have in the most explicit terms limited their claim to 10,000 £, and yet they object to a transfer of the surplus — I have little doubt of success as the Claimants cannot refuse to application without a manifest violation of the plainest principles of equity. If I should be mistaken I fail, I need not inform your Lordship, that on no terms to a hearing of the Claims. I will not trust a Man to decide the Right of the State to stock to which a portion of Claim is made, if he should refuse to order a transfer of that Part to which no Claim is set up. — On obtaining a transfer of the surplus, if Mr Russell will comply with my proposal before mentioned, I shall consent to an immediate Decision of all the Claims, but I have no hesitation, that Mr.

Russell will agree to this, or any other thing
