Big Fire At Federalsburg.

News reached town by telephone on Tuesday afternoon that a fire was raging in Federalsburg and that the entire town was threatened. Ten houses were reported to be destroyed and on fire. Several gentlemen from Federalsburg, including County Commissioner J. B. Wright, who were in town, immediately left for home. Later reports showed that the damage had been exaggerated.

The fire started in the rear of Charles Pratt's house, which was burned, together with the stables and a water tank which supplies a number of houses with water. Every effort was made to save the tank, which would have been of great assistance in quenching the fire, but the firemen were force to abandon it on account the intense heat. The dwelling, barn and slaughter house of John W. Carroll were destroyed, and the house and outbuildings of Julia Wright, which were on the same side of the street with the Pratt house, were also burned. The house on the opposite side of the street occupied by J. R. Harwood was completed destroyed. The roof of Chambers' store caught, but the fire was put out before it did much damage.

Federalsburg has a fire department but on account of the high wind prevailing at the time the sparks were scattered so rapidly and furiously that they set fire no several places at the same time, and one engine was not equal to the task of fighting so many fires at one time. The Seaford fire department was carried down by the southbound freight to fight the fire, but as it was under control when they arrived they returned by the passenger train. The Cambridge company arrived a short time later and unpacked and began to pour water on the burnt and burning buildings. All the destroyed buildings were insured.

A dozen buildings in parts of the town were fired by sparks and at one time it looked as if the town was doomed. The lose is estimated at $10,000, insurance $5,000.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. Hugh Duffy, Hillsboro.

I. N. Mills' Annual Peach Figures.

Reviewing the peach, pear and berry crops for the present year, former Superintendent Isaac N. Mills of the Delaware railroad says:

"There will be about one-half a crop of peaches, which means well for the growers. When there are too many peaches, the fruit becomes a glut on the market, and poor prices are realized. Many are also allowed to rot on the trees, if not paying to ship them With half a crop there is not much danger of the above facts prevailing.

"All danger of June drop is past and peaches now growing will surely ripen, unless something unforseen at the present time occurs.

"Pears are growing in large quantities. Many of the fruit growers who tore up their peach orchards some years ago on account of the yellows are now successfully growing pears instead, and many of them are also planting new peach orchards some of which will bear fruit this year for the first time.

"The Delaware railroad is carrying more berries this year than was ever known before. Most of them are of a superior quality, and are being shipped in refrigerator cars. They are hauled to the city markets looking as if just picked off the bushes. Good prices are being realized.

"Taken all in all, this year will be a banner year for many of the fruit growers of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland."

The figures received by Mr. Mills from the Delaware railroad and the branch roads show that there will be shipped over the different lines a crop of 2,351,460 baskets of peaches and 362,345 baskets of pears.

The two crops are divided as follows by the railroads of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland:

Peach estimate—Delaware railroad 1,012,800 baskets; Queen Anne's & Kent, 233,925; Delaware & Chesapeake, 386,915; Baltimore & Delaware Bay, 184,100; Cambridge & Seaford, 94,550; Delaware, Maryland & Virginia (upper), 381,875; Delaware, Maryland & Virginia (lower), 57,295.

Pear Estimate—Delaware railroad 173,425 baskets; Queen Anne's and Kent 42,125; Delaware & Chesapeake 22,880; Baltimore & Delaware Bay, 95,300; Cambridge & Seaford, 3,975; D. M. & V. (upper), 22,855; D. M. & V. (lower), 1,785.

Mother Always Keeps It Handy.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains and general ill health due to primarily to indigestion," says L. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now at the age of seventy-six eats anything she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has herbottle of Kodol handy. Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is sound your health will be good. Kodol rests the stomach and strengthen the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic Hugh Duffy, Hillsboro.

To Build New Steamer for B. C. & A.

The large fleet of steamers of the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway will have another handsome addition besides the one now under construction at the Harlan & Hollingsworth yard, at Wilmington, Del. Plans are being prepared for a fine new excursion steamer to run on the route from Baltimore to Claiborne. These plans will be completed in about a month, and contract will then be let. The new steamer will be about 200 feet long, and have capacity for 1500 passengers. It will in point of speed, aim to excel the fastest boat in the harbor, and will be planned to travel between 18 and 20 knots an hour.

The plans are not wholly complete, but the new boat will have three decks. A unique feature will be a dining-room on the hurricane deck to seat 150 people. The main deck will include the social hall and ladies' parlor, and the saloon deck will have several state rooms and general lounging space. It is estimated that the new steamer will cost, complete and furnished ready for service, approximately $140,000. It is to be finished in time for the excursion season of next summer. The new boat at Wilmington is expected to be in service next month.

Great Record of Loan Association.

The People's Building and Loan Association of Dover has met with phenomenal success and has made some points that are unequaled. There are 3,500 live shares of stock held today and of this number there are only 15 that are not paid up to date, and they are held by four persons. There are 198 stockholders, and of them 138, nearly one-half, are women. The losses from all sources in twelve years only amounts to $6 75. The association owns no real estate nor has it a dollar of security which it cares to discount. The first series of stock will mature with the September payment when it will require $40,000 to pay off the holders. It is surely a record to be proud of.

It is thought that this is an unequaled record for a loan association and the officers challege similar organizations to equal it. It represents a business of $300,000 and the expense has been only $361 per year.

BASE BALL.

With high hopes of victory the Denton ball team left town on Saturday about noon on their special train for Centreville. There is no doubt that the nine carried from this place was a good one but fate seems against them and they were again forced to submit to defeat by the strong Centreville team. Orem the south-paw pitcher, was again in the box for Centreville and the score of seven "strike outs" shows that he did good work. Burris was in the box for Denton, but Saturday was somewhat of an off day for him, and he did not seem to pitch in his usual good form. The game however, was a good one and with any other club that Denton has met this year, would doubtless have proved a victory for our team. The boys made a game fight and have nothing to regret on that score The club has been highly complimented at both games by the managers of the Centreville club, who say Denton has given them the best games of the season. About 100 persons went over on the special and paid admittance to the grounds to see the game. The Denton managers are hoping to see a similar attendance from Centreville when the return game is played, which will probably be a week from next Saturday. Following is the score:

Democrats Meet in Baltimore.

Chairman Murray Vandiver issued a call for the meetiing of the Democratic State Central Committee at 1 o'clock yesterday, at the Eutaw House. Mr Vandiver said that at present he could not say whether or not the committee would go beyond setting the date for the primaries in the counties and fixing the representation in the convention of the various city wards in the Fifth and Second Congressional districts.

COME-IN-ISM.

By W. E. Shepard, of Chicago.

[The leaders of the Holiness Association claim that articles have been published in the newspapers at various times which place them in a wrong light before the public, and have requested that we publish the following article.—ED]

We hear a great deal said these days about "come-outism," and we thonght it might be appropriate to say a word on "come-inism." If one should have the boldness to leave one of the older denominations in these later times, in order to conserve the grace of God in his soul and farther the work in others by assembling together with them that call upon the Lord out of a pure heart, he is at once dubbed a "come-outer." Now, the meaning of the word "come-outer" in the original sense, and the only sense in which it should be applied to Christians as pertaining to a wrong step, is, one who comes out from all church organizations, and opposes the same, teaching that all should thus disconnect themselves and go alone. These people are modern Ishmaelites with their hand against everybody, and everybody's hand against them. They are continually making a fight against "sects," and are bitter in their invectives, and making that their principal teaching. To all this we would say, that this is in open violation to the word of God. The Word says, "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together as the manner of some is." Again, it tells with whom we should assemble: "With them that call upon the Lord out of a pure heart." Any body of saved people meeting together for worship is recognized in the Scripture as a church. This body of people may have their worship in a meeting house, or it may be a "church in thy house." Thus, we see that what was first known as real "come-outism" ran directly counter to the will of God. In some sections of the country this "come-outism" ran riot, caused havoc to the work of holiness and turned into rank fanaticism. We would cite the posted reader to the work in Missouri and also in Texas in the earlier days of what is called the "holiness movement." We deprecate all movements that fly in the face of the Scriptures and tend to scatter rather than to conserve the work of God.

For a church-member to leave one denomination and take up his abode by letter or otherwise in another denomination, is nothing thought of to-day, except that the former denomination regrets losing a member. But should a sanctified person, having struggled against the tide of worldliness and unbelief in his denomination, and finding that such surroundings were detrimental to his spiritual interests, and liable to cause him the loss of his soul; should he leave that denomination and unite with a holiness church, or help to establish one in his community, then the hue and cry of "come-outism" is heard, and he is branded as a "church-fighter" and "church-splitter." Of course we fail to see the consistency in this and wonder at such an outcry. They think it an awful thing to leave one's "mother" and take up with a holiness church. Holiness is the married state with Jesus, the experience of "oneness." When people get married they generally leave home. Most of the denominations never did have anything to do with holiness, and those who used to work at it have gone out of the business, and, as Rev. H. C. Morrison writes, pertaining to the M. E Church South, "as a church will never go back to it." Then who can wonder that when one gets married he naturally leaves such a "mother" and home? Again, in the natural order of events, when one's mother dies she is burried. She is not kept in state everlastingly and held as corpse, but put away Every spiritual minded person knows that the great denominations are dead. Dr. Godbey for years has taught that the so-called churches are fallen and dead. We heard him at the Scottsville, Texas, camp meeting two years ago make this statement: "I would not pay a preacher that fought holiness. What would be the sense of paying a preacher for doing what the devil will do for nothing." He further said on that camp ground that if they would turn him out of church, he would join the nearest holiness church possible.

Now, if Dr. Godbey is right, and who dares to deny it, what is the sense of hanging on to something dead? This state of things will wax worse and worse to the end. "Reforms never move backward." Then the only hope for the holiness movement is to move on and into the place God can bless it and keep it unto Himself. Thus, we see that it is not "come-outism" in its bad sense that we are advocating, but real, genuine "come-inism." We believe in coming into the experience of holiness. We believe in coming into a holiness church where one can have his liberty and keep saved and have a chance to work for God and see the work remain. We believe that wherever there is a holiness church in a town the holiness people and those who are eligible to the experience should come into it. We believe that wherever there is not a holiness church in a town there ought to be one. If there are no holiness people there to make one, then pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers into the harvest, and establish one for the good of souls and the upbuilding of His cause.

Evidently, we are misunderstood in this matter. But when we see poor, struggling souls battling against the worldly spirit and fallen conditions where they hold their membership, and see them leak out and then go overboard, and then come to the holiness church and get restored, then struggle and fail and fall again, we think it time to sound the warning and teach "come-inism" and house these tempest tossed souls

May the Lord open our eyes and help us to see things in the light of the judgment and of eternity. "Come thou and all thy house into the ark."
