THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 19, 1904.

THE Republicans on Tuesday elected their candidate for Mayor in Cumberland, and a majority of the other offices.

THE citizens of Baltimore, by a majority of 22,385, voted for a loan of $6,000,000 to be spent for modern docks, sewerage and improved pavements in the burned district.

IT will cost nearly $150,000 to repair the damage done to the west side of the new Court House in Baltimore by the fire of February 7th. The building is of Baltimore county marble.

ON the first of June next the war will have cost Russia $125,000,000. The estimated monthly cost thereafter is $3,500,000 for the navy and $15,000,000 for the army at the front. This will make the total expense on the 1st of January, 1905, about $254,500,000. The people of that country will be taxed almost to starvation to meet this tremendous expense.

JUST after the new Hotel Belvedere was opened in Baltimore Mr Olin Bryan, a prominent member of the bar, met with a serious accident in the hotel elevator that confined him to his home for months and from the effects of which he may never entirely recover. He has now sued the hotel company for $50,000 damages. It is alleged that the machinery of the elevator was defective.

THE Wide Tire law will come up at the fall election for the vote of the people and every voter should make a thorough inquiry into its provisions before casting his ballot It is well known that misrepresentations regarding it have been made already, and as truth always travels so much slower farmers should no form a hasty opinion of the merits or demerits of the measure. We fail to see where its provisions would prova a hardship to any one, and there is no doubt that the general use of wide tires would result in a great saving of road repairs.

THE Republican State Convention of Maryland was held in the concert hall of the Academy of Music Baltimore, on Wednesday of last week. United States Senator McComas presided and made a stirring speech that called forth much enthusiasm. The platform, which is somewhat lengthy, pledges the entire Maryland delegation in the National Convention to vote for the nomination of President Roosevelt, warmly endorses his administration and denounces, in unmeasured terms, the Democratic party, both National and State. The following gentlemen were chosen delegates-at-large to the National Convention: Hon. Louis E. McComas, Hon. Stevenson A. Williams, Hon. William H. Jackson and Gen. Felix Agnus; alternates, Mr. James H. Blake, of Kent; Mr. Gist Blair, of Montgomery; Hon William B. Baker, of Harford, and Col. M. M. Mulhall, of Baltimore city. Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore county, and Mr. Calvin L. Bretz, of Allegany county, were chosen electors-at-large.

THE war news from the Far East all seems to favor the Japanese They have met with some reverses by the loss of a warship, torpedoed by the Russians, but as far as the army is concerned it seems to be marching straight into the enemy's country with very little opposition The Russians are expected to make a fight within a few days as the Japs are nearing their new line of defenses. Port Arthur is said to be vigorously beseiged and the city of Niu Chwang has been evacuated by the Russians before the advance of another wing of the army and the Japanese have occupied the place. One gunboat was destroyed to keep it from falling into the hands of the Japanese. Generals Kuropatkin and Alexieff are reported to have quarreled, the former advising the abandonment of Port Arthur and the junction of the army there with his forces. He attributes his defeat at the Yalu river to orders from Alexieff countermanding his, and claims that without the army at Port Arthur, his forces are not strong enough to cope with the Japanese. Another fierce battle will probably take place within the next week.

THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

The Baltimore correspondent of the Philadelphia Record writes:

"The Republicans seem to be having an easier time than the Democrats in selecting their candidates for Congress. The Republican nominations are all practically settled, with the exception of those in the two city districts—the Third and Fourth.

"Congressman 'Syd' Mudd has already been nominated in the Fifth district, Congressman Jackson will undoubtedly be renominated in the First, Colonel Pearre in the Sixth and Robert Garrett, it is said, will get the nomination in the Second. In the Third district Congressman Wachter is a candidate for renomination. At present the organization is against him, and this means a fight, unless the unexpected happens and the factions, now so wide apart, come together. There is, however, believed to be very little likelihood of this, and both sides are preparing for another contest.

"It has not yet been definitely settled whom the organization people will support for the nomination, although the name of City Councilman A. M. Sproesser has been prominently mentioned. Another possibility is City Councilman Harry W. Nice.

"On the Democratic side there is uncertainty as to the candidates in each of the six districts of the State, but more in the First than anywhere else. On the Eastern Shore ex-Governor Smith has authorized the statement that under no circumstances will he accept, and ex-Governor Jackson has been almost equally positive in his declination to be considered as even a possibility.

"According to politicians from the Eastern Shore any man ambitious to get to Congress from the First district should have at least $10,000 to spend in the campaign. Otherwise his chances for election are declared to be exceedingly slim.

"In the Second district friends of Charles E. Fink, of Carroll county, are energetically working for his nomination, and the Carroll delegation to the convention will be solidly for him. Mr. Fink also has many friends in Harford county.

"Congressman Fred Talbott for weeks has been telling people, 'I am not a candidate,' but it is asserted that he has not told any one yet, so far as can be learned, that he would not accept a nomination if offered to him.

"In the two city districts the rush for the Democratic nominations seems to be entirely confined to the Fourth, where three gentlemen are desirous of succeeding Major J. W. Denny, who is likewise a candidate for renomination. Two of these—Senator John Gill and Francis P. Curtis—have announced their candidacy, and J. Charles Linthicum is on the verge of doing so. It is likely that Lee S. Meyer will eventually take the nomination in the Third district.

"Nothing definite has been settled yet as to who will be Congressman Mudd's opponent in the Fifth district. Robert W. Wells is in the field. St. Marys county will support B. Harris Camalier. The convention in the Sixth district will not be held until September 28."

Overwork in High Schools.

The Baltimore Sun of May 4, says editorially:

"Statisticians agree, it appears, that the size of American families diminishes from decade to decade and that it is to the immigrant population we must look hereafter for a respectable rate of increase. The native population shows a decided preference for small families, or none at all, with the result that the so-called "race suicide" exercises the minds of our statesmen. The diminished rate of increase is general, but is particularly striking in the East and Northeast, where education and wealth most abound. Investigators have busied themselves with the cause of this lamentable decline, seeing in it the decay and prospective annihilation of the old stock which made the Republic what it is and the substitution of aliens, to whom the ideals of the "men of '76" will not appeal. There has been a disposition to find the source of the tendency toward small families in the colleges, where, it is alleged, aspirations are fostered which unfit for the simple duties of domesticity. The hard study, late hours and sedentary occupations of the college girl are prejudicial to her health, so that by the time she wins her degree she is, it is alleged, a physical wreck. She is not only incapable of the strenuous life of a wife and mother, but has become indifferent to the role which promises her the most happiness.

"In a recent issue of the Popular Science Monthly an 'alumna' of an Eastern female college reviews these contentions and gives her opinion at some length, deducing her conclusions from the personal histories of the members of the class with which she graduated. The showing that the college alumna averages but 1.8 in family is not disputed. That the tendency to small families affect all the members of her class is freely conceded. It is also conceded that the paucity of children per family is directly due to impaired physique, the alumnæ being as a rule unequal to the ordeal of maternity. Not for want of courage; the testimony is clear that it is the eager desire of every married alumna of the writer's class to nestle a sweet little cherub in her arms, and any amount of hardship is cheerfully confronted. But the average alumna is unfitted for the role she prefers, and the limitation of the size of family is involuntary. The cause of this incapacity is not, however, the writer thinks, in the incidents of college life. It is ascribed to the high pressure of work, rivalry and excitement in the schools attended before going to college. It is the high school, not the college, that does the harm. It is at the high school that the immature girl is subjected to exhaustive work at a time when her tasks should be lightest. It is at this period that vitality is impaired, with the result that a breakdown occurs at college, or later, when the practical duties of life are entered upon. College life tends rather, it may be held, to recuperation, since it favors gymnastics and other wholesome exercises more faithfully than the high school does. Reform is to be sought in the repression of rush methods with girls at school, in the cessation of high pressure, in the abolition of commencements and prizes and constant attention to the maxim that health is much more valuable than learning."

A Curiosity for St. Louis.

The steamer Virginia of the Wicomico River route, took a curiosity to Baltimore one day last week in the shape of a cook stove covered inside and out with hundreds of oysters. Arrangements are being made to have the stove sent to the St. Louis Exposition, and placed with the fisheries exhibit in the Maryland building as illustrating the persistence with which the Chesapeake bay oyster clings to life. Clarence Sewell, a Hongo river waterman caught the stove with oyster tongs. The doors and plates of the one-time cooking utensil are gone, and hundreds of oysters, varying in size from that of a penny to the full sized marketable bivalve, are encrusted over nearly every inch of space, inside and out.—Snow Hill Messenger.

HARRINGTON, DEL., Jan. 7, 1903.
MR. HARVEY:
Dear Sir:—I want to say a few words in behalf of the Quick Meal Steel Range which I purchased of you a few weeks ago. It is a No. 1. baker, a quick heater, and draws nicely. It is even a nice stove to sit by. It will when done cooking in the oven, heat the room as well as a set stove. It burns wet, green wood better than any stove I ever saw. In fact, it gives perfect satisfaction in every respect. I find it all you told us it was. I can hardly tell you how well pleased we are with it. If I knew I could not get another, no price anywhere in reason, could buy this one.
Yours respectfully,
(MRS.) JAS. H. OUTTEN.
Burrsville, Md. Nov. 22 1903.
Mr. T. Harvey:
The Quick Meal Steel Range I bought of you last year gives entire satisfaction. I don't see how a range could be made to work any better.

Mr. T. Harvey:
We are more than pleased with our Quick Meal Range we bought of you. It bakes beautifully and is a perfect charm in every way. Truly yours.
(Mrs.) WILBUR PENNINGTON.
Denton, Md., Feb. 6, 1903.
Mr. Tilghman Harvey:
Dear Sir—The Quick Meal Steel Range that we got of you proved to be all right. We don't ask for anything better. Yours, MR. JAS. F. WRIGHT.
March 7, 1903.
Mr. T. Harvey:
The Quick Meal Range I bought of you some time ago gives entire satisfaction. It is a good burner and a splendid baker. It is a "quick meal range" indeed. I don't see how a range could work better. Your stove is all you claim it to be and it is indeed a wood saver. I don't see how any stove could give better satisfaction.
