THURSDAY, July 30, 1885.

☞The Orphan's Court for Caroline county, will meet Tuesday, Aug. 4th.

County and Peninsula.

.....Oakland camp meeting commenced on Tuesday last.

.....Democratic "kickers" are now known as "Leap Year Democrats."

.....If there ever was any excuse for "Mother Hubbard dresses," it ought to be now.

.....Wye camp commences August 4th and continues ten days. Fifty or more tent sites have been taken.

.....Despite the persuasion of prohibition advocates, beer drinking is largely on the increase in Cambridge.

.....The long continued drought has severely affected the pasture fields and made butter scarce in our market.

.....Peaches are at least three weeks later this year than usual. The Troths will not be on before the 10th or 15th of August.

.....The eighth annual Delaware State fair will be held at Fairview Park, near Dover, Del., September 28, 29, 30 and October 1, 2 and 3.

.....Gilt frames may be cleaned by simply washing with a small sponge wet with spirits of wine or oil of turpentine and left to dry without wiping.

.....With the mercury at 101 degrees and millions of flies endeavoring to eat one up, are among the discomforts that humanity has just passed through.

.....W. L. Hubbard, of Easton, planted one gallon of Early Rose potatoes last spring and gathered 12 bushels, or at the rate of 96 bushels for one bushel planted.

.....Picnics and excursions may fail to bring rain, but when Hale peaches and camp-meetings get ripe the fall of moisture can neither be restrained nor controlled.

.....FOR RENT.—The dwelling-house lately in the occupancy of E. W. Emerson is for rent for the remainder of the year 1885. For particulars apply at once at THIS OFFICE.

.....The M. E. church in this place was re-opened on Sunday last. Rev. G. R. Bristor preaching two able sermons, morning and evening. We have not learned the amount of money raised, but the church is still in debt.

.....The entertainment held at the town hall in this place on Monday evening last was decidedly the best of the season, and every one went away well satisfied for the money invested. The net proceeds amounted to about $70.

.....The chestnut crop in Delaware it is said will be short, owing to the depredations of the seventeen year locusts. The blossoms of the chestnut trees are at the end of the twigs in which the locusts lay their eggs and which afterwards die.

.....A Salisbury paper says: One of our enterprising farmers beyond the depot cut his wheat with his sharpshears, threshed it in his cart body, and his wife fanned it with her apron. The result was three pecks.

.....The Republicans of Cecil county have held their nominating convention, and have placed men on their county ticket which, says the Elkton Appeal, will be elected without the loss of a single candidate, so wisely and so well has the convention acted.

.....The heat has been extremely oppressive for several days until Sunday evening, when we had a good rain which cooled the atmosphere. Thin people have been compelled to walk with a fan in one hand and a handkerchief in the other, while stout ones have added an umbrella to keep them from liquifying and going down into their boots.

.....The wife of the preacher in charge of the circuit wherein Concord camp-meeting will be held, "earnestly and affectionately," requests "all christian ladies to attend attired in plain and modest apparal," in order "to remove that very serious objection to modern camp-meeting, ostentatious display of dress." —Courier.

.....The Milford Chronicle says: "A gentleman who visited this office the other day, showed us a ten dollar bill on the old Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, of Greensborough, Md., dated June 1st, 1863, signed Spencer Hitch, president, and A. E. Warner, cashier. In the centre is a farming scene. Three men are cutting wheat with a reaper, one rides the horse while two rake off. In the left hand corner is a portrait of Andrew Jackson, and on the right, one of Henry Clay."

.....The Democratic County Central Committee met at the Court House on Tuesday last, but failing to have a quorum adjourned to meet again on next Tuesday. The politicians of this county have so far taken things very quiet, but just wait a few weeks when the eighteen applicants for the Clerkship we noticed a few weeks ago with uplifted hands, puts in their little plea and then the silence will be broken. Can the oldest inhabitant remember when a body of politicians ever before failed to get a quorum on an occasion of this kind?

Fools not all Dead.

The Dover Sentinel of Saturday says: "A fakir from the city played a crowd on Loockerman street, last Saturday night, for greenies, and won. He began to sell sleeve and cuff-buttons, for 25 and 50 cents each. Then he would give the purchasers their money back. He worked this racket on them for a while, losing enough to whet their cupidity, when he began to sell watches and chains, made of tin and brass highly polished. He sold them as fast as he could hand them out at one dollar each, and did not hand this money back, but got down and out of town as soon as possible. Monday night he beat the Smyrnians out of $50, and came near being mobbed, the police having to lock him up and protect him."

Preston Points.

In no year within the recollection of your correspondent, in which a Clerk of the Circuit Court is to be elected, has there been so little talk in this locality, as the present. For a week or two preceding "Reflex's" anti-bribery convention, there was some speculation in regard to the effect the action of that meeting would have upon the course of the two old political parties; but when it was learned that but little more than a half hundred persons took part in the meeting, and most of those were conspicuously conservative and guarded in their speeches, and the resolutions that were passed were of the usual rice-water variety, people hereabouts, at once come to the conclusion, that there was but little meat in the anti-bribery basket, and the boom had about petered out. There are, however, still a few men among us—honest, intelligent citizens, who declare with emphasis, that they will not again vote for men for any office who are willing to buy their elections, and who will contribute money to that end. They say "that men who buy votes are law breakers, and are, therefore, unfit to hold office;" and these men are a good deal more than half right when they say so.

In regard to the candidates for nomination for Clerk of the Court on the democratic ticket, it is difficult to determine whether Mr. Cook or Mr. Gadd has the greater number of adherents in this district. Both, or rather the friends of each respectively, claim the majority. Mr. Fields has some ardent supporters; but it is now quite probable that the delegation to the democratic county convention from this district, will go unpledged; and will follow the standard of a new Richmond, at the first favorable opportunity. By the way, it is whispered that there are already two Richmonds in the field, both of whom reside in the fourth district. It is only a rumor, however, and I cannot vouch for its correctness.

The Republicans are unusually quiet. They do not appear to discuss political matters, even among themselves. The torrid condition of the weather, may have some influence in keeping the talkers quiet. A staid and honest republican—one of the old-time fellows who never wavers nor flinches, no matter what the party does—asked your correspondent the other day, if the republicans intended to run a ticket this fall. Said he, "There are so many candidates on the democrat side. I thought, may be, the republicans would just get out of the way, and let 'em have the field all to themselves. Besides, I don't know any republicans that have the time to spare from their business, to be fooling with politics."

I told him I didn't know what the programme was, but I guessed we would be apt to find enough to fill the ticket when the time comes; and to the public I will say, who they will be the good Lord only knows. If there is a Republican in this district who wishes to be on the ticket this fall I don't know who he is.

The excessively hot and dry weather of last week began to tell unfavorably on the crops of corn in this immediate vicinity; but the copious shower on Sunday evening last has made that crop secure.

Lightning struck the dwelling of Wm. Friend on Sunday afternoon last, during the storm, tearing out one end, demolishing the chimney and killing Carrie Webb, wife of Thos. Webb, colored. Friend lives not far from Hog Island, and on Sunday quite a number of colored people were there on a visit. It is said that there were some 15 or 20 persons in the building when it was struck, and several were stunned, and some of them were covered with bricks, mortar and broken timber, but none seriously hurt except the unfortunate Carrie Webb. They were all badly frightened.

On the same day lightning struck Thos. Carmine's fence, along the road between Preston and Bethlehem and set it on fire. It was extinguished by the application of a bucket of water.

The storm on Sunday was the most severe of the season. The lightning flashes were appalling and the thunder was terrific.

How to Ship Peaches.

The Baltimore American gives this very sensible advice to shippers of fruit: "Although by no means inferior in quality, Maryland peaches have been at a disadvantage in the Western markets for some seasons, for no other reason than the unfavorable comparison they bear with the Delaware peaches in the matter of packing. Instead of using unattractive boxes, the Delaware growers pack their peaches in baskets covered with a few green peach leaves, with these leaves and the peaches secured by means of a tinted gauze fabric over the top of the basket. The attractive appearance of these peaches is at once noted at the market or fruit stand, whereas the same peaches, if packed in boxes, would secure no attention. Another advantage gained by packing in baskets is the fact that these baskets contain less peaches than boxes in which Maryland peaches are packed, and therefore many purchases are made by those who would not care to purchase double the quantity in a box. The cost of these baskets is trifling, and in their own interest Maryland peach growers should adopt their use, instead of boxes. These baskets can readily be loaded in cars especially fitted up for this purpose, and the peaches will find readier sale and bring proportionately higher prices than under the old plan."

A Smile.

Nothing on earth can smile but human beings. Gems may flash reflected light, but what is a diamond flash compared with an eye flash and a mirth-flash? A face that cannot smile is like a bud that cannot blossom, and dries up on the stalk. Laughter is day and sobriety is night, and a smile is the twilight that hovers between both, and more bewitching than either.

Camp Meeting.

TO THE PREACHERS WHO ARE ABOUT TO ATTEND CAMP MEETINGS—ALSO TO THE MANAGERS OF SAID CAMP MEETING.

BRETHREN:—Please read the resolutions on camp meeting addresses as recorded on page 40 of the printed minutes of 1879. The pith of said resolutions may be found in the following extracts:

WHEREAS, The managers of some of our camp meetings have desecrated these groves—temples of God's worship, and God's Holy Sabbath, by authorizing secular trading on the grounds, and on the Sabbath, by secular persons, charging large bonus for the privilege, in order to raise large sums of money to defray expenses, and licensing the sale of a variety of such commodities, such as confectioneries, fruits, ice cream, tobacco, cigars, &c., &c., contrary to the Divine law sanctifying the Sabbath, and not justifiable or excusable under any plea of necessity or mercy.

Resolved, 3rd. That we as members of this conference, and ministers of the gospel, will not, knowingly, give our presence or labors at any camp-meeting where such license is granted or such traffic is allowed by the managers. Nor will we consent to assist in the service at any camp-meeting not under proper pastoral superintendence and control.

I voted for the resolutions and propose to stand by them and will not attend any camp-meeting, if I know it, where the rules of the conference is ~~violated~~.

Shall I preach against steamboat managers landing and receiving freight and leaving port on Sunday, and call upon the grand jury to arrest them, and then wink at the conduct of men who profess godliness and then license the going to a place of worship on the Lord's day to sell goods, a thing that the State's law condemns and punishes? No. I will not.

T. O. AYERS.

Baltimore Markets.

WHEAT.—Fultz, good to prime, 94, 96; Longberry, 100x101.

CORN.—White, 57x57; yellow, 54x55.

OATS.—Maryland and Virginia, 35x38.

RYE.—Fair to prime samples are quoted at 65x67.

We All Like Sheep.

"We all like sheep," the tenors shrill
Begin, and then the church is still,
While back and forth across the aisle,
Is seen to pass the "catching" smile.

"We all like sheep," the altos moan
In low and rich and mellow tone,
While broader grows the merry grin
And nose gets further off from chin.

"We all like sheep," sopranos sing
Till all the echoes wake and ring;
The young folks titter, and the rest
Suppress the laugh in bursting chest.

"We all like sheep," the bassos growl—
The titter grows into a howl,
And e'en the deacon's face is graced
With wonder at the singers' taste.

"We all like sheep," runs the refrain,
And then, to make their meaning plain,
The singers altogether say,
"We all, like sheep, have gone astray."

Advice for the Heated Term.

During the hot weather great care should be taken to have the body in a good condition. People of certain habits are far more liable to be overcome by the heat than others who are reasonably temperate. The greatest sin, perhaps, is committed in drinking, though mistakes are made in eating. Lamb or mutton is the best meat for summer. All fats create heat. Fresh vegetables, properly cooked, and good fruit not too ripe are wholesome. However disagreeable it may be, the body is safest from an attack of sunstroke when it is wet with perspiration. It does no harm to drink plenty of water if not too cold when one is heated. Milk and iced tea are good, though the latter is a slight astringent. Some people find no inconvenience from drinking large quantities of ice water when warm. Water at a low temperature poured into most stomachs checks perspiration and impedes digestion. A better way is to chew small pieces of ice slowly. Surface application of cool water or a wet cloth is a good way to bring down the temperature of the blood. Frequent bathing, for the sake of cleanliness, if nothing more, is necessary in such weather as we have been having. A damp sponge or handkerchief worn under the hat is an excellent thing to ward off an attack. When one is sunstruck, prompt action is necessary. Lay the sufferer on his back and dash (not pour) cold water in the face, or, better, strip the clothing from the back and dash the water down the spinal column. The shock will restore vitality. Put cracked ice in a bag or handkerchief, and cover the head with it. The object is to drive the blood from the brain. Apply a bottle of ammonia to the nose. While these things are being done, send some one after the doctor.

Dover Fair Premiums.

A 68-piece decorated tea set is offered for the best quart jar of canned peaches, to be put up in Russell, Campbell & Co's "Lightning Jar" which will be furnished free of charge. For the best home-made dresses, Strawbridge & Clothier offer $50 in three premiums of $25, $15, and $10 each. Professional dressmakers cannot compete. The competitors must reside on the Peninsula; the dresses must be of cloth or silk and have been made since January 1st, 1885. The Brainerd & Armstrong Silk Co., offer four premiums: 1st, 600 skeins; 2nd, 500 skeins; 3rd, 400 skeins; 4th, 300 skeins of their embroidery silk for the best specimin of embroidery. The conditions are that no person shall take more than one premium, and that the embroidery shall be made entirely with Brainerd & Armstrong's embroidery silk.

Easton Mercantile Changes.

TWO OF THE PRINCIPAL WASHINGTON STREET FIRMS MAKE CHANGES.

The two mercantile firms of Walter H. Thompson & Co., and Jarrell, Nichols & Cox have consummated arrangements for changes which will take these firms, as such, out of business. Messrs. J. R. Jarrell and M. B. Nichols of the latter firm have bought out Walter H. Thompson & Co., and Mr. Benjamin Cox of the latter firm and Wm. G. Denny of the former have bought out Jarrell, Nichols & Cox. Thompson & Co., are now taking stock and the purchasers expect to take charge in a few days. The styles of the two firms will be Jarrell & Nichols and Cox & Denny. Mr. Thompson, after a long and honorable career as an Easton merchant will go out of business. The members of the two new firms are all young men, industrious and full of energy, with mercantile experience and of high reputation in business circles.—Ledger.

Business Locals.

No family can have good bread unless they use Drew's Yeast Powder.

As well expect life without air, as health without pure blood. Cleanse the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Facts are stubborn things," and sufferers from chills and fever generally find their complaint a very stubborn fact, until they commence the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. That medicine eradicates the noxious poison from the system, and invariably cures even the worst cases.

Deaths.

Dearest Neva,
Why should our tears in sorrow flow,
When God has called you home;
He bids you leave a world of woe,
For an eternal home?

HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian
HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.
