HAVEMEYER, the sugar trust king, was before the Industrial Commission in Washington last week and told them he considered the "tariff the mother of all trusts," and while this assertion is nothing new, the Democratic press and politician are rolling it as a sweet morsel, which it is to them, without giving the public all the facts in the case. Mr. Havemeyer says nothing about the "father of trusts," thinking perhaps, as it is of free trade origin, having been born and nurtured in England for several years previous to coming to this country,it puzzles many to see the philosophy of the two opposites in the two nations, working out the same results. There is no question about free trade England being congenial to trusts, any more than protection is to them in this country, as viewed from a Democratic standpoint. The facts are that trusts prosper in proportion as business conditions may warrant. But, to get at Mr. Havemeyer's reason for advocating free trade in this country is in perfect keeping with the man. He advocates anything that will put dollars in the pockets of the sugar trust and therefore wants a lower duty on his raw material than the notorious Gorman-Wilson bill laid. His trust has attained such vast proportions that now protection is no advantage, and by fostering weak manufacterers, it may be of more or less disadvantage to the large concerns. But, President Havemeyer says the tariff creates trusts. It protects our industries and foreign capital seeing this have invested their capital here by the millions, and if the press wants to get at the root of this evil let it assail this foreign element. As to Standard Oil monopoly, it had no connection with the tariff, as it dealt in a product in no way protected by the tariff, and is strongly entrenched in other countries and is one of the strongest known. Again, Mr. Havemeyer must have forgotten when he said that protection was the mother all trusts, that 50 per cent. of them were motherless, as one half of them are in no way effected or connected by protection. A few of the leading business men of the country having been interviewed relative to this sugar king's statements concerning trusts, generally unite in saying that self-interest and being a Democrat is the foundaation for the charge. He is a regular contributor to the Democratic campaign fund, and has been agrieved more than once that the Republican party could not be induced to legislate in favor of his combine, and it may be for these and other reasons that he thus pays his respects to the tariff issue. The Democratic leaders have entered upon a hopeless task in trying to make party capital at the magnate's expense. The empty charge that Republicans have fostered trusts, doesn't need even a denial. The party's record in congress show better things. When the Democrats were in power they made no effort to check trusts, but Pettigew offered an amendment to defeat if possible, the Dingley bill. Republicans are said not to be alarmed at the sugar king's contribution to hungry Democrats. They are on their record as regards caring for the interests of the working people and restricting trusts.

AT a meeting of the Maryland Democratic Association, which is a free silver organization, it was determined that the association would support the Democratic nominee for governor, provided he voted for Bryan.—Dem. Ex. This is the general expression of the free silver wing of the party in the State, and as a credential of membership this qualification is necessary. That association also declared that the Democratic nominee for governor be first a Democrat. This provision is shrouded in somewhat of a mystery, as it is no easy matter to define Maryland democracy at this time, their views and beliefs being so many and varied. D. B. Hill, of New York, got into pretty much the same position a few years ago that democracy of this State is in, and when he would appear before an audience the first utterance or greeting was: "I am a Democrat." There are many Democrats and Republicans in this county who would like to see democracy explained; will the county papers of that persuasion do it?

Try our Job Printing.

AS usual, the Free Press was muddled(?) again last week in the high school building question, and for the lack of "facts," it took the two papers' figures on the same matter of this town, added them together, and gave them out as one, besides making it appear that the County School Commissioners were asking for $7,000 from the county when in reality it is $3,000. Another mistaken idea has laid hold of the Free Press, as it says: "Every industry in the county is financially paralized." For the good reputation of the county we deny the charge and ask the Free Press to prove it. We have as few forced sales as any county on the Shore, and generally speaking our people are prosperous and happy. "Even our county treasury, fed by our most excellent system of collecting revenue, is often depleted and the County Commissioners forced to borrow money to meet current expenses," says our contemporary, but why did'nt he tell the whole truth? That would not answer the purpose. The reason why our county is in debt is due to Democratic misrule, and less than two years ago the present board of commissioners had a Democratic debt of between $10,000 and $12,000 laid upon their shoulders, besides others debts that have come in since then that will swell the above amount,and worse yet the county has but little to show for it. When the present board assumed control of the county affairs, it found that its predecessors had put patch upon patch upon its bridges and roads until something more substantial must be done,which fell to the lot of this board. No one attempts to deny that the taxpayers are heavily burdened, but let the responsibility be properly placed and the party that made it held responsible, as that party told the taxpayers each year they were in power the amount of cash they needed and it was provided. The debt which hangs as a night-mare over our brother, is a dead horse for the county.

THE Republican administration of municipal affairs in Baltimore under Mayor Malster will be recorded as one of the best the city has ever had. An official statement made by City Register Supplee shows that instead of beginning his administration with a heavy floating debt, as did Mayor Malster, nearly two years ago, Mayor elect Hayes would find a surplus of nearly $300,000. This elegant showing is all the more appreciated, when the fact is considered that the administration began with a floating debt of $239,000. And the State is enjoying just such a good business administration from Gov. Lowndes. —Cecil Whig. The turning down of Mayor Malster a few weeks ago by the voters of Baltimore city, looks as though it might be a parallel case to that of turning down ex-Pres. Harrison and putting ex-Pres. Cleveland in the chair in '92. The country was prosperous at that time and all was well, but the disaster which followed is known to all. Only a short time ago not only Baltimore but the State was rescued from the control of the famous Gorman-Raisin ring and put into the hands of honest business men, as financial statements have shown. The people of Baltimore may rue it, the same as this nation did from '93 to '96, as the old ring is endeavoring to control that city as of old.

IN some sections School Trustees have been authorized by State legislatures to act in connection with Health Boards. As such trustees represent the county in more ways than one, it seems as though considerable good might come to this State by the adoption of such a law, and perhaps be the means of the speedy arrest of contagious and confectious diseases. The present summer, for all we know, may be a critical one to the health of the State. Small-pox is prevalent in the middle states and with the vast number of canning and packing houses throughout the State with the cheap labor it attracts, is the most dangerous any community can have. This class of people rove around more or less, having no permanent abiding place, thus becoming an easy prey for disease. Local school boards throughout the counties of the State with the additional rights granted them as boards of health could do much to prevent an epidemic by exercising the powers if given them.

"A little sore, but we'll take the whole ticket," was the verdict of many on Tuesday.— Chestertown Transcript. Very sore and strong talk of a revolt in Kent seems to be the true version of the Democratic situation. Tuesday following the primaries, quiet indignation reigned supreme. Whether the party leaders will be able to heal these fresh wounds and turn the agrieved into line again, will be seen later. That party puts great stress on the soothing effect of the party whip.

OLD Dona Marianna died recently at San Paulo, Brazil, at the extriordinary old age of 136 years. For many years she was the object of great interest to frequenters of that section, as she is said to have been the oldest person in the world.

Smyrna has a one-year-old colt that chews tobacco.

IN speaking of trusts a Western editor says: "The biggest trust after all is the country newspaper. It trusts almost everything,and for that reason the people like it. It is the only trust on earth that is worked to the limit, and the only trust where the proprietor gets the smallest share of the dividends. Every city in the State has a branch office of this trust and the trusting soul who goes down in his pocket for the dust to keep this trust going is abused like a pirate if he even hints that his paper needs something besides air to keep his trust inflated."

LESS than 4 per cent. of silver represent the currency in circulation, and 80 per cent. of the silver dollars coined cannot be forced into circulation. If Bryan isn't side-tracked in his free silver coach for president, the public will be surprised. He has had his "fun," now let Gorman have his turn and chase delusions over the States for the next year, as Bryan has done during the last

---

BECAUSE the people elected Mr. Hayes mayor of Baltimere is no proof that they are ready to support any candidate the Democrats may nominate for governor, regardless of former affiliations or ring proclivities. The independent voters of Baltimore cannot now be counted on the fingers of two hands.— Dem. Ex.

JERRY Simpson says the Democratic party has been swallowed by the Populist party. We were wondering what had become of Jerry.

How to Evade a Stamp Tax.

Those of our readers who are blessed with a bank account will be gratified to learn that they may be exempt from the payment of the two cents hitherto required for check stamps, by applying in person for the money they desire to draw and by signing a receipt for the same. Both the banks in town have adopted the new rule and are supplied with the blanks which they will give to their depositors on application. It must be borne in mind, however, that this rules applies only to personal receipts. It does not to a check in any form; so if the depositor desires to pay some one for money due, or if he desires to send it through the mail to pay for any debt incurred or if drawn in any form and made payable to another party, it requires the stamp as heretofore. The form which is posted in the banks, is in these words:

Personally received from the ——— Bank ——— dollars.

Senatorship In Talbot.

The Republicans in Talbot will respect the provisions of the Constitution of the State and nominate a canidate for Senator on the ground taken by the Democrats that Senator Dodson vacated the office when he accepted a Federal appointment. It is possible that Percival Mullikin will be the Republican Senatorial canidate, although George H. Trax, Clifton Hope and others are considered. On the Democrat side the name of J. H. Caulk Kemp is heard most frequently, and Harmon K. George and Joshua G. Wrightson are also mentioned.

Postoffice Robbers Captured.

The cracksmen who dynmited the postoffice safe at Princess Anne a few days ago, were captured at Norfolk, Va, just as they were boarding a Bay Line steamer for Baltimore.

The men, who gave their names as Frank Morris and Charles Williams, of the Eastern Sho', made a great dash for liberty, but were finally captured and landed in jail by the detectives. Williams was armed but he made no attempt to use his weapon. In a box they had with them was found the $470 worth of postage stamps stolen from the office.

New Peach Pest.

Michigan has developed a new peach pest which arrests the growth of the fruit when it is about the size of a hazelnut, thus producing a crop locally known as "little peaches." It was first noticed about two years ago, and this year its ravages were alarmingly extensive. So far no remedy has been found for it, though expert investigation and experiment are not wanting. In Saugatuck township during the present season more than 4,000 trees were affected.

ELECTION SUPERVISORS.

The Supervisors of Election for Caroline county, met at their office in Denton on Tuesday and appointed the following Officers of Registration who shall also act as Judges of Election in the several election districts of said county for the present year:

First district, William H. Smith, Marydel, r.; Wm. H. Goodwin, Henderson, d.

Second district, Wm. L. Cooper, Goldsboro, d.; Republican Registrar to be appointed.

Third district, Edgar Todd, Andersontown, r.; Correll H. Stewart, Denton, d.

Fourth district to be supplied.

Fifth district, John Kent, Nichols r.; A. P. Redhead, Federalsburg, d.

Sixth district to be supplied.

Seventh district, Thos. G. Cline, Ridgely, d; Republican to be appointed.

Eighth district, Amos Fishell,Agner, r.; L. John Bloxsom, Williston,d.

The above named officers are hereby notified to appear at the office of the Supervisors in Denton, on Tuesday, June 27, at 10 o'clock a. m., for examination. The appointment of Republican Registrars in the Second, Fourth, Sixth and Seventh districts, and of Democratic Registrars in the Fourth and Sixth was deferred 'till the meeting of the Board of Supervisors on June 27.

County Commissioners.

At the election this fall one or more County Commissioners will be elected in each of the twenty-three counties of the State. In no case is an entire new board to be elected, but in six counties a majority of the board will be. These counties are Allegany, Cecil, Kent, Washington, Wicomico, and Worchester. In Allegany all the five commissioners are Republicans and three of them go out. In Cecil there are three commissioners, all Democrats, and two of them go out. In Kent there are five, four Democrats and a Republican. The Republican and two Democrats go out, leaving two Democrats holdovers. In Wicomico and Worchester each there are five commissioners, all Democrats, and in each the term of three expire. The election may, of course, change the complexion of the board in each of these six counties. In Anne Arundel all three are Democrats and one goes out. In Baltimore county the election of the new commissioner by the Democrats will give them that county, which is now Republican. This is also true of Calvert and Talbot. By the new commissioners the Republicans will get control of Dorchester, and Howard, Anne Arundel, Carroll, Harford, Montgomery, Queen Anne, Wicomico and Worchester will remain Democratic for two more years, whatever may be the result of the fall election, and Allegany, Caroline, Charles, Frederick, Garrett, Prince George's and St. Mary's will remain Republican.

Under the Constitution of 1867, down until 1891, all the County Commissioners were elected biennially. But in that year the Constitution was amended so as to permit the Legislature to extend the terms of these officials, not to exceed, however, six years. The idea of the Legislature in fixing the terms was to arrange them that all should not expire at the same time, leaving always one or more experienced member in the board. This system seems to have given satisfaction. The office is one of great importance in the counties. It combines the functions of the Mayor and City Councilman, and is also the health office. The County Commissioners levy taxes and disburse all the public funds, making provisions for the public school and all the various branches of the local government. They have entire charge of the public roads and bridges and it rests with them whether a county shall be progressive, whether property shall be enhanced in value by good roads or whether the citizens shall be mudbound for a good part of the year. The public patronage in each county, or the best part of it, is distributed by the commissioners, and hence the political importance of the place. The responsibility of the office is heavy and the pay is light, not ordinarily exceeding a hundred dollars a year. It is to be hoped that at the fall election each party will be on its metal to place the best possible candidates in the field. It would be appropriate to select progressive men, who favor good public roads.

MATTERS OF INTEREST.

It is said Cambridge young women have an affection of the eyes as result of looking at so many ugly young men in that town.

The Board of Public Works has ordered an extra police boat to be employed at an expense not exceeding $50 a month to protect the oyster beds above Cambridge.

The date for holding the Talbot County Fair this year has again been changed. This time the dates selected are September 26-29, the latest it has ever been held.

The Singerly Mills were offered at auction last Wedne day, at Elkton but were not sold, because a sufficient bid could not be obtained. By decree of the court the two mills had to bring at least $200,000.

The county treasurer of Cecil county has collected $1,100 in dog taxes. This is a good suggestion for other counties to raise funds to add to the public road funds.

The proposed railroad route to the head of Rehoboth bay is being staked out by engineer corps of the Pennsylvania railroad. The new spur of track will pass the Hotel Douglass.

Capt. Thos. H. H. Reeves has removed his bottling plant from Centreville to Easton, and will manufacture soft drinks for consumption by the residents of that town.

The Smyrna Shirt and Hosiery Co. has bought the Dover shirt works. Both factories will employ 200 persons, and manufacture 700 to 800 dozen shirts per week.

Postmasters are directed to open all letters upon which postage has not been paid, to ascertain the name of the writer. To avoid this no one should fail to have their name and address printed on one corner of all envelopes used for mailing letters. This office affords everyone an opportunity to have this done at a very trifling expense.

The improvement of the Centreiville waterworks has been completed and the town commenced to use water from the new artesian well, which is over 500 feet deep. The water was analyzed and found to be lacking any impurities which prove detrermental to the health of the community. The water works have a boiler capacity of 120-horse power and pump capacity of 1,500 gallons per minute and never-failing water supply.

A Brutal Act.

Saturday evening Charles Hatfied, a negro, entered the store of George Zott, Bridgeville, a winemaker, and called for wine. Mrs. Zott was in charge of the place and as she stooped to draw the wine, Hatfield, it is alleged, rushed up behind her and dealt her several severe blows on the head. Mrs. Zott fell unconscious and Hatfield fled. The women was cared for and search was made for assailant. He was not captured, however, until next day, and was placed in jail to await the result of the women's injuries. Mrs. Zott is reported as being in a critical condition and the people of the town are much excited over the cowardly assault.

Monday he was brought to Bridgeville for identification, three attempts were made to fasten a rope about Hatfield's neck, but each time the would-be lynchers were prevented by Constable Parvis.She was a in serious condition Sunday night, but recovered sufficiently Monday to identify Hatfield as her assailant when he was brought before her.

The negro was then remanded to the custody of Constable Parvis, to be taken to Georgetown jail, but a crowd of angry residents had gathered about and threw a rope over Hatfield's neck. Constable Parvis removed the noose.

Three times the noose was put on the negro's neck, but each time it was removed by the plucky officer. Finally he placed the prisoner in a carriage, and started for Georgetown, with the angry men in pursuit. They soon realized that they could not overtake the carriage, and abandoned their cause.

Hatfield is now behind the bars.

The Strawberry Season Closed.

A correspondent from Bridgeville says the strawberry season is a thing of the past, and judging from a financial standpoint the season has not been a highly successful one for the grower. The season, which was the shortest for many years, ended in most sections a week ago, but shipments have been made every day in the past week. Twenty-one cars was the largest number shipped from that point any one day, and this number surpasses all former shipments.

Prices paid for berries during the past season were in the main unsatisfactory. Good berries of the Beubach variety sold for 2½ and 3 cents at the station during the big days, and this variety rarely brought over 5 cents. The only growers who realized any profits from the sales of their berries during the past season were those who had Early Michael and the Gangy berries. The former, as it name signifies, is an early berry while the latter name is a late veriety. These two varieties brought fair prices all along, and Gangys sold for 16 cents per quart. This was the largest price paid for berries during this season.

Small shipments of red Miller raspberry have been made during the past week, and big shipments will be made this week. This crop will be small, as a result of the drought, but the scarcity will unboubtly cause a great demand, and good prices may be looked for. The berries have been selling here for 9 cents per quart.

Shipments of Early Harvest blackberries begun this week, and this crop will be very small, as most patches were killed by the blizzard of last winter. The crop of Lucretia berries will be large, however, but these berris will not be on for several weeks.
