Dearest grandpa Low we miss thee,
How it fills our heart with pain:
But in heaven we hope to meet thee,
Never more to part again,
Thou art gone but not forgotten,
Nor ever will be.
As long as memory lasts
We'll remember thee.
He has gone to heaven before us,
Yet he turns and waves his hand.
Pointing to the glories o'er us
In that happy spirit land.

ONE X MARK ENOUGH.

The printed instructions prepared by Attorney General William Shepard Bryan, Jr., for the guidance of Judges of Election, and also for the voters, were sent to the Supervisors of Elections of Baltimore City on Monday of last week. The directions given by Mr. Bryan for marking and counting the ballots in regard to the Presidential electors are in line with his opinion as at first given in newspaper interviews, and are to the effect that a cross mark after the name of the Presidential candidates must be counted for all the electors of the party voted for.

Mr. Bryan's official pronouncement is as follows:

The voter must make with an indellible pencil his cross mark (X) in the square opposite the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote, with the exception of candidates for the office of Presidential elector. The voter may vote for Presidential electors by making a cross mark (X) in the square opposite the name of each of the persons (not more than eight in number) for whom he wishes to vote. He may also vote for the eight candidates for Presidential electors of any political party by making his cross mark (X) in the square opposite the surnames of the candidates of the party of his choice for President and vice-President. For example: A voter wishes to vote for the candidate of the Democratic party for Presidential electors, he can do so by marking a cross mark (X) in the square opposite the name of each one of the eight Democratic candidates for Presidential elector; he can also, if he prefers, make his cross mark (X) in the square opposite the names of Parker and Davis, the Democratic candidates for President and vice-President, and have his ballot counted for each one of the Democratic candidates for Presidential elector, grouping under the names of Messrs. Parker and Davis. (Art. 33, Sec. 50.)

The Attorney General is directed by Sections 114 and 114A, of Article 33 of the code (the general election law) to prepare these instructions, which are therefore regarded as having the force of law.

The part of Section 50 of Article 33, which has occasioned the dispute reads as follows:

"The surname of each candidate of each political party for the office of President and vice-President shall be placed above the group of candidates for election (electors) of such party. There shall be left at the right of the surname of the candidates for President and vice-President, so formed as to include both names, and to the right of the name of each elector, a sufficient clear square in which each voter may designate by a cross (X) his choice for electors."

ONLY DID HIS DUTY.

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well known merchant and postmaster at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not be without it for anything. Very often to my knowlege, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentary). You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." For sale by R. J. Colston, Denton; Davis Druggist, Ridgely.

Oxford-Cambridge Map.

A map that will be of particular interest to residents of three counties of the Eastern Shore has been published by the United States Geological Survey. It is known as the Oxford sheet, and embraces the towns of Cambridge and Oxford, the lower portion of the Choptank river and adjacent parts of Talbot, Dorchester and Caroline counties, comprising about 200 square miles. The only elevated land shown is the ridge separating the Choptank and Tred Avon rivers. The western slope of this ridge is fairly well defined, but its eastern slope is greatly eroded, as a number of creeks extend across it for several miles. The average elevation of the ridge is about 55 feet above sea level, while the elevation of the numerous necks of land and of the territory south of Cambridge, which comprise the remainder of the area, is only from 7 to 12 feet. All of this land is under a high state of cultivation, and large crops of wheat and corn attest its fertility. In the many inlets from Chesapeake bay, which are a distinctive feature of the quadrangle, are found the flats where oysters and crabs abound. These inlets are also the haunt of the duck hunter at certain seasons of the year..

THE STOMACH IS THE MAN.

A weak stomach weakens the man because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, cleanses and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Sold by A. L Duffey, Hillsboro.

All Clues Run Out.

The Constable murder still remains as dark a mystery as it was on the night it was committted. The several "suspects" picked up at various points have all been discharged. The detectives either professedly or actually believe that Hopps and Holland are innocent. The local authorities are seeeking information as to the ownership of the napkin or piece of table linen thought to have been designed or used as a mask found near the scene of the tragedy, which would enable them possibly to get a line on the assasin or assasins, who might be within easy reach, The Wilmington Journal quotes former Chief of Police John Dolan of that City, as saying that the case is a most mystifying one. The detectives, said Mr. Dolan, had run down every possible clue with no success. There are a number of amateur sleuths on the grounds, said the chief, and people are tired of answering the same question over and over again.

FEARFUL ODDS AGAINST HIM.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies. "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. J. Colston, Denton.

LINCHESTER.

A very enjoyable straw ride was given one evening last week by Mrs. Rose Burgess, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Whiteley's guest, Mrs. Davids, Mrs. Gehrman and Miss Seward, of Baltimore. Mr. W. A. Cohee furnished the team, the wagon being artistically decorated with Japanese lanterns. Among those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Whiteley, Mrs. Davids, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Gehrman, Miss Seward, Mr. Hughey, Mrs. Burgess and Master Medford Burgess. The party left Preston at 6 30 p. m., and proceeded in the direction of Harmony, where they were pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Collins. After some time spent in social conversation and the rendering of several choice musical selections all were invited into the dining room where cake, cream and other tempting delicacies of the season were served in abundance. All expressed themselves as being delighted with the evening's pleasure and departed, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Collins many kind wishes.

Mr. Hutchinson, who has been on the sick list for the past week, is improving under the care of Dr. Downes, of Preston.

Mr. Gates and daughter, of Washington, are the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Beauchamp.

FROM 148 TO 92 POUNDS.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind. who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by A. L. Duffey, Hillsboro.

Pennsy Puts 20,000 Men to Work.

Between 20,000 and 25,000 men will be put to work at once in the various shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The order to work full time—fifty-five hours a week with Saturday a half holiday—was issued Wednesday, of last week, at Broad Street Station. The principal shops affected are those in West Philadelphia, Wilmington, Altoona, Harrisburg, Juniata and Pittsburg. The reason for putting this army of men back to work on full time, according to an officer of the motive power department, is the great need of repairs to all classes of rolling stock. Cars and locomotives must be in shape for the expected heavy fall and winter traffic. The officer in question said: "The company put its retrenching policy into effect last spring, and, of course, it cut all the repair and building shops as well as other departments of the road. Throughout the summer only work that was absolutely necessary was done. The result is that more repairs to rolling stock and locomotives are needed now than at any other time in the history of the road."

Mr. Jackson Accepts.

The official notification of the nomination of Hon. William H. Jackson for Congress by the Republican district convention, which met at Ocean City, August 4th, took place on Monday last in the parlors of the Peninsula Hotel, at Salisbury, immediately after the Republicans present had been guests of Mr. Jackson at dinner.

Senator Henry M. McCullough, chairman of the committee of notification, made the announcing speech. He congratulated Mr. Jackson on the harmony in the State and district, and guaranteed him the unqualified support of all the committees on the Eastern Shore. In reply to the notification Mr. Jackson spoke as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee—I desire to thank you for the Republican nomination for Congress from this district, and assure you of my appreciation of your kind words. I accept the nomination at the hands of the convention which you represent, not because of a personal inclination upon my part, but because I conceive it to be a duty which I owe to the party which has twice before honored me in this manner, and which has been primarily and principally instrumental in my election in 1900 and again in 1902.

"The nomination came at a time when I not only did not seek it, but when my personal feelings, which were well known to the convention, inclined me to retire from the political sphere and devote my attention to private interests. A unanimous request coming from such a convention as that which assembled at Ocean City on August 4th under these circumstances could not fail to impress me deeply, and I, therefore, fully appreciate the honor which has been conferred upon me, and I shall be pleased to do all in my power to bring about general success in the election this fall.

"I desire to say in this connection that I am in full accord with the principles of that great party of which we are all a part recently enunciated at Chicago, and, if elected, it will be my aim to do everything possible to carry them into effect. It will also be my endeavor to continue, as I have tried in the past, to represent the entire people of this district during my incumbency in office. Every man, whether Democrat, Prohibitionist or Republican, who has had any official business with me pertaining to the numerous matters relating to the office has received the same consideration and courteous treatment and any assistance I could render. The same policy I shall be pleased to continue if the selection of the convention which you represent shall be ratified at the polls in November.

"And now at the beginning of the active duties of the campaign I desire to congratulate the party throughout the State upon its harmonious conditions, and especially in Baltimore city, where differences have divided it in the past, and I firmly believe and will do everything possible to bring about such a result, that all six of the congressional districts of this State will this fall be found in the Republican column and a handsome majority rolled up for the national ticket.

"In conclusion, I desire again to express my appreciation of this mark of esteem and confidence of the Republicans of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, with the hope that long after I shall have retired from political life this district will continue to be represented by one committed to Republican principles."

A campaign executive committee for the district was appointed as follows: Cecil, W. J. Smith; Kent, John C. Davis; Queen Annes, Chas. F. Rich; Talbot, Robert R. Walker; Caroline, Charles W. Hobbs; Dorchester, James C. Leonard; Wicomico, Marion A. Humphreys; Somerset, William F. Lankford; Worcester, Zodok P. Wharton.

Campaign work will begin at once.

SICK HEADACHE.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr Geo. E. Wright, of New London, New York. For sale by R. J. Colston, Denton; Davis Druggisit, Ridgely.

The National Magazine for September.

Sparkling and delightful beyond praise is Ben Blow's sketch, "The Ladies of the World's Fair," illustrated with portraits of nineteen of twenty-two members of the board of lady managers, in the National Magazine for September. Wittily and sympathetically, in their own words, he depicts the woman real estate agent, the woman banker, the woman promoter, the woman politician and other interesting modern types represented in the group of women chosen from all America to represent the social side of the World's Fair.

Joe Mitchel Chapple fills forty pages with other World,s Fair gossip—of art, of industry, of amusement and of picturesque personalities, illustrating his lettter with scores of odd and attractive pictures.

In "Affairs at Washington" are full-page portraits of all the presidential nominees, of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland and William J. Bryan, and of other celebrities. Under the caption "Today and Tomorrow," Frank Putnam reviews the field of national politics.

The special articles of the number range from Poultney Bigelow's highly significant appeal for a real national militia of 770,000 men, to Julie Adams Powell's "Woods and Fields in Late Summer." New photographs about Queen Alexandria and her pet dogs, by the royal photographer, are among the many pictorial features of the number. The leading character study is of Helen Keller, the famous blind deaf and dumb girl, who has just graduated from Radcliff college with the degree of A. B.

The fiction includes short stories of politics, of love, of childhood, of army life and a lively humorous sketch of rural life.

The Home department contains a wealth of helpful surgestions given by twenty American housewives who have tested and proved their efficacy; it offers also several brief, bright, homey essays and poems.
