Thursday, April 13, 1899

OF late we have heard much concerning ex-Gov. Frank Brown, the Democratic apostle who is to lead the Democrats to victory in Baltimore next month, and who is sometimes called "Honest Frank Brown." The main plank in their platform is for honest government, however strange it may appear to the public at large. Mr. Brown and his friends may have faith in their little scheme, but they will find they will have a small following of the independent vote on 2d of May. To show our readers how much practical sincerity there is to Mr. Brown's pretended honesty, we take the following from the Baltimore World, one of the staunch Democratic papers of that city, says: "Ex-Gov. Brown, reputed to be worth over $500,000 only pays taxes on $7,000 in Carroll county, and escapes it by going to Europe in May each year and the people of that county are amazed at Baltimore Democrats for accepting him, when he is a tax dodger." The World does not stop with making the above statements but quotes from ex-Mayor Joseph D. Brooks, of Westminster, the present register of wills of that county, and of the same political faith, says: "We know Frank Brown in Carroll county only too well. Why, poor as I am, I pay more taxes to Carroll county than this reformer and man of wealth. He takes a trip to Europe every summer. It is very handy for him to leave in May, as the tax levy of Carroll county is then made up and not a dollar of personal taxes is laid against him, because the assessors can't find anything to levy. The tax against him is on a piece of real estate valued at $7,000. He can't carry that to Europe with him very well. Reform? Bah! Why Brown couldn't carry his own district in Carroll county. We look upon him as a fine evader of taxes, and now he is trying to reform Democratic politics in Baltimore."

The above is a sample of Democratic reform in Baltimore. For years the reforms in that city were said to be closely allied to those of Tammany in New York on account of its corruption. Mr. Gorman, who having been found out at home, has turned Baltimore over to Mr. Brown to manage, thinking perhaps he was not so well known, while he pulls Tammany wires for a presidential nomination. Bah! is the word that applies to Baltimore Democracy.

As we have said before it takes but little to satisfy Democratic politicians at this time, and it was again verified last week by the announcement that Mayor Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago, had been reelected for another term. This so over joyed the press of that faith that it burst forth when it heard the news and named it "a grand Democratic victory." But, was it a Democratic victory? We think not and will show it by their own statements. Prior to the election they called it a non-political fight but one for the fulfillment of certain local issues, and along that line the vote was cast; all the leading papers of that city, save one for Altgeld the anarchist, used their influence for Mayor Harrison's reelection and thousands of Republicans their votes, yet, with all these influences in his favor, fell 1,000 votes short of his last majority for mayor. In order to defeat anarchy rule and carry out much needed local reforms, the better elements of the two great parties came together and united on the present incumbent as the man to carry out those reforms, and because he is a Democrat, that party could not miss this opportunity to shout, being they have had so few chances for the last few years. Principle triumphed and a liberal minded Democrat was selected to carry the reforms out, independent of party issues. These are the facts.

THE Kent Democracy are apparently very sanguine of success in the election this year if we can judge of the number of candidates looming up.—News. What's true in Kent should apply to Caroline as Democrats are the same everywhere, and as they haven't loomed up in this county we may take it for granted they are not so sanguine. It's a poor rule that does'nt work both way. While we know but little of the situation in Kent we are, however, strongly tempted to accept the News' version of it for this county.

AN exchange says a shoe trust is on foot, a glove trust is on hand, and a wooden leg trust will soon be stumping around over the country, and, the paper might have added, making more campaign material for our Democratic friends.

WAGES are being raised, shrieks Republican organs. Yes, and factories are being shut down by trusts, throwing thousands of men out of employment. The alleged rise in wages, when properly realized, is simply a reduction in pay.—Seaford News. That sort of stuff, brother, may go down in Sussex where the people eat oysters and live on the shells, but it would'nt work in Caroline. We don't "presume in that way on the credulity of our readers." As our brother editor doe'nt seem to know what is transpiring in the outer world, let us quote one or two telegraphic reports this week from a Democratic source. "Evidences of the return of prosperity is multiplying. One of the most encouraging signs is the increase in wages of mill and factory operatives in various parts of the country. Even the cotton mills of New England have joined the procession. Notices have been posted announcing a restoration of former wages. This effects from 130,000 to 140,000 operatives. * * * Many of the leading iron and steel plants of the country have advanced wages, and in other branches of industry there has been pronounced improvement. On all sides are seen indications of a condition that is most gratifying and encouraging. * * * The Philadelphia Press, (Rep.) says 37 iron and steel foundries and allied industries in which the wages of 91,000 have been increased from 10 to 25 per cent., and 17 textile mills and allied industries in which 34,600 employes have received an advance of 10 to 20 per cent. Bradstreet says the metal foundries, etc., effected by the advance is more than 300,000 men, New England 140,000 and miscellaneous industries over 200,000. The large increase in the number of employed in the Northwest brings the total up to about 700,000. "There are others," but this should convince the News of the folly of its ways, and the sooner is ceases howling about trusts and gets into the procession the better.

OUR Queen Anne's neighbors believe in the old saying, "that the early bird gets the worm," if we can judge anything from their political maneuvering. That county is boasting of independent candidates, big dinners and stump speakers, of the Democratic persuasion, of course. In this county it is not so with that party. While some candidates in both parties have been talked of, we have heard of but one person publicly announcing himself as a candidate, and that is ex-Sheriff Berry for renomination. As the political tide does'nt promise a very high one on the Democratic beach in this county this year, it is hardly probable that it will wash very large fish into the political stream. It is vastly different from what it once was when half a dozen candidates wanted the same office, as it is at present in our sister county. Time has made many changes with us along that line and from present indications there will be others. Let the office seek the candidate rather than the man the place.

THE Army Beef Court of Inquiry seems to be on the home stretch and from what can be gathered from its doings nothing has been accomplished by it beyond spending thousands of dollars of the peoples' money in waste, all because Democratic politicians demanded an investigation for party capital, but we infer from the muttering of the Balto. Sun they are going to get left. Every precaution has been taken by both sides that no undue advantage be taken either, yet the party of blunders is beginning to read the hand wrightings on the wall. Witness after witness have been examined but, as yet, failed to prove that this government was to blame for any spoiled beef. The U. S. chemist made his report a few days ago and says the meat has been thoroughly anailized and was found to be sweet and wholesome. What turn the next night-mare attack may take, remains to be seen.

THAT bribery investigating committee in Delaware, seems to be taking a rest. The lull seems all along the line. It looks now if they acted before they thought, and to carry out their sweeping declarations meant a whole lot would get into that dragnet if thrown out. Farlow, Clark and King are giving the would-be-holier-than-thou bosses back talk but they are saying nothing. It is clearly evident that if they make a thorough investigation of bribery charges the officials of that State will have enough work to spoil their summer vacation and will keep the mill of justice grinding out crime for a time at least. Will the pot call the kettle black?

UP go the wages of steel workers in Pittsburg, says Wilm. News, and when the business warrants the wages improve. The law of supply and demand always applies and there is no getting away from it. To this the Every Evening files an objection as usual. It thinks the News should ascribe the praise for prosperity to the protective tariff and a Republican administration. If the Dingley act and the efficient workings of the Republican administration did not create the "demand and supply" need what did? Certainly the Every Evening does'nt mean to insinuate that this prosperity is the after effect of the Cleveland administration?

THE Democratic press of Baltimore is working hard to convince the masses that "Tom" Hayes, as they are calling him, (the word Tom being used as a vote catcher,) is not the rich man's candidate, but represents all classes. Just here they have a bigger contract on hand than they will be able to carry out. That party is noted for biting off more than it can chew and then retires gracefully. A short time ago they were lauding ex-Gov. Brown to the skies, calling him "the essence of purity," "the deliverer of democracy," etc. But, what do we now see since the search light of truth has been turned on him? His own party call him "a tax dodged and one who runs away annually to evade the law." This, we believe is not contradicted by his friends, while he is consigned to a back seat. Does this imply a great deal for the vaunted party purity of the Democratic party in the Monumental city? Watch "Tom" Hayes and see the masses size him up a little later.

THE unexpected is always happening, and that the public may know how they do things in St. Louis, Mo., we will quote the decision of a city judge on wife beating. The case was one were the husband was charged with beating his wife because she would not agree with him in the management of their children. In passing judgment he said: "In this case the wife was more guilty than the husband for trying to contradict and thwart her husband's will in the presence of the children, and setting them a bad example, which he had a right to rebuke. There are times when a wife irritates her husband to such an extent that he cannot control himself, and uses his hand or fist. As long as no serious harm is done I believe in this punishment." He evidently has taken that part of the good book literally, which says, "wives, obey your husbands in all things."

THE new whiskey trust is to be called the Pennsylvania and Maryland Pure Rye Distilling Company and has a capital of $30,000,000. It is thought the yearly output of this concern will will be 100,000 barrels. This means a vast amount of whiskey and for our State to be a partner to it is nothing that can be pointed to with pride by law abiding citizens. As our Democratic contemporaries seem to oppose any and everything tainted with trusts, this will be an excellent opportunity for these papers to show their sincerity in this matter. Watch them and see if they do it.

THE death angel has during the past week sorely afflicted Greensboro and claimed an average of one a day. It has been no respector of person, either as to age or color. Of those stricken by death none will be more missed than Miss Bertha Cohee, who was a universal favorite. She had just reached young womanhood and had bright prospects before her when summonsed to her long home, but died as she had lived, trusting in the merits of her Saviour.

THE Baltimore folks say "Tom" Hayes will be elected with a whoop, and there'll be a lively old time between now and election day.—Ex.

Yes, some people say almost anything when it serves their purpose. Tom's friends are putting up a big bluff and having their fun before the election this time.

THE Chicago platform men are to go even lower than the silver dollar diners and have put the covers at 80 cents for Saturday's Jeffersonian dinner at the metropolis, and will be represented by the free silver wing of democracy.

THE death of W. F. Leland, late proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, was doubly sad coming as it did so closely after the untimely death of his wife, daughter and two cousins and is deeply lamented by a wide circle of friends.

A Strange Disease.

Easton a few days ago was puzzled over an epidemic which an Easton correspondent says swept the town, and no satisfactory conclusion can be reached. Hundreds of the people of that place have been taken with cramps in the stomach very suddenly, which in some cases brings on diarrhœa, shaking chills and fevers, pains in the kidneys and violent headaches. The epidemic continues for about two weeks and in most cases the victims go to bed. It seems to serve the patients differently. Some it leaves with pain in the back, others with pains in different parts of the body, and it appears that where, in most epidemics the same remedy is used by all, that in this case different remedies have to be prescribed for each patient. The doctors were puzzled as the cause of the trouble, which attacked not less than one third of the population.

It is the opinion of some that the water of the town is bad, or that the standpipe is foul, but it is pointed out that many who do not use the standpipe water are affected just the same. The air is said to be the cause, and also the spring fish, but people who do not eat fish are stricken. The malady has grown to alarming proportions, and it is a fit case for investigation by the State Board of Health. The illness lasts from two days to a week, and most cases confines the sufferer to bed. It always begins, however, with cramps in the stomach.
