THE Democrats told us before the municipal election in Baltimore last week that "there was'nt any politics in it at all," while now the little fry of politions in the counties throughout the State tell us "it was all politics." Thus the Republican party can see their insincerity now it is too late. The we(a)kly papers in this vicinity, as well as leading Democrats, rubbed up against each other and talked of the "grand Democratic victory," and many of them have really been led to believe their party will carry the State this fall, and when questioned concerning their belief, say as Baltimore goes, so goes the State, having already forgotten that party lines were obliterated and that the independent Republican vote put Hayes into office. When party lines are drawn, as they will be this fall, the Republican vote that elected Hayes, will naturally return to where it belongs. The old party can't hide any longer behind non-party issues, but must take a decided stand. Deceptive tactics have lost their power, besides other conditions will be in vogue at the next election. The record of the Republican party during the past four years, has been an excellent one, and on several occasions has called forth words of praise from some Democratic and Independent papers of the State which means an excellent administrations of affairs to do that. The annual report of the Tobacco Warehouses is just out, and, like the others under the Republican administration, is receiving merited approval. The report says that after the payment of the costs of operation there has been turned into the State treasury the sum of $15,705, the largest net revenue on record. And thus it has been all during Gov. Lowndes' administration, and if that counts for anything when compared with "the old ring rule," then the Republican party in the State must win this fall. A party that carries out the best interests of a State is the one to be in power and unquestionably the Republican party has proven to be that and if merit counts for anything, then the Republican party will win this fall.

SENATOR Chauncey M. Depew has returned from an extended trip West whither he had gone to attend several annual meeting of various roads In the West and South Mr. Depew says Bryan is stronger than ever. If the convention should be called at once Mr. Depew thinks he would have four-fifths of the delegates. The opposition to him outside of New York is very small. Mr. Bryan has a strong hold on that people and if he should say that free silver was neither plausible or good at this time the people would follow him just the same, he having so much influence over them. Again Mr. Depew say we must not get the idea that he is a weak candidate for he is the strongest candidate the Democrats have. He is in touch with them at all times and keeps his friends working continuously in his behalf, and the Senator believes he will be nominated again next year, and the platform will be just whatever he chooses to make it. If Mr. Depew sees the true inwardness of the Bryan situation it is not hard to predict the results that will naturally follow, as the people see more clearly the folly of free silver to day than three years ago.

SEN. Wellington in discussing the political situation in this State a few days ago said Gov. Lowndes was the only logical candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, because his administration has fulfilled all the pledges made by the Republican party and beneficent reforms have been accomplished in all the departments of the State, besides he enjoys general esteem regardless of party politics. Gov. Lowndes, the Senator added, his conduct, personally and politically, has been such as to make it possible for him to unite all the factions of the party and he would draw larger from the Democratic ranks than any other candidate the Republicans could present. He and his friends stood loyally by Mayor Malster in the late contest and exerted every influence in his behalf. I am sure Mr. Malster and his friends appreciate this and feel very kindly toward the Governor.

CRISFIELD has a Capt. Evans, keeper of the lighthouse, aged 66, who has just married Miss Ethel Fluhart, aged 14. They are now at the shore spending their honeymoon.

MR. Chauncey M. Depew, senator-elect of New York, takes a sensible view of a governor appointing a U. S. Senator and the Senate confirming the same when consitent with the wishes of the State at large. Every State should have her full representation, and if the legislature comes short of its duty, then the governor of that State should appoint the person getting the highest number of votes, thereby taking up the work of the legislature where it left off, and carry out the wishes of the majority. To quote Mr. Depew's words he says: "I do not think that a State for any reason should be left unrepresented in the Senate. I would rather by vote establish a rule to govern such cases, and then act under that rule."

THE report of the beef court of inquiry has just been made public and savors strongly of the mock trial refered to last week. That our boys endured hardships and had many unpleasant things to contend with, goes without saying. War implies all that and more too, and for a set of cheap politicians to have run the people to thousands of dollars expense for a little vain glory, is preposterous in the extreme and has already rebounded with double force. The inquiry not only failed to rebuke Algerism, but worked injustices on Miles, Eagan and others that were drawn so deceptively into this political net-work scheme.

OUR Democratic friends put a great deal of stress on Republican opinion when it suits them, and we have an illustration in Col. Supplee, City Register, Baltimore. The Col. seems to be a model Hayes reformer and is shaping his job for a Hayes breeze; watch him get it; but it will be in the neck. With Hayes backed by the old Rasin and company ring, means a sorry plight for reform. The mask will drop after Mr. Hayes takes his seat in November, it is thought by competent judges, and then the "old ring" will do business again at the old stand. The kind of non-partisan city government Baltimore will get shortly will be the kind that non partisan Democrats will give them.

A glance at the next presidential platform by Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, leads him to believe that the G. O. P. will reassert everything it has ever said and favor expansion. It will also put in a plank, he thinks, condemning trusts and reaffirm their declaration in favor of the gold standard. He said concerning the Democratic party that it would likely declare again for free silver and the Republican party would have practically no opposition, as Bryan has read the New York Democrats out of the party. It has failed to keep pace with the march of progress, and like an old machine, is out of date.

THE Republicans owe their defeat to several causes, the race and religious issues playing a considerable part. Then again there was a large number of Republicans who would not support their candidates and voted for Hayes. The Sun championed the cause of Hayes and says it was a triumph of the people and purely a non-partisan victory, which will place the control of the city government in the hands of men of character, free from "boss" or "ring" dictation. The American says it was a signal victory for ex-Sen. Gorman, and that he used his enemies to once more lift himself to his old time leadership.—Dorchester Standard.

MR Vander Hoogt, Sec'y of Immigration of this State, has completed arrangements whereby about 150 families of Hollanders will be located on the Eastern Shore. The reason this section suits them best is because the land is similar to the Dutch flat lands, and the climate is also similar, and the same class of products is cultivated there. Many, perhaps, will be surprised to learn that we are so closely allied to Holland in these respects.

HAYES carries Baltimore for mayor by nearly 10,000. Now for the State next November by 25,000.—Easton Ledger. Our neighbor boasts of ripe age and mature judgment, but we see him still building air castles and chasing ideas which are as unstable as moonshine. We believe our friend's ideas for Hayes were around the 25,000 mark, but the official returns put them at 6,753 majority for Hayes. Try your figures on the other side this fall neighbor, and see if they don't fit better.

ALL the Baltimore dailies are a unit on Hayes election being a non-partisan one, while the country press insist on throwing up their hats and shouting themselves hoarse over their so-called "grand Democratic victory." The Snow Hill Messenger even brought out its Democratic rooster to help it crow.

PRINCETON University is trying to fit ex-President Cleveland to a chair but is having trouble to get a fit. The university is now sizing him up on politics, with but little success in that direction. If the institution would try him to a chair for bankrupting a nation, it would would get a fit in short order.

A grave responsibility now rests upon the Democracy. Good government must be a substantial realization or that mighty force which has swept the Republicans from power completely will turn again and rend us.—Kent News. Our contemporary is not so completely lost to reason as others papars with little or no discression. The News sees the breakers ahead and knows that the "old ring" is is at the helm again. It knows that the element that put him there will be satisfied with nothing short of that promised, and therefore naturally fears developments.

HEREAFTER checks passing through New York banks from other sections, will be charged for at 10 cents each. This is a new departure and the reason for it in this section is unknown. It can readily be seen that it will be an injustice to charge other banks for passing their checks through that city, while their checks are handled by other banks free. Baltimore and Philadelphia can charge for such accommodations with equal propriety, thus destroying the usefullness of the free system in a measure.

THE Klondike gold yield this season is said to be the largest yet made and will amount to nearly $20,000,000, distributed among the various creeks.

$20,000 Fire at Vienna.

About 1.30 o'clock Saturday morning fire broke out in the post-office in Vienna, Dorchester county, and spread so rapidly that the whole town was endangered and the greatest alarm prevailed amoug the inhabitants who were aroused from their slumbers by the occurrence. The post-office, in a public hall, the Methodist Protestant Church and two stores were destroyed, while several other buildings were damaged. The total loss is estimated at about $20,000 and insurance $8,000.

The post-office, where the fire began, was located in Derley Hall, which was soon wrapped in flames, and the fire was communicated to the large store of Webb Bros., and almost as quickly shot across the street to a large fine Methodist Protestant Church. From there it communicated to a small store on the same side of Church street and within a space of ten minutes all four buildings were a roaring furnace. There being no modern way of fighting the fire, the bucket brigade had to use its best efforts. The flames crossed Back street to the residence James A. Higgins. Part of the roof of this house was burned on the west, and on the east the Protestant Episcopal Church and the residence of James S. Smith were both on fire.

The burning of the steeple of the Methodist Protestant Church was a grand sight. The steeple was eighty feet high and the flames played up its side until the entire steeple was all aglow high up in the air. This pillar of fire remained stationary for a while then fell with a crash. The loss of this society is $5,000, insurance $1,000. The church had been insured for $3,000, but the policies lapsed.

The post-office was a total loss. The mails were burned and some money in safe lost.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is believed to have been the work of a strange tramp, who is suspected of robbing the post-office and then setting the building on fire. The tramp was seen loitering about the post-office and after the fire broke out he was seen going toward the river, where he paid the ferryman a dollar to get him across. The ferryman told the tramp of the burning of Delmar Friday night, and he said the town ought to have burned and some more of them would burn soon. Vienna is a town of 500 inhabitants, situated on Nanticoke river, in Dorchester county. It is closely built and all the house are of wood. The town has not had a fire since 1869 until this one.

Boggs to be Sentenced.

William N. Boggs, the defaulting teller of the First National Bank of Dover, will be sentenced in about one week. He will receive, it is understood, five years. As he has been in New Castle jail for a year and two months, and as his allowance for good behavior at the New Jersey workhouse will be almost as much more, his actual term of imprisonment at Trenton will not exceed two years and two months.

and packing same into bags, thus giving the farmers the advantage of the latest methods of applying Lime in the most economical manner. Caustic Lime ground into Flour warms the soil in slacking and thus decomposes certain substances in the ground, which immediately becomes productive, and the gases going into the soil from the slacking of the lime are of untold value. Princess Caustic Lime Flour should be drilled in the ground with a wheat drill before corn is planted. Order the PRINCESS CAUSTIC LIME FLOUR. Manufactured at Bainbridge by
