Dr Anthony Epping January 1st 1781 (104)

Agreeable to my promise I now sit down in order to give you a history of my intended route from this place, I have had the advice and opinion of the Gentlemen on whom I called, on my way, from Bladensburg to Baltimore who directs that I should immediately proceed to the place I mentioned to you just before I left home (and make application there) since that the case there is nothing more likely than my being detained two or three days longer on my way to Philadelphia than I expected but may it answer the purpose, I shall be safe in my way I met with a letter at Hunting Ridge from your Father and Brother from the date it appears to have been the first they wrote after their arrival at New York, I need not mention to you the ~~[illegible]~~ contents only that there are hopes to return appearances every line. I would have inclosed the the letter to you - had it not been of so old a date and on the same subject of the others you have already received, but my Molly see this letter - I will write to her from Philadelphia where I hope to be about the last of the week as I am informed it is not more than two days travel from Mr Heaters - as you may let them know at Green Hill that I found the good people here very well - I am Your Anthony

Very Lovingly
