THESE men, (the trustees) are competent to select an overseer who will be their office, and no man in the county who is himself above such a petty deal, would impute such pettiness to any one of them. Likewise, it is very likely that they knew personally and politically every applicant for the position of overseer, and the appointment was made, because Mr. Allaband has been tried and is known to be a suitable man for the place. The trustees have been commended for their appointment, and knowing themselves that it was the right one to make, they can well afford to be deaf to the carping of the Union.—Journal.

But it seems the trustees were deaf to the carping of the Journal and heeded the advise of the UNION, much to their discomfort. Our contemporary wasted its blarney on the trustees and brought ridicule and laughter upon itself. It must be very humiliating to our neighbor to see its grip thus weakening. It says "these men are competent to select an overseer." That is what we said last week, and what we want to know is why the Democrats went to the trustees and misrepresented the alms house oversership to them? This is a nut the public would like to see the Journal crack in an intelligent manner. Again, that paper says "the trustees have been commended for their appointment," but by whom it did not say but we suppose the Journal will make a clear breast of the whole thing this week. It will be interesting reading to have the Journal clear up the questionable dealings of its party. It has exonorated the trustees from any blame in t. ich saddles the responsibil e Democratic party. Don't answer it by conundrum or tell some ancient story that never happened centuries ago; but a clear up-to-date statement of the whole affair what the public want. Remember an confession is good for the soul. her comment on this subject is cessary if the Journal tells what ws about it. The actions of Monday clearly bears s last when we said they had been deceived by Democrats in whom they placed confidence. The Journal's slur at the UNION will not remove Democratic responsibility in this matter.

WHAT power the Silverits and Populists have had in the past will be broken after the fourth of next March, as the Republican party will be in control in the upper branch. The Senate at this time is 44 Republicans, 34 Democrats, 5 Populists, 3, Silver Republicans, 2 Silverites and 1 independent; 89 in all, Oregon being short one senator. The election of a Republican from that State is ow assured, which gives the Republicans one-half of the Senate. New k, New Jersey, California and sconsin have Democratic Senators, and from these States there is a strong probability that a Republican will be returned. This State has already selected one to succeed Mr. Gorman, while Delaware is in the balance, owing to the split in the Republican party. One Senator out of any of those States puts the Republicans in control, of which there can be but little doubt. It would not be surprising if the party should win in other States than those named. It is a safe prediction to make that the Senate will pass into the hands of the Republicans where it is the safest. When this occurs there will a shifting, not only of the employes, but also of the various important committees. It is in the latter direction that the effects of the change will be most greatly felt. Legislation will no longer be sidetracked at the dictates of a few party tricksters, but will be run to suit the administration, which means the country at large.

THE Republicans of the State need not hug the delusion that the Democrats of Delaware have a fear of defeat at the coming election. Delaware will be in the Democratic column in all the future elections.—Milford Herald.

Certainly it will be if brag and bluster will put it there, but watch them and see how little they have to say about the last legislature. The Herald's claim to the State is based on nothing but is in hope of Republican dissention as the key to their success. Isn't it time for them to tell about the Bogg's drag-net again?

THE sum of $208,700 will be divided among the officers and crew of Admiral Sampson's fleet as prize money for destroying the Spanish squadron at Santiago. The river and harbor mines will be removed as there rs to fear.

SOME people are not satisfied long with anything. Nothing could better illustrate this than the fickleness of the Democratic press and their ever changing attitude on the price of wheat. A short time ago they were cramming their farmer-readers with free silver and dollar wheat. When grain was low it was attributed to the demonetization of silver and it would never rise until we had free silver. The price of wheat went up and silver down, so that air castle is no more. Tariff reform was another bubble of an imaginary mind when the Democratic press howled itself hoarse and said the country would never prosper until tariff reform was inaugerated, when the farmers would get a dollar for wheat and sixty cents for corn. They got tariff reform but note the result; fifty-cent wheat and thirty-cent corn. We wonder what trap they will endeavor to spring on the public next. The voters of this county have cut their eye teeth on them and they will have more trouble in deceiving the people in the future than they had in the past. Can't fool people always.

THERE should not be, neither do we believe there is any doubt in the public mind as to placing the honor of the late great naval battle. Commodore Schley did the business and therefore should have the credit. We are glad this distinction rests upon a Marylander, one who was born at Frederick and received his naval training at Annapolis. He is 60 years of age, a good time in life to distinguish himself. His native city, not unmindful of his grand achievement, celebrated his victory last week, and the State will present him with as handsome a sword as can be made. He richly deserves all such distinction.

THE stock holders of the Elkton National Bank, at the meeting of its stockholders last week, elected Mrs. Evelyn S. Tome, widow of Jacob Tome, president, to succeed her deceased husband. Mrs. Tome is the only woman holding the office of bank president in the United States. She is also president of the Cecil National Bank, of Port Deposit.

IF we can judge anything by the way our boys fight the Spaniards the yellow fever epidemic at Santiago will soon be knocked out. At the same time the sooner our army gets away from that unhealthy section the better. Diseases in war are as deadly as the bullet when once firmly entrenched. Let this ravaging disease be checked at once.

THE Delaware Republican bird didn't seem to fly well with its two wings, so it now proposes to clip one of them.—Dover Index.

It seemed to fly well enough two years ago to go off with the Delaware presidential plum. If the Republicans convert both wings into one it will go off with the whole Democratic party.

THE gunboat Princeton, the new addition to our navy, while testing her guns at target practice off Rehoboth last week, attracted the attention of the cottagers and afforded them an opportunity of witnessing a war vessel in action. It was a beautiful realistic picture of the maneuvers of a marine battle.

MORE farmers from the Northwest are said to be coming to this State looking for homes. Cheap land and a plenty of it should be a great inducement to those elsewhere seeking a healthy and prosperous clime to locate.

IT is gratifying news to masters of steamers and sailing vessels trading in Baltimore to learn that the dynamite mines in the Patapsco, about Fort Carroll, are to be removed this week.

THE State of Illinois publishes more newspapers than the whole of Spain with her 18,000,000 of people. Why shouldn't she be ignorant under such conditions.
