THURSDAY, Sept. 3, 1885.

☞The Orphan's Court for Caroline county, will meet Tuesday, Sept. 8th.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

The Republicans of Caroline county will hold primary meetings in the respective districts, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock, P. M., on SATURDAY, September 19th,

to select seven delegates from each district to meet in county convention to be held in Masonic Hall at Denton, at 12 o'clock, M., on TUESDAY, Sept. 22d, 1885.

The duties of said convention will be to select three delegates to represent Caroline county in the State Convention to meet in Baltimore September 24th, to nominate a candidate for Comptroller of the Treasury, and a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Also to nominate a county ticket. By order of the State and County Central Committees :

R. J. W. GAREY,
CHAS. H. TODD,
THOS. B. CURRY,
State Central Committee.

JAS. E. HIGNUTT,
Chairman County Cen. Com.

County and Peninsula.

·····Jack frost is about to make his appearance.

·····Blade pulling has begun with most of our farmers.

·····Interesting points from "Norwood" in another column.

·····Thanks to Mr. "Scribo"—let us hear from you again.

·····Look out for the oyster; September brings him along.

·····The public schools of this county will be opened Monday week, Sept. 14th.

·····Mr. J. H. Davis, of Federalsburg, lost a very valuable horse on Saturday last.

·····Sullivan won the laurels in his pugilistic contest with McCaffrey on Saturday last.

·····The County Commissioners will meet at their office in Denton on Tuesday, September 15th.

·····Little Creek, Del., boasts of a somambulistic kleptomamiac in the form of a ten year old little girl.

·····Mr. Geo. W. Raughley has four acres of peaches for which he had offered him $1,000, and refused the same.

·····Query? What has become of the anti-bribery resolutions which were presented to the Democratic convention?

·····Jos. R. Stewart, of Hillsborough, while hauling his seine for fish, caught a fresh herring on Saturday last. Next.

·····Mr. Wm. Loockerman, of Concord, has announced himself an independent, anti-bribery candidate for Register of Wills.

·····Those who wish to find out what is the proper time to dance should hear Rev. T. O. Ayres Sunday evening next at the M. E. Church.

·····The temporary Swedenborganism of Rev. John E. Smith, which caused some comment last Spring, has apparently exploded and he has gone to work on his corn-cutting machine.

·····Mr. Henry Cade had on exhibition at J. A. Trazzare's store a few days ago the largest watermelon of the season. It weighed 45 pounds, and measured 3 feet and 3 inches in circumference.

·····Armsted Williams' oyster saloon was opened on Wednesday last, and now our citizens can be accommodated, both town and country, in any style they desire. Families furnished on application.

·····A festival in aid of the library fund of Sheppard's M. E. Sabbath school will be held in Horsey's (Chilton's) woods on Saturday, September 19th, from 1 P. M. to 9 P. M. Music and speaking will enliven the occasion.

·····Mr. Wm. A. Stewart has purchased the Porter farm on the new road from Denton to Hobbs' corner for the sum of $2,250, and will take possession on January 1st next. We wish him success in his agricultural pursuits.

·····New postal cards will soon be issued by the post office department, which will be an improvement on the old ones, both in material and in appearance; but the curiosity of female clerks will not be diminished in the slightest degree.

·····Mr. W. P. Flowers has leased the large store-room in the Masonic building in which he will handle choice brands of tobacco, cigars, &c. His long experience in this line in Baltimore city renders him competent, and we predict a success.

·····The Episcopal church now nearing completion at Cambridge, is said to be the handsomest one on the shore. Several years have been exhausted in its erection, and great credit is reflected upon the town, builders and all persons interested.

·····Sheriff Stevens has summering with him only two guests; Thos. Cephas who was charged last week with assault with intent to kill, and committed by 'Squire Dixon for action of the grand jury, and a young man convicted at Marydel for stealing a pair of boots.

·····An Indian battle-axe was found last week in Tuckahoe Neck, near the banks of the creek. It is on exhibition at Evitts & Holbrook's hardware store, and is pronounced to be the most perfect and the largest one ever seen in this community. It is shaped well, is as smooth as glass, and weighs 4½ lbs.

·····Rev. J. H. Caldwell, D. D., has removed to Newark, Del., with his family in order to take charge of his duties in connection with Delaware college. We predict that the Doctor will elevate the standing of the worthy institution. With his withdrawal from labor in the Wilmington conference, it loses a deep, logical and truly eloquent minister.

·····We learn from one of our exchanges that females will be admitted into the higher departments of the Cambridge Academy. This will be delightful to the boys and shows great wisdom on the part of the trustees. The present age teaches that many of the fair sex have the capacity to rise to the highest summit of intellectual acquirements.

·····We have heard of a great many big eaters, but the one a gentleman told us of the other day at the hotel takes the cake. The champion resides near Ingleside, Md., and is reported to have put himself on the outside of the following in one meal: One large ham, three fat hens, twenty-five cups of strong coffee, ten ears last year's corn, two bundles of blades, and then asked for more. Who can beat it?

·····Mr. Wilson R. Boyd, manager of the Equitable Mutual Relief Society, of Massachusetts, is in town and will remain a week or ten days for the purpose of obtaining members for his society. The plan of operation is so different from other companies that it will be well for persons to give it consideration. This is the only company, doing business in Maryland, which is guaranteed by the Treasurer of the State.

·····Quite a serious assault and battery case is reported from American Corner, near Concord, in which a laboring man named Asbury Wright had his head very badly cut. Asbury thinking himself aggrieved, came to Denton and soon had a writ out for the arrest of Mr. B. W. Parker. Mr. Parker elected to be tried by a jury, and having given bond for his appearance at Court, in turn had Asbury arrested under charges of drunkenness and swearing.

·····Lloyd's Union Hotel, cor. of Pratt & Charles Sts., Baltimore, Md., has been rebuilt with the addition of another story since the fire, and is now a first-class hotel in every respect. This hotel is run on the European plan—rooms 50 cents; meals 25 cents, or $1 per day. Our citizens when visiting Baltimore will find it to their advantage to stop at this hotel, as they will find that Mr. Lloyd and lady leaves nothing undone for the comfort and pleasure of their guests. See advertisement in another column.

The Postoffice Change.

A change in postmaster for Denton having been made, the new incumbent, Mr. Thos. Melvin, has rented the office lately occupied by Wm. A. Stewart, Esq. He proposes to immediately put in a sufficient number of modern boxes, with locks attached to many of them, for the better accommodation of the people. After a little more experience with the rules and regulations of "Uncle Sam," all will be harmonious and the public generally satisfied.

Past Recollections.

The citizens of Preston and vicinity had the pleasure of listening to Rev. Edward Davis from the pulpit of Bethesda M. E Church. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Davis owned and occupied the farm now in possession of ex-sheriff Wm. Noble, and was engaged in farming, but was a leading spirit in all church work. He was a licensed local preacher and often filled the pulpits of neighboring churches. It has been eighteen years since the reverend gentleman preached at Preston, and he was listened to with marked attention, and both his discourses were able and entertaining efforts.

Sad Railroad Accident.

Martin Hubbard, a brakeman on the Delaware and Chesapeake Railroad, was killed at Kirby's crossing, near Easton, on Thursday afternoon last by the down freight train. He was sitting on the top of a freight car, when one of the head cars ran from the track and threw him off, the car falling from the track upon him, and completely crushing him. He was fearfully mangled, dying almost instantly. He leaves a wife and several small children in needy circumstances. Two of the freight cars and one coal car were completely wrecked. A wrecking train was telegraphed for, and came down and cleared the track of the debris. The 3:38 train bound north, was delayed about two hours.

Mr. Hubbard was a sober, industrious man, and well and favorably known in this county.

The Republican Meeting.

Pursuant to a call of the State Central Committee, quite a large number of the leading and influential Republicans met in the court-house on Tuesday last. The meeting was called to order by Col. R. J. W. Garey, and Mr. G. W. Ernst was unanimously called to the chair, with Dr A. Stafford and Jas. N. Todd as Secretaries. Mr. Ernst, in taking the chair, very briefly and clearly presented the purpose of the meeting

After the transaction of routine and other business pertaining to the interests of the party, it was ordered that the Republicans of the county meet at their several voting places on Saturday, September 19th, to elect seven delegates to meet in county convention to nominate a county ticket, and also to elect three delegates to the State Convention to be held in Baltimore on September 24th next.

Motion was then made and carried to appoint a committee of six in each election precinct to look after proper registration, etc.; and, in accordance therewith, the several committees were appointed, and will be officially notified. At this point quite a lively discussion arose over a matter of interest to Republicans, in which Messrs. Chas. H. Todd, J. H. Emerson, Wesley Stack and others took part.

The meeting was altogether pleasant and harmonious, and will tend to a better understanding and organization of the party. See call in another column.

Dashes from Federalsburg.

MR. EDITOR :—Presuming that in fixing yourself in the editorial chair you accept all the annoyance and vexations incident thereto, I venture to send you a short note from this point, as a sort of initiation into the disagreeable things that are to come upon you in your new position to distract your mind, furrow your brow, whiten your hair, and speedily change you into an old bald-headed editor.

The most exciting primary ever known in this district was the one recently held by the Democrats. A combination was formed against Mr. Fields, and it is currently reported in town that this combination had at its command three hundred and fifty dollars and ten gallons of whiskey; both money and whiskey received from Denton. Whether this be true, or who sent it, this deponent knoweth not; but it is known that liberal prices were paid for votes. The avowed object of this combination against Mr. Fields was to crush the bad element in the party, and teach it that it could not control. The sequel showed that Mr. Fields came out considerably ahead with his delegation, to the disappointment of the purifying combination;—an instance of the "crusher crushed."

Democrats here freely express their contempt for the manner in which the recent nominating convention in Denton was managed by a few, and at the intrigue by which the nomination for clerk of the circuit court was effected. Your correspondent has heard life-long democrats of the strongest type, publicly declare that they will vote the Republican ticket straight, at the approaching election, and they are men too, who do not say one thing and mean something else.

Some Democrats in the county are exceedingly anxious that one party or the other should embrace the anti-bribery movement, but we have observed that they are anxious that the party—to do this should not be the Democratic party, but the other party—then how they would laugh at the poor deluded Republicans!

Whenever, Mr. Editor, an anti-bribery movement shall have for its champion and leaders men whose record will give to it shape, and a hope that its aim may be an accomplished fact, we shall most certainly give to its support our voice and vote; but, sir, we verily believe that under existing circumstances, for the Republican party of Caroline to form an alliance with this movement at this time, would be unwise, rash, and a most damaging experiment. We regard the movement with suspicion—as a Democratic trick. We may be mistaken.

The close of the camping season and the cool weather have brought our people back to their normal condition—and to the town.

The heart of the farmer hereabouts is gladdened by the prospect of an abundant corn crop.

On Monday night of last week at the colored camp, near this place, parts of fifteen different suits of harness were stolen.

Mr. J. W. Brown recently returned from a trip North, having visited Niagara and other places.

W. J. Davis and family are off for a visit to Rev. R. W. Todd, Snow Hill, and to Ocean City.

R. C. Harris and family have made a ten days stay at the seaside.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, that your editorial chair, your editorial column, and your editorial pocket may be always well filled, we remain yours, &c.. SCRIBO.

Preston Points.

There must be something in the soil or climate, or both, in this locality conducive to longevity. With a radius of four miles, this village being the centre, there are nineteen persons living who are seventy years old and over; and several in this band of patriarchs have reached and stepped beyond four score. The oldest man in the county—Curtis Towers—resides within about three miles of this place. He claims to be in his ninety-fifth year. One of his grandsons is the democratic candidate for County Treasurer, and in all human probability another grandson will be the Republican candidate for the same office—that is, if the republicans conclude to make a ticket.

The local politicians of the democratic faith do not appear to be very jubilant over the work of the recent democratic county convention. Of course, they do not swear over it much in the presence of republicans, and especially republicans that take notes, but they wear sort of sackcloth and ashes countenances. The delegation from this district were a good deal like a couple of gentlemen who went from Preston to Easton to fit themselves out, each with a new suit of clothes. Upon their arrival in Easton they fell in with some convivial friends, and two hours afterward, made their purchases. When they reached home and examined their bundles, they found that each had six yards of "swiss." They didn't care to talk about their new clothes for some time. Some of the delegates were dreaming of a possible candidate for clerk, and a smart chance for other plunder, and found when they got home, they had six yards of "swiss," in the shape of the candidate for county treasurer.

Fodder saving is upon us with all its rush and hurry. Labor is scarce, or if not scarce, laborers demand high wages. One dollar per day is what hands are asking; with a crop of peaches to ship, and fodder to save, farmers are compelled to pay it.

The peach crop in this neighborhood will bring considerable money to this part of the county—and not before it was badly needed. The orchards of J. R. Wright, E. T. Moore and J. B. Fletcher will yield perhaps more than averags crops.

E. L. Pritchett will soon have completed a tasty little dwelling near A. W. Sisk's. Walter M. Wright, who has been travelling for the Osborne Reaper for the last two months, returned home a few days ago, wearing a healthy look.

—NORWOOD.

How They Had Him.

When I was young and tender, too,
I had to mind and had to do
Whatever mother bade me;
She used to have a walnut stick
Which kept me on the double-quick,
And that was where she had me.

When older grown, and quite a beau
Among the girls, I used to know
A Miss Priscilla Cadmy;
And with the help of smiles and nods,
I fell in love at forty rods,
And there was where she had me.

When I was older, say sixteen,
I thought it time to have a queen,
And asked her if she'd wed me;
She said she didn't much object,
Or words of something to that effect,
And there was where she had me.

But when, to make the matter straight,
I went up to negotiate
Affairs with Colonel Cadmy,
He said he "didn't care to sell,"
And told me I might go to—well,
And that was where he had me.

I drowned my sorrow in the cup
Until I got my dander up—
I couldn't have been madder—
When we proposed that we be one
In spite of pa—it was agreed upon,
And that was where I had her.
