DENTON, MARYLAND.

Thursday, Dec. 29, 1898.

DURING President McKinley's recent speech in the South he asked: "Who will haul down the American flag?" For some little while it appeared that no one was anxious to even offer a suggestion as to how it could be done, but after Wm. Jenning Bryan doffed his soldier suit he was full of suggestions along that line. It strikes us very forcibly that the Colonel is a policy man. He is all things to all men. A few months ago he made oath that he would fight for the American flag, which means that he would see that it should float over our territory. Instead of being true to the stars and stripes what do find in him? We will judge him by his own words and acts. He believes in misconstruing the great deeds of the late war and makes political glory of them for his own popularity. To what extent he will [illegible] with thinking people, is not hard discern. If it is notoriety he is seeking, most likely he will get it. As to hauling down our flag in the Philippine Islands, Mr. Bryan favors it by saying the flag was made for the people, not the people for the flag. As the two are so closely allied it is difficult to separate the two. It is unfortunate that a certain class of politicians should endeavor to destroy the magnificent results of this war for political reasons and it should be frowed down. This was not a party triumph, neither does either party as a whole so consider it.

SOME of the leading Southern journals claim that President McKinley's speeches in that section are ringing with the sentiment expressed in Jefferson Davis' last address in Mississippi City in 1888, when he said: "Men in whose hands the destinies of our Southland lies, for love of her I break my silence to speak to you a few words of respectful admonition. The past is dead—let it bury its dead, its hopes, and its aspirations; before you lies the future—a future full of golden promise, a future expanding national glory before which all the world shall stand amazed. Let me beseech you to lay aside all rancor, all bitter sectional feeling, and to take your places in the ranks of those who will bring about a consummation devoutly to be desired—a reunited country."

Words like these, coming as they did from Mr. Davis, should have been heeded years ago. Few Southerners had as much to forgive and forget as Mr. Davis, yet we saw him first in war, then a leader for a reunited country in time of peace. He strove to allay sectional animosity in his section. Could the vail be lifted and departed permitted to look upon two sections today, would likely hear to say that many lives were saved because forethought and wisdom was detroned.

[illegible] Monday will be a great day in Cuban history. The capital of Cuba will at that time pass from the dominion of Spain, of which it has been a part since 1763 and, with but brief intermissions since its foundation in 1519. The transfer is to be marked by the raising of the American flag, on public buildings and forts and the booming of cannons. A street parade of American soldiers is also under consideration, but thought unwise as it may incense the Spanish population. Havana has already entered into new business relations, as many Americans have been going there for months to invest money in business enterprises and the city is enjoying a boom on decidedly new lines. After the transfer is made Monday we naturally may expect to hear that that island has entered paths of peace and prosperity.

Now that the Baltimore Sun has made up with Gorman and is right in line with the regulars, it is high time that all the Democratic organs throughout the State were making apologies and amends for the many slings and arrows flung at the Sun while that great luminary was making its noble fight.—Chestertown Enterprise. Perhaps the Sun is playing horse with Mr. Gorman and is coaxing him into his spider-web parlor with the intention of giving him a worse dubbing than a year ago. As to Democratic organs apologizing for defending Mr. Gorman, would be an unheard of thing. He has the country press of his faction under his thumb. After he severs party relations as an office holder, and has no more favors at his disposal, then his grip on the press will be broken.

IF you wish to make your friends happy in 1899, send them a year's subscription for the UNION. They will think of you fifty-two weeks in a year.

Two years ago Warren C. Coleman a well-to-do colored man of Concord, N. C., began to canvass the State in the interest of a cotton mill. Saturday revealed the fact that his labor was a success when the 7,500 spindles began to turn. The mill was given Coleman's name, he having secured subscriptions aggregating $50,000. The white people of that State are doubly interested in that enterprise as it is owned and operated entirely by colored people, the only case on record where so much capital is invested. This mill is the 235th cotton mill in operation in North Carolina. It will employ 100, and the stock is widely scattered. The machinery is all new and of the best pattern, the building is of brick and well constructed. Many whites were anxious to take stock.

SENATOR Hoar was at Charleston, S. C., last week and in the course of a speech reiterated what the President said on the death of sectionalism. It was not many year ago the Senator was a rabid sectionalist. He led the fight in the Senate in favor of the force bill, which was intended, it was said, to give complete Federal control of presidential and congressional elections. Then he said bitter things about the South. It can be truthfully said that sectionalism is dying out, for which every true citizen will rejoice. A united country is what we are now about to realize, and that for all time, we trust.

REPORTS from Hyannis say that turkeys are selling at $18 apiece and are scarce at that. Chickens bring $17 each and eggs 60 cents a dozen. Bread is 9 cents a pound, sirloin steak 65 cents, cabbage 60 cents a head and lettuce 30 cents a bunch. Beer is 40 cents a pint and ice $20 a ton. Americans are doing without as many necessaries as possible until after January 1, hoping that high prices will come down with the Spanish flag. It would appear from these reports that the people of Cuba have more money than anything else.

As it is in order to make new resolutions for the coming year, let us well consider the matter before turning over the new leaf. The old one, perhaps, is filled with many irregularities and short comings and some of us might blush were the past exposed to public gaze. As we pass this mile-stone let us make the best of resolutions and then live up to them; as though we never expected to pass another. When we live after this fashion the community in which we live will likely be the better for it in many ways.

THERE will be some Republicans who will hang up their stockings until the middle of January. Its the little senatorial office that they wish to find in the toe.—Del. Ex.

That little senatorial plum seems to worry our Democratic friends in Delaware considerably. The voters after years of Democratic rule wisely concluded to make a change in the management of public affairs and laid the old party on the shelf, hence the undue anxiety for Republicans seeking office.

JENNIE Hitrick has just presented a bill to the Commissioners of Garret county for $105, which she claims is due to her by reason of her being confined in jail for 105 days as a witness for the State. This question has already been decided by the Court of Appeals of Maryland, and it is held that a witness had a right to recover for the number of days actually spent in jail awaiting trial.

THE Democrats of Iowa, in State conference, says the Chicago Herald, have formerly ratified the popular decree that free silver at 16 to 1 is a dead issue. While this formal recognition of the demise of Bryanism by the Democrats of the Hawkeye State was not needed to complete the record necessary for the death certificate.

WE wish our readers a prosperous and happy New Year.

Hard on the Sheriff.

Sheriff William R. Flinn, of New Castle county, was very much surprised, it not absolutely shocked, to receive a letter recently from Chicago containing a savage attack upon him because of the Delaware whipping-post. Accompanying the letter was a clipping from a Chicago paper, giving an account of the whipping at New Castle Jail, November 28, of Sato Pennington, the negro who attempted to assault a white girl, and of other prisoners. The letter was as follows:

"You miserable brute! You worse than a conniba! You and all concerned in this inhuman work ought to be burned at the stake, for you and the miserable hounds on the bench are a disgrace to your fellowmen and all humanity. Have you any children? If so, may you be made to suffer as the parents of those you so delighted to lash have suffered—you contemptible, white-livered cur, who, no doubt would sell your offspring for self gain! May your fellow citizens despise and loathe you for all days to come, and may you meet a ten times worse fate than Pennington, whose distrees and agony is delighted your low-down nature! they ask $75. per week for 52 [illegible] issued no

Joshua Y. King, Executor of John Steiner, deceased, vs
Ellen C. Ford and Ford, her husband, and Irene Steiner.

In the Circuit Court for Caroline County. In Equity. No. 955.

This suit is instituted for the construction of the last will and testament of John W. Steiner, late of Caroline County, deceased.

The bill states that on or about the day of December, 1896, John W. Steiner departed this life leaving a last will and testiment, a copy of which is filed herewith, marked "Complainants Exhibit A" wherein your orator was named as executor and letters testamentary having been granted to him. That by said last will and testament the said testator devided his estate both real and personal into four parts, giving to his wife, Mary J. Steiner, one part conditionally, one part to his daughter, Mrs. Ellen C Ford, wife of conditionally, and two parts to his daughter Irene Steiner, as will appear by reference to said will filed as aforesaid.

That said Mary J. Steiner filed her renunciation of all claim under said will and accepted in lieu thereof her rights under the laws of the State of Maryland in such cases made and provided, as will appear by reference to a copy of said renunciation filed herewith marked "Complainants Exhibit B."

That the action of the said Mary J. Steiner in thus declining to accept the provisions of said will has thrown doubt upon the proper distributive share of the said Ellen C. Ford and Irene Steiner.

The said defendants are non residents of the State of Maryland, but are residents of the State of Pennsylvania, and your orator is advised that he is entitled to have said will construed that he may be protected in distributing the funds that have or may have come into his hands from the estate of the said John W. Steiner, deceased.

That the said Irene Steiner is an infant under the age of twenty-one years.

It is thereupon, this 24th day of October, 1898, ordered by the Circuit Court for Caroline County, in equity, that the complainants by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper printed and published in said Caroline County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 21st day of January 1899, or served according to the provisions of Chap. 38 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed at the January session 1896, give notice to Ellen C. Ford and Ford her husband, and Irene Steiner, absent defendants, of the object and substance of this bill for them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 6th day of February 1899, to show cause if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

MATTERS OF INTEREST.

The patronesses of the Kent Club ball to be given December 29 will be five young brides—Mrs. A. B. Richardson, Mrs. DuPont Walker, Mrs. Howard M. Wilkinson, Mrs. William Pennewill and Mrs. Mark W. Cole.

Delmar had a mad dog scare recently. A mad dog ran through the town and the people were warned by a man on horseback who followed in the wake of the dog. One man, Robert Brown, colored, was bitten by the animal and it is feared that a number of dogs and pigs have been bitten. The mad dog also tore a part of Mrs. Willis' dress. It was finally killed. Mr. Brown was taken to a hospital in Baltimore for treatment.

Two brothers, successful Kent county farmers, drove to Frederica, Del., on Thursday and returned to their homes with happy brides, believing that it is not good for men to live alone. The bride of John A. Coverdale was Miss Rebecca Harrington, daughter of Alexander Harrington of Frederica. James R. Coverdale wedded Miss Mary Faringer, daughter of Cyrus P. Faringer, also of that town. The Rev. John Clayton performed both ceremonies. A fine wedding breakfast was served.

A child of Albert Mousley of Dover, was recently kicked and knocked senseless by a horse. The malar bone of the face was fractured, causing the eye to fall out. Dr. W. F. Davis, who was in doubt about restoring the eye, held a consultation and treated it with strong restoratives until the bandages were removed, showing the eye fully made whole and useful.

A meetings of the commissoners of the Rehoboth Association was held in Wilmington on Dec. 22, with Governor Tunnell presiding. Among those present were Commodore W. H. Shock, Jas. E. Hooper, T. C Ruddell, of Baltimore, and H. B. Munn, of Washington. Considerable improvement will be made in the resort next year, and a large camp-meeting expected.

It is said that friends of Col. T. Cooper, who was sentenced last [illegible] eighteen months in the penitentiary for complicity with William N. Boggs in the embezzlement of funds of the First National Bank of Dover, will ask Senator Gray on his return from Paris to intercede with President Mc Kinley to secure a pardon for Colonel Cooper. Mr. Gray was senior counsel for Colonel Cooper during his trial.

The publication of a notice that the Delaware Game Protective Association proposes importing jack rabbits into that State has aroused the farmers of Kent and Sussex counties. They state that in some portions of the West no fruit trees can be grown because of the pest, and they don't propose that the orchards of Kent and Sussex shall be ruined by their importation.
