REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Representative in Congress from the First Congressional District of Maryland.

WILBUR F. JACKSON, of Dorchester County

THE Republican party of York State did some telling work last week when it nominated "Teddy" Roosevelt, for Governor. He has a record of the highest type, whether as a citizen or a soldier, and carried off the gubernatorial prize with the same ease as he did at Santiago recently. The platform adopted at this convention is attracting much attention. It is plain, straightforward and comprehensive. There is no mincing of words and no dodging of issues. It was made by men of brains and is now intended for the consideration of men of the same stamp. The plank in that platform that will be particularly noticed, refers to the new territory which will be acquired by the United States as a result of the war with Spain. The Platform says: "We realize that when the necessities of war compelled our nation to destroy Spanish authority in the Antilles and in the Philippines we assumed solemn duties and obligations alike to the people of the islands we conquered and to the civilized world. We cannot turn these islands back to Spain. We cannot leave them, unarmed for defense and untried in state-craft, to the horrors of domestic strife or to partition among European powers. We have assumed the responsibility of victory, and wherever our flag has gone there the liberty, the humanity and the civilization which that flag embodies and represents must remain and abide forever. The Republican party has been the party of brave conservatism, of wise progress and of triumphant faith in the nationality of this people, and we know that the President and statesmen and voters of the Republican party will meet these of the future as bravely and as trimphantly as we have met those issues of the past." The above plank has the true ring to it. It is not clothed in meaningless language to deceive and mislead the voter, but is pointed and precise in what it means. There is a great contrast in the above and the stand of the Democrats in this State on the war issue. Here the party leaders, if we understand their object, is to take no stand on war issues until after the Republican party has, and then oppose whatever it may approve. This plan might have worked in the dark ages but it won't go in enlightened Maryland.

UNTIL recently the Democrats of this as well as other districts in the State, have bitterly opposed and denounced the money plank in the Republican platform, but since it nominated Col. Smith as their candidate, a wonderful change has taken place. It has not only accepted the platform, but a gold bug candidate besides, and it loves him with all its heart. But, this party didn't stop there. It denounced the Republican party for nominating Col. Jackson, because he has a winter home in Baltimore. This for a time was the greatest charge they could bring against him, and asked the public to condemn him on this ground. Now what have they done? Why they have imitated the Republicans again and nominated Richard B. Tippett, for Congress, in the Second district, who, like Col. Jackson, has a winter home in Baltimore. Consistency thou art a jewel that the Democratic party knows nothing of this fall. The party being issueless it naturally will put on a bold front and talk, even if it does have to eat crow a little later on. Deception no longer counts in this county. Unredeemed promises are at a discount; hence the party that made them is in the same boat. When our political enemies indorse our platform and imitate our candidate as near as they can, surely the Republican party has nothing to be ashamed of, not that we consider it any honor at this time to be looked up to as a model for democracy, but because it stands for principal, as well as other underlying reforms, without which the prosperity of its people count for naught. Don't be deceived, as there is only one genuine among the two parties this fall.

THE Democrats of New York have decided to take some of the conceit out of Judge Van Wick, a brother of Mayor Van Wyck of New York city, and they have taken the right step for that purpose by nominating him for governor of New York. What old grudge his party can have against him to want to run him against Col. Rooseveit, we can't conceive

THE Journal made a great hullabaloo last week because the UNION exposed its little political Almshouse bubble, but after it gave vent to its feeling, settled down to business and gave its readers a different version of the matter from that heretofore published. It is quite a common thing for that sheet to go wide of the mark on political questions, and act as though misrepresenting matters along this line was the height of its ambition. In this case, as others of a similar nature, we have called the Journal down, and heretofore it has acquiesced more gracefully. The public should not hold this little outburst of temper against it as many things have occurred of late to cause it to become morose and sullen. Once it fed at the public crib, and was then fat, sleek and happy. But, alas! time has brought changes, not only in that the voter has loosed its grip on the financial purse string, but it has lost cast and been turned out and made to rely on its own resources, and as it looks over the bars and takes in the present situation, with nothing in view to cheer it, it is human nature that it should have cried out in despair last week. As we tore up the Journal's "little vote catcher," and as it acknowledged that the Almshouse was not half supporting, it therefore is useless to say more about its paying $600 on the $1,500 indebtedness that has been cancelled. While we are on this subject, and as the Journal is an expert figure twister, let it tell us a little more about this Almshouse matter that has been so admirably managed and is so dear to the Journal. This time don't "apologize" for the mistakes of your party in the past, but "explain" why it is so. After having just paid off $1,500 of indebtedness, why is there still $3,290.69 standing unpaid against the county, made by the Almshouse? Why was the county asked for $2,400 to help run the Almshouse for the fiscal year ending June 30, '98, while for the fiscal year of '97, $1,500 was deemed ample? Why should the gross receipts of this farm have been $228.34 in '97, and $884.75 in '98? There are other questions we would like to propound to the dear Journal, but fearing it might have a tendency to irritate it and cause it to substitute abuse for argument, we won't do so at this time. It might also overtax the "Journal's windmill with direful results."

THE New York Evening Post, a socalled mugwump, but is only an out and out Democratic paper, indorses Col. Roosevelt for Governor, and says: "The choice of all friends of honest government must fall upon Col. Roosevelt. It is better to divide powers and patronage between the two bosses—to give one the governorship and legislature and the other the city—then give over both city and State to the possession of one. With Roosevelt in the governor's chair we could at least prevent either Crooker legislation or Platt legislation. Whether we could be equally certain of such prevention with Van Wyck as governor, seem to us doubtful." The above article does Col. Roosevelt an injustice by inferring the he is under Platt's thumb. While Platt may admire and work for the Republican candidate, this does not necessarily imply that the Colonel will do his or any other man's bidding after he is elected governor. Fair minded men of all parties speak in the highest terms of Col. Roosevelt's personal worth. The worst his opponents can say of him is that he is a tax dodged. Realizing that the worst things that can be said of a Republican candidate this fall is considered a Democratic recommendation. Hence we see Judge Van Wyck, who has the reputation of being a tax dodger, is to run against Col. Roosevelt. What is true in York state is true of the Republican candidate in this district and the Democratic candidate in the Second, in that they spend their winters in Baltimore.

THE great battle ship Illinois was launched at Newport News on Tuesday. She is considered the giant of our navy. There are five of them building upon nearly the same pattern: the Kentucky, the Albama, the Illinois, the Kearsarge and the Wisconsin. The Wisconsin will be the next to seek water next month. At the close of the civil war the United States was the first naval power of the world. A few years ago it dwindled down to the rank of the South American States. When we realized our strength on water as a nation, a change took place, and today we are second to none but France and England, and here our gunners are supposed to be superior to these; therefore it is not too much to say that we are king of the ocean. The Illinois will have a displacement of over 11,000 tons, with a speed of nineteen miles an hour.

"THE Republican organ" is here for the purpose of giving the news, even if it don't suit the Journal. We don't believe either in suppressing the news, of any party, even if it don't have figures in it to twist and distort. While they won't lie still they may be used to shame the truth.

"THE indebtedness of the county is constantly increasing, and is at this time about $10,000 more than it was a year ago, eight or nine months of which the Republicans have had control in the commissioners' room."—Journal.

Another exhibition of the Journal's extremity for argument. The public well know that the Democratic board made the assessment and laid out the work for the year which closed June 30, besides having been in office nearly one-half the year. Doesn't it have a decided Democratic taint? Hasn't it been piling up debt year after year to the tune of $70,000? Didn't it go out of power with the roads and bridges of the county in bad shape? Hasn't some of the taxpayers' money that was intended for county improvement gone into the Democratic campaign fund? Hasn't the present board got to do something after having been left in such a predicament by Democratic boards? Can't the Journal out of its editorial staff of five fix up some plausible excuse that will exonorate its party from further responsibility of this debt? There are other matters the Journal might look after as the voter would like to have these "explained," not "apologized" for.

CANADA voted on prohibition last week and the anti-saloon people carried the day. The majority is smaller than was expected. The following question was submitted: "Are you in favor of the passing of an act prohibiting the importation, manufacture or sale of spirits, wine, ale, beer and cider and all other alchoholic liquors for use as beverages?" By voting in favor of this proposition the people ask for a federal law which shall apply to all the provinces. The majority given at this election against the saloon, is about 30,000.

THE Journal recognizes and admits the UNION'S influence over its party, but if we are to judge by the remark of a leading Democrat a short time since when he said if the editor of the Journal had a tail and was backed up to a block and the Republican axe appiled, he wouldn't say anything, goes to show their party appreciation of his paper. But in justice to the editor we would say that this remark was made some weeks ago when he, doubtless, was afraid of being considered an "offensive partisan."

IT is estimated that the native population of Cuba is 745,000. These figures tell a sad story against Spain. At the outbreak of the insurrection three and one-half years ago the population of the island was given as 1,500,000, so that during the terrible interval about one-half the people have perished of starvation in Spanish prisons, by the sword, and at the hands of brutal executioners. But few intelligent people think that Uncle Sam did any more than his duty when he whipped Spain.

DENTON is rather a centre for congressional candidates. Tuesday and Wednesday Col. Jackson was in town and received a hearty welcome. The Colonel is much pleased with the political outlook. Col. Smith was also here looking after his interests, which are not so encouraging. Prof. Swann is always with us and we notice no change in him since his nomination. Wm. Willis, Esq., will doubtless be here soon.

WM. J. Bryan's admirers are opposed, they say, to his being sent to Porto Rico to be made a myrtar of. If he didn't enlist to do duty for his country what did he enlist for? If he has changed his mind about this matter he can resign.

WHO ever heard of the Journal attempting to write a hymn book—or do anything else of a religious nature? Its mind runs in a vastly different channel from that. The height of its ambition seems to be to twist and distort figures for political purposes.

HON. Thos. F. Bayard, for many years a prominent figure in Delaware in many ways, died last week at the home of his daughter in Massachusetts, at the age of 70 years.

THE supplements sent out with this issue should be carefully read and then laid aside for future reference.

Mrs. Botkin Must Come.

The authorities at Dover have been assured that Mrs. Botkin will be extradited to Deleware on the papers sent by Attorney General White. Legal advice from California, received by mail, shows that Gov. Budd acts as a Federal and not as a State officer; and when the papers are presented to him in proper form, it is his ministerial duty, without inquiry, to issue the warrant of extradition. Should he attempt to arrogate judicial functions, which the law does not confer upon him, Detective McVey, for the State of Delaware, through District Attorney Hosmer, will immedianely apply for a writ of mandamus, and there will be no alternative for the defence So confident are the Delaware officials now that arrangements have really begun for the operations of the law. Clerk of the Peace William Dickson and Prothonotary William T. Hutson have drawn the juries.

THE SITUATION.

Much is being said just now about the political outlook in this district. In summing up the standing of some of the counties, the Dorchester Standard says:

Talbot is wide-open, and it is probable that the free-silver candidate will get as many votes as Smith.

Caroline has always had a strong tendency, and the free-silver movement will receive a large following, drawn mostly from the Democrats.

Kent is strong for free-silver and it is a queston whether the Gorman-deKalb-Smith combine will be able to hold the party in line.

Queen Anne's the one county the Democrats have always relied upon for a good majority, is torn asunder by factionalism, and there is great excitement growing out of an alleged shortage in the county of $25,000 worth of bonds. Coupled with this there is a very strong free-silver feeling which only awaits the opportunity to break away from the domination of the local bosses.

In the counties below the Choptank Worchester, the home of Col. Smith, there is quite a respectable opposition to him, growing out of his having bolted his party and aided in the defeat of the nominees, which was manifested at the State election when he was a candidate for State Senator, running 31 votes behind Smith, the candidate for Comptroller; Smith, Comptroller getting a majority of 166 and Col. Smith for Senator getting 415 majority; besides there is some silver sentiment which is likely to develop into formidable proportions.

In Wicomico, one of the counties the Democrats relied upon for majorities, has been falling off in recent years. Quite a good number of substantial and influential men have severed their connections with the Democratic party and will be found voting with the Republicans until the money question is settled, and, there is every reason why Wicomico's majority this year should be smaller than in recent years. It is Col. Jackson's native county, and he has a large number of Democratic friends who will give him a complimentary vote.

Somerset will probably increase her Republican majority of 500, as there is some discontent in the Democratic party ranks, but less perhaps than any county on the Shore.

Here in Dorchester the Republicans will roll up their usual majority in national elections; besides there is a strong free-silver sentiment here and has since two years ago, when one of the large meetings that was ever held in Cambridge was addressed by Hon. Joshus W. Miles and Maj. Wm. E. Stewart for Bryan and free-silver. A number of influential free-silver Democats have already declared they will not support Smith.

Taken altogether, the outlook is most encouraging for Republican success, but Republicans should not rely upon Democratic discontent, division and demoralization that now pervades the rank and file of the party, but should put forth the supreme effort of their lives to give Jackson a rousing majority, as President McKinley will need every friend to aid him in carrying out his policies, and the nation needs in Congress every friend of honest money.

Letter to the People.

Office of the Secretary of the Peoples Party State Central Committee, 301 Pearl St., Balto., Sept. 30, '98.

MY DEAR MR. KELLEY:—Upon calling upon our friend S. S. Fields on my way through Baltimore, I was informed by him of the wise action recently taken by the true democrat and populists in the nomination of Mr. Wm. Willis for Congress. I was sorry that my engagements are such as to prevent me from stumping the district for Mr. Willis and I sincerely trust that every populist, every silver Democrat, and every friend of mine will do all in his power to aid him. The national banks are the head and front of the trust monopolies which are threatening our liberties and free, institutions. They desire to control the volume of money and with that control, to be absolute masters of all industry and commerce. The banks hate Bryan as they have hated no man since Andrew Jackson, and are endeavoring to defeat him by sneaking their partizans into office as Democrats. No friend of Bryan can support John Walter Smith, president of the national bank and vice president of the Maryland Bankers' association, which recently declared by a unanimus vote for the single gold standard and banks notes without living to regret it.

Love Knows no Obstacles.

George H. Stewart of Milford had a novel experience last week, in an attempt to get married quickly. During the early evening he proposed to Miss Clara M. Scott of that town that they be married. No sooner was the proposal made it was accepted. The couple decided to have the nuptial knot tied as soon as possible. The first thing to do was to secure a license, and a trip was decided upon to Dover to see Clerk of the Peace Dickson. The train had departed, but nothing daunted, the couple secured a team and off they started for Dover, a drive of twenty miles. Clerk of the Peace Dickson, however, could not be found, and the magistrates had closed for the night.

The determined couple then drove to Smyrna, twelve miles north, in the hope of getting a license. Every one in that town had, however, retired for the night, and the couple returned to Dover, where they spent the remainder of the night. They secured a license, and were married the following afternoon by the Rev. Dr. Alfred Smith in Wesley M. E. Church.
