The peaceful meditation of our little town was disturbed on Sunday evening by a runaway horse belonging to Wilber Rolph's livery at Hillsboro. Two young men, said to belong on Wheeler's boat, were approaching town when one of the lines broke, when the horse started in a run, dashing over the bridge and on through Main street, everybody giving him plenty of room. He was stopped near the depot without doing any damage. While coming over the causeway one of the men jumped out and was somewhat bruised, while the other remained in the carriage smoking his cigar, looking rather unconcerned.

Last Week's Storm.

Not for thirty years, say our oldest men, has such a snow storm been seen this late in the year as raged from 11 o'clock Wednesday until noon Thursday. There was a greater fall of snow than we had any time during the winter. Everyone thought that all fruits would be killed, but as it did not freeze it is now generally conceded by our farmers that the fruit was not injured. It did not freeze at all during the storm and when it cleared the thermometer had risen several degrees, thus saving all vegetation from damage.

DEATH OF JAS. N. TODD.

Mr. James N. Todd, second son of Rev. R. W. Todd, of the Maryland Bible Society and a member of the Wilmington M. E. Conference, died at Johns Hopkins Hospital, in Baltimore, on Sunday morning. He had been in delicate health for a year or more. Thinking an operation might prove beneficial, last fall he went to this hospital and subjected himself to an operation that proved only a partial success. For a time his friends were much encouraged and hoped for his ultimate recovery, but a change was soon noticed in his condition and gradually he began to grow weaker until the end came. Mr. Todd, while never very robust looking, proved to have an unusual amount of vitality to withstand the strain brought to bear upon it by disease and suffering.

Mr. Todd was born on a farm in October 1861, near Denton. While he was very small his father moved to town where he resided for several years. While here he obtained his early education. After leaving this place his father went to Wilmington where his educational advantages were greater. From there he finished his education in Dover. His first occupation was that of teaching a country school near Vernon, Del. While teaching he concluded to read law and accordingly at the end of his second year he came to Denton and entered the law office of Hon. R. J. Jump, and was admitted to the bar in 1883, and soon became recognized as one of the leading lawyers of the town and a lucreative practice soon resulted from this source.

On September 3, 1885, Mr. Todd leased the UNION of Mr. J. H. Emerson for three years, but before the first year had expired he sublet the paper to Messrs. F. C. and H. E. Ramsdell who continued to run it until last September.

His home in Denton was one of the finest in the town, being located on Gay street and has a commanding view. For his first wife he married Miss Ella Jump, a daughter of Hon. R. J. Jump, who lived about one year. He married Miss Clara Naudain, a niece of Dr. Alex. Hardcastle for his second wife, who with one son, James, survives him.

In politics Mr. Todd was a staunch Republican, having been cradled in that doctrine, he naturally accepted its principles and believed in that faith and rendered his party valuable service in the past. In 1889 he was the Republican candidate for State's Attorney, being defeated by Hon. H. R. Lewes. He was commissioner in chancery for the Circuit Court.

Mr. Todd's remains were brought to Denton Monday evening. The funeral was held at his late residence Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Z. H. Webster, officiating. Interment took place in Choptank cemetery. The Denton bar was largely represented at the funeral. The pall bearers were Attorneys G. M. Russum, T. Pliny Fisher, Walter Sparklin, Messrs. W. D. Taylor, M. Bates Stephens and W. F. Pennington.

Hicks on May Weather.

Hicks, the weather man, predicts that from 1st to 4th of May a warm wave will be experienced, with low barometer and numerous storms of rain, wind and thunder. Cool, fresh weather will set in behind the storms lasting two or three days. A storm period is central on the 12th, hence it will turn much warmer about that date, and during the 13th to 15th a very low barometer and storms of rain, wind and thunder will pass eastwardly over the country. Very cool nights with possible frost in the north, will attend the high barometer that comes behind the storms. Reactionary changes to falling barometer, warmer and more storms are due about 18th to 20th. Rising barometer and cooler, westerly winds will always divide one period of disturbance from another, except in cases where unmerous causes combine to bring on "long spells" of stormy weather. A storm period runs from about 23rd to 26th. On the next to these dates there will be a return to the warmer weather, low barometer and storms The 29th to 31st are also reactionary storm dates. The solar energy in May will produce tornadoes in various sections. Watch the wind.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The Denton Bar Association held a meeting on Monday night at the office of the Register of Wills in the Court House, Hon. Geo. M. Russum, being elected chairman and Fred R. Owens, Secretary. A motion that the bar attend the funeral of their late brother James N. Todd, in a body, was adopted. A committee of three composed of Hon. George M. Russum, H. R. Lewis and A. G. Towers, was appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the late Judge of the Orphans Court George H. Moore.

At a meeting of the Bar Association for Caroline county, the following resolutions were adopted:

Almighty God in His all wise Providence has been pleased to take from our midst our beloved Brother and Associate James N. Todd, Esq., who for many years has been a member of this Bar. In respect to his memory and as a tribute to his excellent merits and high character, therefore be it Resolved by the members of the Bar for Caroline County, that in the death of James N. Todd, Esq., the Bar of this County has been deprived of a sincere friend and an industrious and able Counselor and Advocate. In his personal and business intercourse with the members of this Bar and with his Clients, he was always pleasant, considerate, painstaking and honest and Caroline County has lost a citizen who by his influence in business and public spirit contributed very largely to its improvement and material prosperity.

Resolved that the Judges of the Circuit Court and the Judges of the Orphans' Court in this county be requested to order these resolutions to be spread on the minutes of their respective Courts and that a copy be sent to the family of our late Brother, to whom our sympathies are tendered in the great bereavement that has befallen them and, also to the County papers for publication.

WHEREAS Almighty God in the dispensation of His wise Providence has removed from us Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court, Hon. George H. Moore, who has for many years presided over the sessions of said Court, where we have from time to time been brought into professional contact with him. In token of the high regard for his uniform kindness and fairness toward us in all our professional business relations with him and also his accurate knowledge of the testamentary law of this State—for there was none better in this county—therefore be it Resolved, by the members of the Bar for Caroline County that in the death of the Hon. George H. Moore, the county has lost one of the best learned men in testamentary law within her borders. The ability and impartiality with which he discharged the duties devolving upon him as Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court challenged the respect and confidence of the whole people. He was careful, patient and effective in his work. A man who did in all the walks of life make conscience his guide, was firm and inflexible in contending for what he deemed right and in denouncing wrong. His habits were studious, and industrious, his temperament equable, his discernment accurate, his judgment just.

Resolved, that we tender to his widow and family our profound sympathy in their great bereavement,

Resolved, that these proceedings be entered upon the minutes of the Orphans' Court and that a copy thereof be sent to his family and also to the county papers for publication.

A Peculiar Accident.

Captain C. C. Wheeler, president and General manager of the Wheeler Transportation Company, was suffering Friday from the effects of a most peculiar accident, which broke his left arm above the elbow in two places. He was standing on the pier in Baltimore after the Minnie Wheeler came in, and a lady asked him to put up an umbrella for her. Taking the umbrella in both hands he made a quick movement upward with his left arm, which immediately dropped to his side useless. He imagined immediately that he had been stricken with paralysis, and thought that his whole side was affected. He walked up to his office as best he could, and told his son, who could hardly believe him. A physician was hurriedly sent for, and relieved Mr. Wheeler's mind very much by telling him that he was only suffering from an arm broken in two places, instead of being paralysed. Capt. Wheeler thinks, however, that an arm broken in two places is bad enough.—Easton Starr - Democrat.

Some People See Strange Things.

A short time since some of the people of Centreville said they saw a sword in the Heavens and some of the peninsula papers seemed to think that they had wonderful imaginative powers. There were witnesses to it. On Wednesday afternoon just at sunset could be plainly seen, so some of our friends inform us, clouds that were the exact representation of the Stars and Stripes. A number of reliable people saw it and hardly think that their imaginative power is any greater than that of the average man. Victory cannot help coming to the American forces and at an early date.—Ex.

While we would not question what they see in Queen Anne's, it does seem rather strange that they are the only ones permitted to see visions of this kind. Are we to be led to believe that Queen Anne's people have sharper vision than others have?
