Our type became twisted last week and said that Judge Orrell was elected, when they should have stated he was appointed to fill out Clerk Hobbs unexpired term.

Communication between Baltimore and points on the Q. A. railroad has been interfered with since all boats are forbidden to enter or leave the city between sunset and sunrise, which makes travel and mails at a standstill, so far as the first and last trip of the boat is concerned. Our 10 o'clock mail does not reach us until noon as it comes around by rail.

Two young men from Philadelphia were arrested in Hillsboro on Tuesday for selling paper and envelopes without a license, and lodged in Denton jail. It is thought the officer at Hillsboro made a mistake in arresting the boys; they should have been ordered out of town as they had sold no stock. It is probable they will be released with a reprimand by the judge.

Another Peach Problem.

A freak in nature is considered with but little thought, but when it occurs in peach orchards, that is something else. A few years ago Mr. H. A. Roe started a young peach orchard north of the depot, which is now in full bearing. A road has been opened through the land and south of the road has been sold to Mr. I. J. Moore. The orchard was set out by Mr. Roe all at the same time and with the same variety of stock. A few days ago Mr. Moore made an examination of both orchards, nothing dividing them but a road, and found that Mr. Roe would get more than half a crop while he would get scarcely anything. Why this state of affairs should exist in the same orchard you might say, is something that puzzles fruit growers, as well as those who do not grow fruit.

New Town Commissioners.

The town election on Monday resulted in the election of an entire new board of commissioners, 149 votes being cast. This is said to be the largest vote ever polled at a town election. The old board was reported to favor an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of hogs in town, and the new ticket was accused of being opposed to the opening of 7th street. Upon these issues the contest grew quite spirited, "hog or no hog" becoming the leading issue, especially with the colored voters who objected to being deprived of this privilege. The new board consists of progressive citizens, all property owners, in whose hands it is expected the improvements of the town will not be allowed to lag and that as the summer passes the streets, pavements and other town interests, will show to strangers who may come among us, that we are alive and progressing. The new board as elected is as follows: Harry A. Roe, George H. Berry, William H. Stewart, J. Dukes Downes and Alcenus E. Cooper. It is reported that several of the gentlemen were not consulted as to the use of their names upon the ticket and are disposed to refuse to serve. The next regular meeting night will be May 9th. The vote for the different candidates was as follows: Dr. Enoch George, 75; H. R. Lewis, 74; W. A. Stewart, on both tickets, 135; Z. T. Hutchinson, 65; L. B. Towers, 56. New ticket, H. A. Roe, 83; G. H. Berry, 86; J. D. Downes, 80; A. E. Cooper, 84.

SCHOOL BOARD.

At a meeting of the School Board on Tuesday the following order was passed:

OFFICE OF THE SCHOOL BOARD,
Denton, Md., April 26, 98.

It having been the custom of this board to graduate Ninth grade pupils from the Denton High School, where, by our action the Tenth grade has been made a part of the course of instruction, and believing that the present plan of graduation, so far as it pertains to pupils of the High School of Denton, is calculated to hinder the success of the institution by awarding diplomas before the full course is completed, therefore be it ordered, that after the close of the present school year no pupil be graduated from the Ninth grade of the Denton High School, but shall be required to complete the full course of study, when proper graduating exercises will be held and diplomas awarded by this board to graduates from the Tenth grade.

We believe that it would be wise for the present Ninth grade pupils of the High School to defer, if possible, their graduation until the full course has been completed, and suggest to the parents of such pupils that they discourage their children from graduation this year in the Ninth grade. This resolution is not mandatory so far as this year's Ninth grade is concerned, but advisory.

The board ordered that the colored teachers be paid for term just ended.

The board will meet next Tuesday to make appointments of trustees.

This makes Salisbury the leading postoffice on the Eastern Shore. Easton pays $1,800 and Chestertown $1,600. The receipts of the Chestertown office were $4,632.73, just $400 above last year.

Mrs Cleveland recently had a new set of photographs taken, the first time she has been photographed since leaving the White house, and has given them to Mr. Bok, with permission to publish them in The Ladies' Home Journal, where they will be publicly seen for the first time. The set also includes the first authoritive photographs published of the new Princeton home of the Clevelands.

Lewes Frightened Again.

Quite a stir was created at Lewes a few mornings ago when some one chanced to see, by the aid of a spy-glass, the approach to the capes of a vessel of warlike appearance. The report of her coming was soon spread throughout the town and people left their work and hastened to a point of view, while those who could not see were kept in nervous suspense for nearly an hour, when the ship's signals were hoisted and she proved to be the Italian training warship Amerigo Vespucio, bound for Philadelphia.

Died of Joy.

The death several days ago of Ellen Frisby, an aged colored woman of Chestertown, may be traced directly to joy. The woman was eighty years of age and on Saturday a granddaughter and several friends from Baltimore came over to see her. One of the visitors walked ahead of the others and went in and spoke to the aged woman who expressed her joy at seeing her. She then asked where "the other girls" were, and upon being told that they had come over and were on their way to the house, the next moment, with a smile of joy on her face her head fell forward on her breast and the woman was dead. —Chestertown Transcript.

Two Children Perish.

While Jesse Scribner and wife, of Harington were attending services at the St. Paul M. E. Church Sunday evening, their dwelling-house caught fire by the explosion of a coal oil lamp and their two children, aged respectively 5 and 6 years, who were in the house alone at the time, were burned to a crisp.

The Bethel M. E. Church, which is only a short distance from the burned building, caught fire several times, but the flames were extinguished by the bucket brigade. No insurance.

Jesse and his family resided until about a year ago, near Anthony's Mills, about three miles from this place, when he removed to Harrington. They are colored people.

Queen Anne's County Court.

The May term of the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's county will begin on Monday at Centreville. The docket at prosent, is as follows: Civil trials, 72; civil appearances, 16; references, 8; criminal trials, 9; criminal appeals, 3; recognizances, 33; appearances, 13; judicials, 12. No criminal case of a serious nature will be tried, from present indications. The suit of A. H. Crew against Dr. C. W. Reid, of Washington College, for $5,000 damages, has been removed from Kent to this county, and this will probably be the most important trial of the term.

Mr. Crew's horse took fright at the doctor's bicycle, and ran away, throwing the former's daughter out of the carriage, and the plaintiff brings the action on the injuries it is alleged she sustained.

Musical Entertainment.

The musical entertainment at Masonic Hall on Thursday evening, by the Dickinson College Glee Club and Orchestra, was one of the finest ever given here. The attendance was very good and those present were highly entertained. The students were cared for at the homes of a number of people in town, and we understand the proceeds of the entertainment are to be donated to the new M. P. Church. The club went from here to Baltimore. It is quite likely that a much larger audience would greet the boys if they should ever pay us another visit.

In Memory of Mrs. Addie W. Nuttle.

"Dust thou art to dust returneth
Was not spoken of the soul."

As I stood by the grave of my friend and heard the words, dust to dust, I felt that none realized more fully than she, the truth of the quotation.

Mrs Addie Williamson Nuttle, as a girl possessed indefinable character with intellect far above the average, and we feel the tribute too small when we find no word to say other than she developed into a magnificently grand woman, strengthening and inspiring to good, all with whom she came in contact. She has done more in her short career than many have, or will do in man's allotted time of three score years and ten, and her good works will follow her; and while the eclipse to us seems total and untimely, I am sure she is the same bright star of the first magnitude, performing some good mission, and with hand beckoning us, walk in the way that will lead to the rock that is higher than I.

A FRIEND.

In memory of Mrs Addie Nuttle, who departed this life April 18, 1898.

Friends will miss you Addie
In their happy throng,
They will miss you Addie,
Now that you have gone.

How you laid and suffered
With the pain you bore,
Till the Savior called you
To that happy shore.

You were merry with us once,
But the time did come
When your angel spirit fled
To its heavenly peaceful home.

We will miss you Addie,
But the time is short
Till we all will meet you
Never more to part.

Then mourn not friends, for Addie
For she has gone to rest
In that happy home
Where she is ever blest.

A FRIEND, Fowling Creek.

Scared Colored Folks.

A canvassing agent has frightened several negroes at Bridgeville recently. A farmer and some negroes were at work in a field near that town, when the agent approached the farmer, who in turn, seeing a good opportunity for a joke, hastened over to where the negroes were at work, and told them it was a recruiting officer, who wanted their names. With bulging eyes they glanced around and saw the man approaching, and dropping every thing, fled. They informed others, and soon negroes could be seen scurrying in every direction.

War Joke in Snow Hill.

A traveling salesman for a Baltimore house had the negroes in Snow Hill very much agitated last week. He procured the uniform of Lieut. Sidney N. Truitt, of the Smith Guards, and with a sword at his side went among the negroes taking their names, ages and condition in life. He ordered nearly all he met to report at Purnell's Hotel the next morning at 8 o'clock to go with him to join the army. For the first time in fifty years, probably, nearly every negro was bound for home by 9 o'clock, and many of them carried their arms in slings, and many more who a few minutes before had been hale and hearty walked with a decided limp.

All Nature Shows Renewed Life.

The warm weather of the past week has greatly stimulated vegetation. The fruit trees of nearly every variety are putting forth blossoms, and present a beautiful appearance. The shade trees are being covered with leaves and on every hand there is evidence of life and vigor. The grass is starting nicely and gives promise of an abundant yield, it having been injured by the winter much less than usual. The wheat fields never presented a more promising appearance so early in the season, and the farmers say there will be an abundance of straw if not an abundance of grain. A fair price will make them happy. The oats are coming up and potatoes will soon be coming up. At the same time small fruits are making a vigorous growth.
