New Steamboat Route.

Col. Oswald Tilghman, Secretary of State, and president of the Eastern Shore Transportation Company, has chartered for five weeks the excursion steamer General Dumont for excursions from Cambridge, Claiborne, Oxford and Love point to Chesapeake Beach, each place being the terminus of a railroad.

Last Friday the Dumont took the stockholders from Chesapeake Beach to Claibourn and from there they went to Cambridge and Oxford by rail, on an inspection trip. Saturday the first excursion of Washingtonians was taken from Chesapeake Beach to Ocean City., a special train conveying them from Claiborne and returning by the same route on Tuesday.

Col Tilghman speaks very encouragingly of the enterprise, the plan being a most inviting one, Washington being only 32 miles by rail and 16 miles by boat, from the most fertile sections of the Eastern Shore. He also expects that there will be liberal travel from the shore to the capital.

Jackson Re Nominated for Congress.

Hon. William H. Jackson, of Salisbury, who has twice carried this district as the Republican nominee for Congress, was on Thursday renominated by acclamation by the convention held at Ocean City.

Hon. Henry M. McCullough, was named for President of the convention by Postmaster William J. Smith of Elkton. Mr. McCulough was made temporary and permanent Chairman, and made a brief but forcible address, paying high tribute to President Roosevelt and Congressman Jackson.

E. E. Walton, of Wicomico, moved the Congressman's renomination, and A. P. Parsons, after a seconding speech, moved that it be made by acclamation which was done with a whoop. The resolutions cordially indorsed the administration of the President and declared that the business interests of the country demand a continuance of Republican rule. Congressman Jackson's record is heartily appproved, as follows:

"He has been faithful and conscientious in the performance of the duties devolving upon him in the high office to which he has been twice elected, and his rugged honesty and unswerving devotion to the highest and best interests of the people have won for him the confidence and respect of the people throughout the entire district."

The attendance at the convention was exceptionally large including nearly all the leading Republicans of the district. Robert R. Walker, an Easton attorney, was chosen as district elector, in place of Dr. Isaac A. Barber, ineligible on account of being a National Bank president.

Mr. Jackson had a conference with all the delegates prior to the meeting of the convention, and there is full confidence that he will again carry the district. The only contest in the convention was from Queen Annes county. The Wilson and Rich Delegates were each allowed two votes.

Eight Prisoners Escape.

One of the largest jail deliveries in the history of Delaware took place at Georgetown on Friday, when a deputy sheriff in the Sussex county jail was overpowered by a desperate prisoner, and eleven men gained their freedom. The men scampered in all directions, and Sheriff Steele and posses are hunting for them all over the county. They are believed to have made their way toward the Maryland line.

The jailor felled into insensibility was Deputy Sheriff Charles P. Purnell, and among the eleven prisoners who gained their freedom were some of the most desperate convicts in the jail.

They included prisoners awaiting trial for murder and kidnapping, both capital offences, and for crimes of minor importance.

It was about 1.05 o'clock when the assault of Deputy Sheriff Purnell that led to the general jail delivery was committed. Sheriff Steele was away at the time, and it appears Deputy Sheriff Purnell, who is well advanced in years, was left in charge of the jail.

At the time many of the prisoners were lounging about the corridors, or in cells with open doors. Some were downstairs and in the yard. They were not closely confined, although some of the more desperate men were kept in their cells, with doors barred.

Purnell was struck an awful blow behind the ear and fell senseless to the floor. Immediately the prisoners dashed down the stairway and into the yard in the rear of the jail. They found nobody to obstruct their progress and scampered across lots and down a street in the rear of the jail until they struck the farms south and west of Georgetown. There they separated and in pairs it is believed they took their own courses.

Jacob Hopkins one of the colored men who escaped, returned Monday. He told Sheriff Steele that he had boarded a freight train at Dagsboro Saturday afternoon and had gone as far as Snow Hill' but, being hungry and footsore, he decided to come back. He says he parted company with the 10 other men just after leaving jail, and has not seen them since.

None of the other men have been captured, nor are any of them surrounded in a swamp, nor has anyone been hurt so far as the sheriff knows.

Sheriff Steele has telephoned a description of the men to all towns on the Peninsula.

Deputy Sheriff Charles T. Purnell, who was attacked by the prisoners, is not hurt.

When last heard from the fugitives were on the road leading from Georgetown to Seaford.

The proverbial "woman in the case" figured in this affray. A negro, Manlove, became attached to Lewis' wife, and started down the street with her. Lewis attacked Manlove, and the latter's companion, Masten, pulled him away. Later in the evening, Lewis and Masten met on a dark street, Masten stabbed Lewis in the back.
