Fashionable Millinery.

This is a season of bright colors. Two of the leading ones, green and coque de rouche, were tastefully used in decorating the millinery establishment of Miss Jennie Stafford at the opening of the season on Tuesday and Wednesday. Ferns and potted plants also added their charm to the decorations. The principal attraction of course, was the beautiful assortment of stylishly trimmed hats that were to be seen on all sides. A handsome one that was immediately sold, was of black velvet with a band of white applique of a handsome pattern, set into the brim. It was further trimmed with tips, chenille, and knotted loops of ribbon. Another velvet hat was of two shades of mahogany, trimmed with wings, and daintily faced with shirred silk. Various shades of brown, blue, terra cotta, etc , are also much used.

DAVID MARINE.

Death of M. J. Cohee.

Martin J. Cohee, eldest son of Mr. Wm. A. Cohee, died at his home in West Denton, on Sunday evening, after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a widow and two children. He was a member of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and of the Heptasoph conclave of this place carrying $1,000 insurance in the latter. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in Denton cemetery.

At the meeting of the Jr. Mechanics, on Monday evening, the following resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, The Great Councilor of the Universe in His infinite wisdom, has sent the Angel of Death into our ranks and called one of our members—Martin J. Cohee—from his earthly tenement to a dwelling-place in the Great Beyond, be it therefore,

RESOLVED, That we, the members of Caroline County, No. 175 Junior Order United American Mechanics, have learned with deep regret of the death of our brother who in the period of his membership had shown a devotion to those great American principles taught by our order, and that we hereby express our sincere sorrow at the loss thus sustained, and be it fur ther

RESOLVED, That we extend to the bereaved widow and children of the deceased our sympathy in this, their time of mouring and that our charter be draped for a period of thirty days, and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased; that they be spread upon our Council minutes, and that we have them published in the town papers.

TESTIMONY OF A MINISTER.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I sufferd from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitter and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters· It's gauranteed by R. J. Colston, Denton, Only 50c.

Greensboro's New Church.

The beautiful new St. Paul's Church will be dedicated on November 6th. Bishop Edward G. Andrews, D. D L. L. D., of New York has promised to be present and preach the sermon and officiate in the dedicatory rites. The coming of the bishop will be an event in religeons circles. So far as known no Methodist bishop has ever visited Caroline county in official capacity. This will give the people an opportunity to see a leader of a great denomination.

Berlin's $60,000 Fire.

Crowds of people from the surrounding country flooked into Berlin Sunday to see the ruins left by the disastrous conflagration which occurred Saturday afternoon and rendered many families homeless. The fire destroyed 16 dwellings. 2 churches and swept out of existence 3 important industrial works, valued in the aggregate at about $38,000 on which there was little or no insurance. The total loss is estimated at about $60,000, with but partial insurance. The wind was blowing a gale and the sparks were scattered a mile from the fire. The Protestant Episcopal Church, which was a half mile from where the fire started, was the second building to burn. The town has no waterworks, the taw-payers deeding they could not afford the expense.

SAVES TWO FROM DEATH.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed,we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by R. J. Colston, Denton. Trial bottles free.

Upholds "Jim Crow" Law.

For a violation of the "Jim Crow" law W. H. H. Hart, colored, of Washington, D. C., and James Griffith, colored, of Baltimore, were found guilty and fined $5 and $25 respectivelv in the Circuit Court for Cecil County, on Saturday. Hart, who is professor of law in Howard University at Washington, conducted his own defence, while Griffith was represented by State Senator H. M. McCullough.

The fines were not paid, the defendants filing appeal bonds. They declared that if the Court of Appeals decided against them they would carry the cases to the United States Supreme Court. They contend that the "Jim Crow" law is not only unconstitutional, but that it is also in conflict with the Inter-State Commerce law.

Wicomico Will Have Good Roads.

At a public meeting of citizens of Wicomico county held last week, it was decided that the county commissioners should appropriate $10,000 for road purposes in order to secure a like amount from the State and the whole amount, $20,000 should be spent for permanent roads. The State Road Engineer, A. N. Johnson, was present and gave the following explanation of the manner of securing the State appropriation:

The proceedure necessary to secure the State appropriation is in two ways. One is for the Commissioners to make an appropriation of $10,000, select the location of the road and have same surveyed by the State Engineer. The road is then contracted for and built under the supervision of the State Engineer. When completed, the State pays over its $10,000. The other mode of proceeding is to follow the same plan, except as to the location. A second clause of the law provides that when the owners of two thirds of the property along the proposed improvement petition for a road to be built, and agree to pay 10 per cent of the cost, the county must build the road provided the State Engineer approves of the location, and pay 40 per cent of the cost, the State paying the other 50 per cent The other one-third propety interest, in case this mode of proceedure is followed, is not compelled to pay any proportion of the expense whatever.

Delaware Soldiers "Killed" Gen,Grant.

To the Delaware soldiers belongs the honor for "killing" General Frederick D. Grant, commanding the blue army at Manassas. Heading his staff the general galloped out of a piece of woods. On the side of a hill not more than 500 yards distant was Company I of Milford. lying as skirmishers behind trenches. As soon as the blue men were seen Capt. Lank gave the order to fire, and the whole broadside was turned loose at the approaching riders. Had the occurrence taken place in actual battle the 'general and several of his aides would have been annihilated.

Strayer's Business College Branching Ou

Another evidence that Baltimore business men were not discouraged by the fire, is to be found in the recent development of Strayer's Business College. This school was located in the burned district, and lost practically all of its equipment in the fire. Recent developments, however, seem to show that the school is more vigorous than ever before.

It has recently issued a complete series of commercial text-books, which have already been introduced in some of the best business colleges.

Branch schools have been opened in Philadelphia and Washington. Mr. H. P. Ellsworth, who was formerly principal of the Commercial Department of the Baltimore school, has charge of the Philadelphia School, while Mr. P. J. Harman, formerly a teacher of Penmanship in the Baltimore school, is principal of the Washington School.

The Philadelphia school is located at the corner of 8th and Market Sts., and the Washington school at the corner of 11th and F Sts., N. W. Any one who is familiar with these cities, will recognize the fact that the best possible locations have been secured for the branch schools, and any one who visits them cannot fail to be impressed with the up to date equipment with which these schools are supplied.

Both schools report that they expect to have an enrollment of over 100 students to begin with on September first.

Another evidence of the progressiveness of the institution is to be found in the fact that Mr Charles S. Catherman, formerly a teacher in the school, has been engaged as Superintendent of Instruction for the Baltimore school. Mr. Catherman spent the whole of the past year in the careful study of the methods of the leading business colleges in the East, and he comes to his work at the Baltimore school ready to put in practice the best methods that are to be found anywhere.

Mr. C. A. Braniger, who for the past seven years has been at the head of the Commercial Department of the Mountain State Business College at Parkersburg, W. Va., and who is a penman of national reputation, has been selected as principal of the Commercial Department of the Baltimore school, and will begin his work there on September first.

The President, Mr. S. Irving Strayer, and the Business Manager, Mr. T. W. Donoho, have been receiving congratulations from their many frrends on the remarkable progress of the well known institution over which they preside.

A POWER FOR GOOD.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in their effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by A. L.
