There's Joy To-day.

There's joy in many a home to day;
A joy that's been a stranger there,
Since Pa his siege he did declare
To hunt for votes most anywhere,
But now; why Pa's come home to stay!

There's joy in many a home to-day;
Since Bobby went in politics,
He's been away awatching tricks,
A turning stones and turning sticks;
But now, why Bob's come home to stay.

There's joy in many a home to-day;
Ma's Prohibition strong as fire,
The other parties roused her ire,
For them she built a funeral pyre;
But now, why Ma's come home to stay.

There joy in many a home to-day;
Sister Sue wants woman's suffrage,
But when she found on statute's page,
A law that wants the voter's age,
Why, then sister Sue came home to stay.

There's joy in many a home to-day;
Politics are such transient things,
They came and go on fleeting wings,
And leave behind too many stings,
So we, why we've all come home to stay!

To Our Friends.

Having enlarged our store and added other lines, we are now not in a position to run long time accounts. All goods are very high now and profits are very short, and we are not financially able to do it, unless we could collect closer when we wanted our money. We must necessarily buy a good many goods on credit when and we do so we certainly cannot sell them so, as we would soon be in a cramped position. We most humbly ask our friends who are under obligations to us, to call and pay; it would be thankfully received as we are in great need of all we can get. Respectfully,

The Garey Damage Suit.

The trial of the damage case of Mr. T. Fred. Garey against Caroline county, was taken up in the court at Centreville on Tuesday. The County is represented by ex-Judge Russum, of this place and Edwin H. Brown, of the Queen Annes' bar. Mr. P. B. Hopper, of Centreville, is assisting Hon. H. R Lewis, counsel for Mr. Garey. More than fifty witnesses have been summoned. Special rates were granted to these persons by the Queen Annes' railroad company. Many persons are of the opinion that the whole case depends upon the establishing of the fact that the road where the accident occured is a public road. On this point there seems to be some doubt, although the road has been repaired at various times by road overseers.

When court was called the case was at once taken up and a jury selected with but little trouble. The court in its ruling on the case was in favor of this county and told the prosecution it must first show that the road in question was a county road in one of three ways, viz: That it became such either by consent of the owners of the land through which it passed; or, by condemnation proceedings; or, through the regular way of advertising that a road was established by the county at a certain time. The last named way is how the plaintiff proposes to show that the road was established in '65. In that year the UNION contained an advertisement over the signatures of Messrs. Jas. K. Sanisbury, Jas. G. Redden, and Thomas Butler, as road examiners. The two first named gentlemen say that the road on which Mr. Garey was hurt, is not a public road or the one adopted at that time. Mr. Butler is not living to testify. The first person examined was Mr. Garey, who was closely examined by both sides, which, with getting a jury, took up the first day. The case is being pushed through as rapidly as possible, with safety to all concerned, the court being in session day and night. As $50,000 is involved in the case, it is attracting much attention.

Apple Pie Social.

The ladies of the Epworth League of the M. E. church held an Apple Social Fridry evening, and proved to be an enjoyable occasion. The main feature of the evening was poem writing for the Big Apple Pie, which was amusing. We give a list of the poems and let our readers judge for themselves who was entitled to the prizes.

'Twas at an apple social
Each one was called upon,
To write a little poem,
So count for me this one.

I'm very fond of apples,
All kinds beneath the sun,
Except the cart house apple,
This one I'll surely shun.

The Apples we are expecting,
Seasoned with cheese and tart;
But under no condition will we be partaking,
Unless it be brought from the house cart.

Of apples few, of apples rare,
Of apples rough, of apples fair,
Of apples sour, of apples sweet,
No apple can the cart house beat.

Crab apple jell
Is sweeter than any one can tell;
Crab apple pie is good,
And if I could eat it all I would.

Of all the apples beneath the sky,
The Greening stands ace high,
For eating it is unsurpassed,
For cooking it is just as fast,
And when it comes to making pie,
It is the apple of my eye.

Who'll tell the boy
Who so faithfully turns,
And after the axe was ground
The owner said you be'd——
So till today Grindstone.

Of all the apples in the State,
The carthouse apples takes the cake.
I have traveled the county and the State,
Through wheat and rye,
But the cartright apple takes the pie.

A Pretty Church Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Mary Williams Evitts, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Evitts, of this place, to Mr. Charles Green Griffin, of New York, took place yesterday at one o'clock, at the M. E. church, Rev. J. S. Wickline, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, ferns and palms. The wedding party arrived at the church on time and were preceded to the altar by the ushers, Messrs. G. W. Turner, of New York; Joseph Griffin, of Easton; A. G. Towers and Ormond Downes, where the bride and groom elect were met by the pastor and made man and wife. The bride wore a tailormade Castor cloth dress and carried a boquet of chrysanthemums, and the groom wore the conventional black. Prof Swann presided at the organ. The church was filled to overflowing as a token of the esteem in which the bride is held in this community. After the ceremony and the newly married couple had entered their carriage they were beseiged on all sides by friends wishing them much happiness. They were driven to Ridgely where they took the train to Philadelphia. After visiting several places of interest, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will reside in New York. They were the recipients of many valuable presents.

Queen Anne's Railroad Co in Trouble.

Since the trial trip of the steamer Queen Anne last month, which was built for the Queen Anne's Ferry and Equipment Co., it has been rumored that there was trouble in store for some one, and so it is beginning to materialize, as that company can't get possession of the new steamer, and therefore has instituted suit in the United States District court to obtain possession of the boat which was built by Chas. Reeder & Sons. The declaration states that there is a dispute as to the balance due on the steamer, and alleges that Reeder and Sons refuse to deliver the steamer or to enter into any agreement for the settlement of the dispute.

Eat plenty, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. It cures all forms of dyspepsia and stomach troubles. E. R. Gambril, Vernon, Tex., says "It relieved me from the start and cured me. It is now my everlasting friend." —George & Redden.

Brown-Horsey Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Ellen Carter Horsey, daughter of Nathaniel Horsey to Mr. John Cullen Brown, superintendent of the Diamond State Steel Works, of Wilmington, took place in Greensboro last Wednesday at the Church of Holy Trinity. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen, chrysanthemums and potted flowers and palms. Rev. Samuel J. French performed the ceremony. Miss Minnie Schavenger, of Dover, and Miss Elizabeth Hughes, cousin of the groom, were bridesmaids, both dressed in grayish mode. Mr. Charles Brown, brother of the groom, was best man. Following the ceremony was held at the bride's home for the bridal party and immediate family. The wedding march was rendered by Varnello's String Band, of Philadelphia. The bride received many presents of gold, silver, cut glass and china.

Is He Elligible?

The question of elligibility has been raised in the case of Sheriff-elect Price, of Cecil county. Price was elected on the Democratic ticket by a plurality of 250 votes. He was born and raised in the lower part of the county, but went west in '84, returning there three years ago. The law requires that a person must be a resident of a county for at least five consecutive years to be eligible to the office of sheriff, and hence the opposition claims Price cannot legally assume charge of the office to which he has been elected. On the other hand, the sheriff-elect says that during his stay out of Cecil county he never voted and always claimed that as his home. There is considerable anxiety over the affair, and what the outcome will be is impossible to tell at the present. Some claim the next highest candidate, the Republican nominee, should be declared sheriff-elect, while others claim the governor should make the appointment or a new election to be held.

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe and saved thousands from pneumonia bronchitis, croup and sore throat and lung troubles. George & Redden.

The Joppa in Collison.

The oyster schooner Nellie Allison, Captain Woodfield, was run down and sunk off Curtis bay Thursday morning by the steamer Joppa, Captain Cochran, of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway's Choptank River Line. The Allison sailed from Baltimore about 5.30 A. M., bound for West river for a load of oysters. Owing to the dense fog, was impossible to see far ahead. The Joppa struck the Allison starboard quarter. Captain Woodfield and two men of his crew climed on board the Joppa just as the schooner began to sink. The Addison was 63 feet long, and her home port was Annapolis. She is said to have been valued at about $600, and belonged to Captain Woodfield. The steamer Joppa was not injured.

Facts or Fiction?

Prohibition speakers tell us 100,000 men fill drunkards graves annually. Wonderful if true. Here is another wonderful statement, if true, but we vouch for neither one of them. This is the other one. About 36,000,000 babies are born each year an average of seventy every minute; that is, ten more in each minute than there are beats of the clock. A man with a pronounced weakness for statistics has figured that if all the 36,000,000 little ones were ranged in a line of cradles the cradles would girdle the earth. If carried one by one in their mother's arms past a given point the procession would continue for a twelve-...nth.
