REPUBICAN NOMINEES.

For President,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
OF NEW YORK.

For Vice-President,
CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS,
OF INDIANA.

For 59th Congress:
HON. WILLIAM H. JACKSON,
OF WICOMICO COUNTY.
Election—Tuesday, November 8.

DEMOCRATS care very little about Candidate Davis' age so long as he displays a generous disposition.

IT must seem a little awkward for the Democrats to ask for power, not on their own record, but on the strength of the Republican party's record.

GEN. MCCLELLEN repudiated the Democratic platform of 1864, just as Judge Parker has repudiated it in 1904. The results will be about the same.

THE advance in the price of wheat means money in the pockets of a few farmers who are holding their wheat and especially western growers of spring wheat.

EVERY table of statistics showing the growth of trade and manufactures under Republican rule spells prosperity for the people and disappointment to Democratic hopes.

THE Baltimore Morning Herald has announced its intention of supporting the Democratic Presidential nominee and the Herald Publishing Company will also begin the publication of an evening edition.

"IT was at no time possible to have adopted a gold standard platform at St. Louis," says Senator Culberson of Texas, No one will question Senator Culberson's right to speak with authority on Democratic politics.

TWENTY SIX thousand survivors of the Union forces assembled in Boston last week and marched through the streets of that city before an assembled multitude of 500. 000 people. Abont 1,000 men from Maryland were in line. Quite a number of Confederate veterans were entertained at the encampment.

THE Democrats are left in a rather unenviable predicament in regard to their Congressional nomenee by the action of Mr. Jackson, as it is reported that Hon. Thomas A. Smith, of Caroline County, has no desire to serve his party as the second choice of a second convention. In fact it is admitted by leading Democrats, that the party's chances of success have been materially weakened and the rush(?) of candidates for the nomination seems to be about over.

A CRISIS in the war in the East seems to be almost at hand. Both of the Russian fileets have been defeated and scattered with the loss of several of their best ships and the disabling of others. A terrific bombardment has been going on for some time and the Japanese are gradually but surely closing in on the doomed city. The Russians have given up hope, but are determined to die at their posts, having refused the demand of the Japanese to surrender.

THE Democrats of the Second Congressional district are having troubles of their own. Their convention met on Thursday of last week and after effecting an organization proceeded to nominate three candidates for the nomination for Congress. A deadlock continued for two days and the convention adjourned until September 5. On Friday 127 ballots were taken. The nemines before the convention are Fred C. Talbott, Charles E. Fink and Thomas H. Robinson. Talbott received ten votes and each of the others five, on every ballot.

EX-GOVERNOR JACKSON has sent a letter to Chairman of the Democratic Convention, Henry R. Lewis, declining to serv as the Democratic candidate for Congress. In his letter to Mr. Lewis the ex Governor says: "Unofficial information which I have received, leads me to believe that I was not primarily the choice of the Convention, and that my nomination was not made in response to a public sentiment reflected by the delegates to the Convention." In other words the foxy old Governor does not propose to be put up and knocked down by John Walter and his friends. He seems to realize that the hatchet that has been so boastingly buried could very easily be dug up and used for his especial benefit.

Judge Parker and the Trusts.

On Tuesday August 9, the New York Times, which is a zealous supporter of Parker and Davis, came out in an editorial in favor of the nomination of Daniel S. Lamont as the Democratic candidate for Governor of New York, saying "his nomination would be the strongest the party could make." On the same day it published the following information in its news columns:

It was learned last night that James J. Hill, of St. Paul, the President of the Great Northern Railroad, is especially anxious to see Mr. Lamont nominated. Mr. Lamont is the Vice-President of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Both roads were parties to the Northern Securities merger, which President Roosevelt and his Attorney General successfully combated in the courts. Mr. Hill is especially bitter against President Roosevelt, and has espoused the Parker and Davis cause. Mr. Hill, however, as a preliminary to making his campaign contribution, which is one of the largest in the country, is understood to be insisting that he be assured that New York State is at least likely to go to the Democratic ticket.

It is said that Mr. Hill believes that Mr. Lamont can carry the State of New York and can materially aid the election of the Electoral ticket. For this reason, there is good reason to believe that Mr. Hill's contribution to the National campaign fund would be several hundreds of thousands of dollars more if Mr. Lamont is named for Governor than if the nomination goes to another. Moreover, it is said that Mr. Hill would contribute materially to the campaign in New York State if his friend Lamont, who also is an intimate business associate, should be running.

From a National Committee source the belief was expressed last night that Mr. Hill would contribute fully $400,000 to the national campaign and $100,000 to the New York State campaign if Mr. Lamont is named, and that his donations might reach twice that sum if the indications continued to point to party success and it could be shown to him where further contributions on his part would aid the canvass.

A day later Aug. 10, in explaining this publication, it said that it had been obtained from a "member of the Democratic National Committee." This would seem to establish its authenticity. At least it shows the attitude of James J. Hill and the other trust magnates whose business President Roosevelt broke up with his merger suit. It shows that they are preparing to give money to the Democratic campaign fund with the expectation that Parker, if elected, will be friendly to them.

Lamont, it should be remembered was Cleveland's private secretary and subsequently his Secretary of War. When he retired from public life with Cleveland he went into Wall Street with the Whitney-Ryan-Flower crowd, and subsequently into the Hill Trust combination and became a millionaire several times over. The Times' revelation about him destroyed his usefulness as a candidate, but it showed unmistakably what is going on in the Democratic campaign. The baffled and enraged trusts are behind Parker and are preparing to pour out money to elect him. Parker says in his speech of acceptance that he thinks the common law is ample to keep the Trusts within bounds, that no other law is necessary. Under the common law the merger suit could not have been brought.

His own Client.

Judge Parker's notification speech is a brief to the country to believe that he can be trusted. He has nothing to say for his party or its record, nor for his own two successive votes for Bryan; but speaking of his future attitude he reiterates his belief that the gold standard is now so firmly established that it would be useless to attempt to disturb it, and adds that the certainty of a Republican United States Senate removes all opportunity for Democratic smashing of the tariff. In other words, on these two commanding features of governmental policy, Judge Parker holds, as to the first, that he would not, if he could, reverse Republican policy, while as to the other he could not if he would.

In the event of his election, therefore, and so far as he is concerned, Judge Parker argues that the country would stand precisely where it has stood the past eight years, on its money and tariff policies, enjoying the benefits of both; but his testimony to the permanence of those policies suggests no reason why the party that formulated and still maintains them should be relieved of responsibility for their continuance. Can Judge Parker believe that without a reason, and a substantial one, too, the people would constitute him the guardian of the two policies his party has opposed more bitterly and persistently than any other questions before the country since the civil war? And can he honestly assume that he and his party would be so chosen in preference to those who he concedes have done their work so well, despite his opposition, that it cannot and should not now be disturbed.

A Letter from Orlando Harrison.

DEAR SIR: I have been authorized by the Maryland Commissioners of the St. Louis Exposition to collect fruit to be distributed on Maryland Day, September 12th. I want to know how many crates of Peaches, Pears Apples or Plums you will contribute about Sept 8.

If you have any vegetables that are extra, I will place them on the Agricultural Exhibit. My idea is to load a refrigerator car at the most convenient place with the choicest fruit from Maryland soil. Full instructions will be given all regarding packing, and the expense after leaving you will be borne by the Commission. We hope to have one thousand Marylanders there and trust you will be one of that number.

This is an opportunity for any fruit grower or Agriculturist of the State to exhibit at the greatest Fair that was ever before the American people.

Address all communications to
ORLANDO HARRISON.

SUFFERED A THOUSAND DEATHS

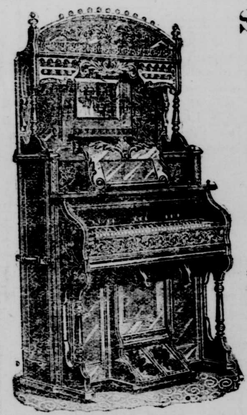

Five Physicians had done their best to cure James Wilkes, of Dillon, S. C., who had one of the most terrible cases of RHEUMATISM on record. They all failed until one doctor prescribed—

Rheumacide

IT CURED HELPLESS CRIPPLE.

Mr. Wilkes writes in the course of a long letter, dated August 18, 1902:
"My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly 12 months. The muscles of my arms and legs were hard and shriveled up. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in McColl, Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. P. Ewing, of Dillon, told me to try your RHEUMACIDE. I began to take it, and before the first bottle was used up I began to get better. I used 5½ bottles and was completely cured."
Dr. J. P. Ewing confirms Mr. Wilkes' statement in every particular.

In fact, it gives perfect satisfaction in every respect. I find it all you told us it was. I can hardly tell you how well pleased we are with it. If I knew I could not get another, no price anywhere in reason, could buy this one.

March 7, 1903

Mr. T. Harvey:

The Quick Meal Range I bought of you some time ago gives entire satisfaction. It is a good burner and a splendid baker. It is a "quick meal range" indeed. I don't see how a range could work better. Your stove is all you claim it to be and it is indeed a wood saver. I don't see how any stove could give better satisfaction.
