having taken a Resolution to [illegible]ue the War against their old Enemies the Cherokees, their Chiefs requested of me at the Treaty lately held with a large Body of them & the Western Indians, that I would open a Store for the Accommodation of their Warriors at Harris's Ferry, & that I would forward their Request to You, to have another opened at Cresap's on Potomack.

Conformable therefore to my Promise, Extract of what passed between us on the

You with all convenient Speed, I think if You are pleased to send it under Cover to Sir William Johnson, he would take the first Opportunity of conveying it to the Six Nations.

You will observe by the Extract that the Warriors intended to go through the settled part of Cumberland
