Egg Pie.—Make two very thin cakes of Indian meal, flour and soda, just as for cornbread, and wet it with sour milk, and bake them in a quick oven. Make a gravy of one teaspoonful of butter, the same of flour, a cup of milk and salt and pepper. When it is boiling drop in cold, sliced, hard-boiled eggs; leave them in long enough to heat, but don't let them boil up or they will fall to pieces. Butter one of the hot Indian cakes, lay it in a round pan or dish, pour on the gravy and eggs, and lay on the other cake, buttering it on the top and sprinkling on pepper and salt.

Apple Cake.—Two cups of powdered sugar, a half cup of butter creamed with the sugar, whites of six eggs whipped stiff, a half cup of corn starch, half a cup of sweet milk, three cups of prepared flour. Bake in jelly tins. Make the following dressing and spread between the layers: Yolks of two beaten eggs, a cup of sugar, three medium-sized, tart apples, grated; one lemon, juice and half the grated rind. Beat the sugar and yolks together, add the lemon and grate the freshly-peeled apples directly into this mixture. Set in a dish of boiling water over the fire, stirring until at the boiling point. Do not use until cold.

Cold-slaw With Dressing.—A small head of white cabbage cut off very fine, a cup of milk, two thirds of a cup of vinegar, a tablespoonful of butter, same of white sugar, two beaten eggs, pepper and salt to fancy and a teaspoonful of essence of celery if you have it. Put the vinegar and milk on to heat in separate dishes, add the seasoning, butter and sugar to the hot vinegar, put the cabbage into the hot vinegar, heat to a boil and at once remove and turn out into a bowl. Add the beaten eggs to the hot milk, cook until it thickens, pour over the cabbage, toss up with a fork, cover and set in a cool place. Serve cold.

If these directions are carried out faithfully, the horse will begin to improve at once and soon appear like another animal. For the small worms found in the rectum, get six quarts of raw linseed oil, to which add three ounces of spirits of turpentine, and stir thoroughly until well mixed. Inject one pint of this into the rectum every night for six nights, using a common rubber bulb syringe if no other is handy. Omit the injections one week, then repeat for six nights, and no more trouble will be experienced from small worms. Give the powders recommended above, which will put him in condition for recovering flesh and strength rapidly.

Farm and Garden Notes.

A good wheat crop cannot be grown on poor and hard, cloddy ground.

The fodder corn will make more and better feed, when it is not too thick.

Speak to a horse as you would to a gentleman, but to a milch cow, as a gentleman would to a lady.

For cleansing milk cans, pans, wooden utensils, etc., nothing equals steam, and nothing is more convenient.

Most farmers believe that the seed ought to be removed from pumpkins before the latter are fed to milch cows.

The impression is growing that seed corn should be changed every four years, or at least new kinds mixed with the local sorts.

At the agricultural school of St. Remy two cows were fed on the same food, but one was supplied with cold water, and the other heated to 113 degrees fahrenheit. The latter yielded one-third more milk.

An old gardener says that a sure sign to find out if plants in pots need wetting is to rap on the side of the pot, near the middle, with the finger knuckle; if it give forth a hollow ring, the plant needs water, but if there is a dull sound there ...ill moisture enough to sustain the ...

He says that this will kill not only ... insects, but their eggs.

A correspondent in Home and Farm, says: Equal parts of powdered borax, Persian insect powder and powdered colocynth, well mixed together and thrown about such spots as are infested with troublesome insects, will prove an effectual means of getting rid of this scourge. This powder, in all cases where its use has been persistent, has by long experience been found infallible.

Farmers who have been in the habit of drawing potato vines to their barnyard to be worked up into manure had better omit the practice this year, especially in places where the potato rot has been prevalent. The rot is undoubtedly produced by a fungus growth which originates in the leaf, and carrying this to the manure heap is the most certain mode of spreading it over the farm.

Producing a crop is a necessity where fertility exists. If not a valuable crop it will be one of weeds, whose seeds are always present and ready to germinate when opportunity offers. If left unplowed the land should be so heavily seeded with clover as to prevent weed growth as much as possible. When most farmers talk of giving their land a rest they mean a rest themselves from the labor of tilling it.

Some wide-awake apiarist has discovered that old queen bees, like old hens, are not profitable, and for the same reason, viz.: that they do not lay so many eggs. There was perhaps sound sense in the old-fashioned plan of destroying the old colonies after two or three years and keeping only the new swarms. But perhaps we can now rejuvenate old swarms by introducing young queens. If so, it will be an important point gained in bee culture.

There is probably no kind of fruit better adapted to a hen yard than the plum. And the difficulty of growing this fruit, because of curculio attacks, is so far obviated by a flock of hens that combining the two is an advantage to both. A farmer who had a plum orchard from which the fruit regularly fell before ripe, never succeeded in getting a crop until he transferred his hens to this plot and kept them there until the plums were ripe. The fowls needed less food than when kept in close quarters and gave better returns.

Recipes.

Hominy Croquettes.—To one quart of boiling water add a teaspoonful of salt; stir in gradually a heaping half-pint of the finest hominy; boil three-quarters of an hour, and put it on the back of the range where it will remain hot an hour longer; then put in a large bowl and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, mix thoroughly and when cold shape into cones; dip the cones in beaten egg, roll in crumbs and fry in boiling fat.—Cook.

Cranberry Sauce.—Pick over and wash the cranberries, and put in the preserving kettle, with half a pint of water

A CLEVER DECEPTION.

How Twenty-Four Soldiers Outwitted their Sergeant.

An exchange tells this story of a French sergeant to whom was intrusted the oversight of twenty-four soldiers, and who, doubtless, had a chance to find out for himself the truth of Longfellow's statement that "things are not what they seem."

In the building which the soldiers were to occupy there were nine rooms, so he arranged his men in the following manner, taking care to keep the center room to himself, so that he could thus manage a sort of a warlike "puss in the corner":

3	3	3

By this disposition of his men, the brave sergeant had nine stationed on each face of the building, and so flattered himself that it was guarded. By and by the soldiers grew tired, and not seeing any signs of danger, they knocked at the door of the center room, and asked permission to alter the arrangement, so that they might have a little amusement.

The sergeant gave consent on condition that there should be always nine men on each side of the house, and then retired to rest.

About an hour afterward he went his rounds, and found the men arranged thus:

He counted carefully. There were nine on each side, so he went to bed again, quite satisfied with the conduct of his men, and little imagining that four soldiers had gone for a walk in the town, as you may see if you count the numbers in the plan adjoining.

Not long afterward the truants returned, bringing with them four friends. There were now twenty-eight men in the building. For the second time the sergeant went his rounds and found the rooms occupied as follows:

"Nine on each side," he thought, "certainly I am a lucky fellow to have such a trustworthy set of men under me." And yet there were four more soldiers than there were at first, and eight more than when he last went round. Truly, "things are not what they seem."

Soon after the sergeant had retired, four more fresh soldiers came in, so the number of the detachment was increased to thirty-two. Once more the vigilant sergeant went round. Once more he found nine on each side, and went back to his room without suspecting mischief.

Why should he be doubtful when there were always nine men on each side?

By and by four more men came in, and the number in the building was raised to thirty-six. The men were at first afraid that they would be found out, but after a little while they managed to arrange themselves so that the magic number should still be found on each side—neither more nor less.

1	7	1

And so for the fourth time the sergeant counted, and was satisfied.

Made bold by their success in puzzling their leader, the men agreed that half should leave the building, only eighteen remaining behind. While they were gone the sergeant came round for the last time and found the arrangement as follows:

What more could a man wish? There were nine on each side, and yet there were six men less than at first, and eighteen less than when he last went round.

It is easy to explain how the sergeant was deceived. The corner rooms are counted on both sides of the house at once. The more there are in these rooms, the fewer there are in the whole building, and the fewer there are in the corner rooms the more there are in the house.

Hot Milk as a Revivifier.

The Medical Record says: No one who, fatigued with over-exertion of the body or mind, has ever experienced the reviving influence of a tumblerful of milk heated as hot as it can be sipped, will willingly forego to resort to it because of its being rendered somewhat less acceptable to the palate. The promptness with which its influence is felt is indeed surprising.

Legitimate Bribery.

When calling on the damsel of your choice—
 Having concluded you cannot resist her—
Be sure to take along a large invoice
 Of bribing candy for her little sister.
These little things are most ubiquitous—
 Excuse the word, but that's a solemn fact—
And you'll remember all your words iniquitous
 When, kissing sister, she beheld the act.
—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A Practical Joke.

It is related of Sothern, the famous actor, that his fondness for practical joking was almost unparalleled. On one occasion, it is related, he gave a dinner party to about a dozen gentlemen, of whom one, designated as Thompson, was late. The others had just sat down to his soup, when a loud ring announced the arrival of the late Mr. Thompson. Sothern hastily exclaimed:

"Let us all get under the table. Fancy Thompson's surprise, when he beholds a long table devoid of guests."

Sothern's love of practical joking was well known, so that the company were not astonished at the odd proposition, and in a couple of seconds every man was concealed from view beneath the table. Sothern made a half dive, merely to hoodwink his unsuspecting guests and lead them to suppose he intended to join them under the mahogany, then resumed his place at the head of the table. Thompson entered, stared at his host for a moment, and then exclaimed:

"Hello! where are all the fellows? I thought I would surely be the last man to-day."

Sothern shook his head in a lugubrious fashion, and in melancholy tones replied:

"I can't explain it, my dear fellow, but the moment they heard your name they all got under the table."

The expression on the faces of the hoaxed guests as they slowly emerged, one by one, from their concealment, can be better imagined than described. Sothern looked the picture of innocence.

Premature Deaths.

Strong men lose their lives by imprudent acts, while the weak, compelled to take care of themselves, often live to old age. Few men live as long as they should, because few abstain from violating some law of health. The late Dr. Mariom Sims, the founder of the Woman's Hospital in New York, said that most men die prematurely, even when they die of old age.

Among these premature deaths he mentions that of Peter Cooper, who imprudently exposed himself at the age of ninety-three, took cold, and died of pneumonia. Capt. Labouche, who died a few years ago in New York, at the age of one hundred and eleven, also died from a cold caused by imprudent exposure.

Dr. Sims says his own father died prematurely, at the age of seventy-eight, because he did what he ought not to have done. One hot day in July, he rode thirty miles in the saddle. Having stabled his horse, he began chopping wood. Suddenly the axe dropped from his hands, and he was paralyzed. The long ride in the sun had over-heated and fatigued his body. The violent chopping overtaxed heart and lungs, and threw the blood too forcibly to the brain. A blood-vessel in the brain gave way, letting out the blood, which, forming a clot, produced paralysis.

"As all this occurred as the result of an imprudent and unnecessary act," says Dr. Sims, "I am justified in saying that father died prematurely at the age of seventy-eight; for I am sure that without this he would have lived to be ninety-five, as his grandfather did before him."

The strength of the strong is often their weakness, while the feebleness of the weak is their strength.

How to Treat Sudden Wounds.

In a recent lecture Dr. L. Woodbridge on the subject "What to do in case of a sudden wound when a surgeon is not at hand," said in part:

"An inexperienced person would naturally close the lips of the wound as quickly as possible and apply a bandage. If the wound is bleeding freely, but no artery is spouting blood, the first thing to be done is to wash it with water at an ordinary temperature. To every pint of water add either five grains of corrosive sublimate, or two and a half teaspoonfuls of carbolic acid. If the acid is used add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine to prevent its irritating the wound. If there are neither of these articles in the house, add four tablespoonfuls of borax to the water. Wash the wound, close it, and apply a compress of a folded square of cotton or linen. Wet it in the solution used for washing the wound, and bandage down quickly and firmly. If the bleeding is profuse a sponge dipped in very hot water and wrung out in cloth, should be applied as quickly as possible. If this is not available use ice, or clothes wrung out in ice water. If a large vein or artery is spouting, it must be stopped at once by compression. This may be done by a rubber tube, wound around the arm tightly above the the elbow or above the knee, where the pulse is felt to beat; or an improvised torniquet may be used. A hard apple, or stone, is placed in a folded handkerchief, and rolled firmly in place. This bandage is then placed so that the hard object rests on the point where the artery beats, and is tied loosely around the arm. A stick is then thrust through the loose bandage and turned till the blood ceases."

The Old, Old Story.

He took her hand in his and poured into her ear the soft, sweet story, told over and over again since the world was young.

"I love you so," he gurgled.

"Do you?" she murmured. "Then I will remain so."

"Do you love me?" he inquired.

"Don't ask me conundrums," she replied.

"But I love you, darling," he went on, "and I have given you my whole heart. I have kept none of it back. It is all yours, all yours."

"Mine to do just what I please with?" she asked, in the sweet simplicity of girlwomanhood.

"Yes, darling."

"Then I shall give it to Mary Martin. She wants it, I know, and I haven't got any use for yours and Bob Brown's too, and Bob gave me his last night. You are too late."

He had discovered that he was.

Over-Estimation.

Disappointment in friendship arises chiefly not from liking our friends too much, but an over-estimate of their liking for or opinion of us.

From the National Capital.

The Washington Post says: We admire the stand taken by numerous eminent physicians in changing the mode of treatment of coughs and colds, and publicly endorsing Red Star Cough Cure because it is efficacious, free from dangerous ingredients and without morphia or opium. This excellent remedy costs but twenty-five cents.

The Old and the New.

The old-style pills! Who does not know
What agony they caused—what woe?
You walked the floor, you groaned, you sighed,
And felt such awful pain inside,
And the next day you felt so weak
You didn't want to move or speak.
Now Pierce's "Pellets" are so mild
They are not dreaded by a child.
They do their work in painless way,
And leave no weakness for next day.
Thus proving what is oft confest
That gentle means are always best.

The Increase of Insanity.

Boston supports 800 insane, says Mr. T. B. Sanborn, not 75 of whom will recover!

This is frightful! Insanity has increased 40 per cent. in a decade and most of the cases are incurable. Whatever the individual cause may be, the fact remains that Uric Acid blood sets the brain on fire, destroys its tissues, and then comes some form of fatal lunacy.

Nothing is so pitiable as a mind diseased. Most brain troubles begin in the stomach; then if the blood is filled with uric acid, caused by failure of kidney action, and the consequent destruction of the blood life—albumen—you have the fuel and the flame and a brain in full blaze as when one raves, or in slow combustion, as in milder forms of insanity. Rev. E. D. Hopkins, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., a few years ago was confined in an asylum. He took a terrible cold while aiding in putting out a fire in a neighbor's burning house, and for twenty-five years that cold was slowly filling his blood with uric acid and finally the deadly work was done. The case looked hopeless, but he happily used Warner's safe cure and recovered. That was three years ago, and having ridden his blood of all surplus uric acid, he has remained well until this day.

It is indeed a terrible thing to lose one's mind, but it is a more terrible thing to suffer such a condition when it can be so easily prevented.

It is often the man that is right who is left.

The Ruddy River

of life is the blood. From it the system receives all its material of growth and repair. It bathes every tissue of the body. How necessary, then, that the blood should be kept pure and rich. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the great blood food and blood purifier. It is a sovereign remedy for all diseases due to impoverished blood, consumption, bronchitis, weak lungs, scrofula, influenza, and kindred diseases.

I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for the last fifteen years with a lung trouble. The results are remarkable. My cough has left me, my strength has returned, and I weigh sixty pounds more than I ever did in my life. Only Temperance Bitters Known.

VINEGAR BITTERS PURELY VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA EUREKA VINEGAR BITTERS

No other medicine known so effectually purges the blood of deep-seated diseases.

Millions bear testimony to its wonderful curative effects.

It is a purely Vegetable Preparation, made from the native herbs and roots of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol.

It removes the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health.

It is the great Blood Purifier and Life-giving Principle; a Gentle Purgative and Tonic; a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of Vinegar Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to.

The Alterative, Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Anti-Bilious, Solvent, Diuretic and Tonic properties of Vinegar Bitters exceed those of any other medicine in the world.

No person can take the Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Bilious, Remittent, Intermittent and Malarial Fevers, are prevalent throughout the United States, particularly in the valleys of our great rivers and their vast tributaries during the Summer and Autumn, especially during seasons of unusual heat and dryness.

These Fevers are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these organs, is absolutely necessary.

There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, as it will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with Vinegar Bitters. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus forearmed.

It Invigorates the Stomach and stimulates the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render it of unequaled efficiency in cleansing the blood of all impurities, imparting new life and vigor to the frame, and carrying off without the aid of Calomel, or other mineral medicine, every particle of poisonous matter from the system.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous or Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, Walker's Vinegar Bitters has shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, the Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of Walker's Vinegar Bitters.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations, Humors and diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of the Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like the Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, this Bitters has no equal.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

In conclusion: Give the Bitters a trial. It will speak for itself. One bottle is a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Around each bottle are full directions printed in different languages.
