CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA.

"I wish to say a few wordsin praise of Chamderlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by R J Colston, Denton, Davis, Druggist, Ridgely.

REHOBOTH

For the past week the faint and warm breeze has been loaded with mosquitoes by the dozens, hundreds thousands. The abundant ocean however, furnishes a sure cure for every ill, and morning noon and night will find the edge of the water filled with relief-seekers of greater or less degrees of bravery

The trains are well filled, notwithstanding the discouraging atmosphere, and the cottages and boarding places are doing their utmost. The Jim Crow cars are in service, and make travelling more pleasant.

The five-cent pier is fairly groaning under its attractions. There is an appalling bunch of new bamboo poles and crab nets, to be used in the fishing box at the end of the structure, and at the extension to the right of the pavilion a merry-go round is in process of construction.

Besides the two merry. go-rounds at the beach, large swings are being erected on the excursion grounds for the pleasure of visitors.

Both the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. T. A. of Baltimore have returned to their summer camping grounds, the former to the lower beach by the old Douglass ruins, the latter to the Stenson Cottage.

Summer School Entertainment.

Under the anspices of the Carotine Summer School, Prof Sydney S. Handy, of Easton, assisted by Mr. A. K. Handy, will give a picture-play entertainment on Tuesday evening, August 2, at Masonic Hall. The subject chosen is Milton's "Paradise Lost," and the pictures are from Dori and the old masters. The rendition is accompanied by music adapted to the sentiment of the selections, thus giving a combination of art, literature and music, all arranged to express the same meaning at the same time, but in a different way. These gentlemen have presented this picture-play with marked success for several seasons. The pictures rpresent the work of several years in collecaion, and are remarkably fine. There is not a dry moment in the whole evening. The program is divided into two parts, the first consisting of illustrated musical selections, impersonations, songs and a scene from Sheridan's "Rivals." It is hoped a large audience will be present to enjoy an evening of humor, song, and story.

Tickets will be on sale at Colston's drug store. Admission 25c.

To Resume Cape May Excursions.

Mr. Frank Ehlen, receiver of the Queen Anne's Railroad, received a telegram from Cape May Saturday advising him that all plans have been completed at that end for resuming the trips from Lewes, Del, the eastern terminus of the railroad division, to Cape May in conjunction with the seashore travel between Baltimore and the New Jersey resort, and the shedule is now being arranged and will go into effect either Friday or Saturday next. The popular Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday excursions will also be arranged for under the new schedule.

The new steele ocean-going steamer Queen Caroline, which was built for the Queen Anne's Railrord Company's business, will leave Baltimore next Wednesday in charge of Capt. R. T. Gillingham for Lewes, where she will take her place in the ferry service under the new schedule. Capt. Gillingham has been in command of the steamer for the last two seasons on this route.

A visit to Cape May by this route gives a trip across the Chesapeake on the steamer Queen Anne to Love Point, there connecting with a fast train, with club and chair cars attached, for a ride across the peninsula of Maryland and Delaware to Lewes. The journey is continued on the Queen Carloine across the Delaware Bay, passiag en route the Henlopen lighthouse, situated on the sand dunes of the famous cape, the historic Delaware Breakwater and Harbor of Refuge built by the Government.

The company is doing an extensive excursion business at Love Point and Queenstown, on the bay, and at Rehoboth Beach, on the Delaware coast.
