☞The Orphan's Court for Caroline county, will meet Tuesday, Aug. 11th.

County and Peninsula.

.....Farms for rent—Wm. S. Ridgley.

.....Oakland camp breaks to-morrow.

.....Concord camp commences to-morrow.

.....Farmers are now busily engaged plowing for wheat.

.....Barnum is in Delaware after the wheat and peach crop.

.....If men are so wicked with religion, what would they do without it.

.....Watermelons from this county are quite abundant in Easton market.

.....Fatal cases of dysintery are reported in the lower part of this county.

.....The heaviest rain fall of the season visited this section on Monday last.

.....It is rumored that "The Plains" farm is sold to Baltimore parties for $35,000.

.....Gentlemen, remember there is a hereafter when you give the size of your wheat crop.

.....Advertisements inserted in this paper hereafter at half-rates—and don't you forget it.

.....What a lovely thing it would be if everybody could get all squared up and run on a cash basis ever after.

.....The colored people will make an excursion down the river on the steamer Edgecombe on Saturday next.

.....This county has been visited with heavy thunder storms and they are worth thousands of dollars to our farmers.

.....The last trip of the steamers of the Old Dominion Steamship company between Lewes and New York was made on Saturday.

.....The excursion down the river on the steamer Edgecombe on Thursday last was very enjoyable to those of our citizens who partook.

.....The rain on Sunday and Sunday week broke the hot spell and cooled the parched earth. Grass fields were bare and the butter supply has been light.

.....Lightning struck the topmast of the schooner "Four Friends" lying at Denton wharf on Monday afternoon last and demolished about one-third of it.

.....The price paid by the Pennsylvania railroad for the D. M. & V., is reported to be $2,000,000, and that it was paid to keep the Baltimore & Ohio road from getting it.

.....FOR RENT.—The dwelling-house lately in the occupancy of E. W. Emerson is for rent for the remainder of the year 1885. For particulars apply at once at THIS OFFICE.

.....One of our ladies blames the warm weather to the Revised version, the revisers dispensing with hell,—since it has been closed the Devil has been working on the outside.—Exchange.

.....Henrietta Wroten, alias "Pink Eye," who died at Cambridge last Monday week, is supposed to have died from an overdose of opium. The coroner's investigation revealed large quantities of that drug in her stomach. She was 30 years of age.

.....The Preston base ball club played a match game with the "Jokers" of Bethlehem on the Bethlehem grounds on Friday last, but the game being delayed until a late hour was concluded at the ending of the eighth inning. The score stood 17 to 25 in favor of Preston.

.....President Warfield, of the Chester River Steamboat Company, has engaged the steamer Enterprise, and also the steamer Conoho, of the Roanoke Line, to assist the steamers Emma A. Ford and Corsica in carrying peaches to Baltimore from the Chester river.

.....Mr. John Straughn, of the late firm of Walter H. Thompson & Co., has accepted a position as traveling salesman for the firm of Hodges Bros., wholesale dealers and importers of notions, dress goods and cloaks, Baltimore. He left for his new vocation on Monday last.

.....Postmasters throughout the country have been notified that their offices are to be closed, by order of the Postmaster-General, from 1 until 5 o'clock on Saturday next, the day of Gen. Grant's funeral. As the mail arrives at this place at 12 noon it will only give our citizens a few moments to get their mail.

.....The summer schedule of the steamers Ida and Joppa has been received. The advertisement appears this week. Commencing with Saturday last, one of the boats will leave Baltimare every evening, except Sunday, at 9 P. M., for Denton and all other points. Returning, will leave Denton every day, except Saturday, at 12, noon, touching all points as usual.

.....A Mr. Mills, of Potter's Lauding, is engaged in a profitable business this season catching fish with hook and line at "Cat Hole," near that place. He had some very large rock and perch in this market on Saturday last, one rock which netted him 50 cents. He says he makes as high as $10 a day, and there being no outlay, must be a profitable business, besides the sport in catching them.

.....Norwood writes to the Journal: "There is a growing sentiment in certain localities in the lower part of the county that the candidate for clerk ought to come from this district. I have heard a number of very intelligent and shrewed Democarts remark, that if the Fourth district is given the clerk, none of the other aspirants can reasonably complain, and harmony in the party will prevail throughout the county; while such could not reasonably be expected if one of the two evenly matched claimants should be selected; besides, this district never having had a candidate for that lucrative place, she is, in justice, entitled to it. There is no lack of excellent clerk timber here, at any rate."

.....The Democratic county central committee met in this place on Tuesday last and selected Saturday, August 22d to elect delegates from each election district to meet in county convention the following Tuesday for the purpose of nominating a county ticket.

.....As the season for ripe peaches to come to market approaches the crop of this delicious fruit, is written by the growers and speculators, until one would hardly suppose there was more than one small orchard on the peninsula, and that the locust had stung one-half the trees in it. A few weeks ago at least half a crop was calculated on; now it is down to an eighth and even a tenth in some districts.

.....The rain of Sunday afternoon and Sunday week was worth many dollars to the farmers of this section, and was of especial benefit to the corn crop, which is about this time setting with ears. What one week ago appeared a very dreary outlook for those engaged in farming has greatly brightened and better weather and better prospects is now looked forward to for the balance of the season.

.....And now that Oakland camp is in progress we may expect to have it more seasonable. A heavy rain-storm visited that section on Sunday last, which not only laid the dust, but also the dusters. We were told it rained so hard that a man was found after the shower in an open dearborn, who had taken too much "side walk," floating around in his dearborn body. My! what a "soaking"—inside and out.

.....Farmers had begun to fear that the continued dry weather would cause serious damage to growing crops Corn, especially, was losing its healthy color, the blades were piped and the earth about the roots was packed and without sufficient moisture. But the refreshing rain has caused it to regain its color, and with plenty of rain during this, the "earing season," the grain will mature well, and the prospects for a fair crop are good.

.....The Lancaster (Pa.) New Era gets off the following: "A subscriber to the New Era, in paying his subscription the other day, remarked that he found it much cheaper to pay for his paper in advance than at the end of the year. In answer to a query, he gave as a reason that when paid in advance he has always something new for his money, but to do so at the end of the year was like paying for worn-out clothes—there were none of the pleasures of anticipation in the transaction."

.....It is reported that much excitement prevails at Preston, in the lower part of this county, over the attempted assault which was recently made on a 14-year-old girl named Cullison by John Wheatly, a colored boy. Threats of lynching are freely indulged in. He has, in the meantime, made his way up the peninsula, crossed the line into Pennsylvania, and is now supposed to be in Germantown. He will be arrested if he can be found, and a requisition will be obtained from Governor Pattison for his removal to this state.

My, My, My!

A man who does not live a thousand miles from Smyrna, tells the following story for a fact. When he was considerably younger than he is now, in walking home one cold day he picked up what he supposed to be a stick, and used it as a cane. Upon reaching home he placed his stick near an open fireplae, and in a few minutes, having occasion to turn round he found that the supposed stick had become thawed out, and developed into a hideous blacksnake.—Record.

To Weigh a Letter.

A silver dollar weighs very nearly an ounce. Hence any letter not heavier than the dollar can go for a single two-cent stamp. This is easily remembered. If you want to be more exact, take a silver dollar and a silver five-cent piece, and you have an ounce almost to a feather's weight. Provided you haven't the silver dollar handy, take two halves, or if you have nickles only, five of them and a small copper cent will give you nearly an ounce. As ninety-nine letters out of a hundred will fall within the ounce weight, this simple system will serve for general use.

Marydel Races.

The races at Marydel July 31st was a disappointment to everybody. Seven of the fastest horses entered did not start, and the managers were compelled to split up and change the remaining horses from one class to another so as to make it as interesting as possible for the spectators of which there were about 150.

Without a Newspaper.

Once upon a time a certain man got mad with the editor and stopped his paper. The next week he sold his corn at four cents below the market price. Then his property was sold for taxes, because he didn't read the sheriff's sale. He was arrested and fined $8 for going hunting on Sunday, simply because he didn't know it was Sunday, and he paid $3 for a lot of forged notes that had been advertised two weeks and the public cautioned not to negotiate for them. He then paid a big Irishman with a foot like a forge hammer, to kick him all the way to the newspaper office, where he paid four year's subscription in advance, and had the editor sign an agreement to knock him down and rob him if he ever ordered his paper stopped again. Such is life without a newspaper.

A Rape Case.

Wednesday morning 'Squire Jester heard the case of the State vs. Archie Cudney, who was charged with committing rape upon Sarah Buckson, daughter of Capt. John Buckson. Sarah lives with her parents in the village of Leipsic, in this county, and is about 18 years of age; she bears an excellent character, and no young person in the village stands better. Cudney, who is about 21 years old, lives with his father about four miles west of Leipsic, near Moorton. He has been visiting Sarah for some time, and occasionally took her out riding. On Monday evening he visited her, and it being a bright moonligt night, he invited her to ride, and she consented. They started as if coming to Dover, but when about two miles from Leipsic, where the roads fork, instead of bearing to the left he kept straight on past a small tenant house and alongside of a woods. Here he made an improper proposal to her, which she resented. Then he threw the lap-robe out, and jumping out himself he pulled her out, and throwing her on the ground accomplished his purpose. The girl immediately upon arriving home told her mother. Dr. Chapman, who was called in, found her in a critical condition. Cudney is a strong, athletic young man, used to laboring on the farm every day. When arrested he was running a threshing machine near Moorton. The Sheriff was obliging, although it was a capital case, and let the young man be brought to Dover by his father. The 'Squire committed him to await the action of the Grand Jury. Counsel for Cudney tried his best to shake the girl's testimony, but she gave it in a straightforward manner, showing that she was honest. This was followed by the physician's testimony. The girl acknowledged that she loved Cudney, and it was in that light that she accepted his visits. Cudney's counsel is making an effort to get another hearing, and to have the Attorney-General present. The young man's father realizes the position in which his son has placed himself, and took it hard when he was taken to jail.

The law in cases of this kind is severe, as it ought to be; especially when such designs are accomplished under the guise of friendship.—Dover Sentinel.

Peaches, Pears and Grapes.

There will be a larger supply of peaches this week than during any previous week this season, and they will be of much better quality. Nearly all the very early varieties have been gathered and shipped from the Delaware Peninsula already, and the Hales yet to come are those which have been permitted to remain on the trees to ripen naturally. Consequently they will be in much better condition for eating. The Troth Early will come quite abundantly from Lower Maryland and Sussex county, Delaware. This peach is usually very small even smaller than the Hale Early, but it breaks freely from the pit, is highly colored, and quite dry. They are excellent "shipping" fruit and will not decay for several days after they are ripe enough to eat. The color of the Troths is a bright red, and it requires but very little experience to be able to know them at a glance. A great many refuse to buy them because they are so small, but those who know their merits never make that mistake. It will probably be a week or more before there will be any Early Yorks from Maryland, but there will be a few from Virginia. It is probable that good peaches will sell this week for upward of $1.50 per bushel, although the market will be well supplied with prematurely ripened fruit from New Jersey and the few Hale Early grown in Upper Delaware and Maryland.—N. Y. Times.

Lightning's Work.

The recent thunder storm has proved disastrous in some portions of Delaware as well as Maryland, as will be seen in the following paragraphs: During the storm of Sunday several buildings at Harrington were struck by lightning, but no persons were injured. A hog was killed in its pen at that place.

At Rehobeth it was quite severe, and the flashing of lightning and the roaring of thunder was quite alarming. The Morton Poole cottage was struck with lightning, but fortunately was only slightly damaged. The rain was, however, very acceptable as it laid the dust and reduced temperature, which was becoming very oppressive, even at the seashore.

At Laurel the steeple of the Episcopal Church was struck and badly shattered. Fortunately the body of the church was but slightly injured, and the damage to the tower and steeple will not exceed $300.

At Odessa a bolt struck the barracks on the farm of Harry Rogers, in the eastern part of the village, and totally destroyed it together with its contents, which included about 1,000 bushels of wheat just harvested. The grain belonged to Mr. Rogers and the tenant of the farm, Michael Keegan.

During the storm a bolt struck an unoccupied tenant house, at Miles Mills, in Cedar Neck, Sussex county, and razed it to the ground.

Pear Cider.

Pear cider appears to be the principal cause of the failure of "local option" over in Cecil, and if innocent cider had been legislated out of the way, temperance, law and order would reign supreme in her borders.

Over here in Harford, we don't have pear cider in the way of temperance reform; but the natural or acquired love for the "critter" is what plays the deuce, and makes "local option" a failure here. If the Legislature can be induced to provide new palates, of different patterns, for our people, we have no doubt we can make "local option" go here. If Cecil gets rid of her pear cider, and we get up new tastes, we will shake hands across the bright Susquehanna, in congratulation of the banishment of rum, and the undisputed reign of temperance.—Havre de Grace Republican.

Dots for the Times.

To jingle a rhyme,
To tell of the times;
To be without a dime.
Well, 'tis now a crime.

Don't you hear that man holler.
T'other got the mighty dollar;
Great and mighty is his fame.
Poor! yes, durn you, you're to blame.

Yes, water the stock with a watering pot,
Fire them in piping hot;
With it we'll sheer the lambs,
And keep the cash as tight as clams.

Bargain close, it makes the cash,
'Tis no sin to eat much hash;
Cash will make you great,
And you can laugh at fate.

When dead they'll bury you in style and pomp,
The maw-worm then around you'll romp—
Just the same as a carcass poor,
And be forgotten just as sure.

—PARGETTER.

Voices of the Night.

When bed-time comes, and curtains fall,
And round I go the doors to lock,
Ere lamps go out my wife doth call,
"Remember, dear, to wind the clock."

When boots are off, and for the day
All irksome cares seem put to rout,
I hear wife's voice from dreamland say,
"Be sure you put the kitten out."

When stretched between the sheets I lie,
And heavy lids have ceased to wink,
From trundle-bed there comes a cry,
"I want a dwink! I want a dwink!"

Why Did They Not Do It.

If those having Gen. Grant's funeral in charge had arranged to bring the body down the Hudson river on a steamboat, instead of by the Hudson River Railroad, every boat on the river between Troy and New York might have united in the procession, presenting one of the most imposing sights ever witnessed in the world. The procession of boats would have been miles long, and would have presented a mournful picture, their rigging all draped in black and their flags at half mast, with both shores lined with thousands of people with their hats off, as the funeral steamer passed, to show their profound respect for the great Union general. The entry into New York harbor, where all the shipping there would have received the procession with flags at half mast, would have presented a spectacle never to be forgotten—something the now sailor boys might recite to their grandchildren a half century hence, together with Gen. Grant's remarkable career as the saviour of the Union.

General Grant's Birthplace.

Michael Herat, Jr., the present owner of the house at Point Pleasant, Ohio, in which General Grant was born, says he would naturally prefer to have the house remain where it is, but if a sufficient sum is offered he will let the house go elsewhere. He has already begun selling window-catches at five dollars each and splinters from the weather-boarding at remunerative figures, and as long as the hardware shops maintain their supplies and the forests of the great Northwest hold out the stock of window-catches and splinters should be practically inexhaustible. Under such circumstances the birthplace of a great man is like the widow's cruse, an enduring source of sustenance.

The Fishing Trouble.

The fishing trouble between New Jersey and Delaware, promises to rival the oyster war on the Chesapeake Bay, between Maryland and Virginia. A fishing steamer from Lewes was fired upon from the Jersey shore near Cape May last week, and the rifle balls struck her in several places. The steamers will now carry arms, and will return such greetings with interest.

The curative power of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is too well known to require the specious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of its marvelous cures are to-day living in every city and hamlet of the land. Write for names if you want home evidence.

The most deadly foe to all malarial diseases is Ayer's Ague Cure, a combination of vegetable ingredients only, of which the most valuable is used in no other known preparation. This remedy is an absolute and certain specific, and succeeds when all other medicines fail. A cure is warranted.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers.

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro."
Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numberless instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our house, and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable.

A. T. HAYES."
Mexia, Texas, June 17, 1882.

The REV. FRANCIS E. HARLOWE, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking AYER'S PILLS. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.
