately to her bed-chamber, and taking from her bureau an arsenic powder, dropped it in a glass of water and deliberately drank it. Mrs. Jones, upon discovering her daughter's illness, despatched a message for Dr. John T. White, who administered antidotes and saved the girl's life.

Composure.

They who are naturally cool, and of a quiet turn of mind, upon whom nothing can make too powerful impression, who are not wont to be excited either by great sorrow or great joy, have the best chance of living long and happy after their manner. Preserve, therefore, under all circumstances, a composure of mind which no happiness, no misfortune, can too much disturb. Love nothing too violently; hate nothing too passionately; fear nothing too strongly.

Hanged For Killing His Keeper.

A MAN WHO MURDEROUSLY ASSAULTED 46 PERSONS EXECUTED IN PHILA.

Joseph Taylor, who on May 31st, 1884, brutally murdered Keeper Michael F. Doran at the Eastern Penitentiary by beating in his brains with a wooden bobbin and a bar of iron, was hanged in the corrider of the county prison at 10 o'clock on Friday morning. The keeper had administered to Taylor a nauseating medicine which the prison physician had prescribed, and thereby incurred Taylor's animosity. On the date mentioned Doran entered Taylor's cell, and as he did so Taylor, who had been lying in wait, sprang forward and struck him with a heavy wooden bobbin which had been left in the prison works for reeling yarn. Doran staggered forward, and Taylor, seizing a bar of iron, literally beat the crown of the man's head off with it. Then, leaving the keeper groaning on the blood-stained floor, he went back to his cell and laid down on his bed. Ten minutes later an overseer found the two men in these positions.

At the trial a determined effort was made on the part of Taylor's counsel to prove his insanity, a defense which Taylor did his best to strengthen by his behavior in the dock. On one occasion he made a hopeless attempt to escape, and throughout the trial acted as one who is, or pretends to be, crazy. Experts were called to prove his lunacy, and an attempt made by counsel to prove by inference and Taylor's story of the crime that the assault, so far from being premeditated, was made in a fit of rage when Doran sought to administer the medicine. Despite all efforts, the jury brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

After sentence was imposed a fruitless effort was made to reverse the verdict by an appeal to the Supreme Court. Governor Pattison was also appealed to, but he declined to interfere with the court's decision and signed the death-warrant. Taylor was only 28 years of age. He was of a vicious disposition, and the police records show that he stabbed 17 persons and shot 28 during the 10 years before the murder. The crime for which he was incarcerated when he killed Keeper Doran was committed 24 hours after he had concluded a term of three years for stabbing a policeman and a special officer. His crimes began with cutting a boy companion when but 15 years old, and his vices date from his babyhood.

Better Times in Prospect.

Many are the comments offered upon the times, and varied the opinions indulged in respecting the future. Will business get any better, soon? Will money be more plenty and all the avenues of trade and commerce be opened as in times past, within any reasonable period? Well upon this subject, the judgment of one ordinarily intelligent mind may be as good as another. But, of this one thing we may all be certain; if business is ever to resume its normal state we are nearer that period of future prosperity than we were six months ago. It is not possible, either that matters can continue long as they now are. We must and will rise from this depression and, when that time comes, the country will be in a more healthy condition than it has been in for many years past. The fact is, as we all see now, we were driving along at too rapid a rate. We were carrying too much sail. In short, there was overtrading and a wild spirit of speculation that was fatal to a healthy growth. There was a great deal of apparent prosperity, but it was of mushroom growth, and a collapse came, and for some time business has been at a stand still, but we think the noise is now over, and we shall right up again slowly. The crops are gathered or being gathered, now, and taking the country over, they will realize a fair average if not more. These constitute the true of all wealth, and if the husbandmen shall realize a fair return for his labors, it were impossible in a country so fruitful as ours, to hinder its prosperity long. Already, although this is the dull season for business, there is evidence of improvement in the country, and only a restoration of confidence is needed to place us more on solid ground. We may therefore reasonably expect a fair Fall trade.—Exchange.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.
