him to lay his proceedings before each Session. The Intendant cannot help expressing his surprise at the Construction the Council have put upon his letter of the 13: relative to his Settlement with Col. Rawlings more especially, as the Intendant had informed them long before his letter of the 13. that he had agreed with Col. Rawlings in April last for all the flour he had or might receive from February till July at 11/6 ₩C. Subtle pounds, which in the Intendants opinion is a higher price than the Governor and Council agreed with him to the amount of Six hundred barrels, according to the paper received by the Intendant from the Council Office by their direction, said to be a Contract dated the 31. December last without being Signed Sealed or Witnessed. Col. Rawlings might have insisted upon the Settlement being made with him at the rate of 112 lb for every hundred, so far as his Bargain with the Governor and Council extended, with more reason than he afterwards did when he gave his Receipt to Col. Price on the 30 of June for 1785 ½ Quarters long hundred equal to 199,976¾ pounds of Flour, who informed the Government by his Letter
