SUBSCRIPTION PRICE. $1.00 A YEAR.

DENTON, MARYLAND.

Thursday, July 14, 1898.

IN comparing our county levy with that of Queen Anne's, we find our commissioners estimate the cost of many of the county's expenses far below that of our sister county. Some of the county officials are paid fixed salaries while the majority are paid according to their work. We herewith make a comparison of the two counties. For Queen Anne's we give prices paid last year, while ours are estimates for the present year, but were estimated by last year's expenses. The following are some of the comparisons, the first named being our county levy: Clerk of the Circuit Court, $1800, $1784.46; Register of Wills, $50, $745.29; Judges of Orphans' court, $450, $916; Sheriff's fees, $1500, 1869; Justices of Peace, $400, $438; Constables, $300, $697; Public printing, $700, $1049; Public roads, $6000, $10,118; Elections, $1500, $2500; Jurors and witnesses, $2500, $2957; Public schools, $12,000, $20,000. We have given the leading items where a comparison could be made and find but one item where our county is in excess of our neighbor and that is on first named, being less than $16. Although our county is building a new iron bridge in connection with Talbot, paying for a new court house, and other improvements along this line included in our levy, which is not included in the Queen Anne's expense account, still it is estimated that it will take us $5000 less than it took Queen Anne's last year. Why should this be the case? We think the most plausible reason that can be given [illegible] expenditure of money in [illegible] county offices in that county is due to party entrenchment. The Democratic party has had full sway in that county for years. Gradually first one and then another ac[illegible] has been increased a little, until now they are quite swollen on the whole. A few years ago this county was walking in the foot steps of our [illegible]or, when the voters came to the [illegible]n that it was time to return [illegible] honest [illegible] office. The public well [illegible]e result has been. At [illegible] Republican office holder here and there. Now it is just the reverse, a Democratic office holder here and there. The best explanation that can be made of this is the voters are pleased with the change. The most unfavorable part of the comparison for this county is that our tax levy is higher than theirs. As we explained last week the blame for this belongs to the Democrats, while endeavoring to keep a low tax rate, they have been putting in at the spiggot and letting out at the bung, until now the barrel is about [illegible]oty. They knew to let go and en[illegible]or to get a better hold they would [illegible]o hold on meant to be knocked [illegible]

[illegible]V. Black called an extra session of the New York legislature which meet at Albany on Monday. Three matters are to be taken up for consideration and action. One is the appropriation of money enough to equip a new National Guard, to take the place of the regiments that have gone to war, while another is to pass a law making it legal for soldiers in the field to cast their votes at the next election. Another matter for consideration is the formation of a State board of election, to which shall be entrusted the appointment of election officers, which shall exercise powers similar to the Supervisors of election of this State. The so called bi-partisan boards used in that State are as one sided as things usually get. This fact has been clearly demonstrated by the appointments to the New York police commission by Mayor Van Wyck, who ignored the Republican organization in his selection for this commission. Tammany now has power in New York city to rule the board and expects that board to use methods in the next election that will keep Tammany in power. On account of its vile doings a few years ago is was almost swept out of existence. It hesitates to use no means that will accomplish its end. It has in Van Wyck a man who stops short of nothing for power. This law aims to prevent debauchery at the ballot box and will be supported by every faid minded man.

ALL the Spanish naval officers captured by the American fleet are confined within the limits of the Naval Academy grounds at Annapolis. Cervera, with 52 captured officers and 638 sailors, arrived at Portsmouth [illegible] H. on Sunday. The Spanish admiral, Cervera, the queen's pet, is said to be heart broken over his defeat.

SINCE the destruction of Cervera's fleet, Camera has showed his colors by concluding to return to Spain. This must be humiliating as he was going to annihilate Dewey's fleet in short order and take Manila. What a deplorable spectacle that nation presents. Every effort it puts forth to save its so called honor, renders it still more pitiful in the eyes of the people of the world. The longer this conflict is carried on, the worse it will be for Spain. The tremendous victories at Manila and Santiago clearly shows our superiority in every respect, especially with our officers and men. The next move is for our fleet to visit Spain and meet Camara, and there destroy the remnant of their navy, and then give them a few hot shells. This will bring them to their senses quicker than anything else. The novelty of directing war for some far off people is one thing but the reality of it at home is another. Spain's position is hopeless, and the longer she continues the worse it will be for her.

AN exchange says "Hon. Grover Cleveland, D. D., (Doctor of Demijohns,) is again exploiting his penchant for hauling down the American flag, and he and Hon. Wm. Chinning Bryan have gotten together on a platform condemning the conduct of the war and opposing the permanent occupation of any captured territory. There are hundreds and thousands of patriotic Americans in the Democratic party who would not tolerate the hauling down of the American flag after it had been raised amid a rain of bullets, on foreign soil consecrated by the blood of American patriots, and the Democratic organization is evidently on the eve of a split."

The people of this country need no better sign that they are right than to see Messrs. Cleveland and Bryan opposing the war and war-measures. They have always been on the wrong side of every right issue. This is no exception, neither should it surprise any one. Let them alone they are joined to their idol—delusion.

OUR navy destroyed Spain's Philippine squadron and ruined the fortifications of Manila without the loss of a ship or a man. Our navy bombarded San Juan for three hours and would have taken it had orders of recall been delayed Not a ship disabled, only two lives lost. Our navy smashed the forts at Santiago without loss of man or ship. Then our navy pulverized Cervera's superb fleet without the loss of a ship and with the loss of one man. It is no wonder the world looks on in amazement at our navy. Who dreamed before we had this practice at target shooting that we had such expert gunners? The world looks at our navy today through different glasses from what she did three months ago.

LAST week two passenger boats were sunk, one by collision, the other by fire. One was a French liner, the other a passenger steamer of this country. On the former 550 perished largely on account of the brutes in whose hands their lives were intrusted. The officers and crew, save the captain and a few other officers, proved to be heartless in their endeavors to get in the life boats. Only one woman was saved. The other boat was the Delaware, of the Clyde line, which was wrecked off Cedar Creek, N. J. On this steamer not a single life was lost, which was largely due to the efficient training of the officers and crew. Everything was done in a systematic manner. We do things differently in this country from what they do in others.

THE end of this session of Congress came on Friday and was noted on that day for two noticeable incidents. One was sensational partisanship which almost ended in a fight; the other was a patriotic feeling that swept away all political lines and showed by their actions that patriotism was first and last. The disgraceful part of the program was played by Congressman Handy of Delaware, who has cut a very small figure, so far as brains go, endeavored to have Congress remember that he had been there in body if not in mind. We imagine that body of men will remember Delaware's astute representative.

THE public last week had a rest from the Dover bank scandal, the Republican harmony meeting absorbed all the extra space of the Peninsula press. The trial of Senator Kennedy was begun on Monday, and now we may expect to hear many foolish reasons why he should not be punished for his crime. The Federal court knows no politics in its dealings. Whether a pauper or a millionare, justice is theirs the same. No exception has been taken as yet at the finding of the court. Had these case come before the Circuit court there would likely have been appeals and delays for months.

AFTER a long and weary debate in the Senate, the opponents to annexation of Hawaii who thought they could talk the measure to death, got tired and gave in to a vote which resulted in a vote of 42 to 21 in favor of annexation.

THERE has been more swearing, says the Centreville Observer, since the first of the month on account of the oppressive and troublesome stamp tax than about the extreme warm weather we are having. If we were to judge Centreville from the Observer's standpoint, we should call that village a wicked place and sadly in want of patriotism. If they are not willing to go to the front in behalf of their country they certainly should not be ashamed to use a stamp bearing their sentiments, I. R., which can be interpretted to read, "I run." But we infer from the Observer their citizens are willing to do neither, but hang around the teller's window and swear at the inevitable.

THE silverite papers of the Peninsula are elated over Sol Pippin's free silver buggy, as they call it. It has sixteen spokes to each wheel. The wheels and shafts are painted silver and the body is painted gold. On each side of the body is painted "16 to 1." This 16 to 1 means, we suppose, 16 honest money men to 1 free silverite. It will soon be even better than that for honest money as it will be "all to none."

THE Talbot county tax rate is 99 cents on the $100. Queen Anne's is $1 while Caroline's rate is $1.12½ due to Democratic management in the past. The voters want to remember this fact. The tax rates have advanced in all of these counties.
