Prohibitionists Failed to Nominate.

The topic of conversation in political circles throughout the Eastern Shore, the nine counties of which compose the First Congress district, is the fact that the Prohibition party in the First district has made no nomination for Congress. A prominent politician from Talbot county in an interview is reported to have said: "It is hinted that the omission is in the interest of the Republicans. Should there be no nominee on the ticket this fall then the party will not be entitled to make nominations by conventions for county tickets next year, but will have to nominate their ticket by petition."—Centreville Record.

The Prohibitionist of the First Congressional district of Maryland held their annual convention Friday last in the store of J. W. Wheatley, in Easton. So quietly were the proceedings of the convention carried out that few persons in Easton knew that a convention was being held, and it was not generally known until Monday. Nehemiah E. Clark, of Easton, was unanimously named as the Prohibitionist candidate for Congress. Mr. Clark, the nominee, is the agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad and a practising attorney at tha Easton bar

A Big Business Deal.

Scott & Co., bankers of Wilmington, and N. P. Bond of Baltimore, on Monday purchased the Weems Steamboat Co. and the Chester River Steamboat Co., both of which are well-known properties on the Chesapeake Bay.

A short time ago announcement was made that by reason of their contract with the bondholders of the Queen Anne's Railway Co. they obtained control of that property. They intend to unite these three properties into a single corporation to be known as the Maryland, Delaware & Virginia Railway Co. This consolidated company will have control of all business on the Chesapeake Bay not under the management of the Pennsylvania railroad or its allied companies. It also gives them a direct line from Baltimore across this Peninsula to Lewes, Delaware and Rehoboth.

The Weems Steamboat Line is the oldest and most successful company on the Chesapeake Bay and for many years has done a highly profitable business, connecting the small towns on the Patuxent Potomac and Rappahannock Rivers with Baltimore. They also have a line of steamers between Baltimore, Norfolk, Va., and Washington, D. C.

About 10 yeats ago Messrs. Scott & Co. formed the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway Co. through consolidation of the Baltimore & Eastern Shore Railroad Co., the Maryland Steamboat Co., the Eastern Shore Steamboat Co. and the Choptank Steamboat Co. The properties were exactly similar in every way to those just purchased. The company was eminently successful, increasing the amount of business taken to Baltimore by from 200 to 300 per cent. The success of the B. C. & A. Railway Co. led the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. to purchase control of it in 1899, and since that time it has been operated as a part of its system. It is believed the present deal will be an exactly similar proposition, and is by all odds the most important merger made in this section for many years.

The purchase of the Weems property and the Chester River property is made for cash. For the Weems property the payment is $1,000,000 in cash. The terms of the purchase of the Queen Anne's Railroad provide that the first preference 5 per cent. bonds of this Company, amounting to $330,000, shall be guaranteed by the new combination, thus making them a gilt-edge security, and the exchange of all other bonds for preferred stock in the new company.

Good Roads Coming.

Unwilling to lose the advantages offered by the new State aid road law, the residents of Wicomico County, at a large public meeting held in Saulsbury on Tuesday, September 27th, decided to act at once in taking the necessary measures to secure the State appropriation of $10,000 allotted to Wicomico county for the construction of highways built scientifically under State Supervision. The whole subject of obtaining State roads under the new law was thoroughly discussed in this open meeting by Congressman William H. Jackson, State Senator Marion V. Brewington, and a number of others; and Mr. A. N. Johnson, Highway Engineer of the Maryland Geological Survey, who attended the meeting from Baltimore, explained the method of procedure under the law and answered questions concerning it from all who were interested.

It was pointed out at the meeting that should Wicomico not take up her allotment of $10,000 State funds for her road work, the money will be divided among other counties, and there was full determination expressed not to allow the money to leave the county. The whole tenor of the meeting was another example of the progressive spirit which the county residents of Maryland have shown in the matter of road building since the passage of the new State law, and it showed that Wicomico County residents are alive to the manner in which her road fund is to be spent. The discussions conducted were qualified to instruct the average resident upon the best available road material, and the questions asked and answered showed that the study of road conditions has been a live matter for some time with the tax-payers of Wicomico County.

The meeting was called by the County Commissioners, who wished an expression of opinion from the residents as to their willingness to stand their share of the expense of building State roads. Inasmuch as the law demands that the county shall appropiate dollar for dollar as much as the State fund gives in each case, or in other words, pays one-half the cost, the commissioners wished to learn whether the County was willing to undergo this expense before any applications for Wicomico's share of the State fund should be made. Mr. Johnson explained at length the features of the new law, advised upon the best road material that is available to Wicomico County, and quoted estimates upon the cost of first-class modern roads, such as could be made under the existing circumstances.

Mr. Johnson told the audience to preserve their shell roads as a foundation for macadam roads, and to surface them with Wilmington limestone rather than Port Deposit granite, as the limestone binds better. Slag surfacing was not advised as it is not durable for heavy traffic. The cost of macadam road, including tha foundation, was given as from $4000 to $5000 per mile at the highest, but with the shell foundation, said Mr. Johnson, the macadam surfacing would cost only $2,500 per mile for a road bed twelve feet wide, with a shoulder of four feet on either side.

What is being done in Caroline toward taking advantage of the means at hand for road improvements? We have heard of nothing being done by our County Commissioners, and yet our county has been taking a place at the head of the procession in the past. Let us "get a move on us." We cannot afford to let other counties distance us now.

National Magazine For October.

"A Square Deal for Every Man," —twenty pages of epigrams culled from President Roosevelt's state papers and public addresses—is the unique feature of the National Magazine for October. Acquired at the last moment, too late for inclusion in the body of the magazine, it was tucked away in the advertising section, with a full-page portrait of Robert J. Thomson, the compiler, and another of the President and his four sons. Nowhere else has Rooseveltism been so boiled down to its essences. The result is truly, what Mr. Thompson calls it, "a self-delineation of his character and ideals."

The number opens with a frontispiece of Parker and Davis "looking pleasant" for the National's photographer, Mr. G. V. Buck—a very jolly and attractive picture of the Democratic nominees. Frank Putnam discusses the national campaign and the problem of negro disfranchisement.

Senator Hoar at Home is a delightful, timely account of a visit by Mary Caroline Crawford to the Grand Old Man of the United States Senate, among his beloved books, pictures and historic relics at Worcester, Massachusetts.

The special articles range from Berlin's Unique Printing Telegraph to Mr. Lane's discussion of the Bible in the light of scientific inquiry, and from Departing Guests, an out-of-door paper, to Beauties of the American Stage,—three portraits with pithy biographic sketches Behind the Veil in Russia gives glimpses of the Russian capital in war time, and Loyalty in Love and in War, a Japanese story, discloses the springs of Japanese power in the vast conflict now raging in Manchuria.

Mr. Chapple discourses of the World's Fair, of politics, of the Grand Army encampment in Boston, and other public matters—his letter being lavishly illustrated with new and taking photographs—portraits and snapshots—to be found nowhere but in the National.

The fiction and poetry of the number are genuine and distinctly readable.

Taken all in all, a warm and genial humanity alternates with a gay and sprightly humor in the pages of the National for October—a magazine not wholly unworthy the distinction which M. Blumenthal claims for it in his novel cover design—The Voice of the Nation.

Y. M. C. A. for our Town.

A reading room and gymnasium have been opened in the large room under the postoffice and it will be fitted up in a few days, as soon as the furniture arrives.

GORMAN MACHINE IN DEATH STRUGGLE.

A despatch from Baltimore to the Philadelphia Press of Monday has this to say about the political situation:

"We will carry the State for Roosevelt and Fairbanks by a safe majority, certainly elect five of the six Congressman and possibly all of them."

This fairly represents the opinion of the entire Republican organization in Maryland, the Independent Democrats and the men who concede affiliation with no party.

"We will carry the State by small majority and hope to elect two of the six Congressmen."

This is the expressed opinion of the Gorman organization leaders, but it is not uttered with conviction.

It is conceded by both sides to the canvass that if the election were to be held to-day Roosevelt would sweep the State. That is why the Democrats on Monday will begin a whirlwind campaign in a special train to try and save the State. The galaxy of speakers will comprise Senator Gorman, David B. Hill, former Governor Whyte, Senator Daniel and Candidate Davis.

It may be said that the decent Democrats are disgusted with the tactics of the Democratics organization in the anti-negro campaign. It is pointed out that the organization had better be devoting attention to the issues presented to thinking people by the Republican platform, instead of exerting their efforts toward making trick ballots do the business by disfranchising a lot of negroes. Senator-Elect Rayner takes this view and does not hesitate to proclaim it. But the old machine has become so imbued with the belief that the darker ways of politics are the ones that win, that for the third time in twelve years it will probably lead the party to defeat.

The Republicans, actively awake to the existing conditions, are preparing to push their advantage to the limit. The call of the State leaders at national headquarters in New York last week has borne fruit and from this on a campaign is to be pushed forward in the State, the like of which has never been seen before. Speaker Cannon, former Goyernor Black, of New York, and a host of notables are to appear on the hustings in the near future, while the local celebrities propose to keep the battle on, without a let up, night or day. For the first time in a decade the party organization is in harmony. It is well supplied with the sinews of war, and thus far their every move has been met with flattering response.

The Republicans claim that they will surely elect all the Congressmen except in the Fourth District, in Baltimore city.

CAUSE OF LOCKJAW.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known.
