BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

The long-looked for report of the Board of Trade committee will be presented to the public Monday evening, at 8 o'clock in the Grand Jury room. It is to be hoped that a large representation of our business men will carry this meeting in their mind and show as much interest in it as they displayed in the first one. This enterprise is something that comes home to us all. Capital and labor are practically one, and such being the case it behooves us to work for the successful establishment of a well organized Board of Trade. The interest heretofore taken in town improvements is largely due to past success. With a well organized Board of Trade who can estimate its value in this community?

Injured in a Saw Mill.

Mr. Henry Stetting, aged 64 years, was badly hurt in Irwin's saw mill near town on Monday evening. Mr. Irwin had just finished squaring up a piece of timber 6 x 9 inches and 18 feet long, when it tilted up and the end caught on the saw and was hurled like lightning across the mill Mr. Stetting was standing with his back to the saw when the timber struck him, the force of the blow knocking him six or eight feet, his head striking a block as he fell. A number of his teeth were knocked out and his face badly cut and bruised. His back is badly hurt and for some time after the accident he was entirely unconscious. Dr. Fisher was called and rendered medical assistance.

Appointments A. M. E. Church.

The Baltimore Annual Conference, African Methodist Episcopal Church concluded its services at Cambridge last week and Bishop Handy made the following appointments:

Easton District, John H. Collett, presiding elder; St. John's Baltimore, L. M. Beckett; Water's Chapel, J. T. Jennifer; Cambridge, James G. Martin; Chestertown, Daniel Draper; Pocomke City, R. E. Ford; Cecilton, W. H. Chambers; Unionville, S. H. Cooper; Denton, Arthur Jones; Crisfield, A. A. Henderson; Piney Neck, J. R. Henry; Centreville I. F. Aldrige; Circuit—Ridgely, J. D. Banks; Fruitland, John W. Wing; Roseville S. C. Butler; Vienna, S. T. Crawford; Marydel, William Peck; Church Hill, J. M. Cole; Irvington, W. A. Harris; Wharton, R. T. Leek; Wayman, J. S. Collins; Hazel to be supplied.

Wake Up.

We have heard it intimated that if our people would take the proper interest in the matter, the Queen Anne's Railroad Company might be induced to locate their railroad shops at Denton. The company has the land here and the town has the work men, and of all the things we need, places to employ our laboring men are the most important. One thing is certain, that unless our citizens take an interest in these things and show a more enterprising spirit, it will be a long time before we will see much of an improvement in business affairs. There are hundreds of building lots for sale, but what inducements to the laboring man to buy in a town where there is no employment. If the Board of Trade can be resurrected, very good, if it cannot there are other ways to accomplish the same end. Let us do something and do it quick.

REV. SAM JONES IN DENTON.

This town and vicinity was more than fortunate through the Entertainment Committee in securing Rev. Sam Jones to lecture in Masonic Hall Saturday evening. While some were disappointed in not hearing him the week before, many more were highly pleased that his lecture was deferred, for by so being a large congregation at the M. E. church on Sunday morning were priviledged to listen to Dr. W. F. Quillin, of Atlanta, Ga., who preached a most excellent sermon to a large congregation.

At the hall Saturday evening large and intelligent audience was present to hear the last entertainment of the series. While being the last it is said to have been the best. From the beginning to the end of his lecture Mr. Jones kept his audience convulsed in laughter at his quaint, funny saying that were perfectly natural to him. The dudes and dudeens that afflict all communities came in for special notice, as well as the old fossils in the church came in for a few gentle reminders. As every community is afflicted with these two classes this part of his lecture is never out of place. Mr. Jones spoke for about one hour and thirty minutes which was altogether too short for his audience. If he ever lectures again in this place he will have a larger audience than the last one.

Sunday evening he preached at the M. E. church to a crowded house, which was likewise enjoyable for the public. The building was taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the public. Chairs were used in every available place, and standing room was at a premium, either in the vestibule or at a side window. His theme was that of love and he stuck close to his text, clearly demonstrating that it was and is the main feature in the life of Christ. Take it from the church and you rob it of its essential quality. Take it from the home or any other station in life and you rob it of its beauty. The speaker brought out the value of this God-given quality so clearly in his peculiar style, that it must touch the lives of some and have its effect.

Dr. Quillin left for Baltimore on Monday where he is attending the Southern Methodist Conference and Mr. Jones went to Crisfield, where he was to lecture in the evening.

COL. COOPER CONVICTED.

The jury in the Federal Courts Tuesday evening, returned a verdict finding Col. E. T. Cooper of conspiracy with Wm. N. Boggs, to misapply $3,000 of the bank's funds at Dover. This is the charge made in the 46th count of the long indictment, and the virdict was a result of a compromise among the jury, who had been out for 72 hours. The penalty for the crime is not over two years' imprisonment and a fine of from $1,000 to $10,000. Unusual interest now attaches to the trials of the others who are accused of complicity in the robery, and it is now believed that the district attorney will have more arrests made.

A Deacon's Prayer.

An old colored deacon praying for the success of the American soldiers said: "Oh, Lord, git on de 'Meriken side! Come down into dese United States and make de sojers shoot straight ter de mark! AN EXTRA SESSION.

The County Commissioners will hold two special sessions on Friday. In the morning the Denton National Band directors will endeavor to show that it is overtaxed on their capital stock and building. They claim that they took $8,000 of their capital stock with which to build their banking building and therefore no extra tax should be levied on the institution, and that that amount should be stricken from the taxlist of the county. By paying taxes on that building they are doubly assessed. Attorney Fisher will represent the bank and Attorney Towers the commissioners.

In the afternoon the heirs of the late Henry Irwin will be heard. They claim that they are charged with money that dates back to the time when Mr. Irwin was tax collector of the county and their claim is that they are entitled to a credit for insolvencies for taxes that were placed in his hands at that time. Their plea is that the taxes referred to were insolvent at the end of Mr. Irwin's term of office. Dewease and Owens are counsel for Irwin heirs and A. G. Towers for the commissioners.

The Sunday Newspaper.

The Sunday newspapers, for the first time in our history, are now regularly sold in Cambridge on Sunday afternoons. Parties drive to Seaford to obtain them, and hurry back to Cambridge reaching here about 5 o'clock. In Centreville, the same enterprise has been manifested, and the preachers have asked the public not to buy.—Ex.

Denton also thought she would like to have the Sunday newspapers whereas the newsboy ordered a large batch of them on Sunday May 1. The arrangement was to take a hand car and meet the boat at Queenstown, but the storm proved too much for the boys, they did not arrive here until 10 o'clock the following Monday. The second attempt to get papers here was tried again Sunday and met with better success. The boys went to Greenwood on the hand car and obtained their papers at noon returned to Denton and offered them for sale about 2 o'clock p. m. This is the first time in the history of the town that the Sunday newspapers have been offered for sale on our streets on Sunday.
